

Kick Ass Wife 251

Chapter 251 Silver Crystal Potion

Zack and Samson only brought two bodyguards with them. The two bodyguards must have come to capture the children.

In that case, Jen, who could take away Draxton, must be an expert.

Isabella's mind raced. Other than the 18 Blue Crystals, there were also the red crystal subjects in Mike's hands.

She thought of Mike!

A trace of hostility flashed in Isabella's eyes. If this had something to do with Crystal Warriors, it would undoubtedly be related to Mike.

As for Isabella and the Lockwood family, no one knew that Draxton and Jen had not left the Lockwood family.

In the bedrooms of Isabella and Draxton, Draxton fought Jen with all his strength.

His mind had been hypnotized twice. This girl named Jen was a Crystal Warrior with terrifying hypnosis abilities.

Draxton believed that even if the 18 Blue Crystals were here, he might not be a match for this girl.

She was unbelievably strong.

He saw with his own eyes how she destroyed the Lockwood family's smart defense system with just one look.

At this moment, his brain had almost reached a point where it could not recover.

If not for his extraordinary endurance and determination, Draxton would have lost his mind.

He was even hypnotized by this woman and reduced to her slave, allowing her to do whatever she wanted.

Jen's eyes were filled with excitement.

She praised, "Bravo! As the patriarch of the Lockwood family, your strength really amazed me. However, why do you have to do this? No matter how much you struggle, you won't be able to escape from me today. It will only add to your pain. Isn't it good to be mine and enjoy extreme happiness with me?"

She approached Draxton step by step.

Draxton's eyes were unfocused and his face was pale. His entire body was drenched in a cold sweat.

He tried to make a sound to attract the attention of his family, but he didn't even have the strength to raise his arm.

He leaned against the corner of the bed and stared hatefully at the woman who kept approaching him.

Back to the moment Ricky and Betty were captured.

The two bodyguards jumped and disappeared.

Since Lotus Village, Martin, who had been following Betty and protecting Betty at all times, was the only person who had seen the children taken away and was not hypnotized.

Time was too tight. He didn't have time to inform everyone before he chased after them.

Having once been the general of the Department of War, his strength was naturally unquestionable.

However, even so, he still could not catch up to those two people, let alone save the children.

Even so, he did not lose sight of them.

Seeing the two people jump down from the 35th floor of the tall building, Martin's expression changed drastically.

Without the help of tools, even powerful boxers would not be able to survive a fall from such a great height.

However, the two of them were relaxed and calm.

Crystal experiment subjects!

Martin realized the origin of the two guys who took the children away.

However, he was still a battle-hardened warrior, after all. He could still maintain his composure in such a situation.

Since he could not jump down from the tall building, he naturally had to take a shortcut.

He had no choice but to speed up and run. After running a full round, he finally caught up to the bottom of the tall building.

However, the two people and the children had long disappeared.

Martin looked around for traces.

Suddenly, he felt that something was amiss behind him.

He quickly turned around, only to be greeted by an ordinary-looking face.

The man smiled before throwing a punch at him.

Martin did not even have time to react before he was knocked unconscious.

The man sneered and threw the unconscious Betty to his companion. He picked Martin up and said with a smile, "The general of the Department of War. Director will probably be pleased with this experimental subject, won't he?"

They looked at each other and smiled smugly. The next moment, they vanished instantly, right on the spot.

Mike walked into the underground laboratory and saw one big and two small cages.

These three cages were all made of exceptionally durable alloy. Not to mention a person like Martin, it would not be a problem to lock even Crystal Warrior.

Therefore, they were not worried that the people inside would escape.

After Martin woke up, he immediately looked around vigilantly. Then, he saw Mike's smiling face.

Mike was frantically hitting the protective shield outside. This protective shield was used to prevent the test subjects from going crazy and taking revenge. It was used to protect them.

For safety purposes, this protective shield could only be opened from the inside. No one outside could break

Even Crystal Warriors could not break through this protective shield, so they really could not do anything.

Who would have thought that they would be locked outside one day and watch the people inside wreak havoc?

The liquid in those test tubes were all very important experimental results. Even if there were preserved data, it was extremely difficult to successfully operate them.

But now, all his hard work had been thrown away like trash by two ignorant children.

Mike was angry and anxious. His blood was surging, and his entire body was on fire.

"General Martin Gates, are you just going to watch them fool around? Do you know how the importance of that stuff they dumped?"

Mike knew that he could not stop the two little devils no matter what. Compared to children, it would still be easier to communicate with an adult.

Stunned by his question, Martin blurted, "How important are they?"

Mike choked and his face turned even paler. He roared, "Don't pretend to be confused. That's a precious experimental potion. It's a priceless treasure!"

Martin muttered to himself.

Then, he asked in all seriousness, "The experimental drug prepared for No. 1201, No. 1202, and No. 1203?" Mike was speechless.

His eyes were red and his breathing was rapid. He hurriedly said, "Martin Gates! General Gates, as long as you stop them, I promise you that I'll release you and let you leave this place!"

Martin sneered and said, "I think there are still four more to go. I might as well let them finish emptying them."

"You said you would let us go? I don't believe you. If you release us, the Lockwood family won't let you off. So, you won't let us go at all.

"No matter how many people the Lockwood family sends, you will still kill them. You have quite a number of experimental subjects and Crystal Warriors.

Mike's eyes were red, and his face was distorted. He was about to go crazy from anxiety, but there was nothing he could do.

Chapter 254 Bella Is Here

Betty's attention was all on their bugs. She frowned and her big eyes were filled with worry.

She didn't expect her bugs to willingly become experimental subjects!

At the same time, Ricky's bugs were not at a disadvantage. They surged out of Ricky's bracelet and then, towards the test tubes.

Martin dutifully moved all the test tubes out of the storage cabinets.

After Mike fainted, the men in white coats behind him also collapsed as they watched the scene in the protective shield.

Betty's bugs were clearly different from Ricky's. They would not attack each other and would eat their own food.

Only Bug No. 99, which belonged to Rickey, would twist its clumsy little body with all its might but still be unable to catch up to its other friends for a long time.

Bug No. 99 was a Truth Poison. After the original Truth Poison died, Ricky cultivated a new one. However, this new bug was clearly not very agile.

Ricky was a little anxious. He looked at Truth Poison, which was bent over desperately trying to chase after its companions. Not only did he not catch up to his companions, but it even tripped itself. Ricky immediately fell silent.

He couldn't help but grab it and put it at the front of the group.

Ricky heaved a sigh of relief.

Martin stood at the side in a daze. He was petrified.

Mike and Cynthia widened their eyes in shock

Why is she so familiar with their territory?

Isabella's heart was beating like thunder. Now that things came to this, she could not help but let her imagination run wild. She wondered if her children were hurt.

Were they frightened? Did they cry?

As her imagination ran wild, she saw the transparent protective shield.

The two children were sticking out their little butts with their heads facing each other as they sprawled themselves across the ground and played with the bugs.

At the side, Martin seemed to have turned into a stone statue. He was in a daze and looked inexplicably pitiful.

Hearing the familiar footsteps, Ricky and Betty looked up in unison and shouted happily, "Mom!"

Martin was shocked and snapped back to his senses.

The two children ran towards Isabella happily and asked for a hug through the protective shield. Realizing that the protective shield could not be broken, Ricky hurriedly ran back and pressed the switch. The protective shield quickly disappeared. Isabella immediately rushed in and hugged her precious children. Betty's body stiffened. She widened her eyes and looked at Isabella. She pointed at her feet with her little hand. "Mom, you stepped on the bugs!"

Isabella's body stiffened too.

The corner of Martin's eyes twitched. The previously majestic bug bugs were now rolling themselves into balls and trembling under Isabella's feet.

Isabella carefully took a few steps back and looked at her children apologetically. "I'm sorry. Mommy got too

Chapter 256 Interrogation By Big Dipper

As Isabella said, the reason why the Crystal Warriors worked for Mike was that, just like the 18 Blue Crystals, their genes were incomplete.

In other words, although they were nominally successful experimental subjects, there were, in reality, fatal defects with their genes.

If they did not have Mike's potions to nourish them periodically, their genes would collapse and they would die.

If the 18 Blue Crystals hadn't met Isabella, they would have died from genetic breakdown too.

As expected, a Crystal Warrior stared at Isabella and asked, "Director used to be able to inject us with a drug periodically to relieve gene collapse. Do you think you can do that just because you have control over those data?

"Either way, we'll die in a month. So we might as well kill you now to take revenge!"

He obviously didn't believe her, and neither did the other Crystal Warriors.

Isabella looked at them with pity and said, "Do you know about the Blue Crystals?"

These Crystal Warriors were stunned.

Isabella said, "I have 18 Blue Crystal Warriors under me. I was the one who made up for their genetic defects. They have completely broken free from the shackles of their genetic defects and obtained a new life.

"This is my ability. I can make up for the hidden dangers caused by your genetic defects.

"Of course, you can choose not to believe me. However, you must know about the collaboration between the Lockwood family and the Barclays family in studying crystal potions. It won't be difficult for these two families to solve your genetic problems..

"You won't go so far as to fight me to the death. On the contrary, becoming enemies with me is severing your own path to survival."

Isabella was calm, confident, and indifferent. She was not afraid of these Crystal Warriors going crazy at all.

These Crystal Warriors fell silent.

A moment later, Crystal Warrior asked again, "Is what you said true?"

Isabella looked at him indifferently and said, "You guys are not worthy enough for me to lie.

The Crystal Warriors' expressions changed.

They felt that she was being too arrogant!

At this moment, Bruce walked up from the underground laboratory, taking one step at a time.

Chapter 257 This is Not Right

The corners of Isabella's mouth twitched. She really did not know how to answer Big Dipper's question. It was as if whatever she said was wrong.

At this moment, Bruce put his glasses back on and said, "Ms. Thompson, Cynthia Crawford has escaped.

"Ms. Thompson, do you know that Cynthia Crawford is actually Mike Crawford's successor?"

"The entire Crawford family seems to be supported by Patriarch Crawford but in fact, Mike and Cynthia Crawford are the true pillars of the family."

Isabella was not surprised to hear that. She said, "Let her escape first. We'll catch her eventually."

She made light of it and did not take Cynthia seriously at all.

Finally, Isabella walked around the villa and found Hodor tied to the bed with tubes all over his body.

Hodor was at his last breath. Due to the fact that the tubes had been inserted in his body for too long, he was already on the brink of death.

Isabella frowned and pulled the tubes from Hodor's body. Hodor opened his eyes in a daze and saw Isabella's figure

He recognized this woman. She was the mother of Eric and Elizabeth Thompson.

Ricky and Betty were in kindergarten. Although the information was registered with the surname Lockwood, between the children, they still used their previous names.

He hated Eric and Elizabeth Thompson. He also hated their mother.

However, at this moment, the person he hated was the one who saved him.

In a trance, he quickly fainted again.

Isabella wouldn't go as far as to hate a child. After asking Bruce to take care of him, she rushed back to the old residence with the children and Big Dipper.

This was because she was still worried about someone.

That person was naturally Draxton Lockwood.

Draxton had disappeared together with Jen. Isabella could not help but grind her teeth. She thought to herself, If Draxton gets tainted, what should she do?

His tone was off, and so was his gaze.
This was not something Draxton would say at all.
Draxton's personality had been stable since he was young. Just by looking at Ricky's personality, one could tell what kind of personality Draxton had.
Ricky had inherited his personality entirely from his father. He was just like a chip off the old block.

Besides, what Draxton said earlier could be said to be extremely wild and unruly. It was not something a calm person like him would say.

For a moment, the Lockwood family looked at him in surprise.

Isabella and the children also looked at him.

Perhaps Ricky and Betty also realized that something was wrong with their father.

Isabella squinted her beautiful eyes and looked at the tall figure with some thoughts in her mind.

However, there was one thing that she could rest assured about. He probably hadn't gotten intimate with Jen, which Isabella was very satisfied with.

However, Willow did not notice anything wrong with Draxton. She was about to die from anger after hearing Draxton's words.

However, at the same time, she was terrified when she saw Jen being dragged out by Draxton.

How did that happen?

Shouldn't Jen and Draxton have gotten intimate? Why was Draxton still treating her like this?

Did Jen fail?

What the hell was going on?

Willow was shocked and furious. She took a deep breath and knocked her walking stick on the ground a few times. She said to Draxton sternly, "Draxton, what do you mean? You don't take me seriously now, do you!?!"

Draxton looked at her coldly. His dark blue eyes were filled with disdain. He sneered. "If I take you seriously. won't I be letting you take advantage of your seniority?"

Chapter 259 Jen Exposes Everything

Willow was stunned and said, "Jen, you're my daughter. How could I mistake my own daughter?"

Jen sneered. "If Jennifer Cratin finds out in the netherworld that her mother has treated someone else as her replacement, I wonder if she would be so angry that she can't reincarnate!"

Willow's expression changed drastically. "What did you say?"

Jen continued, "I, Jenny Fowler, absolutely loathe hate parents who betray and abandon their children the "Willow Lockwood, when you were young, your husband approached you with ulterior motives and did something unfavorable to the Lockwood family. You killed him in the end.

"Your daughter turned against you because of this. For the sake of the family, you abandoned her and even expelled her from the Lockwood family.

"In that era, bandits ran rampant. She was tortured to death by a group of bandits on the way out of the Lockwood family's home.

"After hearing the news of her death, you did not shed a single tear. All you did was get someone to bury her in a coffin in the wilderness.

"What right do you have to miss her like this?"

Willow's eyes widened. It had been so many years since someone mentioned what happened back then. In the past, she could not help but think of what happened that year when it was late at night.

As she grew older, the regret and longing for her daughter in her heart became stronger.

Every time she thought of her daughter in the dead of night, she would be tormented by intense emotions of regret

Therefore, when she saw Jen, who looked exactly like her daughter, she firmly believed that her daughter must have sensed her feelings and returned to look for her.

It was as if she was possessed. She wanted to protect this young girl who looked like her daughter. She wanted to fill the void and make up for the regret and pain in the depths of her heart by protecting her and treating her well.

Seeing the pain in her eyes, Jen continued to mock, "You've lived your life in vain, but you don't understand what it is to be a parent.

Chapter 260 The Overbearing Mr. Lockwood

Hearing this, Draxton was silent for a while. He slowly retracted his foot from Jen's body and said coldly, "Behave yourself!"

Jen gritted her teeth. This bastard was simply a demon!

Jen ignored the pain in her body and got up from the ground. Without a word, she ran downstairs and came to Isabella's side.

"Madam, for the sake that I had no choice and wasn't really intending to harm you, give me a chance to surrender!"

Jen looked at Isabella with her alluring eyes.

No one could withstand such a gaze.

Isabella was quite interested in Crystal's ability to hypnotize someone. She wanted to take Crystal in. Just as she was about to speak, she suddenly felt a cold aura enveloping her.

Isabella looked up and saw Draxton staring at her with a dangerous gaze.

Isabella coughed lightly and said coldly to Jen, "Hmph, don't think I don't know you wanted to sully my man just now. Just wait. I won't let you off easily!"

Jen was speechless.

After Isabella finished speaking, she realized the atmosphere had turned less tense. The corners of her lips twitched. Then, she said grimly to Jen, "Go out first and wait outside obediently. I'll deal with you after I'm done here, understand?"

She quickly blinked at Jen.

Jen was stunned. She cursed in her heart. Look what that bastard turned a fairy like Isabella into.

She cooperatively put on a frightened expression and turned to wait outside.

When Draxton saw that Isabella was indeed jealous, he was instantly satisfied. The corners of his lips curled up imperceptibly. Only then did he walk downstairs with a reserved and elegant pace.

At this moment, a few doctors rushed over and carried Willow on a stretcher to the hospital.

Sir Graham Lockwood sighed and said, "Aunt Ziana is such a muddlehead."

From the beginning to the end, nobody from the Lockwood family dared to ask Isabella, the Miraculous Doctor, to check up on Willow.

Although nobody mentioned it out their hearts.
