

Kick Ass Wife 100

Chapter 100 Samantha Lang Is Here

Everyone subconsciously looked at the entrance and saw a man with purple hair and purple eyes walking in.

He was extraordinarily beautiful. He was clearly a man, but his perfect figure, exquisite appearance, and the unique color of the violet made him the brightest star at the moment.

At that moment, the man was striding over with a smile on his lips. He was as elegant as a prince. In fact, he was no different from a real prince.

“Lawrence Docker!” A few people recognized him, but most people were confused. “Who was this man? How could there be a man who looked like this?” Many thought.

There was a woman beside Lawrence, but no one noticed her presence because when she walked with Lawrence. Her beauty paled in comparison to the man beside her.

Even though the woman was wearing a silver diamond-studded floor-length dress, her hair was tied up high, and she had a silver diamond tiara on her head, she still couldn’t compare to the man’s beauty.

Isabella looked at the man and woman who walked in. She was only surprised for a moment before she quickly regained her composure.

She looked at them strangely. She was not surprised by Lawrence’s arrival, but the woman beside Lawrence was none other than Samantha.

Most importantly, Samantha’s outfit could be said to be gorgeous and flirtatious. It was as if she was about to walk the red carpet and receive praise from everyone.

However, the current venue was the Traditional Medicine Association, a serious place. That place was different from the entertainment industry. The banquet here was also completely different from other banquets, yet Samantha was dressed like that..

Isabella curled her lips and planned to watch the show unfold with interest.

“Hello, everyone. Let me introduce myself. My name is Lawrence Docker. I’m from the Violet Family. Please just call me Lawrence. It’s an honor to be able to participate in the Traditional Medicine Association’s presidential election. I hope that I can take this opportunity to meet the person I’d like to meet.”

Lawrence walked in and bowed slightly in a gentlemanly manner. A warm smile appeared on his face. The man’s beautiful appearance, as well as his warm and sincere smile instantly captured everyone’s hearts.

However, most people were shocked by his background.

The Violet family from Etrulia was a family that was close to the royal family and their lineage went way back.
