Chapter 121 Call Your Family

On the other end of the phone, Isabella's first reaction was, "Who's that? Who dared to seduce my husband? Does she have a death wish?"

She was fuming as she prepared to leave but she said, "You got yourself into this problem. Solve it yourself!" Draxton could hear the sound of the car starting from the other end of the phone. A smile appeared on his face but he still let out a sigh and said, "I'm innocent. She's from the Crawford family. Are you sure you don't want to save me? I might be taken advantage of. However, it's not me who will be at a loss, it's you!" Isabella thought what Draxton said made sense. If he was taken advantage of, she would be the one to suffer

Isabella stepped on the gas and rushed there.

Zolo, who had squeezed into the car at some point, asked with a curious expression, "I'm not trying to stir trouble, but don't be fooled by Draxton Lockwood's serious appearance. He's the kind that will attract other ladies' attention. If you stay with him, you have to be more careful!"

Isabella looked at him angrily. "Would you like a few extra acupuncture sessions?"

Zolo immediately shut up upon hearing that.

The silver sports car left Northernville Manor and went on the highway.

Tiffany was like a flower that bloomed tenaciously in the cold winter. She was delicate but tenacious. She just continued kneeling in front of Draxton's car pitifully.

She was shivering from the cold. She put on a pitiful and shy expression, but the person in the car just ignored her.

She was wondering if the person in the car was actually asleep

She felt that this was not going anywhere and it was so cold that she could not stand it anymore. After a while, she crawled nearer to the car.

She bit her lower lip tightly and raised her head slowly in hopes that Draxton could see her beautiful face clearly.

However, just as her tears flowed out, they were dried by the cold wind.

"Mr. Lockwood, please get out of the car and take a look at me. I have admired you for a long time. Please fulfill my wish and help my family. I am a good girl and I will definitely make you happy!"

The corner of Silas's mouth twitched when he heard that. He felt like a psycho was pestering them.

He turned to look at Draxton, only to see that gloomy expression on Draxton's face. He even looked as if he was about to vomit.

Tiffany reached out her hand, wanting to stand up with the help of the car.

Chapter 122 Your Problem

Draxton returned to the car in a good mood.

Silas could not help but sigh silently in his heart. Ever since he had a wife, Draxton had lost his usual seriousness

Outside the car, Tiffany's face contorted in anger when she saw that Draxton had really returned to the car. From the beginning, he did not even bat an eye at her.

She glared at Isabella angrily and said, "Miraculous Doctor, I'm sincerely begging you. If you don't save my great-grandpa, I will tell everyone that Mr. Lockwood had seen me naked. When that happens, the Crawford family will definitely pressure the Lockwood family to make Mr. Lockwood take responsibility for me."

"What good will it do you when the time comes?"

"Even if Mr. Lockwood didn't divorce you for the sake of the children, with his status, even if he were to marry another woman, I bet no one will dare say anything, am I right?"

"Miraculous Doctor, do you agree with what I just said?"

Isabella's beautiful eyes widened. She had never seen such a shameless person. It was fine that she tried to seduce her man, but how dare she threaten her?

Isabella was furious. It was normal for someone to covet a top-notch man like Draxton, but if the person who coveted him showed off in front of her, it would depend on whether she would allow it!

Zolo, who was listening attentively in the car, almost choked on his own saliva when he heard this. Was there something wrong with this woman's brain? Did she not know who the Miraculous Doctor was?

She even tried to put pressure on the Lockwood family. Everyone knew that the Lockwood family was the number one family in Lucsia.

The Crawford family was in dire straits now. Even at their peak, the elders of the Crawford family would not dare to boast about putting pressure on the Lockwood family.

When Tiffany saw Isabella's surprised expression, she could not help but sneer proudly. She stood up and puffed out her chest proudly in front of Isabella.

"Miraculous Doctor, what do you think? We'll be a family in the future. You'll be like my sister. You should treat my great-grandpa. After all, he'll be your elder as well in the future!"

After saying that, she covered her mouth and giggled.

"Mr. Crawford, I'm wondering what the Crawford family plan to do?"

Isabella sneered.

A moment later, the person on the other end of the line said something to Cynthia, and she hung up.

Cynthia looked at Isabella and said, "Miraculous doctor, my father said that it's my brother's birthday in three days. At that time, the Crawford family will hold a banquet. He hopes that you and Mr. Lockwood can attend."

"The Crawford family will publicly apologize to the Lockwood family and ask Tiffany to apologize to you as well. In addition, we will transfer the 200 million to you soon."

Isabella's face turned cold. "If you really want to apologize sincerely, you should do better. Your father is really good at scheming, asking us to attend your family banquet."

Cynthia said aggrievedly, "It's not like that, Miraculous Doctor. My father said that an especially distinguished guest will attend as well. Mr. Lockwood will soon receive an invitation. He will certainly attend after seeing the invite."

"It's true that the Crawford family doesn't have such power, but that esteemed guest can be considered as Mr. Lockwood's old acquaintance. Mr. Lockwood will surely attend because of him."

Isabella was stunned.

She release the Crawford sisters as she received the money.

Back at Northernville Manor, Isabella told Draxton about this matter.

At this moment, Cooper walked in with an invitation.

Cooper did not look too good. He said seriously, "Chieftain, take a look."

Isabella and Draxton looked over and realized that it was just an ordinary invitation. However, when they opened it, other than the Crawford family's seal, there was another name.

Fernando.

Right next to the name was a blood-red rose.

It was the Bloody Rose Family, the Barclays.

Fernando's full name was Fernando Barclays.

Chapter 124 The Confrontation

Isabella looked at the white plaque in Marvin's hand and back at Marvin. The way she stared at him was as if she was looking at a clown.

The white plaque was of the lowest grade. How could he have the cheek to show it off?

Isabella felt a little embarrassed for Marvin. She wanted to tell him that she had the highest-ranked purple plaque. However, she had given it to Betty as a toy.

She had no idea if Betty brought it with her when they left Lotus Village. It was even possible that Betty had already thrown it away.

Her momentary silence made Marvin feel more confident. He looked at Isabella mockingly. So what if she was the Miraculous Doctor? Could she go against The Allied Nations?

Even if he could only mobilize the lowest-level forces in The Allied Nations, it was enough to intimidate her.

He also knew that The Allied Nations was the Lockwood family's strongest enemy!

A hundred years ago, the Barclays family founded The Allied Nations to go against the Lockwood family. Although a hundred years had passed and the Lockwood family was still strong and prosperous, The Allied Nations had also developed and expanded greatly.

Even if the Lockwood family would protect Isabella and Isabella was the Miraculous Doctor, how many people were willing to go against The Allied Nations for her?

Even the royal family of a country was wary of The Allied Nations.

If the Allied Nations was not happy with a country, the country would be destroyed. No country could withstand an attack from the Allied Nations.

Marvin's lips kept curling up in a domineering manner. Jacob, who was beside him, also looked at Isabella gloatingly.

Draxton's face darkened. How could these people bully his wife in front of him? Did they think he would stand around and do nothing?

Sensing that the man beside her was about to get angry, Isabella quickly recovered and said to Draxton in a coquettish manner, "Draxton, both of them are idiots."

Yes, she felt that Marvin and Jacob were really stupid.

Chapter 125 The Tear Of Siren

However, Draxton's expression was still very dark. "Easy for you to say. My wife is timid. She was frightened just now. These two asked my wife to kneel down and apologize to others. Fernando, is this what you want?" Fernando's expression changed drastically as he said in shock, "Mr. Lockwood, you can't accuse me wrongly!" Besides, what did he mean by Mrs. Lockwood being timid?

Miss Thompson was timid?

This was probably the funniest joke he had ever heard.

He looked coldly at Marvin and Jacob. With his gray eyes, he looked at them as if he was looking at dead. objects. "You're courting death!"

He cursed angrily and turned to Draxton. "Mr. Lockwood, these two things don't know what's good for them. Since they don't have brains, I'll dig out their brains later and send them to you to appease your anger. And I can also send them over to Miss Thompson to calm her down if you want. How to deal with them is up to you and Miss Thompson. It's not a loss for Miss Thompson to have two more experimental subjects."

Marvin and Jacob were pale beyond description. They both knew Mr. Fernando quite a lot.

If Mr. Fernando said that he would dig out their brains, he would definitely do it. This person was also famous for being ruthless.

Almost at the same time, their legs went weak and they fell to the ground.

Beads of cold sweat rolled down their foreheads. Marvin begged with a trembling voice, "Mr. Fernando, we are sorry. We'll apologize to Mr. Lockwood and Miss Thompson. Please don't kill us!"

After saying that, he banged his head hard on the ground to ask for mercy. When Jacob saw that, he also did the same thing.

The banquet hall was covered with a thick carpet, but even so, in just a few moments, Marvin's and Jacob's foreheads were both broken.

Bright red blood oozed from their foreheads, staining the gorgeous carpet.

Fernando moved a few steps away in disgust, afraid that his shoes would get dirty.

He smiled at Draxton and Isabella and said, "Miss Thompson, look, they're just two nobodies. You can do whatever you want with them.

"However, they only dared to scare you because of my power. I should do something about that.

"This is a small token of my apology. I hope you can accept it, Miss Thompson."

Tiffany's face had already turned pale. She was extremely unwilling and terrified.

Timothy said all the good stuff at their side, "Miss Thompson, Mr. Lockwood, my unfilial daughter is insensible. She offended the two of you previously. I'll get her to apologize to you now. Get down on her knees and apologize."

After saying that, he shouted at Tiffany with a ferocious expression, "What are you waiting for? Apologize now!"

Tiffany shuddered from his roar, but the hatred in her heart was overwhelming.

She gritted her teeth and said, "Miss Thompson, I'm sorry..."

"You can apologize later. Why don't you repeat what you did and said that day? Otherwise, people will really think that our Lockwood family is bullying others!"

"Re... repeat it..."

Tiffany's face twisted as she stared straight at Isabella.

Isabella nodded. "Yes, repeat it.

"For example, what clothes did you wear to stop Draxton's car, how did you threaten me, and so on? Repeat it word for word."

Draxton looked at Tiffany smugly. She wanted to take advantage of him. But look, she was taken revenge by Bella, right?

Did she think she could take advantage of him that easily?

When Tiffany looked at Isabella's aloof expression and Draxton's complacent expression, an evil flame suddenly rose up in her and shot toward the top of her head.

A wild look flashed through her eyes as she became emotional and excited.

"Alright, I'll repeat it..."

They had already been abandoned. Even if Isabella and Draxton did not deal with them, Fernando would not let them off.

Isabella smiled mockingly. It could only be said that these two were too eager to show off. They did not know that Fernando had other considerations.

Fernando saw that Isabella and Draxton had no intention of dealing with them, so he ordered someone to take them away.

Isabella stared at Jacob's back and suddenly saw Jacob make a gesture.

It was a gesture that the Sanctum of Holy Doctors people would use. When cultivating mental rhythms, they would mostly use that gesture

Isabella suddenly stood up and said to Draxton, "I need to talk to Jacob. I'll be back in a while."

Draxton nodded slightly. "Come back early."

Marvin and Jacob were escorted to a spare room in the Crawford family. With Fernando's men guarding them, the two of them did not dare to escape. They could only think of another way to survive.

Isabella entered. Jacob was not surprised. Marvin looked at Jacob excitedly, hoping that he had a way to make Isabella let them go.

"You lured me here," Isabella looked at them and said without any nonsense, "What do you want to say? Just say it."

"I know a secret of the master, and I also know where the junior sister is now. Isabella, it has to do with both the Sanctum of Holy Doctors and Clan Mobius and is a matter of life and death, Jacob said. "I'll tell you if you promise to save me."

Marvin immediately panicked and said. "Jacob, me too."

Jacob just stared nervously at Isabella.

Isabella thought for a moment. "Since it concerns the Sanctum of Holy Doctors and Clan Mobius, it's either. the ancient prescription that the Sanctum of Holy Doctors lost or Clan Mobius's Evolution Poison. I know all of this. I don't need you to tell me "

"You only know the tip of the iceberg. You don't know how amazing the content of that ancient prescription. is, let alone its use," Jacob shook his head and said, "Now, that prescription has been activated Even Lucsia doesn't know this secret. Other than me, no one knows. As long as this secret exists, my master, Carlos Orwell, won't die. You really want him to die, right?"

Isabella looked at Jacob in silence. This man was enchanting and could be considered handsome, but Isabella felt that he was more like a poisonous snake, a poisonous snake more poisonous than Carlos.

On the big screen, the two bodies were tightly intertwined, looking extremely ugly.

Isabella narrowed her eyes slightly. Wasn't that Tiffany and that short and fat man?

Isabella immediately understood why Cynthia was not back yet.

Putting the unbearable scene of Tiffany and that short and fat man on the big screen for everyone to see was really perverted.

These Crawford family people were each more ruthless than the last.

Timothy had brought the atmosphere in the banquet hall back to normal. When the big screen lit up, there was a dead silence.

All the guests were dumbfounded as they looked at the big screen. Some were excited, while others covered their mouths and felt disgusting.

There were even children among the guests. This was too sinful.

Crawford family people were stunned for a moment. After they realized what was happening, they immediately called for someone to deal with it.

"Be quick, turn off the screen!"

Someone immediately replied, "Sir, it can't be turned off. The screen can't be turned off."

"Go to that wicked girl's room. Now."

Timothy felt the humiliation was so great that he thought the Crawford family would not be able to hold their heads up in Dawton City anymore.

He even wanted to kill Tiffany.

Timothy left the guest to Callum. He had just rushed into Tiffany's room with his men.

He ran into Cynthia, who was about to go downstairs. Cynthia's face flashed with surprise as she asked, "Dad, why are you in such a hurry?"

Cynthia had always been obedient and reassuring. Timothy did not suspect her at all. "It's all because of your worrisome sister," He said, "Cynthia, why don't you go with me to find her? Forget it! As a girl, you'd better not go with me."

Isabella returned to Northernville Manor, while Draxton and Silas went to investigate Carlos.

The reason Carlos was able to escape from Lucsia's prison must be there was a spy inside.

60 miles away from Dawton City, a helicopter was waiting quietly.

On the helicopter, Ghost and Bridget, as well as a few members of Clan Mobius, were waiting quietly.

They were trying to receive Carlos here. No one had discovered them here.

At the same time, a black car without a license plate was speeding out of Dawton City and toward the helicopter.

At the same time, the Lockwood family's guards had also found Carlos's whereabouts and were chasing after him.

At the same time, Marvin and Jacob were sent to Northernville Manor.

In the hall, Isabella looked at the two of them with a cold expression.

She sat on the sofa and looked at the two people, whose hands and feet were tied, with an indifferent and relaxed expression.

It was as if Carlos had never run away, and she was not in a hurry to obtain the secret Jacob mentioned.

"Tell me what you know, and I'll let you go." Isabella bent her head to rub the tea cup on the coffee table and said nonchanty

Jacob could feel the pressure from Isabella. He frowned and said, "Bridget Riker is nothing compared to you.

No wonder Draxton chose you."

Isabella frowned. "Don't talk nonsense."

"How can I trust you?" Jacob looked at her nonchalant expression and said, "That secret is my only protection. What if I speak out and you don't keep your promise?"

"Carlos has escaped," Isabella finally looked up at him and said calmly. "But he can't get far. Draxton will get him back."

A glint flashed across Jacob's eyes. Clearly, this was within his expectations.

"Draxton only has a 50% chance of capturing him. There's also a 50% chance that he will successfully escape."

Jacob's lips curled into a smile. "Miss Thompson, you won't do anything to me and my master as long as I hold off and don't tell you this secret."

Everyone watched as the car drove over.

Isabella got out of the car and walked over to Draxton. She looked down at Carlos’s corpse with a cold expression.

“I’ve interrogated Jacob. We can’t let Carlos live. Once we kill him, Ghost’s experiments could only come to a halt. It will be beneficial to us.”

Isabella said.

Draxton said, “Alright. Leave the rest to me.”

Draxton turned to his subordinates and said, "There will be someone left who can tell us something. Let's rush over. If we can capture them alive, try our best to capture them alive. Otherwise, you have permission to kill them."

Immediately, Silas brought people over.

However, when they rushed over, the helicopter was already gone.

Those people fled quickly.

When the helicopter returned to the underground laboratory where Clan Mobius and Ghost were, Ghost said, "Since we couldn't bring Mr. Orwell back, I'm afraid the development of our new medicine would have to stagnate for a while."

He felt extremely regretful.

Bridget's eyes were filled with worry. "Teacher, will master die?"

Ghost explained, "Logically speaking, Lucsia won't do anything to Mr. Orwell. They must have been trying to get more secrets about the new medicine from him, but it's hard to say that accidents might not happen.

Bridget's face contorted. "Are you talking about Isabella?"
