Chapter 135

 Ezekiel's POV ***

My leg wouldn't stop bouncing all through dinner. It was excellent as usual with Auri's cooking but I couldn't concentrate. Vale was making it impossible. His need was so intense that I wondered how he could talk normally with everyone. He would send flashes of what he wanted to do to me mid-bite and I nearly choked a few times. Everyone but Auri would look at me weird. I wanted to kick Vale. Auri was probably getting the images as well. She said sometimes thoughts were shouted at her. I doubted Vale was doing anything to not project.

Once I finished my food, the others were planning on staying for a pie that somehow Auri had made in the short amount of time that we had, but I excused myself from the table. I'd been a bundle of nerves all day. The only thing holding me together was doing things; taking action. I couldn't deal with just sitting still. I tried to stuff it down but I knew Vale could feel it. What I didn't want to do right now was cut him off from my emotions. That connection was one of the only things keeping me grounded.

Moving the cloth flap from the entrance of the tent, I flopped into one of the chairs we set up inside the tent. With my elbow on the arm, I leaned my head into my hand and closed my eyes.

"You okay?"

I didn't bother looking at Vale. "I'm fine."

He chuckled as his hands rested on my knees for a second. "You sure? You have a headache?"

"You are my headache."

Vale laughed outright this time. "Oh? Am I?" His hands crept up from my knees to my thighs.

"Vale." I growled his name. "Now is not the time."

He hummed. "I think now is the perfect time. We are both really stressed and wound really tight. We may be going into battle tomorrow. I mean, if not now, then when?"

His breath fanned over my neck and I grabbed the armrests tightly. The placement of his hands was putting pressure on my inner thighs as Vale's lips brushed my skin and sent a wave of sparks followed by goose bumps. Biting my tongue, I tried to hold back the moan but from the upturn of his lips, I knew he heard it.

"Little Alpha, I think you might need some help."

He moved his thumb and brushed against my very hard dick that was straining against my jeans. This time, I couldn't hold it back. My head tipped back and I let out a huff. Vale sucked my jaw, nipping along the bone. I was barely holding myself together. Worse, his mind was wide open. I could see myself in his eyes. My chest rising and falling with the flush across my skin. He always made me feel so desired and this was just an easy way for him to make me that much more aware of him.

"Vale...please..."

"Please what?"

"My King...please..."

Vale slipped his hands under my ass and lifted me easily up out of the chair. My eyes flew open and I placed my hands on his shoulders. Looking down at him, his smile was bright as he held me up in his arms. Shaking my head, I kissed him as he moved us over to the bed. I yelped as he tossed me from his arms onto the bed. His eyes were bright gold as he climbed over me.

"I will have you, my mate. In every way. In all ways."

I hummed. "Naresh, you already have me. I'm yours."

His smile was nothing short of animalistic as he grabbed my jeans. I was about to help take them off when his claws slipped out and he shredded my pants. Scraps of both my pants and boxers were everywhere but I couldn't voice my annoyance. There was no time between the shredding and his tongue encircling the head of my dick. It already had been weeping since he had been playing with me all during dinner. Clawing at the blankets, I pushed my head back and squeezed my eyes shut.

"Vale...too much..."

He hummed but obviously, he didn't care. His tongue continued to swirl until his lips covered my head and slipped down my shaft. A full blown moan tore from me as my back arched. Of course Vale was right. I was so fucking wound up that this felt like everything was going into overdrive. Trying to thrash against the feeling, Vale clamped down on my thighs to stop me from moving away from him. Breathing heavily, I could only curl my toes and tear through the blankets with my own claws.

"Vale!"

His tongue did wonders, rubbing my shaft as he fucked me with his mouth. At first, Vale was unbearably slow.

However, his pace picked up and he dove deeper, the head of my dick hitting his throat. The sparks were like sparklers against my skin and I wondered if I was going to be lit on fire. His pace picked up even more and I reached out, grabbing his hair. It was just long enough to still give me something to hold onto as my arms shook.

"Vale....I'm coming...fuck..."

It wasn't even a minute later that I did. Vale slipped back, his tongue flattening as he pressed against the tip, letting the pressure slide down the underside of my shaft. The sensation left me exploding into him and emptying into his mouth. He took it all, only a little bit of cum dripping from the side of his mouth. My bones became liquid as I melted into the covers and tried to catch my breath.

"Mmmm...don't think I'm done with you yet, mate."

I chuckled as my eyes opened to look into Vale's amber ones. He kissed me, his tongue not even asking to enter as I gasped. Tasting myself with his own taste was heaven; like we were one. Vale snuck a hand under my head and tightened in my hair. Locked in his touch, he abused my lips. At one point, I tasted blood from my lips but we didn't stop. As much as I needed him, he needed me. No matter what, I'd let him have all of me. I told Naresh, I was his and he was mine.

We broke to breath but it was like Vale didn't even bother. He just continued to kiss down my face, neck, and chest. His teeth pinched my nipple and I arched my back, slamming into him, trying to buck him off against the pain. I wasn't hard after he got through with me but I was hard now. There wasn't even a shift in his body. His time with Auri and Hector had made him so much stronger than I think he realized. Of course, he was cut before, but now there was a truth strength behind it. It also meant that now I was truly at his mercy.

"You are so amazing. Look how they pucker up just from a little teasing."

I groaned, Vale moving to the other nipple, licking it before blowing cold air against it. My body was vibrating and I needed him. I needed him more than I needed to breath.

"Vale..."

He didn't care. He was taking his time. Sampling everything I had to offer. His tongue ran around my muscles, his nails scrapped against my skin, his eyes glued to every reaction on my face. This was an extreme I hadn't felt in a long time from him. Again, the feeling of it being too much and not enough was overwhelming.

"Fuck me! Goddess, just fuck me, Vale."

"Aren't we impatient? You just came. Shouldn't you..."

Faris growled so loud that Vale looked a bit shocked. I was almost as shocked, not even feeling him when he stepped forward. Vale's shock turned to amusement and he licked my belly button. Faris growled again and he grabbed Vale by the hair, pulling him up to our face.

"Mate."

Vale's eyes widened and I chuckled. It was the only thing Faris had ever said but when he said it, it was with authority. He was an Alpha and if he needed to say something, that was going to be it. Faris let his hair go and Vale sat up.

"Since you asked so nicely."

He took my legs in each arm as he moved closer to me. Faris, apparently happy that he was now in a fucking position, stepped back and let me have the reigns again.

"You have a pushy wolf, mate."

I smirked. "If it works."

Vale laughed and shook his head. I started to laugh as well but gasped partway through. He didn't slip in gently. His cock slammed into my ass. Screaming his name, I crashed into the pillows with my whole body arched. Every single twitch and shift in his shaft's muscles I could feel in my ass. The feeling was overpowering and I could only gasp every damn time I felt it. With my legs still against his arms, his hands slipped to my hips and he easily held me up. Then, he started to move slowly out of my ass. He had me whimpering as he moved methodically in and out of my ass.

"Is this what you wanted, my little Alpha? Is this what you wanted me to do?"

Growling, I glared at him. "No! Fuck me, Vale. Fuck me hard and fast."

He smirked and I wanted to slap it off of his face. "Oh, my mate. I'm not sure..."

"Vale, you push this any more and I'm going into your fucking asshole."

Throwing his head back, Vale laughed but again he just slammed into me, over and over again. I grabbed the blankets again, trying to not slide up any further the bed.

Chapter 135

There was a real possibility of falling off this bed with only a tent flap behind us. His onslaught to my ass made me yell his name as I felt my dick shoot out another load onto my torso and chest. Leaning down, Vale licked the cum off my chest and moved faster, in and out, curled over me. My head was completely blank as all I felt was his skin against mine.

Suddenly, his rhythm broke and he cried out, his cum filling me ass as his own orgasm ripped from him. His orgasm though hit me through the bond and I came a second time, shooting up but hitting Vale's chest as he was leaned over me. Stars filled my vision and I slumped against the blankets, blacking out.
