Time passed bit by bit, and the whole of Germany fell into the carnival of winning the world war. However, the German army and navy will continue to use troops against Britain's overseas colonies. However, that was a small-scale war after all. It has no impact on the lives of the people in Germany.

The lives of the German people have also begun to gradually change. The rationing of agricultural products and commodities on the market has been cancelled. As long as they have banknotes, they can buy whatever they want. In addition, due to the impact of the war, Germany's industrial production is almost in a state of full production. This leaves almost everyone with a job and a lot of money.

After life improved, the support of the people of the empire for the emperor and the government of the empire naturally continued to increase.

For the upcoming military parade in the empire, the people of the empire also exploded with great enthusiasm. Capable people flocked to Berlin or Wilhelmshaven, wanting to see the military parade or ship review in person.

At the same time, representatives of various countries are also speeding up to Germany. They don't want to miss this opportunity. Especially those countries that want to hug the thigh of Germany, the new world hegemon.

US Secretary of State Bryan, as a representative of the United States, traveled to Germany on a warship. He arrived in Berlin on November 12. The reason for such a long time in advance is entirely because he has other matters to start a meeting with the German side.

Now, the British Isles have fallen, and Germany has completely controlled the British mainland, and even supported three puppet countries in the British mainland. Moreover, Germany has signed a peace treaty with the United Kingdom of England and Wales, which inherited the most important part of the British mainland. However, this does not mean that the war is really over. At least, the war between Germany and the British Empire continued.

Churchill and others fled to Canada and suffered heavy losses. Although they have begun to use the royal wealth to restore their strength. Especially military strength has become their most urgent thing. However, the restoration of military strength is not so easy, and it takes time to accumulate slowly. And would the Germans give them that much time? This is obviously very difficult. Once the German army crossed the Atlantic and launched an attack on Canada, the British could not resist it at all. Unless the United States can clearly state its support for the United Kingdom. He even did not hesitate to send military forces into Canada to fight side by side with the British. Only then will it be possible for the British to continue to exist in Canada.

US Secretary of State Bryan's trip was under the order of President Woodrow Wilson to negotiate with the Germans. The United States hopes that Germany can abandon the use of force against Canada. Of course, they know it's very difficult. However, the attitude of the United States must be made clear. This is especially the case when the United States and the United Kingdom have already launched in-depth cooperation. In order to obtain capital capable of confronting Germany, their cooperation with the United Kingdom must continue. Therefore, the United States must come forward to protect the remaining British forces in Canada.

After Brian arrived in Berlin, he immediately asked to pay a visit to Emperor Qin Tian.

Although the relationship between Germany and the United States is getting worse and worse, private confrontation has already begun. However, on the surface, the two sides did not tear each other apart.

Regarding Bryan's request, after Imperial Foreign Minister Vacht reported to Qin Tian, Qin Tian agreed.

The next morning, Brian entered the palace and had an audience with the Kaiser.

"Your Majesty, hello, on behalf of the President of our country, I would like to extend my most sincere greetings to you!" Brian looked respectful, and did not see Qin Tian clearly because of his young age.

Of course, the current Qin Tian can be regarded as the most powerful person on earth. There is no other person in the whole world who is qualified to despise him.

"Your Excellency, Secretary of State, please also convey my greetings to President Wilson!" Qin Tian's face was full of smiles.

No matter how the relationship between Germany and the United States is, it still needs to be passable on the surface.

"Okay, Your Majesty the Emperor!" Brian nodded.

After the pleasantries, Bryan congratulated Germany on behalf of the United States for its victory in this war. Although the United States provided great help to the Allies during the war, even the active naval warships were sold to the British. However, after all, they did not directly participate in this world war. However, it is precisely because of this that the United States has suffered heavy losses.

First of all, the United States provided a large amount of combat materials to the Allies. Many of them were given to the Allies in the form of loans. After the defeat of the Allied Powers, it is impossible for the United States to recover those loans. After the defeat, France will definitely not admit it. As for the UK, even if they admit it, they can't come up with so much money!

Secondly, this war was originally a great opportunity for the rise of the United States. They can make a lot of war money through this war. From this war, a huge amount of wealth was obtained. At the same time, after the European continent is completely smashed, take this opportunity to rise and become the most powerful country in the world.

But unfortunately, Germany quickly won this world war, and the Americans didn't even have a chance to intervene. If they joined the war at the beginning of the war, they might pose a considerable threat to Germany. It may even cause Germany to lose the war. However, when they hadn't made up their minds, Germany had already won quickly. Moreover, even if the United States joined the war at that time, it might not be able to turn the tide of the war. Under such circumstances, Americans can only pinch their noses to recognize it. Watching Germany win the World War and become the world's hegemon.

"Your Majesty, the war between your country and the United Kingdom is over. The British mainland has been occupied by Germany. The American Republic sincerely hopes that the war will come to an end." Bryan said.

Qin Tian couldn't help but frowned, the Americans seemed to have something to say!

"Secretary of State, what does the United States mean specifically?" Qin Tian asked.

"Your Majesty, the United States of America does not want war to burn to the Americas!" Bryan said further. When he said that, the meaning was undoubtedly very clear.

Qin Tian's complexion suddenly turned ugly. At this time, do Americans still want to point fingers at Germany? You know, Germany is now the world's hegemon. The overall strength of the United States cannot be compared with that of Germany at all. If it weren't for Germany expending too much power in this war, Qin Tian would have ordered to march to Canada long ago.
