

Chapter 141 Turning a Blind Eye

He forced her to do that kind of thing, but was be afraid that she would be pregnant with his child? Galilea bit the comer of her lips and immediately replied, "Don't worry I was just bitten by a dog last night." On the other side of the line, Micah had just finished a meeting and was sitting in the conference room. He was worried about her in his heart, so he sent this message Unexpectedly, she replied very quickly Whata scolding

It just so happened that Keith brought Jasper in to look for him

Seeing the gloomy anger on his face, Jasper asked hesitantly, "Did someone provoke you?"

"No." Micah directly locked the screen, but his eyes looked like they wanted to eat someone.

Jasper immediately turned around and silently asked Keith, "Who is it?". Keith couldn't answer, so he only shook his head lightly.

Jasper frowned and suddenly realized, "Galilea!".

Micah instantly looked at him, as if he had been seen through, but then his eyes were full of coldness.

"How do you know?"

Jasper was shocked by his serious question. "Seriously? You still haven't realized that you will lose control of your emotions only when you encounter something related to Galilea? If it was Dayana, you wouldn't care at all. You would just leave it to others to deal with "

Jasper had long seen through him.

Otherwise, why would Galilea be fine when the Frankie family went bankrupt? Only a few people knew that if Galilea had not been in jail at that time, she would not have been able to deal with the things that happened after the Frankie family went bankrupt.

Micah had indeed personally sent her to prison, but to some extent, he was protecting Galilea, Although he himself refused to admit it.

"Why are you getting more and more gossipy?" Micah frowned. As he spoke, he took a step forward and walked out. "Hey, tell me! What are you thinking? I heard that Lubi family seems to want to recognize her as their daughter-in-law."

11 Galilea was still single, then everything would be fine.

But it

Micah stopped in his tracks.

"Impossible "His cold voice echoed throughout the corridor. "You are already her ex-husband, and you have Dayana. It's useless even if you say no." Jasper clicked his tongue.

"Don't provoke me."

"It's not the right time yet." Micah sighed slowly There were too many things that he needed to clear up. He hoped that Galilea could wait for him. Even if he had to explain the enmity between him and the Frankie family, he was willing Jasper looked at his lonely back and quickly followed. "Don't blame me for not reminding you. If you miss some things again, there is really no way to salvage it." Micah's eyes darkened and he did not speak for a long time. "Are you interested in racing?" he asked slowly after entering the elevator "What do you mean?"

"Nore's team needs investment."

in the hospital

Alter lucy brought Galilea back, Nore saw them go shopping together. The atmosphere seemed to be good, and he was very happy. "Mom, thank you for taking care of Galilea for me." "What are you saying? Mom will take her out often in the future. As for you, take good care of yourself. When you are discharged from the hospital, you two should get settled as soon as possible.”

Galilea was peeling an apple. When she heard this, her elbow trembled and cut her fingertips. “Ouch. What’s wrong? Let me see. You have to be careful. I will cut it!” Nore frowned. “No need, I’ll do it,” Galilea said without raising her head. She can still do this kind of thing, Nore said, ignoring her resistance. He took the fruit knife and peeled the apple while saying. Galilea’s eyes trembled.

Did he hear what Xu Ya said in the morning?

But when he thought about it, he felt that it was impossible. At that time, Nore had just been injected with a tranquilizer, so he should have already fallen asleep. “Eat, you two eat fruit meat, and I eat the core.” Nore gave her and Lucy half each, and then deliberately smiled and joked. Galilea looked at him for a long time before taking a bite. It should be that she was overthinking things. Just as they were talking, Director Chen walked in with a group of doctors. “You’ve recovered pretty well, right?” he asked. “Director Chen!” Seeing such a big scene, Lucy was a little puzzled. “Is it...” Her eyes were filled with nervousness, afraid that there was something wrong after the operation. Otherwise, why were all these people here? “No, no, no, don’t worry. This is Dr. Jason, and this is Dr. Max. Both of them are experts in the field of orthopedics. This time, because of the cooperation in the hospital, they came to Cloud Town. They will join hands to become the chief surgeon for Mr. Lubi’s next operation.” “Oh...” Lucy did not react for a moment.

Director Chen pulled her and whispered something. “Thank you, thank you, Director Chen! Thank you, two experts. This is great, this is great.” Galilea and Nore looked at each other and did not say anything. After they checked Nore’s wound and asked about the specific situation, the group left. “Director Chen, thank you so much.” Lucy chased after them excitedly.

Director Chen laughed, “Don’t worry. With the two of them holding the knife, Mr. Lubi has an 80 chance of recovering to his previous state. Moreover, he will definitely be fine in the future.” “There won’t be any problems with getting married and having children, right?” Lucy continued to ask.

“No problem at all.” Director Chen left with a smile. Galilea always felt that he seemed to glance at her when he was talking to Lucy. That kind of gaze made her feel a little strange. “I’ll tell your dad this good news now. You’re so lucky. These two experts just came.” Yeah, what a coincidence. Galilea’s phone vibrated again. She was shocked and looked at Nore.

He seemed to be a little tired and didn’t notice anything. “You should rest first. I’ll go out for a while.” Nore nodded. Probably because the tranquilizer was not over yet, he yawned and lay sideways. Galilea slowly left the ward and closed the door. Nore lay on the bed, opened his eyes, took out his phone from under the pillow, and dialed Sonny’s number.

On the other side, Sonny was very excited. “I was just about to call you, Nore, take good care of your body. You don’t have to worry about the funds for the team. I have already received the sponsorship. It is a food company, and it is quite famous.” “Such a coincidence?” Nore lowered his eyes and swallowed the words that he did not ask. He put down his phone and sighed slowly. He had to get better quickly. He did not want to become a cripple. He had to protect Galilea.

Chapter 142 For the First Time, He Waited for someone

In the hospital corridor, Galilea found a quiet place and dialed Keith’s number. “Miss Frankie, what’s the matter?” the other side answered quickly.

Where is he now?”

Mr. Lorenzo is having a meal with his partner. He is..."

Send me the location." After saying that, Galilea hung up and walked quickly to the elevator. At this dinner party, Micah and Jasper were both there, Keith quickly went in and reported the matter of Galilea coming over to Micah. Jasper vaguely heard the name of Galilea and quickly winked at Micah, hinting that he could leave the business to him here. Micah then stood up. The coldness in his thick eyes disappeared and he walked out. He had never waited for anyone, let alone a woman.

Micah walked around the hall. His slender legs stepped onto the steps and he walked down again. His fingers hooked the buttons on his sleeves helplessly. There was only one thing in his mind. What was Galilea's purpose for coming? To reject his good intentions, or... The hotel door was automatic, and every time it was pulled open, Micah would look in that direction. Finally, Galilea appeared there. He put down his coffee cup and looked up. He waited for her to come to him. Although he knew that she came for another man, a special emotion grew silently. He looked at Galilea's expression and slowly said, "Sit." Galilea's eyes were very cold. She looked at him for a long time before saying. What exactly do you want to do?" "These words did not have the slightest hint of gratitude. "The man frowned. ". If you want to find someone to harm Nore and let him have an accident on the operating table, I will not let you go." Galilea's tone was very heavy. She did not expect Micah to be so despicable. Galilea kept staring at him, taking in every bit of reaction on his face. Do I have to do this kind of thing?" Micah did not defend himself. He leaned back, his eyes cold. You are so scheming. What can't you do?" Galilea sneered. Last night, wasn't he the one who bribed President He and tricked her into coming here?

This man was a liar.

His anger and hatred in the depths of Galilea's heart were actually because she was once his wife.

I don't mean that at all."

This is the number of the KIOP International Medical Association. You can call and ask. Those two are indeed experts in the field of orthopedics. I just... want to do my best." What are the conditions?" Galilea's thoughts were very clear. Micah was a businessman, and he did not do a losing business. No," said Micah as he picked up his coffee cup. Although that hospital is a private hospital and has the Lorenzo group's investment, if you want to do anything shady behind the scenes, you will definitely be exposed. I will be by Nore's side 24 hours. Don't try to play any tricks."

4 hours?

The man's eyes turned cold. He unconsciously thought of last night and the coffee cup in his hand fell on the table.

I made a crisp sound.

Just as Galilea was about to get up and leave, he stopped her. "I can also persuade the racing association to let them change the result if you agree to my other condition."

Since Galilea always wanted to quarrel with him, then he might as well put the game on the table and play. What are your conditions?" Galilea said in a distant tone as if she had predicted that he would be up to no good. Micah chose to ignore her reaction and threw out a bunch of keys. "Stay in my villa. I'll tell you everything else slowly." Micah, are you crazy?" Without a second thought, Galilea turned around and walked out. He must have been unattracted with Dayana, so he treated her as a target to vent his desire. Micah sat in his room and sighed deeply. He shook his head helplessly and put away the key. For the first time, he knew that it was so difficult to change a woman's prejudice against him. He looked out his phone and dialed a number. "Arrange the surgery for Nore as soon as possible. Also, you must cure him." As long as Nore recovered, Galileo would no longer have to feel guilty.

She no longer had any relationship with the Lubi family. Thinking of this, the man returned to the private room. Galilea returned to the hospital. The doctor had already given them a surgery plan. The assistant of two experts had brought the surgery agreement letter and explained in detail what might happen after the surgery. Galilea listened to every word and every detail. She kept communicating with them to confirm,

“Galilea, how did you know about the blood cell transplant?” Lucy was stunned.

“I’ve checked some information these past few days. There were cases similar to Nore’s. Some of them were cured, while others had some illnesses that appeared three or four years after the surgery.” Seeing that Galilea was so attentive about Nore, Lucy was very pleased. Just as Galilea continued to check the details of the operation with them, Lucy came to the bedside. “The girlfriend you chose is really good. Your father and I are very satisfied. After your operation, let’s find a chance to settle the matter between you two.”

Now, Lucy felt that Galilea was much better than Xu Ya. More importantly, Galilea was a very honest person. Although the situation at home was not very good, as long as she treated Nore sincerely and gave birth to some children in a few years, it was all good Nore could not help but blush. “Mom, what are you talking about?” It was not easy for him to pursue Galilea, so how could he dare to propose to her so quickly? If he was rejected, it would not end well. “You are both not so young anymore, of course, you have to be quick. Don’t worry, I will arrange it. The small garden behind the hospital seems nice. It is quite romantic!” Lucy made an OK gesture and walked out of the ward humming a song. Galilea checked the details. After sending the expert’s assistant away, she told Nore again. However, Nore seemed to be possessed and only looked at her face. “Are you listening? This is your operation. Can you pay some attention?” “I have handed my life to you. These are small matters. By the way, where did you go this afternoon? I have been looking for you for a long time.” “My stomach was not feeling well. I went to the bathroom.” “Eat first, I’ll go again,” Galilea said. She almost escaped from Nore’s ward. She stood outside and breathed a sigh of relief. If what Micah said was the truth and the operation went smoothly, the day after tomorrow would be the day Nore stood up again. Galilea looked at the blue sky outside the window and prayed silently. However, things were hard to predict. Just the night before the operation, the amount of blood stored in the blood bank was not enough. “Looks like the operation will have to be delayed. We need to prepare sufficient spare blood bags. Otherwise, the operation might be dangerous.” “Hanming and Lucy looked at each other, both very worried. “It’s fine. It’s just a few days later.” Nore comforted them. “However, the experts might have to leave first. Maybe it won’t be delayed for a few days. It will affect your condition greatly. “Director Chen was also a little anxious. Bui time was running out, and it was too late to transfer blood from a foreign blood bank, Galilea stood to the side and suddenly thought of a way. “I can transfer blood to Nore. Is this okay?”

Chapter 143 He Doesn’t Allow It

“Of course, if you directly inject blood, it will be more beneficial for the operation. However, I’m afraid that if there is an unexpected situation, your body will not be able to bear it.”

There was a limit to how much blood an ordinary person could donate, but in the operation, the demand might be very high. If they encountered a situation where he was bleeding profusely again, it would be even more difficult to estimate. “I will donate. No matter what, I will survive” Galilea’s attitude was firm. But Nore’s opposition was even stronger than hers.

“I don’t agree.” He raised his eyes, his entire face full of resistance.

Lucy, who was at the side, did not know how to persuade him.

“Nore, don’t be so childish.” Galilea frowned. “It’s not that I’m childish. Do you know how dangerous this is? I would rather become a cripple myself than have you do this for me.” Nore became more and more agitated, He pounded the hospital bed, his chest trembled, and he couldn’t help but cough. “Nore, dont shout. Let’s discuss it again.” Lucy hurriedly helped him breathe, and did not forget to give Galilea a wink. Usually, when Nore did not cooperate with the treatment, only Galilea could control him. If the two of them got into an argument, Lucy really didn’t know what to do. Galilea lowered her head and whispered, “At that time, when you used your body to protect me, did you consider the danger?” She just wanted to return the debt.

Moreover, this was a hospital, and the surgeon was a top expert. Even if there was any danger, there would be remedial measures.

Nore clenched his fists.

“So, you are in such a hurry to save me because you are eager to clear the debt?” He raised his head and looked at her. The sadness in his eyes spread. “I didn’t mean that.” Galilea was also stunned. She had no intention of hurting his heart. “All of you can go out. I want to stay alone for a while.” Nore turned his head and his attitude was very lonely. Helpless, everyone had to leave the ward and let him be alone.

“Galilea, don’t take it to heart. He’s too worried about you. He’s afraid that you might have some problems during the operation. I’ll contact his father now and see if we can find a solution. I don’t want you to take such a risk either.”

“You should rest first, okay?” Lucy patted Galilea’s hand.

“Got it, Auntie.” Galilea nodded obediently. She turned her head and looked at the small window of the ward. She had been in prison. In that dark place, no one would respond to her, No matter what she said, it would be useless.

That kind of situation was very similar to the ward that Nore was in now. It was just as helpless and lonely.

He could only be trampled on. She could understand how unhappy Nore was, so every time he resisted the treatment, Galilea would try to let him accept it in a gentle way. But this time, she could not let Nore have his way. The surgery had to be carried out, and the sooner the better. Galilea looked at the time and troubled the nurse to pay more attention to the situation in the ward, then went to the Director’s office alone. As soon as she reached the door, she heard a conversation inside. Since Director Chen had a guest, she would wait outside for a while. However, what Galilea did not expect was that she also knew this guest. “Mr. Lorenzo, you don’t have to worry. The two experts’ schedule has been delayed for a week. They should be able to wait until we find a new blood supply.” Director Chen narrowed his small eyes and pushed up his frame glasses. Moreover, Miss Frankie also said that he was willing to give Mr. Lubia blood transfusion, so... “What did you say?” Micah suddenly looked up, Director Chen was so scared that he couldn’t even speak. He wiped the cold sweat on his forehead and explained in a low voice, “It’s Galilea, Mr. Lubis girlfriend During this period of time, they all knew that Galilea took care of Nore all night without sleep They all thought that they were a couple, so Director Chen naturally said this Unexpectedly as soon as he finished speaking, Micah’s face became more and more gloomy, Director Chen did not know what he said wrong, and waited nervously He thought that this would be good news. But he did not expect that it would anger Micah. “No matter what, you can’t let her donate her blood I don’t want her to appear in Nore’s operating room.” He said coldly, with full deterrence.

“Yes, yes, yes. I understand. I will do my best.” Director Chen saw Micah get up and immediately followed him out. As soon as the door opened, the man’s sharp gaze fell on the slender figure at the corner. He turned around. “There’s no need to send me off.”

Then, he walked in that direction. Director Chen was behind him. He did not see anyone outside, but he did not dare to go against Micah's wishes. He stopped and closed the door. The lights in the corridor were dim and covered the side of Galilea's face. The tip of her nose was particularly beautiful.

"You are not allowed to donate blood to Nore," Micah said coldly. He knew that Galilea was very stubborn, but there was no room for discussion about this matter.

"Do you have the qualifications to care about me? Also, why did Director Chen report Nore's condition to you in detail?" Galilea always felt that this matter was not simple. The Lorenzo group had so many things waiting for him, how could he be so free? She always stared warily at the man in front of her. Because of this look in his eyes, Micah was very unhappy. He knew that in front of Nore, Galilea was talking and laughing. When it came to him, not only was she on guard, but she was also always questioning his good intentions.

"I am an investor of this hospital. Is it strange that I care about the condition of the VIP customer?" He frowned helplessly.

Galilea hesitated.

What he said was reasonable.

Micah stepped forward and looked at her with dark eyes. His tone was as cold as ice. "I will say it again. You are not allowed to donate blood to Nore. Otherwise, I will immediately let the two experts leave." Galilea frowned and gritted her teeth. "Micah, why are you so despicable!?"

This was a rare chance for Nore to live. But for him, it was a bargaining chip that he could use to negotiate conditions time and time again!

Sure enough, the ambitions and schemes of businessmen were always repulsive. Galilea rolled her eyes at him and wanted to walk away. His elbow sank and he pulled her back. He stared at her. "You haven't promised me yet," he said.

Galilea shook her head a few times, but her struggle was fruitless. She had to take a deep breath, "If there is a better way, of course, I won't take the risk."

Was this considered a promise? Micah was obviously dissatisfied. He looked at Galilea at such a close distance, and his mind shook slightly. However, he was the only one who was controlled by this inexplicable feeling. The woman he pulled only wanted to escape as soon as possible. "Alright, you are a married man. Can you pay attention to your actions? Don't think that I will be grateful to you just because you helped Nore find an expert. This is what you should do. If something happens to him in this hospital, you investors will have to pay for it." After saying that, Galilea suddenly pushed and successfully escaped while the man was not paying attention. She quickened her pace and entered the elevator. Micah stayed where he was, his fingers empty. Surprisingly, he did not feel angry. The phone vibrated. It was Dayana. His temple throbbed and he pressed the answer button. Over there was a woman's excited voice. "Micah, come and see me. The results of the prenatal checkup are very bad!"

Chapter 144 You Have No Right to Interfere

Coincidentally, Dayana was also doing a maternity test in this hospital. When Micah went to the obstetrics department, he saw that many people were there. It was as if Dayana's child could no longer be preserved.

He looked in the direction of the crying, and Dayana was supported by Wendy. "I can't afford to lose this child. This is the child of me and Micah. I must protect it." The doctor shook his head helplessly. "Miss Quincy, please calm down. The prenatal examination is not over yet. You go in fret."

Unexpectedly, Dayana seemed to be crazy. "I want to go! You are going to kill my child. You must have taken the money of that bitch Galilea, right?"

Micah's eyebrows trembled, "What's wrong?" he walked over, "Micah!" When Dayana heard his voice, she seemed to have changed into a different person. She pulled his sleeve delicately. I felt very uncomfortable when I woke up in the morning. I said that I would come here for a prenatal checkup, but they insisted that there was a problem with the child. Micah, our baby is so healthy. How could there be a problem? it must be them who colluded with others." "Dayana has been in a bad mood these days. It seems that she has been stimulated by something." Wendy explained in a low voice

"Continue to do the check up and wait until the results are out Micah frowned and said to the doctor The worse the situation, the more he had to stay calm, Dayana ched and shouted as she was sent into the examination room. Micah looked back at the group of Quincy family people and felt even more frustrated

He turned around and walked out, "Han, Mr Lorenzo, where are you going? If Dayana comes out and doesn't see you, she will cry again." Micah frowned even more

He strode into the elevator with his long legs. Dayana had his child. Of course, he would pay attention to it, but if Quincy family kept forcing him like this, he really couldn't treat it rationally He couldn't even remember how this child was born. Was it the day he got drunk?

The more Micah thought about it, the more he felt his head hurt, so he took the opportunity to walk to the garden behind the hospital, wanting to get some fresh air.

However, just as he stepped down the stairs, he saw a few people setting up something behind him.

There were flowers, balloons

They were still discussing, "Miss Frankie is so lucky. She actually has such a good boyfriend I heard that after Mr. Lubi's surgery is over, he will propose to her here."

*This is so enviable."

"Put some more roses over there. Red roses."

Propose?

After Nore's surgery, he was going to propose to Galilea? A nameless fire rushed to the man's chest. His throat rolled and he could not control it He took out his phone and dialed Galilea's number The call was quickly connected, but his tone was very unfriendly, "Why are you so persistent? What exactly is the matter?" "Listen up. If you dare to continue dating Nore, I will make Lubi family the next Frankie family," Micah said coldly "Micah, are you crazy?"

Galilea also happened to be nearby to buy things. Just as she was about to go around the small garden to go upstairs, she saw the tall and thin figure standing on the steps from afar. She gritted her teeth and walked over "Who am I dating is my freedom. You have no right to interfere." She directly hung up the phone and stared at the man "I do have it."

Micah took a step forward, and the cold intent filled his entire face. "I am...1

*Yes? Who are you?' Galilea could not hold back her laughter. What did they have to do with each other?

What right did he have?

"Because I want to compete fairly with Nore," he said slowly, his cold face radiating a warmth that Galilea had never seen before Galilea subconsciously frowned and took half a step back.

Micah's words frightened her. "You're crazy. Go to the psychiatric department and check your brain."

"Galilea, don't run away from my question. If Nore and pursue you at the same time, who will you agree to?" Although Micah was cold, he was determined to get what he wanted Since he already had this thought in his heart, he must fulfill his wish. This stubbornness was all written in his dark eyes. Galilea looked at him coldly and met his focused gaze. The resistance in her heart was gradually expanded and devoured her soul bit by bit.

She did not know where the courage came from, but she sneered directly and said, "Of course, I will agree to Nore. Why would I choose a person who cheated in the marriage?"

"I did not."

He denied it coldly "Mr. Lorenzo, let me remind you. It was you who brought Dayana to cause trouble on the day of my father's funeral. At that time, you were already so intimate. Tell me, did you cheat on me or no?" ... "Micah's eyebrows jumped. He opened his mouth and wanted to say something, but a nurse ran here. "Mr. Lorenzo, it's bad. Miss Quincy fainted in the delivery room."

All of a sudden, Galilea's expression returned to normal. Her gaze mercilessly swept past Micah's face and she left without any reluctance.

Micah only felt the anger, but he had to walk towards the obstetrics department. The two of them, two different directions, each rushing towards different people. What Micah did not know was that Galilea went up the escalator on the second floor and came down from the other side. She asked about the location of the obstetrics department and followed him. She had to have a bargaining chip in order to bargain with Micah. The results of the report from the obstetrics department were the same as what the doctor had predicted at the beginning. The child in Dayana's belly was indeed not developing well, and... The doctor looked at the report and reminded them tactfully, "During your pregnancy, you must be careful during intercourse. Try to be gentle. You can't go on like this. It will affect the fetus." Dayana's face turned red.

On the other side, Micah frowned. After Dayana was pregnant, he had never touched her.

Even before, it was only the time when he was drunk. His thin lips opened slightly and he was about to speak when his hand was held. Dayana touched his finger and whispered, "Micah, let's go back." She originally wanted him to care about her, but she did not expect that the doctor would say this. All of a sudden, Dayana wanted to find a hole to hide in. She was afraid that her secret would be exposed, so she quickly dragged Micah out. "Did you hear what the doctor said just now?" The man gradually slowed down his steps. Dayana felt a chill down her spine. She felt that he was looking at her coldly. Afraid that he would get angry, she quickly explained in a low voice, "Micah, sometimes, I would think about it myself, so..." The more she spoke, the more she threw him a coquettish look. She thought that Micah would be like Terry, unable to resist her temptation, However, she never thought that Micah was with her only because he was responsible. If not for this child, he would not even look at her again. "You lied to me about the pendant. You also lie about the child. Dayana, do you really like me?" he asked, staring coldly at the woman in front of Him.

Chapter 145 Trapped

Dayana's pupils trembled, and her heart was so nervous that it was about to jump out. "Of course, Micah!" She pulled up a smile that she thought was the most beautiful. She pulled the man and refused to let go no matter what. "Let's go back first. We can talk about it when we get back."

The man did not want to get too close to her. The two left the hospital one after the other. Galilea came out from behind and looked back at the obstetrics department behind her. "Tsk tsk..." This was an opportunity that they handed to her for free. How could she refuse? Thinking back to the conversation she had heard in Dayana's van, she was even more certain that there must be another man besides

Micah.

She immediately contacted a few paparazzi reporters and told them everything she had heard. "Can you guarantee it's true? Or, you have to tell me who you are. If the news is not accurate, we will not pay the commission." "Yes. I am Galilea Frankie." Galilea chuckled. She was not afraid of revealing her identity at all. "Micah's ex-wife?" the paparazzi asked in shock. But before he could ask further, Galilea had already hung up the phone. My goodness. The ex-wife exposed the ex-husband and his current wife.

"That afternoon, Micah put down his official duties and accompanied her all the way. The two of them were together the whole time. They even publicly talked about erotic subjects in the hospital hall."

Galilea looked at the page on her phone and felt that the paparazzo's ability to make up stuff was getting better and better. Through the screen, she could even feel that Dayana's beautiful and alluring face was attracting Micah. Micah actually asked her that if he pursued her, would she agree? Heh, unsatiable scum. At the same time, Micah slapped his palm on the table, "Deal with it immediately!" "I've already gone to control it, but it seems like Miss Quincy is deliberately spreading this news."

This was difficult

One side denied it while the other admitted it. If things got out of hand, it would definitely affect the progress of the Lorenzo group's next two cases. This was also the thing that Micah did not want to happen the most. He raised his hand and glanced at the time on his watch. "In five hours, if the matter can not be suppressed, all the people from the public relations department will write their resignation letters." The Lorenzo group did not pay useless workers. "Yes, Mr. Lorenzo!"

Soon, the news reached MON.

When Susan, Yun Xi, and the others were eating together in the restaurant, they heard the employees talking about Galilea's ex-husband, Micah. He was discussing that kind of thing with his girlfriend in the hospital hall.

"Ha." Yun Xi had just been discharged from the hospital and had been paying attention to the racing competition. In other words, he was concerned about the Lorenzo group's movements. Now that he heard such cliché news, he sneered, "Galilea is really amazing. She can easily make Micah become the topic of conversation for Cloud Town."

That woman's methods were even more vicious than Micah's.

Susan looked up at him and vaguely saw traces of injury on his forehead. "I warned you not to touch Galilea, but you didn't believe me." Yun Xi gritted his teeth.

He liked challenges the most. Since he wasn't allowed to touch Galilea, he had to make a move. "Let me remind you that she still has something in her hand that can ruin your reputation. It's best if you don't act rashly." Susan coldly threw down this sentence. When she glanced at Yun Xi, her eyes were filled with disdain. Yun Xi paused and left, holding his breath. "Ms. Lee, did Galilea say something to you?" He Xiao asked with a gloomy face. He Xiao denched her fints and gnashed her teeth. She did not expect Galilea to be such a nasty person who didn't keep her word. "Don't think 100 much about it. It wasn't Galilea who said it. There are some things that everyone can feel. Do you think others don't know? It's just your imagination." Ho Xiao was stunned, "We are both women, I advise you not to be too stupid. Is it worth it for that kind of man?" Susan put down her knife and fork and wiped her mouth. Hic Xiao tremblod and was speechless for a long time.

"We are both women. I advise you not to be too stupid. Is it worth it for that kind of man?" Susan put down her knife and fork and wiped her mouth.

He Xiao trembled and was speechless for a long time. She was the last one to leave the restaurant. She walked upstairs in a daze. Just as she was about to enter the office, she was suddenly pulled in. The next second, her back fell to the ground. Then the other party began to tear her clothes. He Xiao was only slightly stunned before she reacted. She sighed helplessly. "I'm not feeling well these two days. No." But the man seemed to have gone crazy, venting all the anger he had endured in the restaurant on her. When he stopped moving, the office was already in a mess. He Xiao struggled to get up from the ground, her body covered in bruises. "Do you have to do this?" She felt even more wronged. The next second, the man on the sofa had a dark expression on his face as he fiercely gripped her chin. "Tonight, invite Galilea to your apartment. If you can't do it, I will release these videos." He Xiao's eyes widened in shock. "No!"

How could those videos be made public? "Don't be impulsive. I, I'll ask Galilea out right now." She crawled over on her knees. Yun Xi smiled coldly. The next second, he stepped on her head, as if he was stepping on an emotionless slave. "That's more like it, you cheap woman." He Xiao told Galilea that she wanted to talk to her about the design competition for the next quarter. Not long after the message was sent out, the other side replied with yes. He Xiao slowly closed her eyes. Galilea, you asked for all of this. It's all because you are so beautiful and noble. We are both his prey. How come you could get away? Let's go to hell together! It was seven o'clock that night. Galilea went to He Xiao's house according to the address. As soon as she entered, she smelled the fragrance of the food. He Xiao came out of the kitchen with an apron wrapped around her. "Sit down quickly. It will be ready soon," she said. Her eyes were bright as she said this. It was very different from her usual unique image in the company. At that moment, even Galilea was in a trance. "You cook?" "Yes, it's just some easy dishes. You sit first. I also invited Liu Yuanyuan and Kai Forest. They should be on the way." He Xiao said and went into the kitchen again. Galilea was a little stunned and realized that something was wrong. He Xiao smiled and poured her a glass of champagne. "I won't drink tonight." She remembered that He Xiao had been in MON for a while and was not close to the interns. Why would she invite her and Liu Yuanyuan to dinner? There's no free kindness. "I want to go to the bathroom." Galilea looked at the champagne glass He Xiao handed over and only smiled. "Okay, over there. If you need anything, just call me. I'll go take a look at the soup in the pot first." He Xiao said warmly and even personally took Galilea to the door. Galilea agreed. As soon as she closed the door, she immediately wanted to call Liu Yuanyuan to confirm. However, there was no signal in He Xiao's house! And no internet access either, which meant that she was almost isolated in this house. Outside the door, He Xiao knocked on the door. "Galilea, are you alright? Are you feeling unwell?" "I'm fine, thank you," Galilea replied hurriedly. She furrowed her brows, turned on the tap, and began to think of a way.

Chapter 146 Safe and Sound

A 730 that night Micah and Jasper came to Cirek Club together As soon as they entered the hall, a manager came to welcome

"Mi Lorenzo this way

"Ni Lorenzo hasn't been here for a while Mi Lubi has prepared a few special dishes for you tonight. You must have a taste." The manager led Micah inside if not for Hanning calling him several times to invite him, Micah really wouldn't have made the time to come today Behind them someone whispered, "That's Micah, right Did you see the news? He and Dayana are talking about that kind of thing at the entrance of the hospital delivery room Geer!" "The wedding was held twice but it didn't succeed is really really a disgrace." Micah didn't look pleased "Someone must hate you so much that she would use such a method to make you look bad." Jasper held back his laughter. "Who else could it be Micah suppressed the anger in his temples and said in a low voice. Apart from Galilea who else would do such a boring thing? Micah never bothered to explain, so those rumors would become more and more outrageous. Some even said that he couldn't help himself and did it with Davana in public Vulgar The man took out his phone and looked at the message from heith "Mr. Lorenzo, the news has been suppressed, but..." Listening to the voice over there the man's eyes became colder and colder.

"Keep looking "Yes Mr. Lorenzo Jasper saw that he was obviously angry and whispered, "Whats wrong?"

"Gahlea is missing" In the private room, Hanming greeted the two of them with a smile and kept saying good things to Micah, "Mr. Lorenzo is really young and promising Af your age, I never had the ability to manage such a big company." He kept tawning on Micah and even personally eat meat and poured wine for him. However, Micah kept looking at his phone with a cold face. His attitude was neither warm nor cold.

"Dont mind him. Mi Lubi He has something to deal with Let's eat first On the other side Hanming could only smile He did not dare to provoke Micah. His phone rang. It was Lucy He apologized and picked up the phone "Maybe her phone is out of battery Wiats there to make a fuss about? Nore is going to have an operation tomorrow. The operation is important You should accompany out son What are you looking her for? Seriously!" Hanming hung up the phone and saw that Micah's eyes were even colder. His body froze, not understanding what he had done wong

In his eyes, the hun nous dishes on the table were not worth the time, Especially when he heard that lubi family treated Galilea like this, Micah really could not stay for a minute. "What Ni Lorenzo Manming wanted to catch up, but he was stopped by Jasper "Mi lubi, there seems to be something wong with the goods that your company gave to the Lorenzo group before. You should first manage your company We can talk about cooperation later. Don't make it ugly."

Hanming sighed helplessly But when he looked down at his phone to clearly felt that Micah was not angry about this matter. Micah quickly walked out of Creek Cub Outside, Keith was already waiting by the car "Mr Lorenze, we still cant contact Miss Rankie, but we have already found the last place where her phone signal appeared."

a s she watched Galilea polars of champagne into her mouth "No 01

Chapter 146 Safe and Sound She struggled with all her might, but she still drank a little.

Galilea let go and took a few steps back, keeping a safe distance from He Xiao. Who knew what was in the champagne glass?

Fortunately, when she was in prison, she learned a few self-defense skills from Prison Friend Leah. It was more than enough to deal with He Xiao. . It was also because He Xiao was not on guard.

In a few seconds, He Xiao began to breathe heavily and her face turned red. She stared at Galilea and begged in a low voice, "I beg you, let me go first, okay? I will tell you everything."

"No need."

Galilea took out her mobile phone and opened the cloud save file. "I will send the things in the Yun Xi card to the company group now." Just now, she had found that He Xiao had installed a signal jammer in this house. Now, the signal had been restored. "No!"

He Xiao widened her eyes.

"I put a bit of it in the thing you drank... it won't do anything to you!" He Xiao shouted, and her body began to struggle.

It was as if Galilea would take her life. However, she had begged the wrong person: Galilea was not a kind-hearted little girl.

The people who harmed you would not be grateful to you because of your soft-heartedness. On the contrary, they would become more and more vicious. Unless you cut them off for good, you would never be able to eliminate future troubles.

Galilea quickly pressed the send button.

Then, someone knocked on the door. “I’m here!” He Xiao immediately became excited.

But just as she shouted, she was slapped in the face by Galilea. “If you move again, I’ll blow your head off.” Galilea picked up the glass fish tank next to her, her eyes fierce. She was not joking. He Xiao’s face was burning with pain. She gritted her teeth and did not dare to make a sound. Galilea walked to the door and looked out through the peephole. She was stunned for a few seconds. Her hand slowly gripped the door handle. The door opened. He Xiao looked over with anticipation. However, she only saw a pair of hands pulling Galilea out. It was a pair of men’s hands. The watch on the wrist was worth hundreds of thousands, let alone the suit. Then, more than a dozen bodyguards in black rushed in and searched the three floors outside of He Xiao’s house. “Mr. Lorenzo, there is nothing suspicious.” After that, Micah stepped in. His right hand was still holding Galilea’s wrist, and he ignored Galilea’s struggle. At this time, the effect of the medicine had already come up. She kept twitching, and the last sentence before she fainted was, “Galilea, I’m sorry.”

The man’s face was cold, and then he looked at the woman he was pulling. She was full of spirit, her face was ruddy, and she struggled to free herself from his imprisonment.

“What are you doing here?” Galilea stared at him and asked. Micah looked around for a while and whispered, “If I didn’t come, I wouldn’t have seen such an interesting show.” He kicked away the champagne glass on the ground and glanced at her coldly. “Not only do you know how to race, but you also know how to kidnap people?”

Chapter 147 Good Intentions

“I didn’t! Don’t talk nonsense. This is self-defense.” Galilea immediately closed the door.

“Also, hurry up and let your bodyguard leave. Otherwise, you will alert the enemy.” She subconsciously glanced at the door.

Was her beautiful, gentle, and elegant appearance all fake?

The woman standing in front of him was rude and barbaric, and she refused to admit defeat.

Micah looked at her steadily. He really felt that he had never clearly understood what kind of woman his ex-wife was.

That kind of regretful and pitiful thought drilled into his heart and slowly tore open a hole.

Meeting his scrutinizing but different from usual gaze, Galilea frowned.

She walked up to He Xiao, a little annoyed, and reached out to check her condition.

“What are you doing?” “You can’t touch her before you know what she drank.” Micah stopped her. “Are you concerned about my life?” Galilea asked. The man frowned and his throat froze for two seconds.

“No matter what your purpose is, please let go. Go back to where you came from. I don’t need the concern of people like you.” Galilea shook him off and reached for He Xiao’s carotid artery.

Fortunately, her breathing was smooth.

Although her pulse was weak, it did not disappear. Moreover, the unknown redness on her face had already dissipated. At present, it seemed that the thing in the champagne glass only caused dizziness.

Galilea reached out to pick up the fragment and smelled it.

Perhaps it was because He Xiao had a little bit of it.

Then, she conducted a second search in the room and found several recording pens, but they were not in the recording state and there was no video equipment.

Galilea frowned and paced around the room. She could not figure out what He Xiao planned to do after she drugged her. She was immersed in her thoughts. She only knew that Micah's bodyguard had left.

When she turned around, she saw that he was still sitting on the sofa

"You are not leaving?"

Galilea always felt that he was like glue recently. They would meet wherever she went, and he was particularly difficult to shake off.

Micah crossed his long legs and said lightly. "I'm afraid that you will destroy the corpse." "What nonsense are you talking about! She just fainted. It's not like she's dead." Galilea pointed at the unconscious He Xiao on the ground.

"Who knows what you would do if I didn't come?" Micah said coldly, without any warmth, the corners of his lips gently raised. "Micah, don't slander me." Galilea gritted her teeth. She felt even more annoyed in her heart. "I'll stay here just in case. You don't have to worry about me. Go on," Micah said slowly when he saw that she was really a little angry.

Chapter 147 Good Intentions Galilea glanced at him, unable to figure out what he was thinking.

Just in case?

In case of murder? Galilea muttered a dirty word and walked into the kitchen to check the dishes.

The corners of Micah's mouth curled into a faint smile and his gaze followed her. Originally, he really did not intend to interfere. However, he saw that Galilea had actually taken a piece of meat with her hand and was about to put it into her mouth.

He rushed over, grabbed her wrist, and pinched her chin with his other hand. His eyes were filled with worry. "Do you have any in your mouth? Spit it out!"

Damn it.

That woman was clearly Yun Xi's person. They might have put something in this dish. The strength in Micah's hand was so great that it left a mark on Galilea's cheek. "You, let go of me first. I wasn't going to eat it," she said.

Only then did Micah let go of her hand.

The next second, Galilea crushed the meat in her hand and looked like she was teaching him a lesson. "It looks like meat, but in fact, it is not. If someone eats it, it will secrete something on their tongue. Simply put, it will cause people to hallucinate."

As she spoke, she threw the food away and washed her hands with the tap.

She turned around and saw Micah deep in thought.

"But don't worry, this must have been bought through a special channel. Normally, there won't be any. But if it's an underground casino or a prison, it's possible."

She said indifferently, as if she was saying something very ordinary.

At that moment, her unconcerned appearance stung Micah's heart. She was born into a rich and powerful family, how could she know such dirty things? She would check a fainted woman with her bare hands, and she would offer information to the paparazzi. These were all dirty tricks. But she could only use these to protect herself. "Where did you learn these?" His eyebrows condensed.

"Prison. In the future, when you go in, you will know that there are all kinds of people in there." Galilea lifted the pillow on the sofa, glanced back at him, and smiled calmly. "You will definitely know because I will personally send you in.” Even at this stage, she still did not forget her hatred for him. Micah did not speak again. He watched as Galilea took out He Xiao’s phone and dialed Yun Xi’s number, The call went through and the other side cursed. “Why is it so slow? I saw Micah go to your house just now. Now...” *Teacher Yun Xi, you are too anxious. If you can’t raise the money you can tell me. You just have to use such an extreme method. However, I have already sent the contents of your memory card to the company management office.” Galilea smiled sarcastically. “You bitch!” The other side began to scold even more fiercely.

Chapter 147 Good Intentions Galilea took the phone a little further away and looked down at the still unconscious He Xiao. “Come over and give me a hand.” “Me?” Micah frowned. “Is there anyone else here? I can’t move her by myself. It’s too heavy.”

“You hold the legs,” Galilea said, skillfully circling behind He Xiao’s shoulder. Micah was sure that this was not the first time she had done such a thing. His face was more gloomy now. When he and Galilea put He Xiao on the bed in the bedroom, Micah pulled her again.

“You...” Galilea looked up at him. Without waiting for him to speak, she slapped his hand away. “Don’t look at me with that kind of pitiful gaze. You are not worthy to sympathize with me.” After saying that, Galilea left He Xiao’s house directly. Micah followed not far behind her and made a phone call. “Mr. Lorenzo, what is it?” Brother Logan’s voice came. “Building 5, second floor, help me clean up.” He put down his phone and quickened his pace to catch up with Galilea. “My car is here. I’ll take you.” He was worried that Yun Xi would find her. “I’m going to the hospital,” said Galilea, who was not familiar with the road. “Why are you in such a hurry to accompany Nore?” asked Micah, frowning. Obviously, Lubi family did not care about her life or death at all. Did this woman have to kiss their asses?

“That’s right. I can’t wait.” Galilea rolled her eyes at him and opened the door of co-pilot’s car. The driver was shocked. The next second, Micah gave the driver a look, and the driver immediately got out of the car. Micah sat in the car and stepped on the accelerator.

He charged the yellow light three times in a row, and the speed was frighteningly fast. Galilea could not help but frown. “Do you need to vent your anger on the car? It’s not like I asked you to send me.”

There was only one thought in her mind. Micah must have been angered by the news online. Unexpectedly, the man snorted contemptuously. “I want you to relive the feeling of racing with Nore. After all, he might die on the operating table tomorrow.” “What did you say!?”

Chapter 148 Fortunately, It Was Not Her

Galilea reacted quickly and immediately questioned him, “The hospital has already made preparations. You have no right to interfere. I have already said that if there really is an accident, Lubi family will not let it go.”

Micah had no enmity with Nore. If he pushed another person to hell just because of her, then Micah was really a madman. Moreover, he was a madman who killed people without blinking an eye. The man stepped on the brake and turned his head, the coldness in his eyes overflowing, “You are protecting him all the time now, but Lubi family only treats you as a servant. With your current status, you can’t climb into Lubi family’s door.” “Yes, I am stupid. I want to cling to the Lubi family, can’t I? Dayana did the same thing and she’s with you now. You are not qualified to criticize me.” Galilea fiercely fought back. She looked at the rearview mirror and confirmed that there was no car behind. She immediately opened the door. “Mr. Lorenzo’s car. I can’t afford to sit in your car. Go and find your Dayana.” Galilea slammed the door. Bang! The man’s eyes completely darkened. He should not have any pity for this woman. He stepped on the accelerator and left without hesitation. He just hoped that Galilea would have some self-respect. Even if Lubi family recognized her now, it was because Nore was sick. Once Nore recovered, they would not care about Galilea's life at all.

Micah gripped the steering wheel hard. Why did she insist on sticking to Nore?

He stepped on the accelerator harder and harder. But there were very few cars on this road, how could she go back? He turned on the radio in frustration, and the host's voice came from inside, "According to the information of the audience, there was a traffic accident on the north of Zhuhai Road. The victim was a woman in her twenties, wearing a gray windbreaker..." His eyes suddenly sank, and he turned the steering wheel back. Right where he dropped off Galilea at the intersection, two big trucks flipped over one after another, and thick smoke billowed around them. There were screams of people everywhere, and the cries of children. Micah rushed over regardless, tearing his heart and shouting, "Galilea!" He rushed directly behind the two trucks, but was stopped by the truck driver. "Sir, you can't go forward anymore, it's too dangerous." "Galilea!" "Where is the injured woman?" he asked.

His eyes were wide open and he could not think rationally,

The drivers were frightened by his appearance and pointed behind him. "Ly..."

He stopped in his tracks, He clearly saw that the woman was being supported by her family. Beside her, there was a child calling her mother. He swallowed, After a long time, he heaved a heavy sigh of relief. Fortunately, it was not her.

Fortunately, h Was Not Her Not far away, Galilea saw everything that happened just now. She really wanted to get a cab and go back to the hospital just now. Just as she took a few steps forward, she heard the crash behind her.

She was indeed in danger and escaped. She wanted to stay and see if there was anything she could help with, but she saw that Micah went back to find her.

Seeing that the man was still looking around, Galilea hid behind the public card.

She frowned. If she died, Micah would probably be very happy, and no one would go against him. What was he acting like this for? "Don't be soft-hearted. People like him have a purpose for doing anything."

Galilea clenched her fingers and reminded herself silently. When Micah got in the car and left, Galilea went to the nearby area and took a taxi. The two of them almost went back to the hospital together.

When he entered the hospital hall, Micah heard the familiar footsteps behind him. He stopped and walked over when he saw Galilea's fair face.

"Where..."

However, Galilea did not stop and only said lightly, "I still have to take care of the patient."

Her impatience was written all over her face.

Micah frowned and followed her.

Galilea ignored her and went straight back to the ward, but when she entered, she found that something was wrong.

Lucy and the nurse were very anxious. When they saw her, they said anxiously, "Nore saw that you didn't come back for a day and was very worried about you. I don't know where he went."

"What?" Galilea took a look at the ward. Nore did not take his cell phone or sit in a wheelchair. She immediately ran out. Micah stared at her anxious back, and the light in his eyes completely dimmed.

Galilea ran all over the two floors and asked when she met someone, "Hello, did you see a thin and tall young man? He was wearing hospital clothes, probably..." Micah had been standing by the window on the second floor and watching from afar. He really wanted to know if Galilea loved him so much when they were married. No, definitely not. His eyebrows were tightly furrowed, and the anger that could not be suppressed flowed in his chest. After another ten minutes, Galilea finally found Nore at the edge of the garden. He had just returned from the street with his cane.

When their eyes met, Galilea was annoyed and angry. "Where did you go? The surgery is tomorrow. Can't you stay in the ward obediently? Do you know that Auntie is very worried about you? You..." Before she could finish speaking, she was pulled into a gentle embrace.

"It's good that you're back," Nore sighed softly beside her ear.

He placed his palm on Galilea's shoulder and back as if he wanted to knead her into his body.

Galilea raised her head and reflected on how agitated she was just now,

No matter what, he was a patient now.

Chapter 148 Fortunately, It Was Not Her "Go back. Don't disturb other people." If it were any other time, Nore would definitely listen to her. But today, he hugged her even tighter, and even choked a few times. "I want to stay a little longer." "But I'm cold. I was looking for you for a long time just now, and I'm sweating." With that said, Nore slowly retracted his hand.

The night grew darker, but Galilea clearly saw that his eyes were red. She suddenly didn't know what to say. Since the end of that failed marriage, her entire life had become dark. She didn't understand love and didn't want to touch love anymore. She also didn't understand why someone would love another person so stubbornly. One should only love oneself. She would never fall in love again. Seeing Nore like this, Galilea retracted her gaze. "Let's go." Nore nodded. Just like before, he quietly followed behind her. After walking for a long time, he reached the door of the ward and tugged at Galilea. "If the surgery is successful tomorrow, I will be discharged. Then..." "Why are you hesitating so much today?" "It's too late. Let's talk about it tomorrow." Galilea blinked. "Okay, let's talk about it tomorrow." Nore slowly loosened his fingers.

However, he entered the ward and lay on the bed. His mood was still desolate. He had not contacted Galilea for a day today. He thought that something had happened to her or that she had left. Then he thought about it again. The reason why he could see her every day was because he was injured, If he recovered, would the woman in front of him still stay by his side?

Chapter 149 The Second Time

Nore slowly closed his eyes, hoping that tomorrow would never come.

Seeing that he was asleep, Lucy called Galilea out.

"Fortunately, you came back. Otherwise, I really don't know what to do. Nore was worried about you. Are you okay?"

"I just went to my friend's house. There was no signal there." Galilea smiled and shook her head.

She did not want to say more.

Lucy nodded. She held Galilea's hand and said a lot more. Perhaps she knew that she was worried about the success of the operation tomorrow. Galilea accompanied her until midnight.

At this time, Jasper was pulled by Micah to drink in the bar.

He looked at his watch several times. "Micah, it's too late. Go back first."

But no matter what he said, Micah just did not move.

"You and Galilea have already divorced. What you're doing is not right. To put it bluntly, she can sue you."

Pa.

The wine glass in his hand fell. Micah raised his eyes, his eyes full of coldness. That gaze gave Jasper a fright. "Think about it, she doesn't have a boyfriend right now. So what if she has a debt? Lubi family doesn't dislike her. She and Nore..."

Jasper didn't dare to continue.

If he continued, he was afraid he would lose his life.

"To say the least, even if you want to chase her back, it's useless for you to drink here by yourself."

Jasper had worked for a day and was really tired.

If Micah did not let him go home, he was afraid that he would faint here.

The coldness in Micah's eyes dissipated.

"Chase her back?"

The man raised his eyebrows. If he could marry Galilea once, he could marry her a second time.

"But let me remind you that Dayana is pregnant with your child."

Jasper knew that Micah was not that kind of person. He would not hide from responsibilities.

"Help me investigate something." Micah carefully recalled everything that happened after he drank with Dayana that day. "You, you suspect that the child isn't yours?" Jasper's eyes widened.

If Dayana were to cuckold Micah, it would be the biggest joke in the entire Cloud Town world.

Micah pushed the table and stood up, "Check first."

He did have doubts, but Quincy family would not lie about this for no reason, because once he found out, the consequences would not be so simple.

As for Galilea, he had plenty of time. He could take it slowly.

Ten o'clock in the morning the next day.

The nurse pushed Nore into the operating room.

Chapter 149 The Second Time "Galilea, do you think the two experts will be okay?" Lucy paced nervously in the corridor and looked inside from time to time.

"Auntie, sit down and wait. The surgery will take at least three hours."

This was still a conservative estimate.

With the foreshadowing of the previous two operations, this time, if everything went smoothly, Nore would basically be healed.

Galilea looked at the lights outside the operating room and prayed silently.

However, an accident still happened.

Because of the lack of blood reserves, after an hour of surgery, there was a large amount of blood loss.

"The patient needs blood transfusion!" The nurse came out and shouted.

Galilea immediately went over.

"Okay, come in with me."

Lucy's vision went black and she fainted.

Galilea was taken into the room next to the operating room. There was a door, and that was the place where the operation was taking place.

"Miss Frankie, I will check with you again. Your blood type, and within 24 hours, did you drink or take medicine..." The nurse said one by one.

After Galilea confirmed it, she signed.

As the needle pierced into her skin, Galilea took a deep breath and leaned against the chair.

To be able to help Nore, she was willing to do this.

At the same time, the hospital was broadcasting in the entire building to find other donors. Galilea did not know how much blood had been drained, and since she did not rest well last night, she soon fell asleep.

Bang. She heard the sound of something exploding beside her. She opened her eyes in fright, only to find herself in someone's arms. She smelled the smell of disinfectant on the other person and thought that he was a staff member of the hospital. "Nore, how is he?" she asked softly.

He did not answer but walked even faster.

"Is the operation over?" Galilea was still muttering.

"He... is fine now, right?" At such a time, she was still so concerned about someone else?

Micah lowered his eyes, suppressing his anger, and carried the woman into the ward.

"Mr. Lorenzo, the people I brought here have all gone for blood transfusion. Nore's condition is currently stable, and the operation is coming to an end." Keith stood at the door and reported in a low voice.

Micah raised his hand, and he immediately retreated.

He stood by the bed for a long time. In his mind, he kept asking himself a question. If this woman died, would he feel sad?

There was no answer.

Perhaps he only thought of Galilea as a tool for his revenge, but he had never thought of hurting her...

Chapter 149 The Second Time The man stared at the white and sparkling face on the bed. His clenched fists slowly loosened. He said word by word, "Without my permission, you won't even have the chance to die." Not to mention dying for another man.

Galilea seemed to have had a long dream. When she woke up, the ward was empty.

She looked at the infusion needle on her wrist and frowned.

She raised her hand to ring the bell, but found that she couldn't get there. "Miss Frankie, I will help you. The porridge is ready. Do you want some? You just lost your blood and your body is very weak. You need to rest," the nurse said. "How is Nore? Is the operation over?" Galilea asked. "It's over. Everything went well," The nurse put a coat on Galilea. She was relieved. "Then you go and take care of him. I'm fine."

Galilea lowered her eyes. She had never seen this nurse before, but she should have been hired by Lubi family. "It's ok, Miss Frankie. I'll get you some porridge first. You should eat more." Galilea nodded. She indeed felt a little dizzy.

After a while, the nurse came over and said that everything was normal and told her to rest well. On the other side, Nore also woke up. The first thing he did was to look for Galilea.

However, Hanming stood in the ward. "You just finished the operation. She should be the one coming to you. Why is she missing now?" *Missing? I'm going to look for her," Nore said abruptly. Galilea promised to accompany him. Nore grabbed the sheets and was in a hurry to get out of bed.

"My precious son, take a rest first. When you get better, Galilea will definitely come. She might have something to attend to, so you should lie down first." After Lucy woke up, she did not see Galilea, and she did not know where she went. *The doctor told me that you are still very weak. You still have to be observed for a day. It is late now. I will accompany you to find her tomorrow morning." Nore was pressed back to the bed. The effect of the anesthetic had not completely passed, and he soon fell asleep again. The night was deep, and the corridor of the hospital was empty. There were only the footsteps of men's shoes,

He pushed open the door of the ward and walked towards the hospital bed step by step.

Chapter 150 No One Could Find Her

Early morning.

As soon as Nore woke up, he began to call Galilea, but he could not get through no matter how hard he tried.

Lucy could not stop him, so she accompanied him to the nurse station to ask.

However, as soon as Nore stepped out of the ward, he saw Micah walking in front of him, followed by his assistant and bodyguard.

“Mr. Lorenzo.”

“Why are you here?” Nore shouted.

“Do I need to inform Mr. Lubi in advance?” Micah turned around and stared at Nore coldly.

He exuded an oppressive and fierce aura. Lucy subconsciously tugged at her son. She had heard from Hanming that recently, the collaboration with the Lorenzo group was not going well. Moreover, Micah seemed to no longer want to cooperate with Lubi family

Due to the interests of their business, they had to be polite to Micah no matter what.

“Mr. Lorenzo is right. Nore, let’s go first.” Lucy pulled his son.

Nore was pulled away. He turned around and saw Micah entering the elevator with his people.

“Mom, help me ask what Micah is doing in the hospital.” He frowned.

“The Lorenzo group has shares of the hospital. It’s normal for him to come here. Well, aren’t you looking for Galilea? Let’s go to the front and ask.”

But the reply from the nurse station was, “I don’t know.”

“How could you not know? She was in the operating room yesterday.” Nore was a little anxious and more worried.

“Sorry, Mr. Lubi. There are so many people coming and going in the hospital every day. We really didn’t pay attention.” “Then call her again and try it. Let’s go back to the ward first. You still need to rest more now. Later, I will send someone to find her.”

Nore slowly moved his feet, his eyes filled with loneliness.

“She clearly promised that she would not leave...”

When he was a cripple, she did not even mind. Now that he was fine, why did she disappear? Nore glanced in the direction of the back garden. “Mom, I’ll go to the back and look for her. Maybe Galilea will wait for me there!”

“Eh?”

Lucy did not hold him back, and Nore ran straight over. The decorations were still there. Originally, he planned to propose to Galilea here again, but now, the heroine was missing.

A drizzle began to fall from the sky.

“Alright, let’s go back first. Even if you want to propose, you have to wait for Galilea. Let’s go.”

Nore was extremely disappointed.

Chapter 150 No One Could Find Her His shoulder was drenched by the rain and was forcefully pulled back.

At this moment, a black car drove by the street outside. Inside the car was the unconscious Galilea.

Her head was resting on Micah’s leg. The man put one hand on her shoulder, afraid that she would be uncomfortable. The other hand knocked on the phone screen, waiting for the inspection report.

“Mr. Lorenzo, the report is out.” Keith immediately sent the blood sample test results that Galilea made this morning to Micah.

The man opened it with a cold face.. He looked down one by one, extremely carefully, not missing any details. In the end, he slowly breathed a sigh of relief. However, the hand holding the phone still did not loosen, and his eyes were full of fierceness. Last night, Yun Xi sneaked into the hospital inpatient department and injected an unknown liquid into Galilea's infusion bottle. Fortunately, the security guard on duty found out in time. Micah rushed over as soon as he received the news "Mr. Lorenzo, we've arrived at the villa." After Keith got out of the car, he immediately opened the door at the back. Micah draped his coat over Galilea, then wrapped his arms around her and carried her into the villa. But after settling Galilea down, he left in a hurry. He knew that if this woman woke up, she would definitely make a fuss. If he did not appear, her mood would be better.

"Go to MON." Micah sat in the car with a heavy expression.

Keith and the driver both felt the low pressure in the car. The people who provoked them, Mr. Lorenzo, really did not want to live.

Galilea woke up and found that she was in Micah's villa.

She could not figure it out no matter how she thought about it.

Since her phone was not with her, she had to go downstairs to find someone and ask what was going on.

In the end, she remembered that she was giving blood to Nore in the operating room of the hospital.

"Miss Frankie, you are awake. The food is ready. Do you have an appetite?" The maid, Ms. Zhang, stepped forward with a smile and supported Galilea. "Sir has instructed. You're still weak. Let me help you."

Sir?

"Where's my phone?" asked Galilea.

"It's charging." Ms. Zhang smiled and led Galilea to the restaurant.

Smelling the fragrance of the food, Galilea's stomach couldn't help but ring. "This is a blood replenishing soup. Have a taste."

Then she opened the other plates. There was a large table of dishes, fish, and fruit.

Galilea was indeed hungry. She did not hesitate and started to eat.

Ms. Zhang was smiling as she chatted with her. During this period of time, Galilea had been accompanying Nore in the hospital. It had indeed been a long time since she had eaten such delicious

In addition, after Nore's operation ended, she was relieved. "Ms. Zhang, can I trouble you to help me get my phone?" She wanted to ask about Nore's situation. "Well, it has just been charged. It might take a while before it can be turned on again. Why don't you eat some fruit and then I will accompany you to the garden." Ms. Zhang said and pushed the fruit tray to Galilea.

After eating and drinking, Galilea walked around the garden and felt tired again.

Ms. Zhang took her to her room to rest.

Then she sent a message to Micah, "Miss Frankie is asleep again." There were sleeping drugs in the food. Because Galilea had just lost too much blood, if she did not sleep well, there might be sequela. Ms. Zhang quietly left the room. Seeing the phone in the living room that was charging, she walked over, pulled out the charger, then turned on the flight mode, muted it, and started playing random videos. Only when the phone was turned off again did she connect it to the charger. Therefore, no matter who called, it was turned off. No one would disturb Galilea's rest.

Galilea slept very soundly. It had been a long time since she had rested so comfortably. When she opened her eyes again, it was already night time. The fragrance of food drifted from downstairs again. Galilea touched her stomach. "I think I'm hungry again."

She had to admit that Sister Zhang's cooking was indeed very fragrant. When Galilea went downstairs and saw that her phone was still charging, she frowned. "Is it broken?" "Miss Frankie, are you awake? I just made some pastries. Do you want to try them?" Sister Zhang's gentle tone and smile were really irresistible. Galilea nodded and put down the phone.

Anyway, Nore had Lubi family take care of him. Since the operation was successful, he didn't need her. Galilea had just eaten a few mouthfuls when a car came in from outside. Before she could react, Dayana had already broken in. Seeing Galilea in the dining room, wearing casual clothes, eating and drinking, she was so angry that her eyes widened. "Why are you here?"

No wonder Micah had been avoiding her.

It turned out that there was a woman hiding in the villa. If it was someone else, it would be fine, but it was Galilea!

"You are shameless!" Dayana rushed up and was about to hit Galilea.
