

I hate you

Manik came to his room, started getting ready. Dasi brought food, usually he won't eat this early but last day he didn't have food and at night he almost drained out by ahmmmm ahmmmm.... so without thinking sat in front of food plate. One dasi is giving him fan and other one is serving him, he prayed and started to eat when he took first bite he understood it's made by a Brahmin by its texture and so nice in food and mildness.

Manik has his training of politics, war training and also moral sciences discipline and ethics from a Brahmin guru, his wife used to cook same but this is more tastier. He completed food again joined his hands to plate and washed his hands took cloth to wipe water and said "I am Kshatriya I need spicy food not Brahmin food ask her to add spices and mirchi to dinner" dasi nodded

He took his sword and crown started to go out when he was about to go he found Nandini making Mala of flowers her back is facing him, her almost naked blouse dupatta is kept on her hand hair is done in neat braid which is kept on right shoulder she is sitting on floor, her already thin waist made more curved and shown most thin fair so then he found some marks which are almost blue and black in colour and even her back carry some nail marks which are black coloured he felt bad same time he is aroused totally. He walked in cleared his throat she turned stood up and adjusted her dupatta on her head, head lowered

Manik closed door and started to remove his dress Nandini in one jumped took back step and was about to run away he grabbed her tight he is already half naked "why are running away?"

"It's sin to make love at day time we can't do it now only nights are designed for such activities please Yuvaraj forgive me and leave me I can't let you make sin"

Manik started kissing her neck inhaling her body scent which is mix of turmeric and sandal wood. "You are here to please me not to rant come to bed"

"Please Yuvaraj I beg you leave me" she started fighting he pinned her to wall removed dupatta kept his hand back of her and removed knot of her blouse and removed it and started sucking her nipple and pressing other one while his lower body is pressing her firmly so that she can't move he is now hungry beast, she is like a kitten scared and fighting

"You are so so and you came here to serve me all you need is pleasure from me and money so shut up about your morals and ethics even your gyan just cooperate"

"No Yuvaraj!!!! It's for you, you should not be cursed or get into any sin so stop please" she jerked him he got angry and was about to slap her but stopped "you will pay for this at night" he let her she fell on floor she adjusted her blouse and dupatta when he is wearing his dress she started to help him. he didn't deny when he is done he held her hand tightly she hissed in pain "don't you dare refuse me again and tempt me again, keep some medicine on your marks and be ready to night you have to pay for this" he kept his face on her neck and gave her harsh bite "you are like a drug did you do any spell on me???? Why am I so much dragged towards you I hate you the most more than any thing in life still my dick is standing for you I hate you" he again gave one more hard bite which pierced her skin and blood started to ooze out, she hissed hard tears started flowing like rain he sucked the blood and kissed the area so he said "I hate you most" he let her and went out and climbed horse and started to go to mahal.

Manik all day busy with minister as they all are planning for new law which has to be implemented in upcoming days, he observed some changes in nearby villages due to new planning done last year. While it was evening he was free he went to his room and straight away went to pool to swim it's his favourite relaxing thing, while swimming he got flashes of Nandini face eyes her naked body her reaction on his touch he couldn't stay more he came changed his dress and started to go to sea side mahal.

Total mahal is silent, evening puja is going on he washed his feet and came straight to puja room, Nandini gave him arthi prashad as morning, he took. She again bowed to him this time he kept his hand on her head as sign of blessing she got up.

He took more food than earlier. He let some items wantedly in plate when he washed hands she was about to remove the plate he asked her to eat, she without hesitation started eating in his plate he felt happy, Why he don't know.
