

King of kings

That night, Omi came to the Four Seas Song family alone, and since he had promised to come as a guest, he had to do it.

Mu Qianji didn't come along, and she didn't seem interested.

"Brother Tang, please come in."

"Brother Song, you're welcome." Omi gave a slight nod to the Song Clan's eighth ancestor, Song Jinshu.

It was just that Song Jinshu wasn't very happy to see Omi address him as Brother Song.

Omi sat down in the Song family hall, which was now already prepared with sumptuous food and wine, and several Song family ancestors were already waiting.

"Please sit down." Song Jinshu respectfully arched his hand.

Omi sat down unceremoniously, and only after Omi sat down did Song Jinshu and several other Song family ancestors take their seats.

Omi swept a glance at those Song family ancestors, none of them knew each other, Song Jinshu panicked and introduced, "Brother Tang, these are all my Song family ancestors, I'm the eighth ancestor of the Song family, this is the ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, and thirteenth ancestor of the Song family."

"Oh." In his heart, Omi didn't really like eating with a bunch of people he didn't know, so he might as well call out Song Yaoyao, who he had met once.

Omi immediately said, "Isn't Song Yaoyao here? Why don't you ask her out to dinner with you." One Second Remember to Read the Book

"Here, she's probably not available, and besides, it's not the right place for her to be on this occasion, so a few of us Song ancestors will share dinner with you."

"Oh, whatever."

Omi finished a somewhat spoilery meal and then said, "Alright, I'm done eating, so I'll leave first."

"Ah, so fast." Song Jinshu was a bit dumbfounded, Omi really just came to have a meal ah, at least exchange feelings ah.

"Bye bye." Omi waved his hand and walked away.

A few Song family ancestors, sitting there silly, thought that they would mingle with Omi until midnight, but as it turned out, people really just came to have a meal.

One of the Song family ancestors said, "What a loss, we spent so many extra spirit stones, and thought we were really friends with him, but as a result, this is it, ah, it's a loss that we even prepared so much wine and were going to have a good time."

"Alas, don't complain, after all, he's not familiar with us, how could he really drink until midnight like a friend."

Although the Song family's several ancestors were quite complaining, there was nothing they could do about it.

Omi was walking outside when he met a woman with a graceful figure.

"Haha, Song Yaoyao." Omi laughed out loud, the woman he met face to face was the same Song Yaoyao, the number one ranked genius who had kicked her unconscious in the Heavenly Fragrance Hall.

"You are?" Song Yaoyao looked at Omi somehow, because the last time at the Heavenly Fragrance Palace, Omi had changed his face and appeared under the name of Feng Tianya, so she couldn't recognize Omi at the moment, however, Omi's handsomeness made Song Yaoyao's heart beat a little faster.

"Song Yaoyao, I'm a guest in your home, alright, I'll leave first." Omi didn't stay long and turned around and left, although Song Yaoyao was a bit of a posture, it wasn't to the point where Omi was interested.

Omi returned to the inn.

"Back so soon?" Mu Qianji was startled.

"Otherwise, I'm just going to Song's house for dinner."

"I thought that you were going to drink until midnight."

"Drinking my ass, there's no atmosphere at all with a few unseen ancestors of the Song family."

"True."

"So when do we start scouring the Four Seas?" Mu Qianji asked.

/>

"I don't know about that, after all, it's a bad start to doing bad things and oppressing the entire Four Heavy Seas."

"You have to step into the Merging Stage as fast as possible, it is necessary to scour the entire Four Seas for the sixth grade spirit stones."

"Let's wait a little longer, I don't know where Tang Huan, and my aunt, Lu Yuxi and the others have gone to train nowadays, it's been a year in the blink of an eye."

"If you miss them, you might as well go find them, anyway, you're now, all across the Four Seas, going to the One, Two, Three Seas, it's even more of a tiger entering the sheep pen."

"That's exactly what I'm planning, I'll leave tomorrow and go find them, I still have 130 sixth grade spirit stones left on me, I'm perfectly capable of raising them all to the Exaltation stage."

"Heavens, they're probably only at most at the heart illumination stage right now, and they've suddenly surged up to the exit stage, tsk tsk, what kind of good deeds did they do in their last life to be able to run into you in this life." Mu Qianji sighed for a while.

Indeed, they were so wildly soaring, what a heavenly thing to do.

"Haha, aren't you coming along?" Omi asked.

"I won't go with you, you go on your own, I'm practicing my martial skills in the Four Seas, I'm rising to the realm too fast, it's necessary to spend more time settling myself, otherwise I'm afraid the fighting aspect won't be able to keep up with the realm."

"That's fine." Omi nodded his head.

The next day, Omi left the Four Seas and came to the First Sea.

Unfortunately, there was a vast sea of people, and Omi didn't know where to look for Tang Huan and the others.

Omi stepped on the flying sword and unknowingly returned to the original Feiyun Sect, but unfortunately, the Feiyun Sect had turned into a ruin and no one was left except for the lonely souls and ghosts.

Omi came back to Tianbao City.

The formerly prosperous Tianbao City has turned into a ghost town, empty of people.

Therefore, it was difficult for Omi to find Tang Huan and the others. Who knew if Tang Huan and the others had ever returned.

Helplessly, Omi had no choice but to wait in Tianbao City.

Perhaps, Tang Huan and the others would return someday, of course, only if Tang Huan and the others didn't know that Tian Bao City was gone and hadn't returned yet.

Omi was standing alone on the walls of Tianbao City, the setting sun's rays stretched his figure.

There was no second person in the entire Tianbao City, except for Omi, and there was a sad air in the air, after all, this place had just been slaughtered a few months ago, and the stench of decay could still be smelled everywhere.

As Omi sat in the lonely city, he had the feeling of being isolated after the end of the world.

"Alas, I'm waiting here, can I really wait for them? Where the hell did they go for training, not even knowing that the Flying Cloud Sect's Heavenly Jewel City had been destroyed? By all rights, they should have returned."

"If they really came back, knowing that Heavenly Jewel City and Flying Cloud Sect are gone, they would definitely leave, it might not make much sense for me to wait here, so why don't, go to Zhu Bai City and wait, after all, if they want to find me, they will definitely go to Zhu Bai City first."

Thinking nothing of it, Omi immediately went to Zhubai City.

By the time Omi arrived at Zhu Bai City, it was already dark, Omi went straight to the city tower of Zhu Bai City.

“Stop.” A few guards on the city tower shouted.

Omi said, “From today onwards, I’m the only one allowed to come up on this city tower, and also, help me get a plaque to hang outside the city wall with a few big words on it, ‘Omi is here’.”

Those guards grunted, “Who are you, get down immediately.”

“Pah.” Omi waved his hand and those guards all flew down to the city tower.
