

Jagged 928

Mir Osman Ali Khan is definitely a smart man, otherwise he would not be firmly seated as the ruler of Hyderabad, let alone be elected by the rulers to visit Germany secretly. Therefore, as soon as Wahit finished speaking, he knew what it meant.

"Your Excellency, Foreign Minister, the German Empire spent a lot of money to help India drive away the evil British, and countless heroic German soldiers died on the battlefield. For this, I and other land lords are very moved. Don't I don't know what the lord of the country thinks. However, Hyderabad is absolutely willing to contribute its own strength. I am personally willing to provide the German Empire with military expenditures of five billion marks for the German Empire's troops on the battlefield Expenses!" said Mir Osman Ali Khan.

Although, what he said on the surface looked calm and breezy. But in fact, his heart was bleeding. Five billion marks is definitely a huge sum of money for him. Even though he is rich, spending such a large amount of money can still be considered a hemorrhage.

However, thinking that this is linked to the future distribution plan of India, Mir Osman Ali Khan thinks this sum of money is worth it. As long as it can have a territory as large as Hyderabad in the Ganges plain. Well, five billion marks will be earned back soon. The current investment is entirely for the purpose of obtaining more wealth in the future.

However, something unexpected happened to Mir Osman Ali Khan. Wachter didn't seem to care about the five billion marks he donated.

Of course, in fact, Wahit saw Mir Osman Ali Khan take out five billion marks without blinking an eye. It is absolutely impossible not to be shocked. After all, in this day and age, this is already a huge sum of money. Even some countries cannot afford so much money. These land lords are all extremely rich, and they are as rich as an enemy. This also made Wahit firm in his mind, and wanted to get more money from these Indian lords. After all, it is a complete waste to leave those wealth to those local lords. If Germany can have it, it will undoubtedly greatly improve the national strength of the German Empire again.

"Your Excellency, the empire appreciates Hyderabad's kindness. However, it seems a little unfair to other states. The empire hopes that the discussion will be held after the other state leaders arrive in Berlin. In this way it is very fair to everyone." Wahit said calmly. Years of career as a diplomat have enabled him to hide his emotions well.

Mir? Osman? Ali Khan suddenly screamed badly in his heart. If he waited until the other land lords had arrived, it might not be easy for him to obtain the fertile land in the Ganges Plain. At that time, he might have to pay a higher price. And these are definitely not what he wants. However, now that Germany is powerful, and the Germans have mastered India, how to distribute it is naturally up to the Germans. He has no right to object at all, nor does he have such qualifications. If he dared to object, he might be excluded. Even more will be lost.

"Your Excellency, Minister of Foreign Affairs, I have not thought carefully." Mir? Osman? Ali Khan said. At the same time, he also has a firm idea in his heart, and he must go all out when the time comes. Even if he donates all his wealth, he still needs to obtain the fertile land of the Ganges Plain, otherwise, his position among the Indian lords may be replaced. What's more, donating more wealth means surrendering to the Germans. Let the Germans see his sincerity. If the German government can reuse him, then his status will be greatly improved in the future, and he may even become the de facto ruler of India. After all, judging by the posture of the German government, it is not ready to rule India directly. If Germany wants to support agents in India, it is naturally the most loyal to the Germans.

Although Mir Osman Ali Khan feels very distressed by contributing all his property, he believes that this must be done. Only in this way can greater benefits be exchanged.

"Your Excellency, Minister of Foreign Affairs, I have a proposal. Since India is about to be completely occupied by the German army, then, His Majesty the Emperor of the German Empire should be the Emperor of India as a matter of course. Add an Indian to the title of His Majesty the Emperor." The emperor should be taken for granted!" Mir Osman Ali Khan suggested.

When the British colonized India before, didn't an Indian emperor be added to the title of the British king? Now, it is perfectly appropriate to use it on the German emperor.

Besides, besides the title of Emperor of Germany, Qin Tian also has other titles. For example, the king of the Kingdom of Prussia, the king of the Kingdom of Ukraine, the king of the Kingdom of Poland and so on. Of course, those are concurrent titles, the main one being Emperor of Germany. The function of these titles means that Qin Tian is the supreme ruler of these countries. It is completely reasonable to add the title of an Indian emperor now. After all, India is now about to be captured by the German army. The whole of India was placed under German rule without any objection.

"Well, this is a good proposal. I will report to His Majesty the Emperor!" Wahit said with a smile on his face.

Mir Osman Ali Khan suddenly thought that his move was right. The Germans really hoped to make their emperor the emperor of India. Of course, this also made Mir Osman Ali Khan somewhat disappointed. It would be a lie to say that he has no ambitions for the throne of Indian emperor. When the British colonized India, his ambition was only deeply buried in his heart. Now, if the Germans rule India, he can only hide his ambition. Because the Germans are stronger than the British. If the ambition is revealed, it may be very ugly to die.

"Your Excellency, you should be clear that His Majesty the Emperor is also the Emperor of India. It is just a name. After all, India is still ruled by you country owners. However, India has hundreds of countries, large and small, too many It is not easy to manage. It needs a local person with strength and reputation to manage it. I am more optimistic about your Excellency. However, everything must be decided by the Emperor." Wahit said with a smile.

Suddenly, Mir Osman Ali Khan's heart, which had been a little cold, became hot again.