

Kick Ass Wife 54

Chapter 54 The Power Of Authority

The next day, when Sir Graham Lockwood and Madame Emma Lockwood came out of their room, their mental state was better. They must have taken the medicine.

The two of them were radiating energy. The wrinkles on their faces had disappeared.

Even the skin on their hands became more supple.

Their hair was even more lustrous than before.

“Bella, your medicine is amazing!” Madame Emma Lockwood shouted excitedly as she walked down the stairs.

Breakfast had been prepared downstairs. The entire family was ready to eat. When they saw Madame Emma Lockwood, they could not help but be stunned.

The two elders’ changes were more apparent than theirs.

They also discovered a phenomenon. It seemed that the older the person, the more effective the pill would be on them.

For example, the changes in youngsters were the least conspicuous.

“Bella, your medicine is miraculous. My legs don’t hurt anymore, my waist isn’t sore anymore, and my presbyopia is gone. I probably don’t have to worry about my blood sugar anymore! In the future, I can eat as many sweets as I want. Bella, you’re really grandma’s little fairy!”

Madame Emma Lockwood dashed forward enthusiastically.

She gave Isabella a tight hug. Isabella smiled and said, “Yes, grandma is also a little fairy!”

Madame Emma Lockwood couldn’t be any happier.

Sir Graham Lockwood followed after and looked at Isabella fervently. “You’re also grandpa’s little fairy!”

As he spoke, he strained his arm as if trying to show her his muscles. However, there were no muscles.

The old man retracted his arm resentfully.

Isabella could not help but laugh.

The family sat together and had breakfast. Isabella and Draxton were going back to Northernville Manor with Ricky.

The others also went about their own business, especially Macpherson Lockwood, who wished he could harvest a large batch of medicinal herbs immediately.

Sir Graham Lockwood and Madame Emma Lockwood’s faces tensed.
