

Kidnapped and Rejected - The Return of Alpha's Luna

7. Chapter 7

By the next day, everybody had heard about what happened by the staircase the previous night.

At least 20 people must have participated in that crazy jewel fight.

By the time Riverside Pack's members pulled Harper out of the crowd, her clothes had been ripped apart in the riot; her high heels were nowhere to be found; her hair was messy like a nest.

It was such a huge embarrassment.

Today was the first official day of the annual pack's meeting.

When Alpha Daran entered the meeting room with his pack members, the room immediately quieted down from low mutterings. He also received quite a few meaningful glances from other people.

Apparently people had been talking about the incident last night.

Yet nobody dared make fun of Daran in front of his face.

Riverside Pack was the third largest pack in the world. Challenging Alpha Daran in public would be seeking suicide.

Daran sat down by the table and rubbed his temple.

Harper made a big fuss when they came back to their room last night.

She first burst into tears and cried that Janet was deliberately trying to hurt her. She begged Daran to hold Janet accountable for her crime.

When Daran pointed out that this was BloodMoon Pack and they couldn't afford to cross Janet and Alpha Casper here, Harper became even more hysterical.

She collapsed on the floor and claimed that she was having a heart attack.

Daran was starting to grow tired of her.

Weirdly he didn't used to find Harper this annoying when Janet was still around.

Yet ever since Janet disappeared after that kidnap, Janet had become more and more ridiculous.

She often used her disease as an excuse to get Daran out of his pack business and check on her.

She claimed to be his girlfriend without his permission.

Harper had crossed so many lines.

Originally, Daran thought it wouldn't be a bad idea to name Harper his future Luna.

He didn't have many feelings for her. But his mother liked Harper very much and most people in Riverside Pack adored her.

He believed that at least Harper would make a better Luna than Janet.

But now...

A cold gleam flickered though Daran's eyes.

He believed that his plan would have to change now.

The meeting room's door flied open at this moment, interrupting Daran's line of thinking.

Alpha Casper marched into the meeting room followed by a group of people.

Daran suddenly widened his eyes.

He saw Janet traveling right behind Casper!

What was this woman doing her?

This was supposed to be an official meeting held exclusively for Alphas and officials!

Everybody in the room was stunned to see Janet.

Yet Janet reacted very calmly.

She followed Casper and sat down right next to him as though she didn't notice the suspicious look on people's face.

"...Excuse me? What the hell was this?"

Daran's Gamma Baron voiced out everyone's doubts at this moment:

"This is an exclusive meeting! What is this woman doing here?"

He pointed at Janet and snapped:

"Just because she is Alpha Casper's bimbo, she doesn't have the right to be here!"

People stared at Janet. Some nodded along.

Alpha Casper raised an eyebrow, "...my bimbo?"

Baron had always been hot-tempered. Only he dared challenge Casper when nobody else could.

"Well, excuse my language, but we all get the drill!" Baron barked, his loud voice echoing across the room. "You can't give her any privileges just because you are banging her. What we discuss this room is top secret! What if she leaks it later?"

A few people gasped at his audacity.

Casper's Beta Eden slammed the desk and glared at Baron furiously:

"How dare you!" Eden hissed, "Disrespecting our Alpha like that—"

Baron snorted, "It's your Alpha. Not mine."

"You son of a—"

"That's enough," Daran spoke up coldly.

He turned to Casper and said with a freezing tone, "Please excuse Baron's attitude. But he has a point. Only officers are allowed in this room. You should ask Janet to leave."

A very irritated feeling seized Daran's heart.

He could see that Casper spoiled Janet.

Is it why Janet chose to be with him right now?

"...Officers?"

There was a crooked smile on Casper's face.

"You probably got something wrong but..." he turned to Janet smiling, "...Janet is my officer."

People all seemed astonished.

Eden stood up at this movement and placed a hand on the back of Janet's chair.

"This is our Gamma Janet from BloodMoon Pack!" he announced loudly.

...Gamma?!

Everyone in the room took a collective intake of breath!

A woman as Gamma?

And on top of that, a beautiful yet weak woman?

Was BloodMoon Pack crazy?!

"Are you all out of your mind?!" Baron widened his eyes in disbelief. "This woman is no Gamma material. I know her. She was our Alpha's Luna!"

People were all shocked by the abrupt turn of event.

What did they just hear?

Janet, Alpha Casper's lover/Gamma, used to be Alpha Daran's

Luna?!

How unbelievable was that!

There was an aloof look on Janet's face.

She slightly lifted the corner of her lip and said, "Don't be ridiculous. I've never met your Alpha in my entire life."

Casper echoed with her, "Indeed. Janet has always been a member of BloodMoon Pack. She doesn't have anything to do with your Alpha."

Daran's face turned dark.

His fists were clenched beneath the table.

Janet denied their past relationship.

Did she hate him this much?

"Even so! I'm not going to battlefield with her!"

Baron cried furiously under his breath:

"We are supposed to discuss how to defeat rogues in this year's meeting! We need strong and capable warriors! How can a woman like her last a single second on battlefield? I saw her beaten by her brother many times before! She was so fucking weak!"

He paused and let out a cold sneer.

"Just because she rocked in bed didn't mean she could conquer the battlefield as well!"

A round of mutterings broke out in the room.

People started to whisper among themselves.

Baron made a fair point.

Rogue's problem was getting very serious over the years.

This year, under BloodMoon Pack's leadership, Alpha had finally gathered to address this issue.

They planned to form an army together to defeat the rogues.

But how could people trust BloodMoon Pack anymore if Casper appointed a pretty girl as Gamma?

Right at this moment, Janet slowly rose from her seat.

Crossing arms in front of her chest, Janet stared at Baron with a calm smile:

"You are questioning my ability?

Baron puffed his chest, "Yes! So what?"

"Fair enough."

Janet raised her arm and pointed at the training field outside:

"—Let's take this outside and I'll show you what I can do."
