"Your Excellency Joseph, your country ceded the territory of the Eastern European Plain to our country, which was signed by the treaty. The treaty is sacred and inviolable. Now, your country is making small moves behind the scenes. Such behavior really makes our country unable to Accept. Therefore, I ask your country to give our country an explanation. Otherwise, this will definitely have a serious impact on our relationship!" Qin Tian said viciously.

Suddenly, Joseph felt tremendous pressure. He knew that if this issue was not resolved, the relationship between Germany and Russia would inevitably be affected. This is not a good thing for Buer.

"Your Majesty, this is not the intention of our government and our party. It's just that a small number of comrades in the party have such thoughts. We agree with the "Treaty of Brest". Now that the treaty has been signed, we will Obey the treaty!" Joseph said hastily.

Of course, Joseph slandered in his heart that the reason why they signed the "Brest Treaty" was entirely because they wanted the support of Germany so that they would have more energy to consolidate the regime. If we hadn't bowed our heads to the Germans at that time, the entire Buddhist party might have been in danger of being destroyed. So, I had to do that. If they have enough strength, of course they want to tear up the treaty and take back those lost territories.

It's just that now Germany has won the world war and has become the world's hegemon. In the face of the German Empire, Buer is undoubtedly too weak. Showing dissatisfaction with the treaty at this time, isn't that asking for death? Once Germany is offended and a war between the two countries is triggered, the consequences will be very serious.

Qin Tian's face was still ugly: "Comrade Joseph, I advise your country. If you want to tear up the treaty, you'd better do it in an open and aboveboard manner. As long as you can defeat the German Empire, then you can tear up the treaty. If you continue to make small moves, then the German Empire will take the most severe measures!"

"Your Majesty, we will never tear up the treaty, please believe me!" Joseph's forehead was already covered with beads of sweat. Right now, he just felt as if a big mountain was pressing on him, almost making him breathless.

Qin Tian was very happy when he saw Joseph's embarrassed appearance. After all, in another time and space, this was one of the Big Three in World War II!

"Okay, Your Excellency Joseph. I trust you and your country. The friendship between our two countries will not be affected by these trivial matters!" Qin Tian said.

"Yes, Your Majesty. The friendship between our two countries will be unbreakable!" Joseph said hastily.

"Your Excellency Joseph, in order to maintain the friendship between our two countries, I have a proposal, which may be a good solution to the current problem!" Qin Tian said.

"Your Majesty, what proposal?" Joseph asked.

"Next spring, our country can give your country a chance. At the same time, it is also a chance for those Russians who oppose the empire. As long as they want, they can leave Germany and go to Russia. The empire will never interfere. No matter how many people are Members of your party can leave the empire. However, after leaving the empire, they absolutely cannot come back. Otherwise, the empire will never tolerate them!" Qin Tian said.

Joseph immediately began to think about it. The reason why they sent a large number of cloth party members to lurk down was to make trouble for Germany, so that Germany had no chance to digest those territories. In this way, when they counterattack in the future, they can gain great benefits.

But it now appears that their original deployment was simply wrong. The large-scale military operations launched by the Germans caused them heavy losses. If they continue to implement it, their losses will only be further increased. If those people can be withdrawn to the country, it may be the best way.

"Your Majesty, this is a very good idea. I personally agree. However, I need to report to the country. I believe that Comrade Ulyanov will also agree." Joseph said.

Qin Tian nodded: "In this case, it is undoubtedly the best!"

Although, this will cause a large loss of population in the German territory on the Eastern European Plain. It may even lead to a serious shortage of labor force. However, the only advantage is that without the interference of the cloth party members, Germany can digest and absorb those territories very well. At that time, after ten or eight years, those territories will completely belong to Germany.

"However, Comrade Joseph, I have to remind you. No matter how many people you have in the Eastern European plains, you must evacuate. If you don't evacuate, they will be regarded as good citizens. Once they are found to be engaged in opposition to the German Empire activities. The empire will wipe them all out!" Qin Tian warned.

"Don't worry, Your Majesty, we will let them all evacuate!" Joseph promised.

Of course, Qin Tian knew that this was just casual talk. The cloth party will never be so obedient. There will still be a lot of cloth party members lurking down.

And Germany obviously won't let them do what they want. Because, what Qin Tian said was that spring began to evacuate. Spring comes on the Eastern European plains, but you have to wait until April and May. By that time, Qin Tian believed that not many guerrillas and cloth party members had survived.

"Your Excellency Joseph, the Empire attaches great importance to the friendly relationship with Bu Russia. We hope that such a thing will not happen again!" Qin Tian said.

"Your Majesty, I promise that nothing like this will happen again!" Joseph said. He was very satisfied with being able to solve this problem in this way. He believed that Comrade Ulyanov would be equally satisfied.

"Your Majesty, the current Bu Russia has just defeated the White Army. Everything is in vain. We hope to get more support from Germany." Joseph looked at Qin Tian eagerly.

Another task of Joseph is to hope to get more support from Germany so that the industry of Bu Russia can be developed faster and better. Before the Revolution, Russian industry was the worst of the great powers. World wars and civil wars have devastated their industries. It can be said that the current industry in Russia is no different from that of the poor and the poor. In order to restore or even build a stronger industry, they must get more support.

"Your Excellency Joseph, Germany can provide assistance to Russia within its capacity!" Of course, Qin Tian did not refuse.
