

Kick Ass Wife 35

Chapter 35 Kidnap

Andre fell to the ground because of the kick. His brows were furrowed in pain. He peeked at Isabella's face, begging for mercy, but Isabella didn't even look at him.

It was as if he did not exist.

Andre was in despair. He had been working in the club for all these years and had been arrogant, which offended many unimportant people. However, he had never been in such a situation. He really regretted doing that.

Jude was afraid that Draxton and Isabella would be annoyed if he kept Andre in the room. So, he beckoned the security guards to shove him out.

Andre lost hope. He knew from that day onwards that his future was gone.

But soon, Andre realized that not only his future was over, but his life was also over.

After Andre was dragged away, Jude flattered Isabella and Draxton. "Chieftain, Miss, please calm down. I'll arrange an equestrian coach to teach you."

Isabella glanced at him and said, "You've seen the video. You know, I can ride it myself."

Cold sweat drenched Jude's forehead.

To him, Isabella seemed bad-tempered and difficult to coax.

However, Isabella suddenly changed the topic and said, "Is that big black horse for sale?"

Jude seemed to catch Isabella's interest and found a way to flatter her. So, he immediately shook his head as he stammered, "No... I-It's not for sale."

"Not for sale?" Isabella frowned.

Draxton glanced at Jude coldly.

Out of fear, Jude quickly added. "I'll give it to you... You can take it for free if you like it, Miss.

"Also, you can tell me if you like any other horses here. I'll give all of them to you for free."

Draxton's gaze was not that cold anymore.

Isabella didn't even bother to stand on ceremony and agreed. "Just give me the big black horse."

Then, she turned around and asked Draxton, "Can we keep horses in the estate?"

Draxton smiled lightly and said, "Of course, the maple forest is vast, and there are paths in the maple forest. It would be great to ride a horse through the forest."

Isabella's eyes lit up upon hearing that.

Draxton continued, "Actually, I have a red-haired horse of a rare bloodline, but this black horse seems rare too."

His eyes were fixed on her.

He had just seen how she had tamed the wild horse and ridden it like a lightning bolt.

She was not the woman he thought she was. Instead, she was brave and bright.

Draxton was a little displeased upon thinking about it. Isabella not only disliked him but also didn't open up to him. She seemed timid and cautious before him, but behind him, she was wilder than a wild horse.

His gaze made Isabella feel uncomfortable.

"Let's go back," said Isabella, breaking the awkward moment.

Draxton nodded, yet he was a little frustrated with himself. He had brought her there to build their relationship, but in the end, she got humiliated and wronged instead.

Meanwhile, Isabella felt relieved. She was not someone who would just suffer in grief and say nothing. Since she had gotten a horse for free, her mood brightened again.

"We need to go to the kindergarten to pick Ricky up," Isabella reminded.

Draxton nodded. "Well, it's still early. Let's go back to the estate first."
