

Jagged 836

A warship flying the rising sun flag sailed into the English Channel. This is a very large battleship, with a displacement of more than 30,000 tons, making it look like a hill floating on the sea.

Although the main gun is covered by the gun cover, the thick barrel still indicates how powerful the firepower of this battleship is.

This battleship is the first dreadnought ship built by the island nation's navy itself-the first ship of the "Fuso-class" battleship "Fuso". This is also the only battleship in the Japanese Navy. The other battleships accumulated by the island nation's navy over the past few decades have all been sent to the bottom of the sea in the decisive battle with the German Navy's expeditionary fleet. That battle can be said to bring the navy of the island country back to before liberation. In order to protect the interests of the island nation, they had to work overtime to build new battleships, which enabled the battleship 'Fuso' to enter service ahead of schedule. The progress of another battleship 'Shancheng' has also been greatly improved.

In addition, with the loan from the United States, the island navy's crazy shipbuilding plan has already begun. The follow-up "Ise-class" battleship has also started construction. In order to revive the navy and seek revenge from the German navy, the island country almost posted all of its old books. If they lose the war, they will lose everything and become paupers.

A young man stood on the deck of the battleship 'Fuso', looking at Britain in the distance.

"His Royal Highness, the sea wind is very strong here, so let's go to the cabin!" Kato Takaaki, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the island persuaded.

The royal family of the island country has various problems because of the marriage of close relatives. Emperor Meiji had uremia, Emperor Taisho had a bad brain, and Crown Prince Hirohito had inflexible fingers on his right hand and his health was not very good.

This young man is none other than Hirohito, the crown prince of the island nation. Although he is only 14 years old. However, his wisdom has been regarded as a symbol of a wise monarch by the ministers of the island country. Many people think that the island country will definitely become stronger under his leadership.

Of course, what they never imagined was that Hirohito would only lead the entire island country to perish. In another time and space, Hirohito and Daoguo escaped a catastrophe because of the conflicts between the great powers. However, in this time and space, everything is different. In the end, the island country will definitely be destroyed. Because Qin Tian, Emperor of the German Empire, did not want this country to continue to exist in the world.

"Your Excellency, is there the British Empire?" Hirohito asked the northern horizon.

Kato Takaaki nodded: "The former British Empire. However, it is now the United Kingdom of England and Wales. The former British Empire no longer exists!"

In Kato Takaaki's words, there was a trace of regret, but also excitement. It is a pity that such a powerful country as the British Empire was destroyed by the Germans. So, can other countries still fight against Germany? You must know that the British Empire has always been an ally of the island country before, and the appointment to hold the thigh of the British Empire has reaped a lot of benefits. The excitement is because the British Empire did not look down on the island country at all, and has always regarded the island country as a running dog. Kato Takaaki, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, is especially familiar with these aspects. Now, the British Empire no longer exists, but the island country can continue to exist. Based on this alone, the island country is undoubtedly stronger than the British Empire.

"The powerful British Empire has now been split into three countries by the Germans. The Germans really have the ambition to rule the world!" Hirohito said through gritted teeth.

He is full of hatred for Germany. Just a few months ago, the large coastal cities of the island nation were all destroyed by the naval guns of the German Navy, causing countless islanders to die in the flames of war. Even Tokyo was destroyed by the Germans with naval guns. Not even his bedroom could escape.

Hirohito will always remember how he was taken to the bomb hole by the waiters when the German shells exploded in Tokyo. At that time, his face was pale and his body was trembling constantly. Even the loincloth was soaked. That's not sweat, it's urine! The crown prince of the dignified island country was scared to pee by the German shelling, and what he said was undoubtedly a big joke. Therefore, Hirohito has always regarded this as the biggest secret in his heart. At the same time, he hated Germany to death.

"Yes, Your Highness. Germany has become the biggest winner in this world war. They won the war, and they also won the whole world!" Kato Takaaki looked envious.

The original island country saw that the situation was not good, and wanted to abandon Britain and report to Germany instead. But alas, the Germans refused. Otherwise, they can share the dividends of this war.

"Your Excellency, Marshal Dongxiang believes that the Empire and Germany will eventually have a battle. Last time we lost. But next time we will be able to win!" Hirohito looked determined.

"Yes, Your Royal Highness, we will definitely defeat the Germans and win!" Kato Takaaki said.

Hirohito's training since he was a child was militarism nationalism. When Hirohito was 6 years old, he entered the Royal Academy, and the dean was General Nogi Nozomi. Last year, Hirohito, who graduated from the Royal School of Learning, entered the Tonomiya Imperial Learning Institute, and the director was Admiral Togo Heihachiro.

Under the influence and education of such two people, it is naturally obvious what kind of person Crown Prince Hirohito will be.

However, when Hirohito thought of the power of Germany, he felt a little uncertain. The battleship Fuso under his feet gave him a little confidence.

Although, he learned from Marshal Dongxiang Heihachiro that the performance of the "Fuso" battleship is slightly inferior to that of the most powerful German battleship. However, the island navy is building more powerful battleships. He firmly believes that the navy of the island country will definitely become stronger. Although Germany is very strong, it has too many enemies. Once there is a war in the future, the victory must belong to them!

The battleship "Fuso" on which the crown prince Hirohito of the island country arrived in Wilhelmshaven on December 14. When the battleship entered the naval port and saw the huge battleships, Crown Prince Hirohito's face turned pale. The German Navy's "Bavaria-class" battleships, "King-class" battleships, "Mackenson-class" battlecruisers and "Derfflinger-class" battlecruisers and other huge capital ships gave him a great shock. You know, each of these battleships is stronger than his battleship 'Fuso'!

"Master Amaterasu! Is this the most powerful country at that time?" Hirohito shouted wildly in his heart.