Hospitals

i woke up in a hospital bed, not remembering a single thing that happened. I looked around the room Faye fell asleep on the couch, fez was sleeping sitting on the couch, and ash. Ash was still up, he was sitting on the chair with his face in his hands.

"ash?" i sounded like i haven't spoken in a million years.
"y/n" his head shot up.
i smiled looking at him.
"what the fuck where you thinking"
my smile slowly faded "i just hated what happened today and i wanted it o my mind"
"today!?" ash said standing up.
"that happened yesterday, y/n i've been here since yesterday night."
i looked down at my arms seeing them hooked up to IV bags and etc.
"imma go get the nurse" ash le the room.

Serious talks with Ashtray alway hurt me, Although Ash was mostly right all the time.
I hate seeing him mad at me. Earlier when i was talking about i was worried if i said yes to getting married this is what i was talking about. My heart beat was going up fast because all i could think about is ash breaking up with me.
then the nurse walked in.
"her heart beat is extremely high for just waking up" the nurse said writing down on a clipboard. Ash looked at the nurse and looked at me with a worried face.
we got another doctor to make me answer a bunch of questions and then i got out a er 2 hours.

"never do that shit again y/n" fez said yawing while driving.
"yea y/n we were there all night yesterday still what time is it?" Faye asked.
"10:23pm" ash said looking back
"yea what Ashtray said" Faye laid back.
"i'm sorry" i said crying.
"omg, are you really crying right now" Faye said.
Faye was whispering a bunch of hurtful things i don't think anyone would like to hear.
"maybe if you didn't give me those goddamn pills, cunt!" i yelled in Faye's face
"yo, chill back there man. we just be getting home" Fez said pulling up.

 Ash grabbed me and waited for Fez and Faye to go inside.
