Chapter 71: aviation pioneer

The assassination of Qin Tian seemed to have come to an end because Crown Prince William was under house arrest, and no one mentioned it anymore, as if everyone had selectively forgotten about it. Of course, Qin Tian still stayed in the hospital. Gunshot wounds are not so easy to heal, it takes several months to heal. Otherwise, once an infection occurs, it's not fun.

While staying in the hospital, Qin Tian did not forget to speed up his own industrial development. At the same time, there is research on emerging technologies.

"Your Highness, I have already made an appointment for you. Mr. Gustav Lilienthal will come to meet you tomorrow afternoon. In addition, the people we sent to the United States have already contacted the Wright brothers. We are very interested in the funding. However, I still have some hesitation about leaving the United States." Carl von Jonneret said to Qin Tian.

Now, Carl von Jonareit is no longer the general manager of the Deutsche Welfare Lottery Company, but has become Qin Tian's secretary. Of course, his investment in the Deutsche Welfare Lottery still exists, and the profits of each period will be deposited into his bank account as usual. After owning a huge sum of money that ordinary people would not earn in ten lifetimes, Carl von Jonareit was no longer interested in running the Deutsche Welfare Lottery. Instead, he wanted to be a steward of the royal family, like his father, and made that his goal.

The butler of the royal family, although the status is not high. However, the hidden power is very large. Even those important ministers of the empire have to be respectful. Carl von Jonareit wanted to be that.

Although the current Crown Prince is still Prince, Karl von Jonareit believes that it will definitely be Qin Tian who will eventually become the Crown Prince and inherit the entire empire. This is not only his opinion, but also that of his father Essen von Jonareit, and even many important military and government officials believe that Crown Prince William has no future. Among the many princes, although Qin Tian's succession ranks at the bottom, his ability is the strongest. It will be the best choice for the German Empire to have him inherit the throne.

Of course, what it will look like in the end is still unknown. But that doesn't stop them from betting ahead.

Qin Tian nodded: "Wright Brothers, continue to contact them, and if necessary, further improve our favorable conditions. Try to persuade them to come to Germany next year to carry out their research."

"Yes, Your Highness. But, is their research really that important?" Carl von Jonareit was the first time he saw Qin Tian attach so much importance to an invention that had not yet succeeded.

"Their invention is very important! If it succeeds, it will change the whole world. No matter what, we must hold this invention in our hands. This is an important opportunity for the German Empire to surpass other countries." Qin Tian said with a face. Said seriously.

The airplane invented by the Wright Brothers changed the whole world dramatically. War, in particular, has become more three-dimensional because of this. In future wars, whoever claims to have mastery of the air will win the war. Although, in a short time, this may not show up. But with the passage of time, and the advancement of technology, the importance of aircraft in warfare will become more and more important.

"Yes, Your Highness." Carl von Jonareit nodded solemnly. He knew the importance from Qin Tian's expression and tone.

Qin Tian hesitated for a while, and then said: "If they are still unwilling to come to Germany, I authorize you to use violent means. Even, kill them."

Carl von Jonareit couldn't help but feel a chill in his heart. He also had a feeling that Qin Tian had changed since the assassination. If Qin Tian was a gentle and non-aggressive person before. So now, he has become a gentle man with cruelty hidden on the surface, who will use all means to ensure his own interests.

"Mr. Gustav Lilienthal, you have to make arrangements. We also have to fully support his research. If the Wright brothers are willing to come to Germany, let them work in Gustav Lilienthal Let's carry out research under Mr. Er's project." Qin Tian continued.

Compared to the Wright Brothers, Qin Tian is naturally more willing to trust Gustav Lilienthal, a German.

Many people may be unfamiliar with Gustav Lilienthal. However, his elder brother Otto Lilienthal was famous.

Otto? Lilienthal is a German engineer and gliding pilot, one of the world's aviation pioneers. He was the first to design and manufacture a practical glider, known as the "Father of Gliders". In the three years from 1893 to 1896, Lilienthal conducted more than two thousand gliding flight tests, improved the overall layout three times, took many photos during the gliding, accumulated a large amount of data, and compiled the "Air Pressure Data Sheet", which provided valuable information to aircraft manufacturers in the United States, Britain, France and other countries. In 1894, he controlled a glider to glide down a 50-meter-high mountain slope, flew 350 meters, and reached 1,000 meters at the farthest time. Lilienthal's name spread like wildfire with the reports of the press and spread all over the world. People gave him the nickname "Batman".

On August 9, 1896, Lilienthal took off from a hillside near Stullen, Germany with his glider. With a strong wind, he soared to a high altitude. Lilienthal was very excited, but he didn't know that the glider had reached the verge of stalling due to the high angle of attack. Just as he was trying to try a new method of control, the "two-winged bat" suddenly plunged headlong and fell to the ground. The glider crashed. Lilienthal was also fatally wounded—a fractured vertebrae. People rushed him to the hospital. On the way, the dying Lilienthal uttered his last words to his loyal collaborator and younger brother Gustav: "Someone has to sacrifice..." A generation of "Batman" passed away peacefully at the age of 48 .

After Otto Lilienthal passed away, Gustav Lilienthal inherited his behest and continued to conduct research on flight. And Qin Tian also plans to fully support their research from now on. If you add the Wright Brothers in the United States, Germany will be able to rank among the top in the world in this field.

At that time, the research on aircraft in the military field will be carried out again, so that Germany can maintain the world's leading level in this field, and even play a greater role in future wars.

Chapter 72: Give what you want (ask for collection)

"Mr. Lilienthal, I'm sorry, I'm only allowed to see you here." In the ward, after seeing Gustav Lilienthal, Qin Tian immediately apologized to him.

"Your Highness, it is my fault to disturb your recovery." Gustav Lilienthal said.

After some pleasantries, their conversation got to the point.

"Mr. Lilienthal, I am very concerned about your research. At the same time, I also admire it very much. Your brother, Mr. Otto Lilienthal, I am an admirable person. He is dedicated to the flight career, sacrificed his life." Qin Tian looked reverent.

"Your Highness, if my brother knows what His Highness said, he will be very pleased." Gustav Lilienthal felt a little sad when he thought of his elder brother.

"Mr. Lilienthal, the Wright Brothers in the United States have developed the first aircraft a few years ago. What do you think of this?" Qin Tian asked.

"Your Highness, the Wright Brothers have indeed accomplished the feat of the first human being to go into space. Although, the time it took for them to take off for the first time was not long. However, with the follow-up research, the aircraft they developed took longer to go into space. It's getting longer and longer. I believe that their research will be successful." Gustav Lilienthal said.

Qin Tian nodded. It is precisely because of the research of countless aviation pioneers that the aviation industry of later generations will be brilliant. Even now, everything is still in the pioneering stage. However, Qin Tian knew that the final success was actually not far away.

"Mr. Lilienthal, I don't know if you have thought about the application of aircraft in the military field." Qin Tian asked.

"Military field?" Lilienthal frowned involuntarily. The current aircraft has only just solved the problem of flying. The time spent in the air is very short, the flying altitude is not high, and the speed is also very slow. Under such circumstances, it is undoubtedly too early to talk about the application in the military field.

"Yes, sir. Although the aircraft has only just appeared. However, I think it will be a weapon that will change the world. Future wars will change drastically because of this. Therefore, Germany in this regard , we must not lag behind other countries, and must even be at the leading level in the world. Only in this way can our national security and interests be guaranteed." Qin Tian said with a serious face.

Gustav Lilienthal immediately stood in awe. Although he didn't think so much at all, since Qin Tian attached so much importance to it. As a German, of course he has to work hard for the benefit of Germany.

"Your Highness, although the Wright Brothers are ahead in this regard, our technical reserves are no worse than theirs. If necessary, it is absolutely no problem to catch up with them." Gustav? Lilienthal promised.

Qin Tian nodded: "I believe in your abilities. However, the performance of the current aircraft is still too bad. If it is to be applied to the military field, further research is needed. Think about it, the future battlefield , Carrying a large number of bombs, hordes of planes attack the enemy from the air, drop the bombs on the enemy's head, and tear the enemy into pieces. In order to protect the country's airspace, countless fighter planes are fighting in the air, and machine guns are strafing , the machine gun roared, what an exciting scene!"

Indeed, Gustav Lilienthal was already excited by the blueprint for the future that Qin Tian had drawn. Their research on aircraft is still in its infancy, and they never thought that it would have such a big application in the military field.

"Mr. Lilienthal, if you have no objection, then let me support your research from now on. All the funds, all equipment and other aspects needed for your research will be provided by me. Regarding this , I only have one request, and that is that your research projects must be carried out according to my requirements." Qin Tian said.

Gustav Lilienthal hesitated for a moment, but finally nodded. He knew that if he agreed to Qin Tian's request, then their research would probably change to the military field that Qin Tian requested. However, as a German, how could he refuse Qin Tian's request? Besides, because of lack of funds, their research has indeed fallen into trouble. Without Qin Tian's support, their life would be a problem, let alone carry out further research.

"Your Highness, I accept your proposal. For the strength of the German Empire, we are willing to contribute our strength." Gustav Lilienthal said.

"Mr. Lilienthal, then I hope we can cooperate happily." Qin Tian's face was full of smiles. Gustav Lilienthal was able to accept his proposal, which was undoubtedly the best result. He had been worried that these people who were engaged in scientific research would have abnormal brains and were unwilling to be restricted. In that case, there is no guarantee that he can only take some drastic measures in order to succeed in the plan. It's just that, in that case, the work efficiency will definitely be greatly affected, which is not what Qin Tian wants. It would be great if Gustav Lilienthal and the others could take the initiative to cooperate.

"Happy cooperation!" Gustav Lilienthal also said.

"Mr. Lilienthal, when developing an aircraft, the engine is the most important thing. It is the heart of the aircraft. Only with a good engine can the aircraft fly higher and faster, and at the same time, the load capacity of the aircraft can also be increased. Deutsche Engine Manufacturing Company is improving aero engines on the basis of automobile engines. Judging from the current situation, a major breakthrough has been made. I am nervous. In the next step, I will ask them to fully cooperate with you. In this case, I can provide you with more support." Qin Tian said.

"Okay, Your Royal Highness. If the engine problem can be solved, then our development will go more smoothly." Gustav Lilienthal nodded.

"I hope that within three years, you can develop an aircraft with a flying speed of more than 100 kilometers per hour, a practical ceiling of more than 2,000 meters, a pilot, an aviation machine gun, and a range of more than 200 kilometers. If this is the case, it won't be too far to go into actual combat." Qin Tian said.

The key data listed by Qin Tian is undoubtedly a great challenge for Gustav Lilienthal. But he believes that as long as the support is in place, it can definitely be achieved.

Chapter 73: unexpected chance

"With our own financial support, coupled with the wisdom of Gustav Lilienthal and others, Germany should be able to reach the forefront of the world in the field of military aircraft!" Qin Tian secretly thought.

In another time and space, the "Fokker" fighter jets of the Luftwaffe were known as the "Widow Makers". Shot down by the Luftwaffe. Qin Tian hopes that in this time and space, with his support, Germany can pay more attention to the air force, and develop and equip a more advanced air force, so that it can further occupy a greater advantage in future air battles.

"I don't know if the Wright Brothers will agree to our invitation. If they continue to refuse, there is no other way but to make them disappear!" A ruthless look flashed in Qin Tian's eyes.

After an assassination that survived a catastrophe, Qin Tian's character became ruthless. In order to achieve their goals, they will do whatever they can. Because only in this way can one be able to save one's own life and guarantee one's own interests in such a troubled world.

As the pioneers of aviation development, the Wright Brothers have had a huge impact on the development of the aviation industry in the United States and the entire world. If they can work for Qin Tian, this will surely allow Germany's aviation industry to achieve faster development. At the same time, for other countries, it is also a great weakening, further widening the gap between the two sides.

In order to strengthen Germany's military strength, Qin Tian has gone to great lengths. If under such circumstances, Germany has not been able to win the war in the future, it would be too unreasonable.

When he was bored in the hospital, Qin Tian would occasionally imagine his future. As an ordinary prince, he has worked hard for the fate of Germany. If he is the prince of Germany, there is nothing wrong with doing so. But it is a pity that Crown Prince William is now under house arrest, but the position of Crown Prince is still very stable. William II didn't seem to have the slightest idea of replacing the crown prince.

"Should we take action and kill Crown Prince William? Since he can send someone to assassinate me, why can't I retaliate?" Qin Tian secretly thought. Being assassinated by Crown Prince William, he was shot in the stomach. Although his life was not endangered, Qin Tian still felt very aggrieved. The so-called people don't offend me, I don't offend others, others have bullied me, so there is no reason not to fight back.

But then, Qin Tian denied this idea. William II would never allow such a thing to happen. If he really dared to send someone to assassinate Crown Prince William, William II would deal with him immediately. For example, stripping him of his status as a prince and confiscating all his properties. There is no doubt, even though they are all sons of William II. But the status of Crown Prince William is obviously higher than that of Qin Tian. What's more, William II, even the emperor, was also jealous of Qin Tian's creation of so much wealth in just two years. Qin Tian made a move on Crown Prince William, which was equivalent to giving William II a chance to do it. After all, a huge amount of wealth is in the hands of his son, rather than in his own hands.

"Sigh, I can only wait and see what happens now. Apart from this, there is no other way." Qin Tian couldn't help but sighed.

While Qin Tian was recuperating in the hospital, Crown Prince William was furious in a farm outside Potsdam.

"Damn it, why wasn't Oscar killed on the spot? What was the kill for? Why is his mouth so soft, he betrayed us so easily!" Crown Prince William cursed loudly with red eyes.

It has been a long time since he was imprisoned in this farm. At the beginning, Crown Prince William didn't take this to heart at all, thinking that William II was just putting on a show to give Qin Tian an explanation, and he would be released soon. However, now he understood that William II was clearly serious, which immediately made Crown Prince William panic.

He also thought about forcibly breaking out, but the people guarding the farm were all confidantes of William II. Except for the orders of William II, the orders of others were ignored at all. It is simply impossible for Crown Prince William to forcibly leave the farm.

With no way to go out, Crown Prince William's temper became even more explosive, and drinking and insulting others became commonplace. The performance of Crown Prince William in the farm made William II even more disappointed. Originally, he wanted to let Crown Prince William reflect on his mistakes in the farm, but he did not expect that Crown Prince William had clearly chosen to give up on himself. How can such a person become the crown prince of Germany and inherit the German Empire?

As a result, Crown Prince William was locked up in the farm and lived an isolated life. Fortunately, this farm has a large area, and everything to eat and play is readily available. Even if you spend your whole life here, it is not impossible.

On December 24, Christmas Eve, Queen Victoria wanted Crown Prince William to return to the palace to attend a party. However, William II rejected Queen Victoria's request because he was dissatisfied with Crown Prince William's performance in the farm. And after this news reached the ears of Crown Prince William, it made him even more dissatisfied and angry.

"My father, why is he so cruel? Is he really planning to abolish my crown prince?" Crown Prince William roared angrily. He has always been the focus of everyone's eyes. But now, he was about to lose his crown prince position. Of course, he couldn't accept such a huge contrast.

After getting drunk, Crown Prince William rode on a horse and ran wildly in the farm, regardless of whether the crops would be trampled. He just wanted to vent his anger and dissatisfaction in this way. And the people in the farm didn't dare to say anything about it. They all know that the current Crown Prince William is in a rage. Once he gets anxious, it is very likely that he will get into trouble.

The current farm has already snowed, and the ground is covered with a thick layer of snow. It is undoubtedly very dangerous for Crown Prince William to ride a horse under such circumstances. However, he, who was already drunk, didn't care so much at all.

Suddenly, the horse's front hoof stepped into a snow pit, and after losing its balance, the horse fell down suddenly. Crown Prince William, who was riding on horseback, was immediately thrown out. Unfortunately, there was a snow-covered stone on the ground, and the back of Crown Prince William's head happened to hit the stone.

Chapter 74: pie in the sky

"His Royal Highness, Your Royal Highness, wake up!"

"God! What should I do? His Royal Highness is in a coma."

"Idiot, send His Highness the Crown Prince to the hospital immediately. Then report what happened here to His Majesty the Emperor!"

A group of farm guards were in a hurry and sent Crown Prince William out of the farm and sent to the hospital for treatment. At the same time, he quickly reported the situation here to William II.

During such a panic, it is undoubtedly very difficult to keep a secret.

Crown Prince William fell off his horse and is still in a coma. The news was immediately known by the entire upper class in Germany at lightning speed. Everyone knows that if Crown Prince William is too seriously injured and remains unconscious or even dies, it will have a huge impact on Germany's power structure. Perhaps, a new crown prince is about to be born.

"If Crown Prince William remains unconscious, it may be a good thing for the German Empire." Marshal Count Tirpitz blurted out this sentence after hearing the news.

After that, he asked someone to prepare the car and rushed to the hospital. When something like this happened, he needed to meet with Qin Tian to discuss the next countermeasures.

The chief of the German general staff, Maoqi, was even more frightened when he heard the news. You know, the relationship between him and Crown Prince William has always been very close. Even the outside world regards him as Crown Prince William. After Crown Prince William was placed under house arrest by William II, his status was challenged. Minister of War von Falkenhain has always wanted to take over his position as chief of the general staff.

"Damn it, how did this happen? Is this an accident, or was it planned?" Little Maoqi said through gritted teeth. Once something happened to Crown Prince William, or if he was replaced, it would undoubtedly be a huge blow to him.

When Qin Tian received the news, he was lying on the hospital bed. After two months of recovery, his injury has healed a lot. The wound has already healed. If it wasn't for the faint pain in his stomach, he would have been discharged from the hospital long ago. Of course, staying in the hospital is also safer. Not only because of the complete medical conditions here. At the same time, William II also deliberately strengthened the defense here to avoid another assassination.

"Your Highness, His Royal Highness the Crown Prince fell off his horse. He is still unconscious and is being rescued. It may be life-threatening." Carl von Jonalet rushed into Qin Tian's ward with a happy face and told him.

"What? When did this happen? Is the news true?" Qin Tian turned over from the bed all of a sudden, with a very complicated expression on his face. There is excitement, and there is also the relief of getting avenged, but at the same time, there is still a trace of doubt.

"Your Highness, this just happened. Although the news has not been confirmed, it should be true." Carl was very excited. Although Qin Tian's succession to the throne is relatively low, there are always exceptions. With Qin Tian's performance, if he can get the support of the military again, then he has a great possibility to sit on the throne of the crown prince.

But Qin Tian was not delighted by this, but even more confused: "Don't rush to make a decision now, this matter is too suspicious. Today is Christmas Eve, I stayed in the hospital and did not return to the palace, so that's all. When such a thing happened, I suspect that he did it on purpose. The purpose is to win His Majesty's sympathy, so that His Majesty can withdraw his order and release him from the farm."

"What? Will Crown Prince William really do this?" Karl couldn't believe it.

"Carl, we have to make these plans! For the throne, Prince can do anything." Qin Tian said.

Carl nodded: "Your Highness, then I will go to inquire about the news and try to get the exact news."

Qin Tian nodded.

After Karl left, Qin Tian was no longer sleepy at all. It is a lie to say that you are not moved. After Crown Prince William's accident, the possibility of him becoming the Crown Prince of the Empire is undoubtedly great. Although, there are still a few older brothers ahead of him. But those guys are all wastes waiting to die. He had been covered by the brilliance of Crown Prince William before, acting mediocre, with nothing but a prominent identity and a glamorous appearance.

After Qin Tian successfully rose up, their performance became even more unbearable, and they were almost on the verge of being ignored. No one thinks of them at all except the royal family.

So, if Crown Prince William falls. Then, the possibility of Qin Tian inheriting the throne will increase a lot.

"Could it be, is this the benefit of the time traveler? It's really great that such a great thing can happen." Qin Tian couldn't help laughing.

Originally, he thought that he was completely out of luck with the throne. But in order to ensure his own interests and wealth, he tried his best to strengthen Germany's military power. However, now there is actually one more chance to be crown prince, which makes him more confident about the future. If he could become the crown prince of the empire, then he would have more reason and responsibility to help the empire win the war.

In addition, Crown Prince William fell off his horse, which has never happened in another time and space. This made Qin Tian feel a little vigilant, that is, the current history is gradually different from what he is familiar with. Therefore, he can no longer see the future with the previous thinking.

While Qin Tian was full of confidence in his future, William II was furious in the palace.

"What's going on? Why did such a thing happen? How did Prince fall off his horse for no reason? Did someone deliberately murder?" William II's face was so gloomy that he could drip water. When these words were uttered, it was extremely cold, as if the temperature in the hall had dropped a lot because of it.

"Your Majesty, after learning that His Highness the Crown Prince could not return to the palace, he was in a very bad mood and began to drink heavily. After getting drunk, he insisted on riding a horse, regardless of our obstruction. This is why the accident happened. Although, it cannot be ruled out that someone deliberately The possibility of murder, but this possibility is very small." A head of the royal secret force responsible for guarding the farm reported sweating profusely.

"Trash! Prince is looking for death. Are you all fools? Can't you forcefully stop him?" William II was furious.

But the head of the secret army guarding the farm had no choice but to lower his head and let William II vent his anger without daring to argue at all.

Chapter 75: The Emperor's Hesitation (for collection)

"Essen, check it out. Is there anyone with ulterior motives involved in the fall of Prince's horse? Once it is found out that someone planned it, no matter who it is, I will definitely not let it go!" William The Second King had a murderous look on his face.

"Yes, Your Majesty!" Essen von Jonalet nodded. He knew that William II was really angry this time. Two princes had accidents one after another, and one was a prince, which made him very annoyed.

Regardless, Essen von Jonareit also knows that most of what happened this time was an accident. With the character of Crown Prince William, it is entirely possible to talk about riding a horse after drinking.

"In addition, notify the Royal Hospital and try our best to rescue Prince. As long as it is possible, we must do our best. May God bless Prince, and he can get through this time safely!" William II sighed.

In his heart, there is also some self-blame. If he hadn't rejected Queen Victoria's request, Crown Prince William might not have been riding a horse after drinking alcohol, and such a thing would not have happened. After all, no matter how many things were wrong with Crown Prince William, he was still his son! And he has always been the most beloved eldest son.

"Okay, Your Majesty. The Royal Hospital will definitely do their best." Essen von Jonalet said.

King William II nodded. He had already done what he could do. Now that things had happened, it was useless to blame others. The only thing he can do now is to pray to God. Pray that Crown Prince William will be safe and sound this time!

Although William II is very dissatisfied with Crown Prince William's recent performance, but the so-called tiger's poison does not eat its child, not to mention that William II has always had high expectations for Crown Prince William? It's just that recently I have become a little bit hated that iron can't be made into steel. It is undoubtedly very difficult for other people to replace Crown Prince William's position in William II's mind.

After Essen von Jonareit left, William II fell into deep thought. As the emperor of the empire, he must consider the overall situation. Although, he hopes that Crown Prince William will be safe and sound. However, he had to prepare for the worst. Once Crown Prince William can no longer fulfill the obligations of the Crown Prince, he will have to consider replacing the Crown Prince. After all, the hegemony of the empire is the most important thing. Everything else must be put aside.

Although, because of the poor performance of Crown Prince William, William II had the idea of changing the crown prince. However, after struggling many times, I still haven't really made up my mind. This undoubtedly shows that he still has a glimmer of hope in his heart, hoping that Crown Prince William can change his mind and become a competent crown prince who satisfies him again.

It's just that, I didn't expect such a thing to happen at this time.

"If the crown prince needs to be replaced, who is the right candidate? Is it Ertel, Adalbert, August, or Oscar?" The names flashed through William II's mind one by one. It's just that the first three sons are a little too incompetent. Compared with Qin Tian, it was completely covered up. Under such circumstances, it seems obvious who is the most suitable candidate.

However, William II had his own considerations. In his opinion, Qin Tian is indeed very good, even being good is a bit too monstrous. Not only has he accumulated wealth in a very short period of time that most people would never earn in his lifetime, but he also has a forward-looking vision far beyond that of professional designers in terms of warship design. He also has a very deep understanding of the international situation. The relationship with the military is also very close.

King William II had to admit that in many respects, Qin Tian was even better than him. As a father, Wilhelm II should feel good about it. However, as an emperor, he had to be on guard because of this. After all, the emperor's greatest charm probably lies in his supreme power. Naturally, he would not want to share such power with others, even if the other party was his own son.

In addition, William II was also worried about whether Qin Tian played some dishonorable role in the matter of Crown Prince William's fall from the horse. After all, Crown Prince William had directly sent someone to assassinate Qin Tian before, which almost cost him his life. If Qin Tian retaliates against Crown Prince William because of this, it can also be intercepted. However, this could not be accepted by William II. As an emperor and a father, he did not want his sons to have * conflicts for the throne.

"I hope this matter really has nothing to do with Oscar! Otherwise, he will disappoint me too much." William II sighed. If Crown Prince William fell off his horse, it was really Qin Tian who did it. Then, no matter how good Qin Tian performed, William II would not hand over the empire to Qin Tian.

Royal Hospital, Qin Tian's ward, Count and Marshal Tirpitz appeared here again.

"Your Excellency Marshal, if you appear in my ward at this time, if people with ulterior motives find out, it may have a bad influence." Qin Tian said with a smile.

"Your Highness, you know, I don't care about it at all. Who in the whole empire doesn't know the relationship between the navy and His Royal Highness? Under such circumstances, if you deliberately avoid suspicion, it will make people think that there is a ghost in it." Marshal Earl Tirpitz said nonchalantly.

Indeed, as the founder of the German Imperial Navy and one of William II's most trusted courtiers, Marshal Count Tirpitz didn't have to worry about those rumors at all.

"Your Excellency Marshal, at this time, it's better to be careful." Qin Tian shook his head.

"Your Highness, I just got a warning. The rescue of Crown Prince William is still going on. However, the situation is very pessimistic. Even if I can save my life, I am afraid that I will not be able to fulfill the responsibility of Crown Prince. I think Your Highness must do Just be prepared. This is definitely a rare opportunity!" Marshal Earl Tirpitz suggested.

"Your Majesty Marshal, I know your kindness. However, I have already done what should be done. Now, it depends on your Majesty's choice!" Qin Tian sighed.

Indeed, what he can do has already been done. He had performed so outstandingly before, if William II was still unwilling to establish him as the crown prince because of this, then no matter how much he did, it would be of no use at all. If he is very positive about the position of crown prince now, it may be counterproductive.

Marshal Earl Tirpitz nodded: "I believe that His Majesty is a wise monarch, and he will make the right choice."

Chapter 76: tangled emperor

For the German navy, if Qin Tian can become the crown prince, that would undoubtedly be the best result. Qin Tian gave the navy too much help and support. Once Qin Tian becomes the crown prince, it is foreseeable that Qin Tian will definitely provide more support to the navy.

Marshal Earl Tirpitz even believed that no one is more suitable than Qin Tian to become the crown prince of the empire. This is in the best interests of Germany.

However, everyone knows that it is undoubtedly very difficult for Qin Tian to surpass the other princes and become the Crown Prince. First of all, the law of succession to the throne is not a decoration, and there are still many stubborn people who believe that the law must be followed. Secondly, the attitude of William II is also very important. If William II's attitude is to firmly deny it, Qin Tian will have to launch a coup if he wants to become the crown prince. And this is almost impossible to succeed. As long as Qin Tian hadn't had his head caught by the door, he wouldn't have done that.

"Your Highness, no matter what, the navy is your most staunch supporter. We sincerely hope that you can become the crown prince of the empire and lead the entire empire to a more glorious future." Marshal Earl Tirpitz said sincerely

"Your Excellency Marshal, thank you for your support. If I really have the opportunity to lead this empire, I will definitely do my best to bring you the victory everyone expects." Qin Tian also gave Tirpi Marshal Earl of Ciss a guarantee. At this time, the support of the military is also very important to him. In terms of emotion and reason, he couldn't let the military down.

Marshal Earl Tirpitz nodded in satisfaction, with a smile on his face. Qin Tian's answer was undoubtedly exactly what he wanted.

Time passed little by little, and two days later, the follow-up development of Crown Prince William's fall from the horse gradually became clear.

Essen? Von? Jonalet reported to William II the results of the investigation, as well as the Royal Hospital's diagnosis of Crown Prince William's condition.

"Your Majesty, according to our investigation, we can be sure that the fall of Crown Prince William's horse was completely accidental. It is very dangerous for the Crown Prince to ride a horse while drunk. In addition, the forefoot of the flatterer fell into the snow pit and broke, so that the Crown Prince was arrested. It was thrown out and hit its head on a rock. If it was artificially designed, it would be impossible to do everything so perfectly." Essen von Jonareit said.

King William II nodded: "Poor Prince! It seems that all this is really an accident."

William II expressed sympathy for what happened to Crown Prince William. At the same time, the worries in my heart also dissipated a lot. At least, the worst isn't happening. That was Qin Tian's revenge on Crown Prince William. This is where Wilhelm II was gratified.

"What does the Royal Hospital say? Can Prince recover?" William II asked.

"Your Majesty, the Royal Hospital has rescued His Highness the Crown Prince out of danger. However, His Highness the Crown Prince has been in a coma because of a hit to the head." Essen von Jonalet said.

"So, when will His Highness the Crown Prince wake up?" William II asked.

"This, I'm afraid it's hard to say. The conclusion of the Royal Hospital is that they are not sure when His Royal Highness the Crown Prince will wake up. Because there is congestion in his head, which oppresses his nerves."

"Okay, Essen, you just need to tell me whether His Royal Highness the Crown Prince has woken up." William II interrupted Essen von Jonneret's long speech.

"Your Majesty, the final conclusion of the hospital is that the possibility of His Highness the Crown Prince waking up is very small. I am afraid that he will continue to sleep like this and become a vegetative state. Of course, the possibility that a miracle will happen and His Highness the Crown Prince will suddenly wake up is not ruled out." Essen? Von Jonareit said.

"Vegetable? Prince will become a vegetable?" William II's face became quite ugly. Such a result is undoubtedly difficult for him to accept.

"Your Majesty..." Essen von Jonareit wanted to persuade him, but was stopped by William II.

"Okay, Essen, you don't need to say any more, I already know. Don't worry, such a blow can't knock me down!" William II said.

"Yes, Your Majesty." Essen von Jonalet nodded.

"Essen, go and inform the Prime Minister, Foreign Minister, Chief of Staff, Secretary of the Navy and Minister of War to hold an imperial meeting tonight!" William II said with a dark face.

"Yes, Your Majesty." Essen von Jonareit knew the purpose of William II holding the imperial meeting. Since Crown Prince William can't wake up, naturally he can no longer perform the duties of a crown prince. So, now it is necessary to re-select a crown prince. The German Empire cannot live without a Crown Prince.

After Essen von Jonareit left, a trace of sadness flashed in William II's eyes. As a father, seeing his son become a vegetable, he felt very uncomfortable. It's just that, as an emperor, he doesn't have time to pay attention to these children's love, he needs to focus on the overall situation.

"Oscar, is he a suitable candidate for the crown prince? If he is allowed to become the crown prince, then I am afraid that he will encounter great resistance. However, I have to admit that Oscar is indeed the best choice among the many princes." William Second frowned.

Oscar is his fifth son. After Crown Prince William became a vegetable, there are three sons ahead of him. It is not so difficult to surpass these princes and become the crown prince of the German Empire.

Of course, if William II can make up his mind and strongly support Qin Tian to become the crown prince of the German Empire, even if it is difficult, it will definitely be possible in the end.

"If Oscar becomes the crown prince and Prince wakes up again in the future, what should we do?" Thinking that this possibility does exist, William II couldn't help but feel even more headache. Regarding the fall of Crown Prince William, William II felt a little guilty. If the position of Crown Prince William is taken away, and Crown Prince William wakes up again in the future, it will be even more difficult to explain.

"Damn, how could this be? Why did such an embarrassing thing happen?" William II was a little speechless.

However, this is the end of the matter, and William II has no other choice. With Crown Prince William in a coma, the position of Crown Prince cannot always be reserved for him. The German Empire needs a crown prince to ensure the stability of the country. Let the subjects of the empire believe that the future of the empire is still unlimited.

Chapter 77: military support

On December 26, just after Christmas, a royal meeting concerning the future of Germany was held in William II's office. The senior military and political officials of the German Communist Party present at the meeting all had serious faces.

"Everyone, everyone must have known about the misfortune that happened to Crown Prince William just now. The Royal Hospital has already diagnosed it. It may be difficult for Crown Prince William to wake up again." A trace of sadness flashed in William II's eyes.

"God! Poor His Royal Highness the Crown Prince." Prime Minister Bernhard von Bülow couldn't help saying.

The other ministers also nodded repeatedly. Indeed, there is probably no crown prince in the world who is more pitiful than Crown Prince William? The heir of such a powerful empire has become a vegetable, and the rest of his life can only be spent in a bed or a wheelchair. Thinking about it makes people feel pitiful.

"Okay, everyone, I believe that everything is God's will. God will bless Prince, the poor child." William II said.

The ministers all looked at William II, waiting for his next words. Everyone knows that determining the next crown prince candidate is the most important topic of today's meeting.

"Everyone, when Crown Prince William is unable to continue to fulfill the responsibilities of Crown Prince, the Empire needs a new Crown Prince. According to the law of succession to the throne, Prince Ethel Friedrich, the second in line heir, should become the new Crown Prince. Everyone agrees Any comments?" William II asked.

"Your Majesty, we are very saddened by such a tragedy that happened to Crown Prince William. However, I don't think Prince Friedrich is a suitable candidate. The Crown Prince of the Empire needs outstanding personal ability and excellent character Okay. I think Prince Oscar is the most suitable candidate." Marshal Earl Tirpitz was the first to stand up and express his opinion.

The ministers all nodded subconsciously. If they had to choose between Prince Ethel Friedrich and Qin Tian, Qin Tian would undoubtedly be the best choice. After all, as important ministers of the empire, they all hope that the future of the empire will be better. And this requires choosing an excellent heir for the empire. rather than an incompetent person.

Of course, among the ministers, there are not no objections. For example, Xiao Maoqi, chief of the general staff, did not think that Qin Tian was a suitable candidate. After all, from his own standpoint, a strong heir to the empire will greatly restrict the power in his hands. What's more, he had already offended Qin Tian, so he didn't want Qin Tian to come to power.

If Prince Ethel Friedrich becomes the crown prince of the empire and will become the emperor of the empire in the future, it will undoubtedly be better controlled. After all, if Prince Ethel Friedrich, who doesn't have much ability, wants to secure his position, he must get his support.

"Your Excellency Tirpitz, forgive me for not agreeing with your statement. Prince Oscar's ability is very outstanding, very outstanding, and I have no objection to this. However, we have to admit that according to the law of succession to the throne, Prince Oscar is ranked first The fifth place, in addition to Prince Ethel Friedrich, there are Prince Adalbert and Prince August William. If Prince Oscar becomes the crown prince, it does not mean trampling on the succession of the throne In the future, what kind of criteria should be used to determine the successor of the empire, everything will be messed up. Therefore, I firmly oppose the succession of the crown prince by Prince Oscar, and Ethel Friedrich should follow the law of succession to the throne. The prince will succeed you as the crown prince." The chief of the general staff, Xiao Maoqi, jumped out and clearly expressed his opposition to Qin Tian's succession as the crown prince.

However, I have to admit that what Xiao Moqi said is also very reasonable. The character of the Germans is inherently very rigorous and rigid. They have always strictly followed the law. It is undoubtedly very difficult to get them to trample on the law.

Even William II couldn't help nodding. He also had some doubts about his desire to establish Qin Tian as the crown prince in his heart. Is this a good thing for Germany?

"Damn it, little Maoqi, this old guy, is clearly doing it for his own self-interest and disregarding the interests of the empire!" Marshal Earl Tirpitz couldn't help cursing inwardly.

Marshal Earl Tirpitz is very clear about what kind of person Little Moltke is. He also knew that Qin Tian didn't like Xiao Maoqi. Under such circumstances, in order to ensure his own power, Xiao Maoqi will naturally do his best to prevent Qin Tian from taking the throne.

"The law of succession to the throne cannot be trampled on in pieces. However, the empire is about to face a huge war, which concerns the future of Germany. We must choose an outstanding heir for the empire. Only in this way can the future ensure that the empire can survive the war Win." Marshal Count Tirpitz insisted.

"Your Excellency Tirpitz, Prince Oscar has indeed provided a lot of support for the navy. But you can't trample on the laws of the empire because of this. I don't deny that Prince Oscar is a very outstanding prince. However, he is only 18 now. No one can tell what will happen in the future. What's more, even if Prince Oscar fails to become the Crown Prince, with his ability, he can still support the empire's military build-up and development." Mo Qi retorted.

Although, Xiao Maoqi knew that his statement would soon reach Qin Tian's ears. And doing so would undoubtedly offend Qin Tian to death. However, now he is already unable to get off the tiger. For his own status and power, he had to do so.

William II frowned. He didn't expect that Tirpitz and Moltke would have such a big reaction when Qin Tian succeeded as crown prince. Originally, he thought that with Qin Tian's ability, these ministers would easily pass. But now it seems that things are a bit beyond his expectation! You know, these two people are his very trusted courtiers. The completely different attitudes of the two also made him have some doubts in his heart.

"Little Maoqi, don't think I don't know what you think. You have offended Prince Oscar yourself, and you are worried that after he becomes the crown prince, your position as chief of the general staff will be lost." Marshal Count Tirpitz said.

"Tirpitz, you are talking nonsense. When did I offend Prince Oscar? Even if I did, it was for the benefit of the empire. I think Prince Oscar wouldn't be so disregarding the interests of the empire." Little Maoqi Some became angry from embarrassment.

"Okay, both of you restrain yourself. Today's meeting is for everyone to express their opinions on the crown prince, not to mention other things." William II said with some dissatisfaction.

Chapter 78: The Dust Settles (For Collection)

"Your Excellency, Prime Minister, what do you think about the candidate for the new Crown Prince?" William II looked at Prime Minister Bernhard von Bülow. The military's attitude was so sharp that William II needed to listen to the opinions of the civilian faction.

"Your Majesty, His Royal Highness Prince Oscar has excellent abilities and good conduct. He is undoubtedly a very good candidate. But unfortunately, his ranking is too low. If Prince Oscar is appointed as the new Crown Prince, I am afraid it will cause quite a few people Of course, everything depends on His Majesty's will. If His Majesty decides to appoint Prince Oscar as Crown Prince, even if there are objections, it will not cause too much impact." Prime Minister Bilo said.

Prime Minister Bilo's words, there is no difference between saying and not saying. He undoubtedly meant only one thing, that is, on this issue, William II's attitude is very important. As long as Wilhelm II decides, other people's opinions don't matter at all.

"Your Excellency, Minister of Foreign Affairs, what is your attitude?" William II asked.

"Your Majesty, our current international environment is very bad. Britain, France and Russia are getting closer and closer, and have even formed a de facto military alliance. Under such an external environment, once there is a dispute over our succession to the throne, it will inevitably cause their interference. They will even use this to accuse us and further discredit us internationally." Von Kidren Wachter was a little worried.

"Hmph! The inheritance of the empire has nothing to do with other countries. It is not their turn to express their opinions on what the empire should do." William II snorted coldly. Succession to the throne belongs to the internal affairs of a country and has nothing to do with other countries. As a very powerful monarch, William II naturally did not want the internal affairs of the country to be interfered by other countries.

Von Kidren? Vachite nodded, no more to say. He has already expressed his opinion, as for how to choose, it is not up to him to decide.

William II frowned tightly, and now the focus of the question is on confirming Qin Tian as the crown prince, whether this will violate the law of succession to the throne and cause large-scale dissatisfaction. However, if other princes are chosen as the crown prince, but their abilities are very limited, William II does not think that they are capable of being a good crown prince. The current situation in Germany is not good. Therefore, the crown prince of the empire must be a person with excellent ability. This point, Wilhelm II is quite agreeable.

How to choose, this made William II a little unsure.

When Marshal Count Tirpitz saw this situation, he couldn't help feeling a little angry. Originally, he thought that making Qin Tian the crown prince should be a sure thing. As long as the heads of these important ministers of the empire are not caught by the door, they will not object. But who would have known that because of Xiao Maoqi's disruption, the focus of the conflict was successfully shifted to the law of succession to the throne. He had promised Qin Tian at the beginning that it would be no problem for Qin Tian to become the crown prince of the empire! If he didn't succeed, wouldn't that make him lose his promise?

"Damn little Maoqi, this old guy actually disregarded the righteousness of the country for his own self-interest, it is simply too shameless!" Marshal Earl Tirpitz was very angry.

"Your Majesty, I still think that Prince Oscar is the most suitable candidate. The most important task placed on the Empire at present is to win future wars. Therefore, we need a crown prince with excellent capabilities. Future wars are related to the survival of the Empire. , we cannot avoid any mistakes, we must do our best in all aspects." Marshal Earl Tirpitz continued.

"Hmph! The old guy Tirpitz seems determined to push that kid Oscar to the position of crown prince. But, I won't let him do so." Little Moqi sneered in his heart.

Just as Little Maoqi was about to speak, another person spoke up first.

"Your Majesty, I also believe that Prince Oscar is the best candidate for the Crown Prince. Although Prince Oscar is relatively low in the ranking, this is an extraordinary period, and we must consider it for the benefit of the empire. If a war breaks out in the future, the empire's There will be a lot of affairs, and His Majesty needs a crown prince with excellent ability to assist. Among the many princes, no one is more suitable than Prince Oscar. Even if it violates the law of succession to the throne, as long as the empire can It is also worthwhile to win the war. What's more, with Prince Oscar's reputation in the empire, there are probably very few people who oppose him becoming the crown prince of the empire!"

The speaker was none other than Minister of War von Falkenhain.

In the army system, Little Mao Qi is the first person who does his part. However, von Falkenhain is second only to Little Mao Qi's army leader. Unlike Marshal Count Tirpitz in the navy, Little Mao Qi and von Falkenhain, in order to compete for power, often have very unpleasant quarrels. Relying on the trust of Wilhelm II, little Mao Qi has been overwhelming von Falkenhain. And this also made von Falkenhain want to drive Little Maoqi down all the time. It would be best if he could replace Little Maoqi and serve as the chief of staff. In this way, he will be able to establish the status of the first person in the army like the Marshal Earl Tirpitz.

Now, with the change of crown prince, von Falkenhain sees an opportunity. Little Moltke has a close relationship with Crown Prince William, but now Crown Prince William has become a vegetable. If Qin Tian can become the crown prince, with the relationship between Qin Tian and Xiao Maoqi, Xiao Maoqi will definitely not be able to secure the position of chief of staff. And this gave von Falkenhain an excellent opportunity.

So, at this time, von Falkenhain acted decisively and showed his support for Qin Tian.

Little Mao Qi looked at von Falkenhain angrily. He never thought that he would be stabbed from the back at this time. When he was arguing with Marshal Earl Tirpitz before, he thought he represented the opinion of the entire army. But now, internal strife has arisen within the army. This greatly reduced the weight of his words.

Marshal Count Tirpitz couldn't help laughing when he saw this situation. He knew that the balance of victory had begun to tilt in his favor. William II's attitude will change accordingly.

Sure enough, von Falkenhain's statement was like the last straw that broke the camel's back, and William II quickly made up his mind. Now, for the benefit of the empire, certain changes must be made.

Chapter 79: acting crown prince

"Okay, I already know everyone's opinions. I will think about it carefully. Tomorrow, I will officially inform everyone of my decision." William II said. After fully understanding the opinions of the ministers, William II undoubtedly had a decision in mind.

"Yes, Your Majesty!" The ministers said one after another.

Little Mao Qi saw that William II had made a decision, and although he was unwilling, he still didn't say anything in the end. He knew that if he talked too much, it would only arouse William II's disgust.

Little Moltke knew the character of William II very well, and knew that he was a headstrong and conceited person. Once a decision has been made, it cannot be questioned by others. Otherwise, he will be regarded as a provocation to himself. Little Mao Qi knew that the reason why he was able to come to this day was entirely because of William II's trust in him. Otherwise, he would never have such a day. Therefore, following William II and avoiding angering William II has always been his style and guidelines.

After all the ministers left, William II leaned back in his chair and closed his eyes.

"The navy and part of the army all support Oscar. It seems that Oscar's succession as crown prince is already what everyone expects." William II said.

Although, he still has some doubts about this in his heart, and there is a little bit of resistance. However, he knew that for the benefit of the empire, it was undoubtedly the best choice for Qin Tian to take over as the crown prince of the empire. Qin Tian's abilities in all aspects are qualified for the position of crown prince.

"Essen, let someone bring Oscar, I want to see him!" William II ordered.

"Yes, Your Majesty." Essen von Jonalet nodded.

After receiving the notice from the palace, Qin Tian rushed to the palace immediately. Although, the imperial meeting has just ended. However, Qin Tian already knew the specific content. He knew that at the meeting, Count and Marshal Tirpitz gave him strong support, which moved him very much. In addition, the crucial support of von Falkenhain allowed Wilhelm II to make the final decision. And Little Maoqi's attack on him, Qin Tian also knew clearly. He kept all these in his heart. Once he becomes the Crown Prince, the liquidation will be carried out gradually.

"Little Maoqi, you still make such an unwise choice at this time. At that time, you will be the one to look at." Qin Tian secretly made up his mind.

In Qin Tian's view, Xiao Maoqi is not suitable to be the chief of the general staff at all. It was precisely because of his modification of the Schlieffen plan that the German army failed to quickly open up the situation at the beginning of the war in another time and space, and fell into a stalemate, causing Germany to be dragged to death in the end. If given the chance, he would definitely replace Mao Qi with a qualified chief of staff.

After arriving at the palace, Qin Tian went directly to William II's office. From Essen von Jonareit, he knew that William II had been waiting for him after the imperial meeting ended.

"Father, I'm here." Qin Tian stood in front of William II.

"Oscar, sit down!" William II pointed to the sofa in front of him.

Qin Tian sat on the sofa, waiting for William II's next instruction. He knew that if he wanted to become the crown prince, the meeting with William II today should be the final word.

"Oscar, Prince has fallen from the horse, so that he can no longer perform the duties of the crown prince. The empire needs a new crown prince. Almost all the ministers think that you are suitable to be the new crown prince of the empire. What do you think about this?" William II Shi Shi stared at Qin Tian with burning eyes.

"Father, my eldest brother fell off his horse and has not yet recovered. This is undoubtedly a disaster for the empire. I have been praying to God that he can wake up. I believe that God will definitely bless my eldest brother. For The position of the crown prince, everything is decided by the father. If the father has a more suitable candidate, I will definitely try my best to assist. I promise, whether I become the crown prince or not, I will contribute my strength to the empire." Qin God knows, apart from him in the current empire, there is no more suitable candidate at all.

William II nodded: "Oscar, I recognize your ability very much. Your conduct is also very good. It can be said that you are a very perfect candidate for the crown prince. However, it is precisely because of this that it makes I have some doubts. You know, you were not like this two years ago. At that time, you were withdrawn and mean-spirited. But in a blink of an eye, you seem to be a different person, which makes me very puzzled .Can you tell me what happened to you?"

"Father, a person has to grow up. Especially men, they must learn to take their own responsibilities. It is precisely because I want to understand this that I changed." Qin Tian replied calmly.

Of course Qin Tian would not tell William II that there is a soul from more than a hundred years in the body of Prince Oscar. If that's the case, then he wouldn't have to use it for slice research, or even tie it to the stake and burn it alive! Anyway, as long as he refuses to admit to this kind of thing, others will have nothing to do with him.

King William II frowned, and it took a while for his brows to relax. It was as if he agreed with Qin Tian's statement.

"Oscar, no matter what, you are my son. I hope that you can fight for the empire. Only when the empire is strong, we, the masters of the empire, can enjoy the current life and power. Once the empire collapses, our Everything will cease to exist." William II said earnestly.

"Yes, father!" Qin Tian tried his best to control the joy in his heart, and tried his best to make his expression look flat.

King William II nodded: "Oscar, I hope you can really do it."

Subsequently, William II went on to say: "After comprehensively considering the opinions of the ministers, I have decided to make you the acting crown prince of the empire."

"Replacing the crown prince?" Qin Tian was taken aback, the crown prince is the crown prince, why is there such a thing as the acting crown prince? Is it possible that William II will continue to test him?

"Oscar, the position of Crown Prince belongs to Prince after all. No matter how wrong he is, he is your elder brother after all. I hope that if he can wake up one day, you can return the position of Crown Prince to him. Of course, if When I am reborn, if he has not been able to wake up, then everything will be forgotten." William II said.

Once he dies, Qin Tian will surely succeed to the throne and become the emperor of the empire. At that time, even if Crown Prince William wakes up, it is impossible for Qin Tian to return the throne to Crown Prince William. All levels of the empire will not allow such a thing to happen. After all, the change of the throne is no child's play.

Chapter 80: It's mine and no one can take it away

This decision of William II made Qin Tian very aggrieved. He never expected that William II would add the word "generation" before his position as crown prince.

Qin Tian knew that in William II's mind, he was still inferior to Crown Prince William. Although, he is better than Crown Prince William. Crown Prince William has done so many assholes, but in the mind of William II, he will still not be replaced. William II made him the crown prince of the empire this time, which was more of a compromise. Because the empire needs a wise and mighty heir to the throne. If Crown Prince William wakes up soon, Qin Tian can guarantee that William II will immediately abolish him and make Crown Prince William the heir to the throne of the empire again.

Many things in the world are just so unfair. The same is true for Qin Tian.

However, even though he felt aggrieved in his heart, Qin Tian still didn't dare to show it, let alone refuse. If he refuses, not only will he completely offend William II, but it will also completely miss him as the crown prince.

For Qin Tian, the best way is to accept the arrangement of William II. As for the future, let's figure out a way later. Anyway, he won't sit still. In terms of the strength he has mastered, once he becomes the crown prince, he will definitely get further development. At that time, even if William II wants to replace him, it will not be so easy.

"Okay, father, I don't have any opinion on this. After all, the crown prince originally belonged to the eldest brother, and I just took care of it for him temporarily." Qin Tian said calmly.

King William II nodded in satisfaction, he knew that Qin Tian would be very unwilling. However, Qin Tian still chose to obey in the end, which undoubtedly made William II very satisfied. He believed that his will had been carried out. This empire is still in his hands. His will determines the fate of all people.

"Oscar, I am very satisfied with your performance. I hope that you can make greater contributions to the empire in the position of crown prince. Once I think that you will inherit the throne sooner than Prince, you may not have become a real prince. opportunity for the Crown Prince," said William II. William II knew that if he wanted Qin Tian to do his best, he still needed to give Qin Tian some motivation.

"Yes, father!" Qin Tian was disdainful in his heart, he knew that William II was slapping a sweet date, and he was not a child, so how could he be fooled like this?

"Father, how can we circumvent the law of succession to the throne? If I are allowed to inherit the position of crown prince, many people will be dissatisfied, and it will even cause quite a disturbance." Qin Tian was a little worried.

"I will take care of the law of succession to the throne. With me around, those old guys can't make any trouble." William II said domineeringly.

Although, Western monarchs are not as powerful as Eastern monarchs. But in the German Empire, where the national power is booming, the emperor's influence is undoubtedly still great. There are people who dare to fight against the imperial power. But the number is very small. William II also has a lot of ways to deal with these people. Especially after getting the support of the ministers, this is even more so.

Qin Tian nodded, and he also knew that if William II couldn't handle this, then he would be too incompetent as emperor.

"Father, what about the second, third and fourth brothers? They are in front of me." Qin Tian continued. He believed that his other three elder brothers were also eyeing the crown prince. Crown Prince William's status was stable before, and he had spared no effort to suppress them, making them dare not have any thoughts about the position of Crown Prince. But now, Crown Prince William has become a vegetable. The ambition in their hearts must have grown like weeds. It is foreseeable that they will definitely make demands on the crown prince.

Although, these sons of William II can only be regarded as mediocre in terms of ability. However, this did not hinder their pursuit of the throne.

"Hmph! Those ignorant guys, what qualifications do they have to become crown princes? If they really dare to have such unreasonable thoughts, I will let them wake up and let them know what self-knowledge is." William II's face was cold. Although, those princes are also his sons. However, he had already given up hope for them. In the eyes of William II, they were just eating and waiting to die.

Qin Tian nodded and said no more. He knew that William II had already decided all of this. No matter how much he said, it was useless. Instead of this, it is better to leave everything to William II. He just needs to prepare for the current crown prince with peace of mind.

Next, William II gave Qin Tian a face-to-face order and taught some experience of being the crown prince. Before becoming the emperor of the German Empire, Wilhelm II also served as the crown prince. It's just that Frederick III passed away after being emperor for just over three months, which allowed William II to succeed to the throne as Emperor of Germany at the age of 29.

Qin Tian humbly accepts these experiences. He knows that there will always be a time when it will be useful in the future. However, this does not mean that he will willingly accept William II's arrangements. There is no way now, so he can only accept the appointment of acting crown prince. Once given the chance, he will definitely fight back, even if it is a coup d'état. Besides, for William II, a cheap father, Qin Tian didn't have much family approval in his heart.

The current history, and the history that Qin Tian is familiar with, have had some deviations. In another time and space, there was no such thing as Crown Prince William falling off his horse. At the same time, Qin Tian also doubted whether William II would live that long in this time and space.

After staying in the palace for a full two hours, until 12 o'clock in the middle of the night, Qin took his leave. Although William II allowed him to stay in the palace, Qin Tian declined. Too many things happened tonight, he needs to find a place to calm down, and at the same time make a good plan for the future.

After Qin Tian left the palace, his two fists could not help but clenched tightly together.

"Since God reborn me into this era, now I have the opportunity to become the crown prince of Germany. Even if it is the acting crown prince, this will eventually have the opportunity to inherit the throne of this country. This time, I will not compromise again, and will not Back off. Anyone, don't even try to take what belongs to me from me!" Qin Tian secretly made up his mind.
