Chapter 351 This Couple Is Crazy

The entire banquet hall was so silent that one could hear a pin drop.

Whether it was the male or female guest area, everyone's eyes were staring at Isabella in shock.

They did not expect Isabella to be so bold!

She actually dared to kill Grant in front of all of them.

Sg even kept telling them to be magnanimous and not be petty.

As an outsider, Isabella was so arrogant. It was obvious that she didn't about the natives of the Mystical Island.

How could they tolerate this?

Desmond was hysterical as he held Grant's body.

Suddenly, he let go of Grant's horrible corpse and stared at Isabella with bloodshot eyes. He gritted his teeth. and said, "Isabella, I'll make you pay with your blood!"

As he spoke, he was filled with killing intent. With a twist of his wrist, he took out a weapon that looked like a gun.

Everyone knew that it was not a real gun, but the Moore family's weapon. All their weapons would be very poisonous.

The lethality of this thing was definitely not inferior to a real pistol at close range.

The hole of the weapon was aimed at Isabella.

Isabella's expression changed. He took Betty from Draxton's arms and quickly hid behind Draxton with Betty.

She revealed a timid look and said aggrievedly, "Draxton, I didn't do it on purpose. Didn't I accidentally kill his son? How can he be so petty and even point a weapon at me? I'm so scared!"

The veins on Desmond's hand, which was holding the weapon, bulged. "How shameless?"

He felt that Isabella was even more shameless than him!

Desmond felt that he had really met his match this time.

He had never been so devastated when facing Draxton.

But this Isabella was really an eye-opener for him!

However, Isabella just had to hide behind Draxton and put on an act. She was being really hateful. Furthermore, there were those extremely powerful guards blocking Desmond. He could not kill Isabella and Draxton in one strike.

Even their little brat was held in Isabella's arms in advance and hid together.

Desmond felt that if he attacked now, he might not be a match for Draxton.

Therefore, the last bit of rationality he had left prevented him from taking any actions.

However, it was only a matter of time before it erupted. What happened today would not be easily brushed aside. If things went wrong, it would probably be a matter of life and death.

Draxton was not surprised by Julian’s arrival at the critical moment.

He looked at Julian indifferently and said, "Mr. Doyle, you don't want what happened. It's not that I want to kill him, but he's really gone over the line!"

"Oh?" Julian cocked his brows. There was also a group of a few dozen guards who came in with him. In addition, there were also people from the Moore family.

When the Moore family saw that Desmond was surrounded, they immediately pounced forward to participate in the battle.

Julian pretended not to see it.

He was obviously being biased.

"I'm very curious. What did Sir Moore do to make you so angry, Mr. Lockwood?" asked Julian.

A cold smile flashed across Draxton's eyes. He said in an extremely serious tone, "Of course it's a huge matter! That Desmond scared my Bella!"

Isabella immediately cooperated and said, "Boohoo, Draxton, I'm so scared."

"Mommy, it's alright. Mommy, don't be afraid. Betty and Daddy are here."

Betty's childish voice was also heard.

Julian was rendered speechless.

He felt that they knew no shame.

He stared at Isabella and Draxton, as well as the child in their arms. He could not help but think that this family of three were all drama queens, right?

Chapter 353 Theo Lockwood, The Lockwood Family

Julian was tremendously shocked to hear what Patriarch Grey had said.

“General Red is your natal bug. How did you lose it?”

He knew Patriarch Grey very well. He knew very well how much he valued and cherished General Red. Resentment filled in Patriarch Grey’s eyes. He recounted his dissatisfaction with Isabella and also scolded Jocelyn. In the end, he said, “I suspect it was Isabella’s daughter who stole my natal bug. I think I saw General Red on her head previously.”

“How could it be? No matter how capable Isabella is, she can’t possibly steal your natal bug!”

Julian was indeed shocked.

Patriarch Grey snorted angrily. “Whether it’s true or not, I won’t let Isabella off.”

She could only blame Jocelyn for being her teacher.

Patriarch Grey indeed detested Jocelyn.

A thought flashed across Julian's mind. "Patriarch Grey, do you want to deal with Isabella and Draxton?" Patriarch Grey looked at Julian and said, "You're not an outsider. With your relationship with Celia, we'll be family sooner or later. Say it if you have anything."

Julian said earnestly immediately, "You're right. We're family members."

"What I wanted to say is Draxton and Isabella have offended the Moore family today. Subsequently, the Moore family will surely take revenge on them crazily."

"Similarly, Draxton and Isabella might take action first. We will delay Draxton and Isabella's actions to create an opportunity for the Moore family before they take action."

Patriarch Grey pondered for a while before he nodded and said, "It's a good idea to get others to do the dirty work!"

To use the Moore family to kill Draxton and Isabella. Wasn't it a good idea?

Recently, a piece of news suddenly spread on Mystical Island.

The news was related to the underground chamber of commerce!

The higher-ups of the underground chamber of commerce noticed the president seemed to be in a good mood today. They could sense the curl on the corners of the president's lips had deepened compared with previously. There were even some emotions from the bottom of his heart.

"Is everything ready?"

Joshua looked around and asked gently.

All the higher-ups nodded and said that they were perfectly ready.

Joshua nodded. "That's great. This auction concerns living metal. There must not be any mistakes."

"Yes, sir."

After giving instructions to the higher-ups, someone came to report that James had arrived.

The expressions of the higher-ups remained unchanged. They had gotten used to James's existence.

This Mr. Beck was not simple.

When he returned to Mystical Island half a year ago, he proactively looked for the president, saying he wanted to cooperate with him.

As soon as the higher-ups left, Joshua's expression suddenly changed. He said excitedly, "Will the patriarch really come tonight?"

James could understand his excitement very well. He reached out and patted his shoulder, saying, "Yes. Patriarch is probably almost here."

As soon as James finished speaking, his eyes suddenly lit up. He pointed at the surveillance camera screen on the wall opposite him and said, "Theo, look, the patriarch is here!"

Joshua quickly looked over and saw Draxton's figure.

But Draxton was holding a little girl in his arms. A stunning beauty with a graceful figure was also beside him.

Joshua's eyes lit up as he said, "Are those patriarch's wife and Miss Lockwood?"

James nodded and said, smiling, "That's right. I'm sure you know the patriarch's wife's status in the Lockwood family."

Theo said, "Of course. I'm not that two idiots, Martin and Alan.

"And the people of Big Dipper. I heard they have been currying favor earnestly to win back the patriarch's wife's favor."

He beamed and said, "I'm smart all this while. I see that currying favor with the patriarch's wife is more useful than with the patriarch."

As he spoke, the smile on his face broadened.

Chapter 355 Who Was Chased Out

Isabella looked in the direction of the source of the voice and saw the person bidding to be Brandon.

With a face full of ill intentions, Brandon was sneering at them.

A hint of mockery flashed across Isabella's eyes. When she turned her face away, she heard Draxton shout again, "20 million Luscian Dollars."

Brandon immediately followed. "30 million Luscian Dollars!"

Isabella could not be bothered to look at his smug expression this time.

Draxton's expression did not change. He said directly. "50 million Luscian Dollars."

The smile on Brandon's face broadened as he shouted again, 70 million Luscian Dollars."

Draxton shouted again, "100 million Luscian Dollars."

A cold smile appeared on Brandon's face Draxton seemed to really dote on his daughter.

This time, Brandon directly shouted, "200 million Luscian Dollars..."

He soared directly to 200 million Luscian Dollars. After bidding, he waited smugly for Draxton to bid again. Even if Draxton was rich, it was still too extravagant to spend 200 million Luscian Dollars buying a princess dress.

Everyone at the scene knew Brandon was deliberately targeting Draxton. Thus everyone was waiting to see Draxton make a fool of himself.

No one noticed the smile on Joshua's face on the auction stage had turned cold.

Draxton suddenly stopped bidding this time.

Hugging Betty and looking down at his daughter dotingly, the smile on his lips was affectionate.

Brandon and all the people at the scene waiting for Draxton to bid again pricked up their ears waiting. However, Draxton did not bid again as if the bidding had nothing to do with him.

A premonition suddenly spread in Brandon's heart.

At this moment, Joahus on the auction stage suddenly nailed down. "200 million Luscian Dollars going once..."

"No, hold on, Mr. Miller..." Brandon looked pale as he hurriedly stopped him.

However, the smile on Joshua's face deepened. As though he did not hear Brandon's shout, he continued, "200 million Luscian Dollars going twice..."

“You’re not chasing our Beck family out, but Draxton and Isabella, right?”

Joshua looked at him indifferently. The assistant who knew him well knew the president was tremendously angry now.

Without delay, he quickly brought people to chase the Beck family out.

The people of the Beck family clamored in dissatisfaction. People who took their side said, “Mr. Miller, the Beck family is a big family in District 9. How can you chase them out?”

“The two outsiders, Draxton and Isabella, are clearly the ones who should be chased out!”

Hayden was shocked by Isabella’s strength. Under such a dangerous situation, Isabella could forcefully still her body. It was simply a miracle.

It was indeed unbelievable.

His eyes blinked. He could not let go of Isabella and Draxton.

Furthermore, he could not let them buy the living metal today. Otherwise, wouldn’t their strength become more powerful?

Hayden immediately said, “Mr. Miller, it was the Grey family that brought Draxton and Isabella in. It’s all our Grey family’s fault. We agreed to chase them out.

At this moment, Isabella suddenly moved. Her body was light. She was as if weightless. She spun in the air on the spot and kicked Hayden’s right face fiercely.

Instantly, the sound of bones shattering was heard. Hayden’s head tilted to the left, and his body flew to the left.

Along with blood, a few teeth flew out, causing screams and chaos at the venue.

Not to mention how furious the Beck family was, Hayden, who was also chased out of the auction, was so mad that his face was distorted.

The people from the underground chamber of commerce threw him by the roadside like trash. He only got up from the ground in a sorry state after they left.

As the eldest son of the Grey family, he had never experienced such humiliation. He wanted to call his subordinates over, but the moment he opened his mouth, he realized several of his teeth had been knocked out, and he could not speak properly.

He closed his mouth with an unsightly expression.

Fortunately, the Grey family's guards noticed him after a while and came over.

Hayden didn't say a thing, but he took out his phone and typed a line of words on it. [Take action after half an hour.]

With a mere sentence, the Grey family's guards looked at each other and prepared to take action.

Hayden limped back to the car. He stared in the direction of the auction venue with a cold eye expression. As the living metal was the main auction item today, not many items were for auction this time.

Not long after, the final item was brought onto the auction stage.

It was a piece of pale gold metal the size of a football displayed on a red velvet tray.

That piece of metal looked somewhat plain and simple without much luster.

Knowing it was the living metal, numerous burning gazes instantly fell on it.

With a smiling face, Joshua looked around and said, "Everyone, what's presented before you is the living metal. I'm sure all of you know the wonders of the living metal."

After he finished speaking, he picked up a pale golden dagger from the side of the tray and said, "This is a dagger made of living metal. Let's do an experiment on the spot..."

However, before he proceeded with the experiment, someone in the auction hall shouted, "Mr. Miller, it's not necessary to do the experiment. Let's start the auction now. All of us know about the living metal."

"That's right. Mr. Miller, we trust the reputation of the underground chamber of commerce. It's not necessary to do the experiment. Please state the starting price now!"

to urge Joshua. However, the smile on Joshua's face did not fade. He proceeded with started to regrow into the shape of a complete dagger that he smiled and said, "Everyone, don't be anxious. Now, let's test its hardness, density, weight, sharpness, luster..." While the entire audience wailed and urged non-stop, they could not help but previously. Draxton quickly wanted to chase after Patriarch Grey, but Isabella stopped him. She said, "Don't worry. As long as Patriarch Grey doesn't get back Silver General, he won't do anything to Betty."

Draxton's face was ashen, but he restrained himself.

As they had one more thing to do now.

The two looked at each other, and Isabella said softly, "Kill them."

"Alright."

Draxton made a gesture.

Joshua, who had been standing on the auction stage focusing on them, was as if to have just come to his senses. He shouted, "Quick, kill the people who disrupted the auction!"

As soon as he finished speaking, in an instant, the guards of the underground chamber of commerce rushed in crazily like a black tide of ants from all directions.

In the blink of an eye, not only did they kill the experts sent by the Grey family, but break the arms and legs. and cut the neck of the top-notch assassins of the Moore family.

The others were suppressed, too.

The chaos was finally put to an end.

But a trace of anxiousness flashed across Joshua's face.

He looked around but couldn't find Miss Lockwood.

Damn it! Miss Lockwood had been captured by the old man from the Grey family.

Joshua quickly contacted his people to look for her.

After giving the instructions, he turned around and saw that the living metal on the auction stage had vanished into thin air.

Not only did he lose Miss Lockwood, but he also lost the living metal.

Joshua looked completely tense.

At this moment, grabbing Betty, Patriarch Grey got into the car.

Seeing Patriarch Grey bring Betty back, a trace of excitement flashed across Hayden's eyes. Then he asked, "Dad, where's the living metal?"

Betty's dark blue eyes were full of anger sitting on the bed looking tense. She shouted angrily in a childish voice, "Idiot, you're the detestable one!"

Being scolded an idiot by a five-year-old child, Patriarch Grey was so angry that he glared at her. He raised his hand and wanted to teach this brat a lesson. However, just as he raised his hand, Betty's eyes widened, and she started crying loudly.

She cried so loud that she released a child's sharp voice with all her might. It was simply an ear-piercing demonic sound.

Patriarch Grey's head buzzed as it was bombarded. He somewhat felt a dull pain in his head.

It was like hundreds of insects gnawing at his brain.

Hugging his head, he shouted with an expression of breaking down, "Don't cry! Don't cry! I didn't hit you!"

Betty stopped crying. Seeing Patriarch Grey's painful expression, she thought for a while and then cried out loudly again.

This time, it was even louder.

If not for the room's good soundproofing, probably the house would have collapsed.

Probably even Isabella was not aware that her daughter was so lethal.

Betty was crying, but there were no tears on her face. Patriarch Grey's face turned pale. His head seriously ached. He covered his head and saw the snacks on the table that he did not finish yesterday. He grabbed a snack and stuffed it into Betty's mouth.

Betty stopped crying.

She felt a sweetness in her mouth and could smell the fragrance of fresh flowers.

It should be a snack made of flowers.

Therefore, the little girl forgot to cry the next moment. She took a bite of the snack and ate it happily.

Patriarch Grey was speechless.

He found one on the floor in the end.

He picked it up and wanted to stuff it into Betty's mouth.

Betty, who was crying sadly, slapped his hand away. She said while she was crying, "Boohoo... Boohoo... I want mom...Boohoo... Boohoo... I want dad..."

The crying was rhythmic.

But Patriarch Grey had a headache the moment he heard Betty cry.

Endless headache.

Furthermore, once he had a headache, he could not help but recall some remote memories.

Normally, he would never recall those memories.

But now, those remote memories kept surfacing.

That stubborn and intractable little girl had grown into a young girl. However, she had become more so comparing her with the other slender and elegant girl. She had sharp thorns all over her body, and no one could approach her.

Patriarch Grey hugged his bald head, which was in intense pain, and cold sweat dripped non-stop. In the end, his eyes rolled, and he fainted.

Seeing Patriarch Grey faint, Betty stopped crying. She sniffed while crying as she got off the bed to search Patriarch Grey's body.

Soon, she found the small box containing Silver General.

Although the chaos of the auction had been suppressed, many people died in the chaos.

However, Joshua would not be responsible for those impacted and dead. The underground chamber of commerce was named as such because it was an underworld force.

Everyone was responsible for their own life and death here.

Joshua only opened the door to let the people at the scene leave after cleaning the mess..

The purpose of doing this was to find Betty.

But he was disappointed in the end.
