

The Alpha King's Heart Chapter 6

Adira

Strong long arms were holding me tightly and as much as I tried to wiggle out of them, I couldn't. I sighed and inhaled his scent, it was alluring like fresh-cut grass. I took this time to study this man, my mate. I still couldn't believe it.. My fingers caressed his face, he had a stubble beard that suited him well and high cheekbones, his black hair was nice too and I couldn't resist running a finger in it and then his lips, his cherry lips were inviting and I could kiss them now. I jumped when his eyes suddenly opened and a slight smile graced his lips.

" Good morning," He greeted,

" Good morning," I responded, trying to get out of bed but he held me tightly, making my heart pound out of my chest as faint tingles rush up my body. He looked at me with his onyx gaze, taking me in and I swallowed, maintaining eye contact with him.

" Have you taken me in?" His voice was manly and deep, it made me shudder. My gaze fell on his bare torso and I swallowed. I raised my hand and touched him before nodding. He was a cocky one and knew how handsomely breathtaking he was. He brought his cherry lips to my forehead, the gesture seemed innocent but it almost brought me to tears when I sensed the aura of purity around it. Ever since I was a child, I could decipher auras and hence didn't cower to others. My parents said It was rare and must have come because I was one of the special wolves born under the full-blood moon once in decades. " Are you alright?" Wyatt noticed my somber state.

" Yes,"

Waytt McMillian. The alpha of alphas. He was the most powerful man walking the earth and was worshipped for his notoriety. How could he be mated to me? Maybe he was wrong but everything will be cleared the next blue moon.

" I need to go," I whispered. He frowned, he looked even more handsome when he frowned. He reluctantly let go of me and I got out of bed. I checked the digital clock and it said 09 am.

" Why are you in a hurry?" He groaned, throwing a shirt over his bare torso.

" I need to check up on Lucas," I said, he extended his hand towards me and I took it. We walked out of the lavish guest room. I felt so many eyes on me and I held them. The twins looked at me with vexation, while others stared in envy and jealousy. I just wanted to go to my cabin now. Unlike most of them, Lucas and I stayed at a cabin not far from the packhouse.

As we exited the house, we came face to face with Grayson and Stacy. I stopped in my tracks, making the king stop too. Stacy glared at me once before she fakes smiled at me, I didn't smile back though. My eyes met the man next to her, he was staring at me, covetousness clear in his eyes as he looked at our joined hands, I almost felt guilty and pulled away but the king growled and held my hand tighter.

The two wolves in front of us composed themselves and bowed low to their king,

" Good morning, king Wyatt," Grayson greeted, he tried to sound cheerful but failed. The king went past them and I followed, leaving Grayson and Stacy standing there.

We walked for a few minutes without speaking, I was getting more apprehensive because he seemed upset with me.

" That's me," I said, pointing at my lovely home. It was the smallest cabin in the pack but it was our home. It was well-kept and maintained.

" Why do you stay here instead of the packhouse?" He asked, looking at the house in confusion.

" Well, I'm not well-liked in this pack," I decided to tell him the truth.

" Are they mistreating?" A strong aura surrounded him again and I pulled away, he was a scary man indeed.

He took a calming breath, burying his face in my neck. My scent calmed him.

" No," With the way he was acting, I had to lie because he might go there and kill the alpha. A smile made its way on my lips at the thought that he was angry my pack was mistreating me.

" The alpha said my parents were traitors to the pack, so they killed them and they hate me for being their child," I shrugged, acting like it didn't bother me. His eyes were boring in mine. Void of emotions but from the way his jaw was clenched, I knew he was angry.

" You are Meryl and Ben's daughter," He whispered, caressing my cheek with his fingers.

" You knew my parents?" I asked, surprised. My parents were quite popular because they were strong and both were original strong betas line, which was uncommon for a pair. Usually, betas were mated to warriors or gammas.

" I knew them, they helped my mother and I once upon a time,"

" My parents weren't traitors," I croaked and he nodded.

" I know that. They were good people and someone was just working against them," He said, cupping my face. Tears welled in my eyes at the thought of them, and how everything changed since their deaths.

" You can cry," He said softly, and like he pressed a remote, tears streamed down my face, and he pulled me into an embrace.

" Adira!" An angry voice boomed and I was startled out of king Wyatt's arms.

The Alpha King's Heart Chapter 7

I abruptly turned around to see Grayson standing there, looking pissed like he wanted to attack the alpha king. Wyatt pushed me behind him and advanced towards him stealthily.

" who the fk are you calling in such a manner?" He growled. Stacy ran to her husband with a few guards. She bowed in the presence of the king several times and said " forgive him, your highness, he took some pills that are bad for him," indeed, Grayson was high on something and couldn't stand straight but his red eyes were on me and he looked like he was crying.

" fg pest, I'll deal with him," Wyatt said but I grabbed his hand. He tilted his head and his eyes met mine. I shook my head no and his eyes softened immediately.

" please, help me take him inside," Stacy whispered to the guards.

" No, I want to talk to her... it's important, please," Grayson slurred. The guards dragged him back in the pack house despite his struggle. Stacy once again bowed to the alpha king,

" forgive him, the drugs he took were prescribed by the pack doctor but he just overused them... accidentally, of course," Stacy will always make up excuses for Grayson's mess ups and childish behavior. Prescribed Drugs, seriously? Girl bye.

Wyatt dismissed her with a wave of his hand and he stroked my hair gently, calming me.

" Adira," He called seriously, my name sounded so sexy when he used it

" No one will mistreat you again, ever, I will punish those who do myself because no one disrespects my queen," He was solemn as he uttered those words and I believed each word. I only nodded and took his hand.

" I'll make you breakfast if you don't mind," I said and he smirked, it made my heart skip a bit.

" What?"

" Nothing and as much as I'd like to come in and eat what you cook, I have a meeting," He said. I sighed and waved at him but he didn't turn around to leave, instead, he was looking past my shoulder. I turned around and followed his gaze to the window, Lucas was standing there, watching us with a frown.

" That's Lucas, I'm sure he's angry that I didn't call last night," I said and he waved at the boy but my brother didn't react.

" I have a feeling he won't like me,"

" He's just angry. I better go and pacify him with eggs and bacon," I said, he still didn't leave.

" Go," I urged. He nodded and turned to leave, he didn't reach far when he turned around to wave at me.

" Bye, little bird,"

" Nooo," I screamed. Not him too!

" Jett and Aspen told me what happened that night," I closed my ears and rushed into the house. Did they tell him how I fell from the tree?

Wyatt didn't seem as brutal and cold-hearted alpha king people talked about. He seemed normal.

' He's not a normal wolf, Adira, it took all my power not to run from him, you might not feel it as much as I do, but he's a very powerful man, and his aura is dark and tumultuous,'

" I'm hungry," My brother's voice came.

" I'm sorry, love, I passed out," I said.

" You were drinking?"

" No, I was just too tired and slept, that's why I didn't call,"

Wyatt POV

I took a shower and got ready for the day, my beta and Gamma were outside my door as soon as I stepped out.

" Yes, did you find out anything about Adira Wade?" I asked and suddenly the floor looked so interesting to them.

" Aspen, Jett, answer my fg question, now,"

" Wyatt, we did ask around and yes, she's abused both physically and emotionally, also was imprisoned and tortured for over six months after her parents' execution,"

" It was bad, Wyatt... They even had her in solitary confinement, she's a strong girl," Jett added. I was fg enraged. They didn't only kill her parents but abused her too.

" I want them all to pay, I want names of her tormenters, all of them, no matter how small the issue was," I ordered.

They followed me as I marched to the alpha's office. Reaching his office, I pushed the double doors open and he stood up. I glared at him and the fucker was shaking.

" My- My king, you didn't have to come all this way, you should have sent for me and I would have rushed to you," He said, coming around to me. I was surprised he dared to. Mars was a coward, everyone knew that even though he pretended to be pompous and powerful in front of others.

" You fg lied to me, your king!"

" I don't understand," he said, wiping his face with a white cloth, Mars was sweating like a pig.

" You allowed your pack to bully, mistreat, abuse, and even torture my mate for years," I spat.

" It's not like that and questioning her after her parent's betrayal is pack procedure," He stammers.

" And, locking her up and torturing her to admit to something false?"

" I was - I just, we just didn't want to risk the pack," The man couldn't even formulate sentences. " We just didn't want to anger you, that's why we hid the truth,"

" I didn't want to anger you and what happened-,"

" Does he look happy now?" Aspen cut him. Glaring at the man who looked at him in fear.

" Forgive me, sir, it was my mistake, " Mars said. I enjoyed seeing him like this, so humble and pathetic because he is nothing.

" You have to be punished, for not only lying to me but for all the crimes you committed against Adira," I declared, his eyes bulged and he shook his head.

” No, king Wyatt, I’ve always protected that girl even though all members demanded she should be exiled from the pack, and on top of that, I got her in a good home where she can take care of her brother and be far from the packhouse where she received ill-treatment,”

” Do you want me to applaud you for doing that? As an alpha, you must protect everyone in your pack!” I growled, anger rising in me and Rolf wanted to tear this man to shreds. He hated that our beautiful mate wasn’t treated right because of accusations that were made against her parents.

” You’re right, I didn’t handle the situation as I should have,” He continued but I already turned a deaf ear to his pleas. So, I asked my beta and Gamma to show him hell in the training field, and they were allowed to make permanent injuries.

‘ I want everyone who hurt my mate to pay,’ I said via mind link. Jett was more than happy to oblige, torturing criminals was his favorite pastime.

Leaving Mars’ office, I went to do some work but my wolf was urging me to go to her but I didn’t. By evening, all I was hearing were screams and cries of pain from some pack members.

I decided to go to the training fields where ten of my men were torturing anyone who had anything to do with my mate’s abuse, and I smirked when I saw the alpha’s son, whatever his name is. I didn’t care enough to know it as he wasn’t important to me.

‘ he’s down from his high now,’

He was beaten and barely recognizable, his wife’s fingers were broken too.

Damn, my men are good at this torturing shit. They need a raise.

‘ We need to kill that man.’ Rolf growled. I growled thinking how he behaved earlier when he was high on drugs. He must be the man who deserted her, the mother fucker even married her best friend. His loss, my gain. He was glaring at me, and I smirked.

” My king, isn’t this too much?” Mars asked. He was no exception from the hell and I see they did a number on him. I ignored him and watched the crowd.

“What have you done,” A soft voice came from behind me. Adira.

The Alpha King’s Heart Chapter 8

Adira

I was watching a movie with Lucas when I heard a buzz through the mind link. People were saying that the alpha king’s men were going around, selecting members of the pack from their homes to torture them. I wonder what they did this time. This pack was trouble and I'm sure they did something to bring the king's anger. I shut off the mindlink.

"What do you want for lunch?" I asked. He thought for a while

"No pizza," I said. This kid loved pizza so much.

"Take out or you're making it?"

"I'll order from a restaurant," I said, feeling lazy to cook.

"I want fish and chips, and a coleslaw without mayo," I grabbed his phone and ordered the food, and in thirty minutes, they delivered right to my door. We ate the food in front of the Tv.

"I don't get why boys get excited about violence, look that guy was just a bystander, and boom, he's dead," I frowned.

"I don't get half of the films you select but I watch anyway," he shrugged. "No wonder I liked watching with Gray, he got this," As if realizing what he said, he froze. His worried gaze was on me. I gave him a tiny smile, telling him it was alright. Luca and Grayson were close and it hurt him when he left us like the others.

"Adira," he called, putting his food on the coffee table.

"Hmm?"

"Why did that man kiss you?" I saw this question coming but I didn't know it would take this long.

"He says we are mates," I said, pausing the movie when his mood dampened.

"You're leaving me," He whispered, tears threatening to fall from his eyes. I smiled and cupped his face.

"I will never leave you, ever. You're my only family in this world and I love you more than anyone," I said firmly.

"But you'll have to go to his pack, and his house,"

"I'm not even sure if we are mates but if a time comes to leave this pack, you are coming with me, you and I together always, kiddo," I hugged him and he held me. He pushed me off him.

"Stop being emotional, woman," He sighed and I gaped at him. He was the one about to cry at the thought of losing me. I only shook my head, boys.

A few hours later, I opened the pack link again. The buzz was louder and everyone had something to say.

‘ The beta twins are there too,’ someone said and I squinted my eyes. Just what the fk was happening in that field today. I needed to find out if it was true.

” Hey, I’ll be back,” I told Luca, he frowned and I ruffled his hair before bolting out of the house and down to the training ground.

I gasped at the sight, I couldn’t believe it. There were a dozen people who looked beaten black and blue, I recognized all of them. Torture devices were lying on the floor and some men were punching each other. The women were crying... As I walked around, no one dared look me in the eyes. I soon found the Steven twins, they glared at me.

” How could you ask the king to punish us, look at my fingers!” Cara spat. Her fingers were bloody and her skin wasn’t as flawless anymore.

Debbie looked as though she wanted to kill me but I know she wouldn’t dare especially with the limp. Cara tried to strike me but I held her wrist.

” Are you sure that is wise?” I asked, raising my eyebrows and she put her hand down, her fist clenching.

” Good girl, I heard your whole family is here today so if you are done, you should leave to make room for others,” I smiled tightly. I hated that I was enjoying this too much, it wasn’t right and what did she mean they were punished because of me? I spotted the alpha king on the bleachers, watching the situation with a stoic expression. Alpha Mars was telling him something but he didn’t give him the time of day.

I approached the duo and he stiffened when he sensed my presence.

” What have you done?” My voice was cold, I didn’t want anyone punished for my sake. He turned to me with no emotion whatsoever on his face

” Punishing the bastards who hurt you,” he answered, grabbing my waist and kissing me. I flushed and my mind went blank. I pulled from him and stood between his legs, we were close and I blushed more.

” Why are you doing all this,”

” They hurt you,” he answered as if torturing half the pack for a woman was normal.

” You just can’t go around punishing anyone who hurt me, King Wyatt,” I said, it was the first time I spoke his name out loud and he tilted me towards him.

” Wyatt,” He said ” Call me, Wyatt,” I nodded and practiced it on my tongue, making a small smile tugged his lips and I melted.

” They pissed me off with something too,” He said quietly and I nodded.

” My king, the-” Alpha Mars tried to get his attention. I forgot he was here with us.

” Shut up, you’re annoying me. It will be done when I say so,” he growled annoyed at him. A different aura surrounded us, alpha Mars felt it because he retreated immediately, I’d do the same but he was holding me tightly.

The Alpha King’s Heart Chapter 9

Their punishment was done for the day and Wyatt and I went to his guest bedroom.” Want to shower?” he asked.

” No, I’m good,” I said. It was a little chilly. He took off his shirt and my gaze roamed over his god-like muscular chest. He was curved perfectly, sure the creators took special time to make him because no one could compare. My py was pulsating at this point yet not all his clothes were off. Wyatt smirked and his eyes were darker than ever now. He smelled my arousal. He gestured for me to stand up and I obliged. He caressed my face and bent down to kiss my lips, my heart was pounding and he bit my bottom lip gently, I parted them and he explored my mouth with his tongue. The kiss was soft but intense, his hands were on my side, caressing softly. He pulled away from me and I felt so much emotion and passion. My face was burning red under his searing gaze.

“You’re my mate, mine,” he said and put his forehead over mine. The king kissed me again, this time more demanding. It was so good that a moan escaped my lips. I felt excitement rise in me as he caressed me. My legs automatically wrapped around his bare torso. I bit my lower lip as the sensation turned into pure lust for this man.

” Hmm, more,” I moaned, his kisses on my neck drove me crazy and I could only feel his massive reaction under his jeans.

” Of course,” He said in a deep voice. His fingers were now caressing my breasts and I moaned, pleasure building between my legs, before we could do anything more, his phone rang, and I pulled away from him with a gasp. He checked his pockets and pulled out a phone, he frowned and put me down.

” I’m busy,” He said as soon as he answered and I frowned at the change of mood. I sat back on the sofa, my fingers playing with my hair. He excused himself to go to the balcony.

My phone chimed and I checked, it was the babysitter telling me that she had an emergency. The king was still busy, he was pissed at whosoever he was talking to.

I left the room only to be stopped by the king's gamma, " Where are you going?" He asked in the unfriendliest manner. I narrowed my gaze

" None of your business," I snarled and he grimaced.

" The king doesn't want you going around alone, especially after what happened earlier," He said.

" What happened earlier," I asked with a confused expression.

" Those two girls almost attacked you at the training field," He said coldly. He saw that, is that why Debbie and Cara retracted from me, and here I was thinking I scared them.

" Well, I can take care of myself and I need to go home to check on my little brother," I said, trying to move past me but he blocked my path. I glared daggers at him but his face was placid. I attempted to run past him but his large hand easily caught me and gently pushed me back.

" Don't fg lay your hands on me," I hissed. The bedroom door opened and King Wyatt stepped out, glowering at his gamma before looking at me.

" What's going on?"

" He's not letting me leave," I sneered.

" I leave you for three minutes and you are already running away from me,"

" I told you, she's a bird this one. She doesn't hesitate to use those short legs of hers," Gamma Jett said seriously. King Wyatt chuckled and my heart skipped a bit. He circled his arm around my waist and pulled me closer to him.

" Don't leave me, " He told me, he turned his head to the gamma and growled dangerously
" Don't fg touch her... Unless you're protecting her," Jett nodded and left quietly.

" I'm going home, Lucas is alone," I told him and he held my hand and walked me to my house, surprisingly, he decided to enter the house. He bent down a little at the door and I giggled.

" This is my home," I said. He looked around with his eyes.

" You have a lovely home,"

" Thank you,"

The house was not large like any other in the pack but it was home, cozy, and fully furnished. Luca walked into the room we were in and froze at the sight of the intimidating king. He took a step back, his eyes fixed on me.

"Luca, come here," I said, he reluctantly walked towards me all while keeping his gaze on Wyatt.

"This is King Wyatt, and Wyatt, this is my baby brother, Lucas Wade,"

The king crouched down to his level and smiled, a full genuine one.

"Hello, Lucas, It's very nice to meet you," Luca looked at me first before shaking his hand.

The boys were awkward around each other at first but the air lightened up when Wyatt asked about a match my brother was watching.

"Yes, he's only the best player ever,"

"Colin is the best, but don't let Aspen hear you," The king agreed. The two were now engaging in discussion about the football players when I stood up to prepare dinner for us.

Reaching the kitchen, I preheat the oven and got out chicken breasts from the freezer to make homemade chicken nuggets and chips. An hour later, I was done with everything along with the salad. I heard the doorbell ring and asked Luca to get it while I did some last minutes touch.

"Um, Ady, there are big men outside and are scaring me," He hollered and I went to check. It was Beta Aspen and Gamma Jett.

"What are you doing at my home?" I pointed at them.

"Oh the undersized bird is scary now," Gamma Jett taunted. I was about to retort when my mate stood in front of me.

"Stop you two," The king sighed. I stepped away, making room for the two men. Just like their king had done earlier, they also inspected the place with their eyes before taking a seat. The room seemed small with tall huge men there.

'HOT MEN!'

Their aura was surrounding the whole house and I was surprised I didn't bolt out of there.

"What are we watching tonight?" The beta asked as I go back into the kitchen. I had to make more food.

The Alpha King's Heart Chapter 10

Thirty minutes later, I brought the food out, and I was shocked to see Wyatt follow me to the kitchen. Assisting me to bring out all the food. I smiled at him and he kissed my temple.

" Thank you,"

We finished eating and everyone was pleased with my cooking. Luca was sleeping and Aspen offered to take him to bed. The boys decided to watch a movie and after debating on what they will watch, they decided on Deadpool. Wyatt pulled me in his arms but I slept halfway through the movie.

I woke up later in my bed. I sat up straight and went to the salon, they all left and cleaned the place. I sat on the sofa. Picking up the cushion Wyatt used and inhale his scent.

I took a shower and changed into my lacy nightdress. I opened the door to get some fresh air and found myself on the bench under my favorite tree. I was thinking about my king. He was so gentle and sweet to me. Making me wonder if the rumors about him being a monster were false. My entire body stiffened when I saw him in front of me. I stood up, unable to believe he was right there. How does he move so stealthily? My eyes roamed on him, he was only wearing shorts and his body was to die for.

" Hey," He breathes.

" Wyatt, what are you doing here?" I asked.

" I couldn't sleep so I went for a run and my wolf urged me to come here, who knew I'd meet a goddess," He said and I reddened from excitement. He kissed me with passion and I reciprocated with the same energy. His body was pressed against me, and his lips met my neck. He was so good with his tongue, and I moaned. His fingers were caressing my body gently. I wheezed when he abruptly lifted me into his arms. My py was throbbing for him and I'm sure he smelled my arousal. I wanted him, now. My hands went to the back of his neck and I found myself thrusting against him.

" You want me, little Adira?" He whispered and I nodded eagerly. His huge dick was pressed against me and he lifted my dress, he touched my py and my breath hitched as he caressed my clit all while kissing me. He used his lightning speed to take me to my room and placed me on the bed. He got on his knees and kissed my inner thigh, my chest was heaving in anticipation and I screamed in ecstasy when his tongue thrust into my core.

" Oh, fk," I was over my head with pleasure. Wyatt placed one of my legs over his shoulder as he thrust faster and more incredibly, his hands fondling my breasts. His tongue twirled around me and I cum undone, screaming his name. I was breathing heavily, and my vision darkened.

” You taste fg delicious,” He said, parting my lips with his fingers and I sucked them sensually. He smiled and kissed my lips down to my neck and then my stomach.

” You’re so beautiful, do you know that,” He whispered. I was feeling so hot and embarrassed all at once. I just met him two days ago yet I’m allowing him to do all kinds of things to me. I kicked those thoughts away from me and concentrated on the feather-like kisses he was giving me on my stomach. He went down on me again and I arched my hips, my feet curling as I felt overwhelming pressure again.

I cried out his name softly as I drowned in pleasure and as much as I tried to muffle my moans, it was useless. He was too good and for the second time, the om left me shaking. He lay next to me, his hands caressing my jaw. My fingers were on his torso, and I leaned down to kiss him. Our arousal filled the air and his deep scent was driving me wild. Why aren’t we mating? He made no move to do so. Our hearts were beating as one and soon, his breath evened and his eyes closed to sleep. I kissed his lips and whispered ” Good night,”
