

quick trip and back

I woke up cold, there was no blankets on the bed, no sheets, not even a pillow. The only thing that was keeping me warm was ash. he had his arms around me and he was such in a deep sleep i didn't want to move.

That night i had a horrible dream about if ash never listened to me and started shouting the cops and the cops killed him. i'm so glad that was a nightmare. i kept thinking about what happened yesterday, i turn around put my arms around ash and my head in his chest.

"y/n" a so and deep sleepy voice said.

i looked up and saw a bruise on ash's face from when fez slapped him. i put my hand on the side of his face and looked into his eyes, i kissed him. it wasn't long but it was long enough to let him know he was mine.

once i pulled away ash moved his hands down to my waist and pulled me in closer to him and he kissed me. "i'll love you forever" he whispered in my ear. I felt extremely safe and comfortable. i looked up and smiled.

"yo, can you run to the gas station and get food" fez said barging into the room.

"yea" ash looked at fez and continued to kiss me.

"like right now.." fez stood there. ash pulled away from the kiss. he stood up and picked me up. "she coming with" i laughed and kissed him.

we walked out too the garage and there was only a golf cart.

"we riding a golf cart to the gas station?" i laughed.

"i guess so" ash said standing there looking at it.

About 15 minutes later we made it to the gas station and no one was there. we grabbed everything we needed and put money on the table because we didn't see anyone. i read o a list of things fez wanted us to get to ash while ash said "check" to the things we got.

"welp we got everything" i said hoping in the golf cart.

on the way back i saw a police car on the side of the road.

"uh ash"

"what" he looked at me as i pointed.

"shit" he made the golf cart go fast as possible.

once we got home we locked up the garage ran inside and locked every window and door.

"yo what's going on!?" Fez yelled getting up.

"we saw a cop car on the way home, and we don't know if they coming here"

"what" fez froze.

"bruh fez did you tell them about the basement" ash said yelling a fez

"no i haven't"

ash shoved the bag to fez's stomach and grabbed his gun.

"let's move" ash said walking to the basement no one noticed.

"woah" Faye and I said at the same time.
