Chapter 511: Going to the Hospital

Zuo Weiyi looked up at Shen Lanzhi hesitantly.

“Now?”

“Yes, yes, yes, go now!” As she said this, Shen Lanzhi was already taking off her apron and walking to the kitchen. Then she came out and went straight to the second floor.

After a while, she held a bag and a coat in her hand.

“Put on the coat, we’re going to the hospital!” She walked over and put the coat on Zuo Weiyi’s shoulders.

Zuo Weiyi put on the coat hesitantly as Shen Lanzhi urged.

“Today is New Year’s Eve. Will there be anyone in the hospital?”

“Of course there is. The hospital is open all year round. Otherwise, what are the people who are hospitalized going to do?” Shen Lanzhi smiled, but her face was full of doubt.

As the servants were on vacation, the driver had also gone home for the New Year. If they were to go to the hospital now, they would probably have to take a taxi. However, there was still a long way to go before they could catch a taxi. Would they have to walk there?

Zuo Weiyi was a little puzzled as she noticed her troubled expression and could not help but ask, “What’s wrong?”

Shen Lanzhi looked at her. “Weiyi, you know how to drive, right?”

Zuo Weiyi nodded. “Yes.”

“Then let’s drive there!” As she said that, she turned around and went upstairs. Not long after, she reappeared with car keys in her hand.

After leaving the house, Shen Lanzhi brought her to the garage and chose a Red Maserati. Then, they drove out.

The snow was very heavy, and Zuo Weiyi drove very slowly.

When they reached the downtown area, many of the roads were congested due to the snow.

It should have been a 20-minute journey. But today, it took an hour for the pair to finally arrive at the hospital!

When they arrived, Shen Lanzhi brought her directly to the OB-GYN department.

“When did your period arrive last month?” The doctor asked Zuo Weiyi with Shen Lanzhi by her side.

“I don’t remember very clearly. Maybe...” Because she was not sure, Zuo Weiyi gave a rough estimation. “Maybe during the middle of the month.”

The doctor looked up at her and then asked, "Have you used a pregnancy test kit?"

Zuo Weiyi was stunned. "No."

The doctor then handed a slip to her. "Go and do a B-mode ultrasound and a blood test. Bring me the results later."

"Okay, thank you, Doctor." Shen Lanzhi quickly took the slip and dragged Zuo Weiyi out of the room. As instructed by the doctor, they went to do a B-mode ultrasound and a blood test.

After waiting for more than an hour, they finally got the results.

Zuo Weiyi and Shen Lanzhi couldn't understand it at all. They went to the OB-GYN doctor again.

The doctor took the slip and read the ultrasound and blood test report. Zuo Weiyi, who was waiting by the side, was getting nervous.

Could she be pregnant?

Looking at the doctor as he looked down to read the report, Zuo Weiyi's hands gripped each other tighter.

"Doctor, how is it?" Shen Lanzhi, who was standing beside her, could not help but ask the doctor. She could not wait to know the answer.

The doctor looked up at the two of them and said, "She's pregnant. The ultrasound is very good. There's no problem except that your progesterone is a little low. I'll prescribe some medicine for you. Remember to take it when you go back and rest well at home. If you see red spotting or something, remember to come to the hospital at any time. Rest more and take proper walks. Don't overwork yourself. It will be good for the baby."

The doctor talked continuously as he typed on the keyboard and gave Zuo Weiyi some medicine.

Chapter 512: She Really Was Pregnant!

Upon hearing the doctor's words, Shen Lanzhi became overjoyed and extremely excited!

Zuo Weiyi was really pregnant!

In other words, in another eight months, she would be able to have a grandson!

If the father, Yuting, and the others found out, they would definitely be overjoyed!

Shen Lanzhi's excited heart could not calm down at all as she thought about this.

"Here, go get the medicine!" The doctor handed the prescription to the two of them. "It's on the first floor. Don't forget to pay."

"Okay, thank you, Doctor." Shen Lanzhi took the prescription with a smile. Then, she pulled Zuo Weiyi out of the clinic and went to the first floor to get the medicine.

After leaving the hospital, Shen Lanzhi could not hide the joy in her heart. She was thinking about what kind of greeting gift she should prepare for the baby.

“Weiyi, do you think it will be a boy or a girl?” She turned around and smiled excitedly. She looked at Zuo Weiyi and saw that she was looking down as if she was thinking about something. She did not hear what she said.

The smile on Shen Lanzhi’s face relaxed a little. She looked at her and shouted, “Weiyi?”

Zuo Weiyi came out of her thoughts.

When she heard the voice, she raised her head and saw Shen Lanzhi’s face filled with joy.

“Hmm?”

“Do you think it’s a boy or a girl?”

At the question, Zuo Weiyi’s gaze couldn’t help but fall on her flat stomach, and she started to caress it.

My child, it must be you who came back, right..

Thinking about the loss of her first child, Zuo Weiyi’s heart hurt a little, but at this moment, the corners of her mouth unconsciously curved up slightly.

The baby must have been reluctant to part with her, so she came back.

She raised her head and looked at Shen Lanzhi. “What do you think?”

Shen Lanzhi looked up, her pitch-black eyes thinking non-stop. “I think... it’s not bad to have a granddaughter as beautiful as you! But it’s also good to have a grandson like Yuting!”

Shen Lanzhi turned back to Zuo Weiyi. “As long as it’s yours, it doesn’t matter if it’s a boy or a girl!”

Upon hearing Shi Yuting’s name, Zuo Weiyi could not wait to tell him the good news.

She wondered, how would he feel if he knew?

Would he be as excited as she was right now, to the point where he did not know what words to use to describe her current mood?

She really wanted to tell him this news as soon as possible, but she hadn’t left the house for a while after losing her phone the last time, so she hadn’t had a chance to buy another phone.

“Oh right, I have to call my son quickly and tell him the good news!” As she said this, Shen Lanzhi excitedly took out her phone from her bag and prepared to call Shi Yuting.

However, before she could dial the number, Zuo Weiyi suddenly reached out her hand and stopped her!

Shen Lanzhi looked at her in confusion. “What’s wrong?”

Zuo Weiyi smiled at Shen Lanzhi. “Mom, I want to tell him myself.”

Shen Lanzhi was taken aback for a moment before she reacted and smiled knowingly.

She had been through this before, so she naturally understood what she was thinking.

For something like this, she naturally hoped that she would be the one to tell the person she wanted to tell the most.

“Alright, I’ll wait for you to go back and tell him yourself!”

The pair looked at each other and smiled. Then, they linked arms and left the hospital.

On the way back, the snow was still falling, but compared to earlier, the streets were no longer as congested.

Chapter 513: The Child Who Suddenly Appeared

In the passenger seat, Shen Lanzhi looked out of the car window from time to time, paying attention to the shops and malls that were still open on both sides of the street.

Although it was New Year’s Eve, there were still some shops that were open in the city, but there were not many of them; Shen Lanzhi did not see any mother and child shops that were open along the way.

“Weiyi, do you think we should buy something?” Shen Lanzhi’s gaze searched outside the car window as she asked Zuo Weiyi, who was driving.

The snow was very heavy, and Zuo Weiyi’s line of sight wasn’t very wide. After hearing Shen Lanzhi’s words, she asked casually, “Buy what?”

“Some clothes, milk bottles, diapers, and so on that the baby needs after it’s born...”

Hearing this, Zuo Weiyi smiled as she turned to look at Shen Lanzhi in the driver’s seat. “It’s still early. The baby will only be out in eight months. It’s not too late to prepare these things in the future, and many shops have already closed.”

Zuo Weiyi couldn’t help but look at both sides of the street. Although a few shops were still open, most of them were already closed, and she didn’t see any mother-and-baby shops or anything like that.

“You’re right. There are still eight months till the baby comes out.” Shen Lanzhi couldn’t help but feel that she was being too impatient. Weiyi had just gotten pregnant, and she was already impatiently preparing those things!

Thinking about it, she couldn’t help but laugh at herself as she looked back at the road.

Suddenly, the car suddenly came to a screeching halt!

The two people in the car leaned forward with the car’s momentum!

Shen Lanzhi looked up in shock. Then, she turned around and looked at Zuo Weiyi in the driver’s seat. “Weiyi!”

Zuo Weiyi tucked the soft hair covering her cheeks behind her ears and breathed a sigh of relief in her heart.

Fortunately, there was an airbag. Otherwise, her stomach would have hit the steering wheel!

“I’m fine.”

She looked up and saw a child’s figure darting onto the road not far away. If she hadn’t stopped in time, the consequences would have been unimaginable.

Following her line of sight, Shen Lanzhi realized that there was a child sitting in the snow in front of the car, crying loudly.

“What’s going on? Why is there a child in the middle of the road? It’s too dangerous...” Shen Lanzhi said with some heartache as she looked ahead.

Where did the guardian go? How could they let a child run out alone.

She looked around to see whose child it was.

“I’ll go down and take a look. Mom, wait here for a while.”

Seeing the little girl crying in the snow, Zuo Weiyi immediately unbuckled her seatbelt, opened the car door, and got out.

If the little girl didn’t leave, she wouldn’t be able to move forward.

Moreover, looking at the way she was crying, it couldn’t be that she was hit by her car, right?

But with the distance between the car and the little girl, it couldn’t be.

“Little girl, what’s wrong?” Zuo Weiyi walked towards her and saw that she was still crying non-stop.

As she approached, the little girl suddenly cried even louder! Zuo Weiyi was taken aback as she still didn’t understand what was going on.

Zuo Weiyi felt flustered seeing the little girl crying so miserably. Could it be that the little girl was injured?

Chapter 514: I Didn’t Bump Into Her

“Little girl, did you get hit somewhere?” She reached out her hand and was about to touch the little girl when a figure suddenly rushed over and started cursing at Zuo Weiyi for no reason!

“Hey! What kind of driver are you?! Didn’t you see the child?!”

Zuo Weiyi was confused as the woman scolded her.

“Bei Bei, where did you get her?” After scolding Zuo Weiyi, the woman bent down and helped the little girl up.

The little girl stood up, crying as she looked up at Zuo Weiyi. She didn’t know how she got hurt, but she suddenly raised her hand and pointed at Zuo Weiyi. “Mommy, it was this big sister who drove the car and knocked me down...”

Zuo Weiyi was shocked upon hearing this.

This girl was obviously lying through her teeth.

She had indeed ‘almost’ knocked her down, but she was certain that it really was just a close call. This girl had clearly jumped out by herself, and for some reason, she had fallen to the ground. Her car shouldn’t have hit her.

“I’m telling you, you’d better pray that my baby girl is fine, or else you’ll be facing a lawsuit!” The woman glared fiercely at Zuo Weiyi as she roared angrily.

Zuo Weiyi couldn’t see the woman’s face clearly from her sunglasses, but she was definitely unwilling to be accused of something she didn’t do.

“Miss, I can confirm that I didn’t bump into your child. If you don’t believe me, I have a dashcam in my car. I can take it down for you to see.”

Hearing her words, the woman became speechless. She glanced at Zuo Weiyi and pretended to check if the little girl was injured.

In the car, the window was closed, so Shen Lanzhi didn’t know what Zuo Weiyi and the woman were discussing outside. But from her expression, it seemed like they were arguing.

Seeing the woman pulling Zuo Weiyi, Shen Lanzhi started feeling anxious in the car.

This Weiyi was pregnant. If anything happened to her, it would be terrible!

As she thought about this, Shen Lanzhi couldn’t hold it in any longer. She unbuckled her seatbelt and prepared to get out of the car.

Just as she was about to open the door, the car suddenly had a violent collision, throwing Shen Lanzhi off-balance instantly and slamming her head into the car window.

Hearing the sudden crash, Zuo Weiyi quickly turned her head and saw that the Red Maserati, which was originally parked on the road, was quickly knocked off-balance by a large truck. It spun around a few times on the spot before stopping.

Zuo Weiyi’s eyes widened in shock as she thought about Shen Lanzhi who was still in the car!

“Mom!” Seeing that the car window shattered instantly, Zuo Weiyi was terrified and wanted to rush over.

However, just as she was about to turn around, a hand suddenly grabbed onto hers tightly!

“YOU’RE NOT ALLOWED TO LEAVE! What, are you trying to run away after hitting someone?!”

Zuo Weiyi was flustered as she turned around and looked at the woman who grabbed her. “I told you, I didn’t hit your daughter!”

“Just because you said so, does that make it true? I saw it happen with my own eyes, you’re not allowed to leave!” The woman grabbed her tightly and refused to let go!

There were not many pedestrians on the street due to the heavy snow and it was nearing the New Year.. Only a few occasional passersby stopped to watch the thrilling scene.

Chapter 515: The Deafening Explosion

“Look, the truck is on fire!”

Hearing the crowd’s voices, Zuo Weiyi’s heart became even more flustered. She turned her head and saw the burning truck tightly pressed against the Red Maserati!

Through the car window, she saw Shen Lanzhi lying on the passenger seat, seeming to have lost consciousness.

Zuo Weiyi's heart tightened. She wanted to rush to the Red Maserati!

"You're not allowed to leave!" But behind her, the woman held her tightly and refused to let her go!
"Someone, someone hit my child and is trying to escape!"

"Let go of me!!" Zuo Weiyi roared at the woman. The fire in the truck was getting bigger and bigger. She was worried..

She didn't dare to think further. She just wanted to get rid of the woman who was holding her tightly.

"Don't think about leaving! Wait for the police!" The woman switched her position and grabbed Zuo Weiyi's arm tightly. She didn't want to let her go!

Zuo Weiyi panicked!

"I won't leave. My mom is still in the car. Let go of me!!" In the end, Zuo Weiyi used all her strength and pushed the woman fiercely. Then, she pulled her hand out forcefully. She turned around and tried to rush to Shen Lanzhi's side.

"Don't go over!" Just as she was about to rush over, another hand grabbed her tightly. It was followed by a man's voice. It was very strange. She did not know who it was.

"What are you doing? Let go of me, let go!!" She screamed. The fire in the truck was getting bigger and bigger. Some of the pedestrians who were standing did not dare to approach. Instead, they all moved away from the truck.

"Miss, you can't go over there. The truck is about to explode!" The man held her tightly and stopped her from moving forward.

When she heard the word 'explode', Zuo Weiyi's mind blanked. Her face turned so pale that there was not a sign of blood on it!

However, before she could fully recover, a deafening explosion was heard not far away!

Boom!!!

With that loud explosion, Zuo Weiyi turned her head around mechanically and saw that the Maserati, which was originally next to the truck, was now covered in thick smoke. The fire spread to the entire truck, and it was beyond recognition.

Her heart fell in an instant. She looked at the scene in front of her in disbelief, and her entire body was frozen in place.

And as she stood there in a daze, the man, woman, and little girl who had held her back had disappeared without a trace.

"Mom..." Zuo Weiyi's heart ached terribly as she looked at the car that had been burned beyond recognition. She felt as if her chest had been torn apart.

The sudden explosion terrified all the pedestrians who had stopped. Their eyes widened, and none of them dared to approach.

“Mom!” She rushed over and stood in front of the raging fire, but she did not know how to save Shen Lanzhi who was still in the car..

Her legs seemed to have lost their strength in an instant. She knelt on the ground weakly and looked at the raging fire, but she was helpless..

Everyone present looked at the scene in front of them. Other than calling 110 and 119, there was nothing else they could do.

Zuo Weiyi reached out to grab her phone, but she realized that she didn’t have one.

Tears streamed down like a coursing river. That helpless sense of defeat almost swallowed her up!

Chapter 516: The Figure That Escaped Instantly

What should she do?

As she stared at the burning car in front of her, the fire was spreading, as if it was burning Zuo Weiyi’s heart.

Just as everyone watched in shock, a sudden exclamation came from the small crowd.

“Hey, look! There’s someone over there!”

“Oh my God... It seems like the person escaped from the passenger seat before it exploded!”

Hearing this, the sad Zuo Weiyi suddenly looked up and saw a few people standing not far away, pointing at the other side of the burnt car.

She didn’t know who they were referring to, but the passenger seat..

With hope, Zuo Weiyi stood up and rushed to the other side of the car. As expected, she saw Shen Lanzhi lying there.

“Mom...”

The moment she saw Shen Lanzhi’s figure, Zuo Weiyi’s heart trembled with excitement and fear as she rushed over.

However, when she saw that Shen Lanzhi was unconscious, her heart felt like it was pierced by a sharp sword. “Mom... please, wake up...”

She cried out, calling to the people around her for help. “Please, help me call an ambulance. Quickly call an ambulance for me...”

Seeing her crying so miserably, the onlookers naturally couldn’t bear it. Some people had already taken out their phones and called 120 times.

After all, it was the New Year, and no one wanted to see such a tragic scene.

What shocked them even more was that they had thought that the person in the passenger seat had been destroyed along with the car, and not that they had been somewhat conscious enough to escape in time.

Back then, when Shen Lanzhi slowly came to, she looked up and saw the two trucks that were on fire next to her car through the car window!

She was stunned. She endured the pain of her head being smashed open and struggled to open the car door. She wanted to escape, but before she could push the car door open and escape to a safe location, an explosion came from behind her. Following the impact of the explosion, she was sent flying and fell onto the grassy pedestrian pavement.

Soon, the fire department and ambulance arrived. They carried the unconscious Shen Lanzhi onto the stretcher and into the ambulance.

Sitting in the ambulance, she looked at Shen Lanzhi laying there. She did not know how she got the injury on her head. She only saw that she was bleeding non-stop. The medical staff were trying their best to save her!

Zuo Weiyi started to blank out.

She did not dare to imagine what she would do if her mother died? How would she face Shi Yuting and Nuannuan?

At the thought of this, her body began to tremble uncontrollably. She closed her eyes and felt that a large hole had been dug in her chest by a sharp knife, causing her so much pain that she could not breathe. Tears flowed down like a river as she cried in pain.

At the same time.

At the mansion.

Shi Nuannuan had just carried her luggage home.

However, she realized that there was no one at home.

Every year around New Year's Day, Grandfather would give the servants three days off. Therefore, even though there were no servants at home, shouldn't Mother and Weiyi be at home?

Looking at the empty living room, she lowered her eyes somewhat dejectedly and carried her luggage to the second floor by herself. She did not seem to be in a good mood either.

After dropping off the suitcase in her room, she went downstairs again to make sure that her grandfather, mother, and Weiyi were not home.

Today was New Year's Eve. Why was no one around?

Looking at the empty living room, Shi Nuannuan couldn't help but frown in confusion.

Chapter 517: Where Did Mommy and Weiyi Go?

At this moment, the sound of a car engine came from outside.

She stood up from the couch and rushed to the door. She saw her grandfather's black car parked in the courtyard.

Not long after, her grandfather and... the president got out of the car?

"Grandfather!" When she saw Shi Le, she rushed over quickly. Then, she glanced at Zuo Yi and greeted with a smile, "President!"

Perhaps it was because she was Shi Le's only granddaughter, but Zuo Yi really loved Shi Nuannuan. He especially loved Shi Nuannuan because he knew that she used to treat him well.

"You don't have to call me President in the future. Just call me grandpa like you do with yours," Zuo Yi said with a smile as he looked at Shi Nuannuan.

Every year, he spent the New Year alone in the presidential villa. Although there were often some officials and famous people who visited him, he still felt very lonely.

But this year, he was no longer alone.

Originally, he wanted Weiyi to accompany him during the New Year, but as she was already a wife, he didn't say anything. Later, as per the suggestion of his precious granddaughter, he agreed to come to the Shi family to celebrate the New Year together.

As such, Shi Le went to pick him up early in the morning.

"Really?" Hearing Zuo Yi's words, Shi Nuannuan's pitch-black eyes instantly lit up. The smile on her face was like a blooming flower: bright, beautiful, and colorful.

"Of course." Zuo Yi smiled, looking at Shi Nuannuan with eyes full of affection.

He definitely preferred daughters over sons. In the future, he had to let Weiyi have a few more great-granddaughters for him to play with!

Thinking of this, Zuo Yi could not help but look around expectantly.

"I say, you old geezer, are you trying to win over my granddaughter?" Looking at Zuo Yi's happy look, Shi Le's face turned dark.

This old geezer should be happy to be invited over to spend New Year's together, but he still made Shi Le to personally pick him up before he was willing to come. Wasn't he just a president? After the New Year, wouldn't he abdicate already?

Seriously, when the time came, he honestly wouldn't even be bothered anymore!

"Tsk tsk tsk." Zuo Yi looked at Shi Le with disdain. "Do I even need to win her over? With that long face of yours, how did you raise such an outstanding granddaughter?"

"Ha! Is there a need to make it clear? Obviously my genes are good," Shi Le said arrogantly. He adjusted his coat and returned Zuo Yi's look of disdain.

“Aiya, it’s snowing outside. My two dear grandpas, hurry up and enter the house!” Watching their interaction, Shi Nuannuan wondered were they really her grandfather and the president, who usually appeared dignified?

The three of them entered the house. Zuo Yi’s gaze naturally drifted from the living room towards the second floor.

“Where’s Weiyi? ”

Shi Le also looked at the second floor and then surveyed the living room once more. He realized that Shen Lanzhi was also not around.

“Strange, they were still at home when I went out yesterday morning.”

“I’m going to call Mom!” As she said that, Shi Nuannuan quickly walked to the coffee table and picked up the phone to dial Shen Lanzhi’s cell phone number.

However, the call went to voicemail.

Shi Nuannuan looked at the phone in confusion.

What was going on?

She thought of calling Zuo Weiyi this time, but then she remembered that Tengtang Xi threw her phone into the sea during the previous incident.

But today was the New Year. Why would Mommy and Weiyi still go out? At this time of the year, where could they go?

Chapter 518: Shocking News

“What’s wrong? No one’s picking up?” Shi Le asked as he sat on the couch when he saw Shi Nuannuan holding the phone in a daze.

Shi Nuannuan turned to look at Shi Le. Then, she shook her head. “I can’t get through.”

Shi Le frowned.

Where did the two women go?

“I’ll call brother!” As she said this, Shi Nuannuan quickly dialed Shi Yuting’s cellphone number.

It was almost noon.

At the site of the snowstorm, Shi Yuting was about to take a helicopter back to C City under the protection of his bodyguards when his cellphone rang.

As soon as the call was connected, Shi Nuannuan’s voice came through.

“Brother, are Mommy and Weiyi with you?” Shi Nuannuan didn’t know where he had gone, thinking that he was still dealing with some matters.

Shi Yuting furrowed his brows and said, “No. You’re back?”

Hearing her brother's question, a sense of disappointment flashed across Shi Nuan Nuan's initially happy face. However, it disappeared in the blink of an eye.

"Of course, why wouldn't I be?" In order to change the subject, Shi Nuannuan returned to the original topic. "Brother, Mommy and Weiyi are not at home. I can't get through to Mommy's phone either. Do you know where they are?"

Shi Yuting's brows furrowed even more. His voice was deep and magnetic. "I don't know. I came to F City yesterday. You said you couldn't get through to them?"

A sense of unease faintly developed in Shi Yuting's heart.

"Yeah, I didn't see them when I came back, and then I couldn't get through to their phones either." Shi Nuannuan fiddled with the phone line out of boredom as she sat next to the coffee table.

"Got it, I'll contact them." As soon as he finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

Shi Nuannuan wanted to ask him how he was going to do it, but then she heard the dial tone.

Mommy's phone couldn't be connected, and Weiyi didn't have a phone, so how was he going to contact them?

After hanging up, Shi Yuting activated the voice function on his watch.

At the same time.

Outside the emergency room, Zuo Weiyi saw the door of the emergency room open and a doctor in a white coat walking out.

Her heart felt like it was being hammered by a thousand hammers. The moment she saw the doctor, Zuo Weiyi rushed over anxiously. Her voice, choked with sobs as if she could not speak. She was already hoarse. "My mom... is she alright?"

She asked carefully, afraid to receive a response she did not want to hear.

However, the truth was always so cruel.

When the doctor saw her, he took off the mask on his face. His expression was grave.

When the doctor saw Zuo Weiyi, he thought she looked familiar, but could not remember where he had seen her before.

As for Shen Lanzhi, she had always kept a low profile. Moreover, she rarely went out, so outsiders knew very little about her identity as Madam Shi.

"You're... the injured person's... daughter?"

"I- I'm her daughter-in-law..."

Upon hearing her answer, the doctor sighed heavily. "You'd better call your family over."

Immediately, there was a buzz in Zuo Weiyi's mind, as if she had lost her senses and could not see or hear anything around her; her entire being seemed to have been mechanically frozen in place.

The meaning behind the doctor's words could not be any clearer.

However, she still could not help but ask, wanting to know the exact answer.

"What do you mean..."

Immediately after, her gaze fell on Shen Lanzhi, who was being pushed out from behind the doctor.

Chapter 519: The Probability of Waking Up was One in a 100,000

After her mother's death, she knew that if a person could not be resuscitated, their face would be completely covered by a white cloth. However, that was not the case for Shen Lanzhi.

For a moment, Zuo Weiyi's heart got excited.

However, the doctor's next words pushed her into a bottomless abyss, a swamp of darkness without any light!

"The injured person received the impact of the explosion, and her head also received a huge blow. Although she survived, in the future..."

Seeing the increasingly pale face in front of him, the doctor could not help but hesitate as he spoke, afraid that she would not be able to bear the news.

However, the truth still had to be said.

And she already had a strongly feeling what it was.

"I'm afraid that she'll be lying on the hospital bed forever—she's brain dead[1]."

Brain dead?

When she heard these words, Zuo Weiyi's brain felt like it had been hit by something.

Brain dead. This was the first time she had heard of this word.

Shouldn't these things only exist in dramas[2]?

What did it mean?

"Brain dead...What does it mean?"

"She's in a state similar to a vegetative state. Usually, the probability of a person in a vegetative state gaining consciousness is not low. However, those who are brain dead have a probability of... one in 100,000."

Upon hearing this, Zuo Weiyi was shocked as if she had been electrocuted.

One in 100,000?

"You mean, she might... never wake up?" Tears rolled down uncontrollably again as she felt her heart torn apart.

The doctor exhaled heavily and nodded. "Yes, although her heart is still beating and she is still breathing, she can't sense anything."

In vegetative states, many people had subconscious hearing and feelings, so the chances of her waking up were not low.

“Hey, miss!”

As soon as the doctor finished speaking, he saw that Zuo Weiyi, who was standing in front of him, suddenly felt her legs go weak and was about to collapse. Fortunately, he reached out his hand and held her up.

At that moment, she looked so pale and powerless, like a walking corpse. She had lost her soul and was only left with her body.

At that moment, a slight vibration suddenly came from her wrist. Then, the doctor saw a pink light suddenly shine on the exquisite watch.

Zuo Weiyi looked down. The moment she saw the pink light, her heart felt as if it was pierced by thousands of swords! It was so painful that she could not breathe.

She did not dare to press on the pink gem. She knew that on the other side of the voice system was Shi Yuting.

But in the end, she still pressed it.

“Weiyi?”

Hearing that familiar voice, Zuo Weiyi felt her heart ache even more, almost tearing her apart.

The call was connected, but Zuo Weiyi did not make a sound. She tried hard to hold back her sobs, but in the end, she could not.

Shi Yuting’s eyebrows furrowed slightly when he did not hear her voice. Then, he heard her sobs through the call – they were faint but gradually grew louder.

“What’s wrong?”

There was clearly a trace of anxiety and concern in his voice, but this hurt her even more. The guilt and helplessness in her heart was on the verge of exploding!

“I’m sorry... Shi Yuting... I’m sorry!”

She sobbed, and her helpless sobs echoed through the silent corridor. Some people who occasionally passed by could not help but stop and look in surprise as she cried so miserably!

Chapter 520: Something has Happened to Your Mother!

The sudden cry made Shi Yuting’s heart tighten!

“What happened? ”

“I’m sorry... Shi Yuting...” she cried helplessly as her body slowly slid down and she sat on the ground weakly. The sobbing made some of the people passing by cast pitying gazes at her.

It seemed that she was another person who had lost a family member.

Upon hearing the name 'Shi Yuting', the doctor who was standing at the side suddenly came back to his senses.

He finally recalled that this young lady in front of him was not only the granddaughter that His Excellency the President had found not long ago, but also the wife of the next president, Shi Yuting – Young Madam Shi?

Then, the one who entered the emergency room just now was... Mrs. Shi?!

At the thought of this, the doctor's expression suddenly changed!

Looking at Zuo Weiyi, who was crying so hard that she could not speak, he walked over and said into the watch, "Mr. Shi, this is the city center hospital. Your mother... she's in trouble!"

Hearing this, Shi Yuting's pupils constricted, and then he quickly cut off communication!

"Return immediately!"

Shi Yuting's face was solemn as he rode the helicopter home.

...

In the ward, looking at Shen Lanzhi lying motionlessly on the hospital bed, Zuo Weiyi looked like an idiot. Her eyes were empty as she leaned against the cold wall and stared straight at Shen Lanzhi. It was as if her tears had never dried.

She did not know how much time had passed, until the door of the ward was pushed open. Only then did she slowly turn and realize that it was Shi Nuannuan who had rushed in, followed by Shi Le and Zuo Yi.

After pushing the door open and entering the ward, Shi Nuannuan was in complete shock when she saw Shen Lanzhi lying on the bed without any signs of life and wearing an oxygen mask. She stood there and stared at the scene in front of her in disbelief.

Zuo Weiyi did not say anything as they walked in, but her tears had been wiped away.

The moment Zuo Yi entered, he saw his granddaughter leaning against the wall in a daze. She looked so pale and haggard, and he felt a pang of heartache.

"Mommy..." after a long while, Shi Nuannuan finally came back to her senses. She rushed to the bedside and looked at Shen Lanzhi, whose eyes were tightly shut. Tears fell from her eyes. "Mommy, what happened to you..."

When she saw such a scene, Shi Le's face was also filled with shock.

When he went out in the morning, she was still fine. In just one day, how did she become like this?

"Weiyi, what happened?" Looking at the dazed Zuo Weiyi, Zuo Yi walked over with a pained look on his face.

Zuo Weiyi slowly turned around. When she saw the concerned and worried look on Zuo Yi's face, she suddenly felt guilty. She did not deserve to be cared for.

Tears welled up in her eyes once again. She closed her eyes and endured this heart-wrenching pain!

Hearing Zuo Yi's Voice, Shi Nuannuan finally noticed Zuo Weiyi standing there. She quickly walked over and looked at her anxiously. "Weiyi, what's wrong with my mommy? How did this happen? What happened?"

Shi Nuannuan did not know what had happened to her mother who now did not move or react to anything. She could only look at Zuo Weiyi anxiously.

The guilt in Zuo Weiyi's heart grew bigger and bigger.
