When the World's Billionaires Come Knocking by J.M.J Chapter 48

Chapter 48 Greyson's First Company

Kamden was surprised to learn that this building of Temple Real Estate was purchased privately

On the ground of Ravero, there were actually such characters?

It should be known that even many large companies could not easily come up with several billion dollars.

Either get a bank loan or pay in installments.

After all, everyone knew that cash would be held tightly in hand.

The other party paid too quickly.

He asked Laura to pay attention, maybe they could become partners in the future.

It took a week for the third-party inspection report to be available. Greyson urged Paloma to hurry up and register a company.

Paloma was a legal entity

Paloma knew that Greyson's business plan was about to officially begin.

The company's name was Blue Print Investment.

While Paloma was away handling company procedures, Greyson called Marlon to come over.

Once the company was established, the security system definitely had to keep up.

Marlon

received a phone call and heard that he could triple his salary. Without hesitation, he immediately resigned and took the high-speed train to Ravero city overnight.

In the evening, Greyson called him to go for supper.

Then he stayed in the hotel for one night.

The next morning, Greyson took him to meet Paloma.

As agreed beforehand, Paloma was the boss and Greyson was just an introducer.

Marlon had met Paloma once, and based on her demeanor, he also believed in her.

Paloma told him the key points, the company had just started, and his responsibility was to be in charge of the company's security work.

Currently, he temporarily works as a driver for Paloma, after all, Paloma has been quite busy lately.

Marlon asked Paloma. "When Greyson graduates, can we work together at the company?"

Paloma suppressed a smile, but she couldn't reveal Greyson's identity.

"Let's talk about it later!"

"He told me that you were very good, highly recommended you, so do your best."

Marlon was very happy, after all, he was getting ten thousand a month here.

The work was easy.

After Marlon's job was settled, the report from the third-party inspection agency also came out.

The entire building met the construction standards and had no safety or quality issues.

So both parties officially completed the handover, and Paloma made the payment

From now on, this building became Greyson's property.

And it was a private industry, not included in the company's assets.

Blue Print Investment Co., Ltd. was officially established with a registered capital of ten million.

Next, Greyson established another company.

The legal representative this time was himself.

This company was used to hold Blue Print Investment.

Of course, Paloma didn't understand these tricks. She was just an executor.

Marlon has been following Paloma around during this period. When they received the property, he looked at the towering skyscraper.

"Oh my goodness, is this the company headquarters?"

Paloma said, "In the future, the security of this building will be under your control, with dozens, even hundreds of people under your command."

Marlon chuckled and scratched his head, "Thank you for valuing me, Ms. Frazier."

"But the company's management system was very strict, so you had to work hard,"

Paloma gave him another beating to prevent him from drifting away.

She was busy with running the company's establishment, while Greyson continued his daily operations.

However, he now operates on the main line and does not need to watch it every day.

After raising six billion dollars in funds, the account currently has forty billion dollars.

Just keep on surviving!

There was no need to alarm anyone.

I used to be a small retail investor in the stock market.

Greyson turned off the computer and made a phone call to Paloma, "Has the matter of renting the office building been sorted out?"

"Done! Someone came to inspect the venue yesterday."

"Okay, let's put the advertisement out."

"You have also worked hard during this period. I will treat you tonight. What would you like to eat?"

"Can I order anything I want?"

"Uh! Of course."

"Could you?"

11 11

Paloma saw that he was not speaking giggled on the other end of the phone.

However, she was quite frustrated. What on earth was wrong with this guy?

What was wrong with me that I didn't care about myself?

What was missing?

Humph!

One day, you couldn't escape from the palm of my hand.

Paloma really couldn't believe it, Greyson could actually remain calm and composed.

Then Greyson called Rebecca again and asked, "Has his mother been strict lately?"

“You found a way to make her take a stroll at Novel Crossing.”

Rebecca didn't understand what it meant. “She has been busy lately, looking for venues everywhere, but there hasn't been a suitable one.”

“You asked her to go!”

“It would be best not to make a sound, after all, his mother was too cunning.”

Rebecca was speechless, “Is this how you treat your future mother-in-law?”

Greyson said fiercely, “If it weren't for her, I would have succeeded long ago.”

“Now I'm twenty years old and still a beginner.”

“Get lost!”

Rebecca rolled her eyes.

However, she still listened to Greyson's words and this time she didn't need to call her mother to come back, she went directly to her mother's company.

“Mom, I didn't want to have dinner at home tonight. Let's go out to eat.”

“You have also worked hard these few days, let me treat you.”

Huh?

Carolyn looked confused, just a few days ago she had been arguing with herself.

What happened to you today?

Not good!

Was it stolen?

She looked at her daughter carefully

In the evening, a family of three went out for dinner,

Rebecca specifically requested to go to the restaurant at Novel Crossing.

This didn't arouse my mom's suspicion, but instead it allowed her to see the rental advertisement of the building across the street.

The entire building was adorned with LED signs,

66.54%

Carolyn's eyes lit up, huh?

Didn't you say before that it was only for sale and not for rent?

How is it rented out now?

She immediately asked around and found out that the building had been sold for 480 million.

My good boy.

Really rich.

Together, she and her husband couldn't afford to buy this building, even with their combined funds.

And they were usually referred to as successful individuals, the CEO of a certain company.

Carolyn was very happy with this meal because she would be able to go and see the venue tomorrow.

If the company could be established here, with this location and the grandeur of the building, the overall image of the company would also become more prestigious.

In the evening, Greyson was making plans with Paloma.

“Such a big building, we could open a hotel ourselves.”

Paloma suggested.

“Running a hotel is not our strong suit, we can take a controlling stake and let others do it.”

Greyson thought of Bertha, wasn't she running her own hotel?

Since we bought this building, we should make use of it.

77.96%

Fifty-something floors, besides office buildings, a hotel is definitely necessary

Now Greyson wants to expand his industry, not just making money in the stock market

The next morning. Paloma received a phone call from Carolyn.

The two of them arranged a time for a face-to-face meeting

Greyson told her that she could waive her rent, and we would take ownership in the form of rent.

Paloma just couldn't understand it. Greyson also intended to meddle in such a small company?

She had no idea that the woman was Rebecca's mother.

When he took control of Carolyn's company, wasn't this future mother-in-law still under his control?
