

King of kings

Chapter 1543

"Brother Chen, we've found the address of the Green Cloud Alliance's headquarters." In the afternoon, Tang Ming came to report to Omi.

"Where is it?"

"Follow me."

Omi followed Tang Unknown to the site, it was nearby, a nice place.

"Brother Chen, are you satisfied with us establishing the headquarters of the Green Cloud Alliance here? If I'm not satisfied, I've continued to look for a place.

Omi asked, "If we establish a headquarters here, the Flying Cloud Sect won't interfere, right?"

"Brother Chen, the Flying Cloud Sect wouldn't be so boring, but if you offend someone in the Flying Cloud Sect, it's hard to say."

"Forget it for now, let's build the headquarters here, I'll leave this matter to you."

"Okay, don't worry." Tang Ming nodded energetically.

Omi didn't toss the headquarters and let others do the work, Omi's main business was still talisman refining.

At this moment, in the inner surroundings of the Flying Cloud Sect, seven Enlightened Stage men were sitting together. The first website m.kanshu8.net

One of them, a man of the fifth stage of enlightenment, said, "Gentlemen, we are all spirit talisman stores in the periphery of the Flying Cloud Sect, and in the past, we had several conflicts over the sale of talismans, but later we settled them peacefully and sought our fortune together. However, recently, a man named Omi appeared in the periphery of the Flying Cloud Sect, who obtained the talisman from an unknown source and cut off our money. I've been sending people to investigate who's behind Omi, but unfortunately, we've found nothing, so I've called you all here today to discuss how we should handle this matter. If Omi continues to sell talismans like this, then all of our spirit talisman business in the periphery of the Flying Cloud Sect will be monopolized by that Omi. I don't think you all would like to see tens of millions of spirit stones disappear every month."

Another man of the Third Order of Enlightenment said, "I've also sent someone to investigate, and I really don't know what that Omi's origin is. I'm having a bit of a headache, what if he's very big and we kick the iron plate, but if we let this go on, we'll definitely lose our business. Once our business is gone, we won't have a source of spirit stones, then we won't be able to pay our brothers an allowance, and the consequence will be that we'll lose the gang we've built with our own hands."

Several men at the scene at the Enlightenment Stage nodded their heads.

These Enlightened Stage men, they all had a bit of backstage and energy in the Flying Cloud Sect, not only did they have their own power, they also had their own source of spirit stones, but now, their source was being infringed upon.

"What do you all think we should do now? There's no way to find out who's behind Omi, so do we really just ignore it."

"I think we should send someone to negotiate with Omi."

"How to negotiate."

"Let's say, we all seek wealth together, limit his monthly talisman sales, he can only sell a maximum of 200 talismans per day, otherwise, we can't make a living at all. His talismans, since so many people are lining up to buy them, are probably really better than ours."

"And what if he doesn't accept negotiations?"

"Then don't blame us, we've been courteous before we've attacked. Even though Omi has a stronger backstage than us, he himself is only a little bastard of the fourth stage of Body Tempering after all. With so many of us, I don't believe we can't get him yet." Another man of the fourth stage of Enlightenment said.

"So, who's going to negotiate with him?" One asked.

"A little son of a bitch in the district, it's not our turn to personally find him, we'll send someone to notify him

Let him come to us, and we'll negotiate with him together to have a more powerful force."

"Fine, then it depends on whether this little bastard is willing to seek fortune together or not, otherwise don't blame us."

"Originally, the spirit talisman market in the periphery of the Flying Cloud Sect had already been divided among the seven of us, and it was never going to allow an eighth person to come and get a piece of the pie. If it wasn't for the fact that he seems to have a strong backstage, I would have directly broken his legs, how could I allow him to have a share of the pie."

"And break his legs, I'll just take his life, if he doesn't have a backstage." The man with the fifth rank of open light said. This man at the fifth rank of Open Light was the highest realm among the seven of them.

The next day, Omi opened the gate.

There were still many people lining up at the main entrance, but there were a lot fewer people than the previous days.

Today, it was estimated that they wouldn't be able to sell 1,000 talismans, because those who had bought them before couldn't afford to buy them this month anymore, and would only have the strength to buy them when they returned from hunting the Demon Core from the True Beast Forest next month.

Omi shouted, "Everyone, there's no need to crowd, there aren't that many people to buy today, there's something for everyone."

Very quickly, Omi sold out 900 talismans.

As expected, there weren't 1,000 sold today, after all, that was all the market had.

Omi was about to close after selling the talismans, when three men of the ninth stage of Body Refining came outside.

"Omi." One of the men at the ninth stage of Body Tempering shouted.

Omi looked, one of them had seen him yesterday.

"What is it."

"Omi, our boss is looking for you to negotiate about how to divide up the spirit talisman business in the periphery of the Flying Cloud Sect, and they are now waiting for you at the Hundred Ghost Alliance store." One of the men of the ninth stage of body refining said.

"They? So, there's more than one boss."

"Nonsense, on the outskirts of our Flying Cloud Sect, the bosses of the seven spirit talisman stores are looking for you to negotiate together, so you better hurry up, otherwise, the consequences are very serious."

"Yeah? How serious." Omi snorted without a care.

Another man at the ninth stage of Body Refining saw Omi's uncaring tone and roared, "Omi, don't you dare make your own death."

"Hahaha, make a death? How about I be your sister."

"You."

Omi was rude, "Go back and tell your boss, I talk about their mother's sentence, the spirit talisman business in the periphery of the Flying Cloud Sect, I, Omi, have sole possession of it, if you have the ability, use better talismans to take away my business, otherwise, they don't want to earn a single spirit stone. In my place, there's no power in business, product is king, so trash talismans go away."

The three Body Tempering Ninth Stage messenger disciples were furious.

"Scram." Omi shouted.

The three of them were shocked by Omi's momentum, a fourth stage of Body Tempering dared to yell at them at the ninth stage of Body Tempering. However, the more they did so, the more they were afraid of Omi and the more they believed that Omi had a powerful backstage. Originally, when the three of them saw how arrogant Omi was, they couldn't help but want to beat Omi up, but when Omi yelled at them, they had to hold back no matter how much they couldn't hold back, after all, even their boss had to weigh Omi's backstage.

"Go, go back and report to the boss." The three Body Tempering Ninth Step, quickly rolled away and went back to file a report.

"Bang." The bang, Omi closed the door of his single room.