When the World's Billionaires Come Knocking by J.M.J Chapter 45

Chapter 45 I followed you all my life.

After giving the money to the Mateo couple, Paloma said to Judy, "Sister, let me take you to the street to buy some clothes!"

"Thank you, sister-in-law!"

Judy was so happy that she couldn't close her mouth.

Suddenly, such a good sister-in-law popped up, it was like a pie falling from the sky.

Mom glared at her disapprovingly, "How shameless of you! How can we possibly bother others like this?"

"Mom—"

Oh no, Auntie.

Paloma said, "It's okay, anyway, my relationship with Greyson has been confirmed, and this is an unchangeable fact."

"My younger sister is already seventeen years old, and she doesn't even have a decent set of clothes."

After saying that, she was about to take Judy to the county town.

Greyson came out and shouted, "Let's go after we have eaten!"

My mother realized, "Yes, yes, yes."

"Dad, you go to the pond to catch a fish, and I'll go kill the chicken."

"Oh, also invite his uncle's family, and tell them that Greyson has returned."

It seemed like a big deal was about to happen, and Greyson didn't stop it either.

Paloma looked at his awkward appearance and couldn't stop laughing.

He deliberately approached, appearing extremely intimate, "Did I perform well?"

Greyson glared at her.

I asked you to buy a potato, but you ended up becoming a wife.

Go back and tidy up yourself.

Mateo called the family of Greyson's uncle over and the two brothers went fishing in the pond.

Greyson's mother killed a chicken and slaughtered a duck.

In the countryside, these are the only things available, there is nothing better.

Auntie heard that Greyson brought his girlfriend over and happily came to help.

Several neighbors next door saw and heard that Mateo's family had delicious food today, so they came over without hesitation to mooch a meal.

Greyson watched everyone busy happily, and he thought it was good this way. Otherwise, he really didn't know for what reason he should give them money.

If I said I made a lot of money outside and they gave me too much, I was afraid they would float away.

11.90%

If a person conceited, it would be a very terrifying thing.

Too much money could bring them trouble, even disaster.

There is a saying called "virtue does not match position."

Greyson had a clear understanding in this regard.

If Greyson had found a wealthy wife outside, the woman's family would have paid for them to build a house, which would have saved them a lot of trouble.

Lunchtime was lively and polite.

Seven or eight dishes, a dozen or so people.

Uncle and auntie, they looked at the beautiful Paloma and envied her in their hearts one by one.

My nephew is so lucky.

I wish my own son could have had this fate.

Several neighbors were also particularly envious.

They asked about Paloma's family background, and Paloma only mentioned that her family was involved in business and had a publicly traded company.

She said so, which also laid the foundation for Greyson to come home and get money in the future.

If someone suddenly became wealthy for no reason, they would definitely be suspected by others.

Everyone ate together, drank together, and said that the Mateo couple had good luck.

Taking advantage of this opportunity, Greyson said, "Dad, let's build a house."

"If Paloma's family came over and saw this, it would be unacceptable."

"Yeah, yeah, it should have been built."

Uncle repeatedly instructed.

Mateo knew very well that they had already given the money and were just waiting for him to prepare,

Greyson continued. "I will have someone prepare a blueprint for you, You can construct according to the blueprint, and avoid building such old-fashioned houses again."

Uncle said. "That's right, after all, Greyson is a college student. It's right to listen to him."

"You don't have much insight, so don't interfere, just help with the tasks."

Okay!

Mateo lost his voice.

After finishing their meal. Greyson and Paloma took their younger sister to the county town to buy clothes.

The Mateo couple was at home chatting when, in no time, the villagers knew about this news.

It was said that Greyson brought back a girlfriend from a big city.

Paloma took Judy shopping, inside and out

Change!

followed you

Change all!

My sister-in-law bought you a new one.

All the clothes for all four seasons were bought.

This time, there were ten sets for spring, ten sets for summer, and ten sets for winter.

Judy was a bit confused. Do wealthy families just empty out clothing stores when they buy clothes?

The consumption habits of wealthy people refreshed her perception.

Paloma transferred another 100,000 dollars to Judy from her hand, "Don't let your brother know."

"In the future, don't ask for money from your family for your studies anymore, take charge of yourself."

"But don't go overboard either."

Judy nodded understandingly.

However, she still told Greyson.

Greyson calculated and realized that Paloma had already spent over a million.

However, he had to admit that Paloma knew how to handle people.

So, he quietly transferred ten million to her account.

Beep!

Upon hearing the information, Paloma opened her phone and checked.

Um-

She suddenly let out a scream, as if she had seen some-

I spent one million for Greyson's family, and he gave himself ten million.

She glanced at Greyson in the distance and remained silent for the time being.

Then, he bought clothes for Greyson's parents.

Buy some more fruits and snacks to bring back, after all, there are still guests at home.

In the evening, the house continued to be lively.

Greyson downloaded the construction drawings of rural homesteads from the internet.

He chose a design of a quadrangle courtyard, but now there are too many patterns for villas.

Greyson's family had a spacious homestead, so they decided to build a two-story quadrangle.

The blueprint was given to Mateo. Without any hesitation, he went to see a fortuneteller to check the date and then found a construction team to start the work.

As for the old house, it was completely worthless, so it was directly demolished.

Mateo had money in his hands and felt at ease in his heart.

Since my daughter-in-law is so supportive, let's do it.

Just as the fortuneteller checked the date, it turned out that two days later would be an auspicious day according to the zodiac. As long as Mateo's family could make it in time, they could start the construction immediately.

As for starting the work, just symbolically indicate it and then proceed slowly.

Greyson's plan was to stay at home for one week to half a month, but he didn't expect to come back and get this thing done.

His intention was all-inclusive, supervised by Mateo.

Uncle is also a person who is engaged in construction projects outside all year round, so we entrusted him with the matter of the house.

The house was demolished the next day, and a groundbreaking ceremony was held on the third day.

Then, cement, sand, and steel bars were delivered to the site.

Greyson's family temporarily stayed at their neighbor's house, and the new house began like this.

I stayed at home for a week, during which Rebecca often sent messages and sometimes secretly made phone calls.

She asked Greyson to come over earlier because in a few days she would be taken to a nother place by her mother.

This year's plan suddenly changed, and she was not allowed to go to her grandmother's house.

Rebecca also didn't know what her mother was up to.

I used to keep a close eye on myself every day.

After the foundation of Greyson's house was completed, everything proceeded in an orderly manner. Only then did he inform his parents and return to Ravero ahead of time.

During this period, Paloma has been staying at the hotel in the county town and finally it is time for her to return.

She packed up her luggage and said goodbye to Greyson's family

The Matco couple now particularly loves this future daughter-in-law and can't wait to have them start having children right away.

Seeing that they were about to leave, I bid them a reluctant farewell and saw them off from afar.

The two of them got on the highway in a car, and Paloma asked Greyson with a cheerful smile.

'Boss, was my performance okay during this period?'

Greyson glared at her and said, "If you don't come back with me next time, how am I supposed to explain myself?"

Paloma giggled and said, "As long as you're willing, I'll follow you for the rest of my life."
