"Your Majesty, the islanders are still insisting on uncompromising, even though we have destroyed eight of their big cities. Is it possible that we really want to destroy all the coastal cities of the islanders? In that case, the impact is too big!" Marshal Earl Tirpitz asked.

Everyone found that they all seriously underestimated the degree of paranoia of the Germans. Originally, they thought that the islanders would succumb soon. Especially after their navy was wiped out, it seemed there was no other way but to submit to the German Empire. However, to everyone's surprise, the islanders are still gnashing their teeth.

"It's unrealistic to destroy all the coastal cities of the island country. In that case, we will truly become synonymous with murderous demon kings!" Qin Tian shook his head.

"But, it's impossible for us to drag on like that forever? The supplies of the expeditionary fleet can't last long. If we can't force the islanders to bow their heads, then we can only let the expeditionary fleet return, or send more transport ships I went to the island country." Marshal Earl Tirpitz said.

Qin Tian couldn't help but frowned. He also felt that this matter seemed rather tricky!

"Your Majesty, our people have discovered that the islanders are plundering wealth and resources in their Southeast Asian colonies. Obviously, they are preparing for escape. If we cannot make the islanders compromise as soon as possible, we will therefore And the loss is huge!" Prime Minister Biluo reminded.

"Does the expedition fleet have any suggestions for this?" Qin Tian asked.

The expedition fleet is in the island country, and they undoubtedly have a more comprehensive grasp of the island country's relevant situation. Therefore, Qin Tian hoped to listen to their opinions first. In this case, it is also convenient for him to make a judgment.

"Your Majesty, the expedition fleet proposed that they plan to forcibly break into Tokyo Bay and launch a bombardment directly on Tokyo. Tokyo is the capital of the islanders. If Tokyo is destroyed by us, the shock to the islanders will be unparalleled. At that time, The islanders probably have to bow their heads too!" said Marshal Earl Tirpitz.

"Break into Tokyo Bay by force? That's a good way. However, as the capital of the island nation, Tokyo Bay's defense must be very strict. The defense of the Uraga Waterway is not so easy to break into." Qin Tianshen Know how difficult it is to do this.

"Yes, Your Majesty. However, this is undoubtedly a way to make the islanders bow their heads as soon as possible. The expedition fleet will be fully prepared!" said Marshal Count Tirpitz.

Qin Tian nodded: "Okay, tell General Shi Pei that I approved their plan. However, when they act, they must ensure safety as much as possible. If the loss is too great, I would rather give up."

No matter what time it is, Qin Tian is very concerned about the safety of the troops, and he puts this in the first place.

"Yes, Your Majesty." Marshal Earl Tirpitz replied.

Sagami Bay, the main force of the German expeditionary fleet has all gathered here. After they destroyed Kitakyushu, the Discovery Islanders still didn't give in. Vice Admiral Spee ordered the fleet to return to Sagami Bay. At the same time, he sent a telegram to the country, hoping that the country would agree to his plan.

"Have you got the safe route for the Uraga Waterway?" Lieutenant General Spee asked.

"General, it is very difficult. We can only send seaplanes and destroyers to test it out quietly. At present, we have barely found a relatively safe channel. But whether it is 100% safe or not, we cannot guarantee it." Major General Mao Fu said with a serious face.

Lieutenant General Shi Pei nodded, he naturally knew that it was impossible to be 100% sure of anything.

"Let our most powerful 'Mackenson-class' battlecruiser open the way. The powerful defense of the 'Mackenson-class' battlecruiser may be able to withstand the power of a mine explosion?" Lieutenant General Spee said.

"General, the 'Mackenson-class' battlecruiser is indeed strong in defense. If it is only hit by a mine, it will not be a big problem. Even if the armor is penetrated, it will not cause too much damage to the battleship. Of course, it would be very difficult to tell if the mines were continuously touched." Major General Mao Fu said.

Although Lieutenant General Spee knew it was a bit risky, he still planned to try this method!

"General, in addition to the mines deployed by the islanders, we also have to worry about the coastal defense batteries deployed by the islanders on both sides of the Uraga Waterway. The turret is undoubtedly the most advanced. The main gun with the largest caliber has reached 305mm. Our battlecruisers have rough skin and thick flesh, so they can withstand it. However, those light cruisers and destroyers, I am afraid it will be very difficult." Major General Maofu reminded.

"Indeed, this is a problem. However, we can let the battlecruisers pass through the Uraga waterway first, and then let the light cruisers and destroyers pass quickly. Or, when the battlecruisers pass through the waterway, we can suppress the shore of the islanders." Anti-batteries create conditions for light cruisers and destroyers to pass through the waterway." Lieutenant General Spee said.

Major General Mao Fu nodded: "This should be able to play a certain role. However, once we enter the Gulf of Tokyo, we may have to face the attack of the destroyer formation of the islanders. I believe that at that time, they will definitely be brave. It's a deadly attack. Therefore, once our fleet enters Tokyo Bay, we must immediately guard against this!"

"Well! The islanders should not have many destroyers left now. If we can launch a surprise attack, by the time they react, we have already entered the Uraga waterway. In that case, our danger will not be so great Already!" Lieutenant General Spee said.

"Yes, General."

"Now that it's ready, let's launch it tomorrow morning! This time, we must pass through the Uraga Waterway and enter Tokyo Bay. Let the islanders know what will happen if we offend the Empire. Once Tokyo is destroyed by us I don't believe that the islanders have the courage to persevere." Lieutenant General Spee said.

"Yes, General!" Major General Mao Fu nodded.

Of course, this time forcibly breaking into Tokyo Bay and launching shelling on Tokyo may cause certain casualties. However, overall the threat should not be too great. This made the German Expeditionary Fleet hope to achieve the final victory through this adventure.

On August 19, at 4:00 am, the German expeditionary fleet began to set off, preparing to pass through the Uraga Waterway.
