Chapter 281 Tide Has Turned

Although Old Willsmith and Old Craven spoke confidently, they could not help but be shocked when they saw Draxton walk out of the experiment module unscathed.

Alanna was so angry that her face was contorted. She had just finished gloating when this man really woke up. She felt she was embarrassed.

As Draxton woke up and walked out of the experiment module, the monitoring device connected to the experiment module also displayed Draxton's physical data.

Looking at the values clearly, he was completely healthy

These data could never fool anyone.

Old Willsmith and Old Craven stared at the data.

"Impossible, this is absolutely impossible!"

They went from shock to confusion.

They looked away from the data and turned to Draxton and Isabella.

Draxton was wearing a black silk sleeping robe. He was tall and straight. He stood there with an imposing aura.

Not only was he alive, but he was healthier than ever.

In fact, the aura from his body was even more terrifying.

Isabella also realized that Draxton had not only become stronger after waking up this time, but his strength had also increased, making him even more handsome and stronger.

She squinted her eyes and smiled. Her man had become so charming. She was the one who enjoyed it the most.

Isabella stared at Draxton silently and licked her lips. She was already thinking of tasting this man tonight.

Draxton felt uneasy under her burning gaze. His ears turned red silently.

Chapter 282 Children

Draxton waking up was undoubtedly a good thing for the Lockwood family. After learning that Draxton had woken up, the Lockwood family began making preparations for his return. The lively atmosphere was comparable to the New Year.

Ricky and Betty, as well as little Betty and Little Ricky, were running around upstairs and downstairs with sparkling eyes.

The servants and robot servants were also busy shuttling back and forth.

Jeanne, Ava, and Mia also entered the kitchen to show off their skills.

The laboratory was handed over to Bruce. Isabella and Draxton happily returned to the old residence. However, Fernando, who was also one of the people in charge of the laboratory. He did not show much enthusiasm for the laboratory. He actually acted thick skinned and followed Isabella and Draxton home. Isabella was a little speechless. She could already imagine that when Fernando went to the old residence, the old-fashioned Grandpa Damon would definitely not have a pleasant look on his face.

However, when they saw the sparkling eyes of Winna who was beside Fernando, Isabella still agreed.

As soon as the car drove into the old residence, they saw two small figures running towards them like two happy butterflies.

Isabella and Draxton got out of the car. Isabella habitually opened her arms to welcome the children, but after waiting for a long time, her arms were still empty.

She blinked belatedly, feeling foolish for once.

She turned her head silently and saw the two little guys snuggled in Draxton's arms, acting cute.

The corners of Isabella's mouth twitched as she silently lowered her arms. Her expression was a little bitter. Draxton was having fun with the children while peeking at Isabella in amusement.

"Bella's reaction is really cute."

He could not suppress the smile on his lips.

Looking at the two little guys in his arms, his gaze became even gentler.

The two little guys did not notice their mother's resentful gaze at the side. They nestled enthusiastically in their father's arms.

Betty spoke sweetly and softly. "Dad, you're finally awake. Betty and Ricky missed you so much!"

"Yes, I miss Daddy as well." It was rare for Ricky to agree. After expressing how much he missed Daddy, he even blushed shyly.

“Daddy misses you too. Be good. Daddy is fine now. It’s all thanks to Mommy,” reminded Draxton.

He was still thinking of Isabella.

“Yes, yes, we know. With Mommy around, Daddy will definitely be fine, but we still missed Daddy so much!” The two little guys did not understand at all.

Draxton couldn't take it anymore and laughed.

Ricky and Betty glanced at their father with enlightenment in their eyes. Since their father was so happy, he must really want to share the bed with them!

In that case, they should go and sleep with their parents more often in the future!

In the end, the family of four spent the night together.

When she woke up the next day, Isabella's expression was ugly.

As a result, when Anna went to pick her up in the morning, Isabella did not appear to be in a good mood.

Anna glanced at Isabella's expression. She thought that Isabella was grouchy because she was dissatisfied with the President.

However, Anna felt that Miraculous Doctor had the right to be arrogant.

Draxton naturally had to accompany Isabella to the Presidential Palace.

However, Anna stopped him.

"Mr. Lockwood, my father said he only would only meet the Miraculous Doctor."

Draxton's gaze darkened. Anna glanced at him and said, "Mr. Lockwood, do you have any concerns?"

Draxton looked at Anna silently. Of course, he could not say that he was worried.

Isabella smiled and said, "You just woke up and have a lot of things to deal with. You don't have to go with me.*"

Draxton nodded.

The President obviously did not want him to go, so it would be a bad idea for him to insist.

As long as the Lockwood family remained, the President will not harm Bella.

Furthermore, there was still an important link between Bella and the President.

Draxton's eyes flashed as he sent Isabella and Anna off.

The President smiled and said, "You don't have to be nervous. Whether you believe it or not, I don't have any ill intentions toward you. After all, you are his student. Perhaps your relationship is not just that of a teacher and student. The two of you may be even closer

"I know Wesley too well. He looks cold, but he values relationships more than anyone else."

Isabella stared at the coffee in the cup and said softly, "Mr. Lyons is indeed cold on the outside but warm on the inside."

The President smiled and sighed. "That's right. We are brothers. How can there be overnight enmity between biological brothers? He did not reconcile with me because his anger had not yet subsided.

"You are his student, so he might listen to you. That is why I invited you here. I actually want you to persuade him."

Isabella looked at the President calmly and said, "I'll pass on your words to Mr. Lyons when I have the chance."

As for whether he would listen to it, that was Mr. Lyons's choice. Of course, she chose to take Mr. Lyons's side without hesitation.

As if reading her mind, the President smiled and shook his head. "You have quite the same temper as him... You don't have to be so wary of me. Come, I have a few calligraphy paintings here. Come and take a look." As he spoke, he stood up and called Isabella towards a wall not far away.

Outside, Anna and the other two stood quietly and waited. Suddenly, a guard walked over and reported, "Miss Lyons, something happened at the training camp."

Anna frowned and turned to Jason and Alanna. "You guys guard here. Don't disturb the President if there's nothing important."

Jason nodded, and so did Alanna.

Only then did Anna leave with the guard.

However, as soon as Anna left, Alanna became restless.

She thought of an idea and said to Jason out of nowhere, "I have something to do and need to leave for a while."

Isabella gained a new understanding of the President.

The seemingly gentle person actually had harsh tricks up his sleeve.

The President said, "Bella, do not mind her. Alanna's training time is too short. Such a person is usually not qualified to work for me.

"However, her grandfather, Mr. Falkona, was once a great contributor to our country. I took care of his descendants on account of Mr. Falkona. Unfortunately, his descendants are disappointing."

Isabella nodded, but she was a little surprised. Alanna's grandfather was said to be a very powerful hacker. Isabella found out about Mr. Falkona from Master Vaughn.

Master Vaughn respected Mr. Falkona very much. In fact, Alanna's mother, Vanessa Falkona, was Master Vaughn's childhood sweetheart.

Unfortunately, Alanna and her mother's way of doing things were unpleasant to talk about.

Unexpectedly, the President also mentioned Mr. Falkona.

Isabella could not help but feel curious about the deceased Mr. Falkona.

Isabella gave an unpleasant look. She looked at Gary with a sharp gaze and said angrily, "Gary, don't let others look down on you. You gave up Elodia yourself. What right do you have to wish to see her again?"

"1..." Gary was silent. He had nothing to rebut, but he could not help it.

Isabella looked at him coldly and said, "Hurry up and leave before I force you to. You can choose to leave with a swollen face or leave now."

Isabella said impatiently.

Gary pursed his lips. He was timid and indignant. He said, "Isabella, you and Draxton are a perfect match."

With that, he turned around and left.

Isabella was confused, but she still replied, "Thank you!"

Then, Gary stuck his head out of the car and added with a livid expression, "One is an asshole, and one is fierce!"

With that, he drove off.

Chapter 287 Past And Pain

After scrutinizing and eyeing Elvis, Ziana turned to Mr. and Mrs. Menter and asked calmly, "Are the two of you using this information to threaten me? What is your agenda?"

To Ziana, the Menter family would never reveal her daughter's information to her this easily.

They must have had an ulterior motive.

The excited looks on Mr. and Mrs. Menter's faces suddenly froze.

“No, we do not have any. We just came to see you,” Mrs. Menter quickly replied.

Ziana looked at the couple and noticed they had aged quite a bit. Yet, all she could think of was their cruel and ruthless faces from over two decades ago when they took her child away.

She was in a deep slump at that time after receiving the terrible news of her husband’s death. When she finally snapped out of it, her child had already been taken away from her and had disappeared without a trace.

The pain she experienced that night was so excruciating that she wondered if anyone else could understand. And her parents’ cold, cruel gaze and brutal ways had made her thoroughly understand that she had nothing left.

It had been many years, but the pain did not fade away with the passage of time. Instead, that experience had left her heartbroken and traumatized.

Ziana’s eyes were devoid of warmth. She replied guardedly, “You have seen me now, so just say whatever you came to say.”

She subconsciously moved to stand in front of Isabella. To Ziana, since these people had the gall to hurt her daughter, they now might even have ill intentions towards her beloved mentee.

Ziana’s actions were out of instinct. It did not occur to her that, in reality, members of the Menter family could not harm Isabella, given her identity.

However, seeing her instinctively defensive movement, Mr. Menter and his wife felt a sharp ache in their hearts.

They realized that, to Ziana, they were no longer her parents but enemies.

Enemies who would intentionally hurt the people she cared about!

“We’re not...” Mrs. Menter’s voice choked as she tried to explain.

It’s human nature that as people grow old, they would tend to reflect on the past and realize their past mistakes. Then they would begin to regret, using familial ties as an excuse to make amends.

However, to Ziana, some damages were just irreparable.

Being hurt by a family member was even more soul-crushing.

Ziana Menter was certain at a glance that this was her daughter.

This was the child she had lost.

Other members of the Menter family also saw Anna Lindon.

Anna felt uneasy as Ziana fixed her gaze on her. She adjusted her hair uncomfortably and took a deep breath before walking over.

“You...” Ziana Menter looked at her and was about to speak.

“I look like your lover, I know,” Anna quickly interrupted her.

Ziana nodded quickly, crying and laughing at the same time. “Yes, of course! You are his daughter, no, our daughter! Of course, you’d look like him!”

Anna furrowed her brows and said, “Madam, although that might be possible, we still need to prove it.”

She clenched her fists tightly. Inside her, her emotions were all over the place.

Isabella watched them and said, “Miss Lyons, could you give me a strand of your hair?”

Anna looked at her and immediately understood.

She was not the type of person who would be pretentious. Anna always acted decisively. She promptly pulled out a few strands of hair and handed them to Isabella.

Isabella took the hair and looked at Ziana.

Ziana was a bit at a loss and quickly pulled out a handful of hair from her own head.

Despite usually being concerned about her image and appearance, she did not care about that at the moment.

Isabella felt a little sorry for her and smiled, saying, “Master Menter, no matter the result, I hope you won’t be disappointed. We will find the person eventually.”

Although Ziana grinned and nodded, she looked at Anna Lindon with such certainty.

Jake looked at Olivia in shock and murmured, "How could this be? How could this be? It's only one night."

Olivia said, "Hey, what about it? That means you're good."

Jake's face turned pale.

Jake walked toward Olivia and said, "We can't keep this child."

Olivia's face instantly changed.

Old Willsmith and Old Craven stood beside the car. They were boxers. Thus, their hearing was excellent without any doubt. They clearly heard what Jake and Olivia said.

Old Craven was shocked and said, "Old Willsmith, that young man looks exactly like Jasper when Jasper was young!"

"His name is Jake. He's the child from back then," replied Old Willsmith.

Old Craven asked in shock, "The child that Jasper secretly sent away?"

"That should be correct," answered Old Willsmith.

Old Craven had a complicated expression and said, "Old Willsmith, this is too risky. Aren't you afraid that the Quincy family will find out?"

Old Willsmith said, "This is the first grandson of the Willsmith family. It's our business how to manage his fate. The Quincy family should step away from it."

Old Craven fell silent.

Old Willsmith said, "Old Craven, didn't you hear them? That girl from the Lockwood family is pregnant with his child.

"His child is the third generation of the test subject. This is breaking news. We have to ensure that girl gives birth to that child."

Isabella left the hospital, holding the result of Ziana and Anna's paternity test. Isabella was in a good mood. A faint smile was on her face. She was happy for Ziana.

Isabella was happy because Anna was indeed Ziana's biological daughter.

Isabella got into the car, and Silas started the engine. Isabella planned to immediately rush back to the Northernville Manor to tell them this good news.

The car turned the corner and drove onto the road to the Northernville Manor. However, a cab was blocking the way ahead of them.

Few cabs would be here.

This was because this road only led to the Northernville Manor. Usually, people would prefer to drive to the Northernville Manor instead of taking a cab.

Therefore, Isabella and Silas felt strange to see a cab on the road.

Silas and Isabella both sensed something unusual.

At this moment, the car door was pushed open. A middle-aged man in a black suit walked out of the cab. This middle-aged man was meticulous. His expression was cold. His hair, clothes, leather shoes, and gloves. were all spotless without wrinkles.

His eyes were exceptionally calm as he stared at Isabella's car.

Isabella stared at the middle-aged man. She had no clue who he was, but she was extremely shocked.
