

Keep A Love Profile, Sir! Chapter 21

Chapter 21 Scum

Micah didn't explain too much, so Director Forrest could only shut his mouth in embarrassment

As if he could tell what he was thinking, Keith stood behind Micah and whispered, "Director Forrest does not need to worry. We will naturally communicate with the Quincy family." Director Forrest nodded repeatedly. "Sigh, sigh, alright. We will naturally do our best."

In the interrogation room. The door was suddenly opened, and the female police officer was still acting like a business-minded person. "Alright, the interrogation is over. Come out." Galilea's anger seemed to have hit cotton, so she could only follow her out temporarily. However, she always felt that there was a gaze behind the glass. It was especially cold, giving her a familiar feeling.

When she walked to the door, she looked at the glass.

Micah stood behind the glass and looked at Galilea. The two of them looked at each other through the black one-way glass. The difference was that Galilea couldn't see who that person was, but Micah could see the stubbornness in Galilea's eyes

Something seemed to have hit his heart. For the first time, Micah chose to take the initiative to look away when facing Galilea's gaze. Galilea was taken away. His mood was difficult to calm down for a long time. There seemed to be something that had been completely different, She had lost a child.

Their child.

That was a life.

He closed his eyes and returned to the emotionless Micah. He pushed open the door of the interrogation room and walked out.

Director Forrest brought a team of police officers and sent Micah to the door.

Suddenly, an ear-piercing braking sound was heard. A person walked out of a red car.

Nore's face was full of anger. The moment he saw Micah, he punched him!

"Micah! When can you let her go! Since she met you, she has been living a terrible life! Will your conscience be clear?"

In Nore's eyes, Dayana and Micah were a pair of bitch couple.

Micah dodged the fist and looked at Nore coldly.

This was the man who lived with her?

He was just an impulsive rich kid who had not established himself yet, and he was worthy of her protection?

“What are you doing in front of the police station?”

When Director Forrest saw this scene, he immediately wanted to lead his men to control Nore.

Micah reached out his hand to stop him. “Director Forrest, it’s just a personal grudge.”

After he finished speaking, his cold and thin eyes swept over Nore inch by inch. “You can’t even handle your mother. What else can you help her with?”

With a mocking smile, Micah did not stay any longer and left with his assistant.

“Micah, you scum!”

Nore’s exasperated voice came from behind him. Galilea stopped in her tracks. Was she hallucinating?
