

King of kings

1812

Omi and Mo Qing searched the sea and finally found three flags with the deer head's clan emblem.

"There, the clan emblem of our Mo Dynasty is the deer head mark."

Saying that, Omi and Mo Qing landed on those three large ships.

An old man of the ninth stage of the Mahayana stage immediately flew up and worshipped, "Greeting His Majesty the Long Emperor."

"Mo Xu, how long have you been at the Sea of Death?"

"More than a month."

Mo Qing nodded, this Mo Xu, surely he still didn't know about the change that happened in the Mo Dynasty.

"Your majesty the long emperor, how come you are the only one who came ah, where is everyone else? Where's Horse Eagle and Horse Punch? Why didn't you come along." That Mo Xu asked in confusion.

Mo Qing sneered, "Horse Eagle, Horse Force, is dead."

"What." That Mo Xu was shocked.

"What happened, Your Majesty, Long Emperor? Was it an attack on our Moji Dynasty?" One second to remember to read the book

"Alright, you'll understand this later when you return, let me introduce you, this is Omi, Mo Yuyan's daoist partner."

"Uh, Your Majesty, how can you." That Mo Xu was busy looking at Omi, looking disbelieving.

"How can I not."

"Your majesty, in two years' time, the Entrance Martial will begin, and with the Princess's talent and strength, she can definitely enter any of the Seven Seas, before Uncle Mo Green went to all costs to help for this."

"Alright, don't say that, the eldest princess and Omi have become a daoist couple, it won't be worse than joining any of the Seven Seas, I believe in my own eyes." Mo Qing said to Omi, "His name is Mo Xu, he is currently the most promising person in my Mo Dynasty, who is actually one step away from stepping into Half Immortality. If he steps into half-immortal in the future, he will be the second emperor."

"Oh." Omi nodded his head.

However, that Mo Xu looked at Omi with a skeptical face, wondering why the First Emperor wanted the First Princess and Omi to form a daoist couple, what a waste of all the hard work that Mo Green had put in.

At this moment, a powerful momentum came from afar, as if some big person had come.

Everyone looked into the distance and saw a large black blade, fiercely shooting from the sky, the speed was horrifyingly fast, and there were more than a hundred people standing on top of that black blade, and all of them were strong Half Immortals. There were everything from the first stage to the eighth stage of Tribulation.

"Damn." Everyone was shocked to see this scene.

More than a hundred Half Immortals appeared at the same time, what concept was this, and the strongest ones had all reached the eighth stage of Tribulation.

Mo Qing was busy saying, "The people from the Seven Seas have finally come, and at this moment, it's the Fu Clan of the Seven Seas, the super power that holds the Death Sword, the big black blade they are stepping on is the pseudo-immortal weapon 'Death Sword'."

Omi said in shock, "It really is a great power of the Seven Seas, it's over a hundred half-immortals, and the nine immortal empires of the Six Seas are as weak as ants in front of them. And that pseudo-immortal weapon, it's really chilling." Omi looked at the black dagger in mid-air that more than a hundred people stepped on, feeling that the black dagger was very strong.

Mo Qing said, "That's natural, it has to be a pseudo-immortal weapon, I heard that when that blade fell, the entire seawater of the Sea of Death would cut a hole in it. Back then, Wang Shura held it.

It was this Death Sword, and then Wang Shura ascended, and it fell into the hands of the current Fu Clan."

Mo Xu Dao said, "The Death God Family is coming, and the other four families are probably arriving soon as well. With this new relic being born, we little Luo Luo are really only onlookers."

Before the words fell, another powerful and incomparable momentum came from the distance, a huge bird, flashing its wings, the bird was at least five thousand meters wide when it spread its wings, and with each flap of its wings, the sea water on the surface was fanned as if it was a tsunami, rolling up hundreds of meters of waves. On the back of that huge bird sat more than a hundred Half Immortals.

Just like that, the bird quickly flew up, and when he flew up, the tsunami had already rolled in, and all the ships that were parked on the sea were swallowed up by the tsunami, and the ships that Omi and Mo Qing were standing on were also overturned by the tsunami as well.

After the wind and waves calmed down, there were no more boats on the sea, only a few scattered wooden planks remained.

Countless immortals emerged from the surface of the sea and everyone was swept to the bottom of the sea, fortunately everyone was an immortal, otherwise this was almost a sea disaster.

Omi and Mo Qing also quickly emerged from the surface of the sea.

"Grass heck, it takes him to have a big bird ah, what's the drag, it's swept everyone's boat to the bottom of the sea." Omi was annoyed because it came so suddenly, the big bird was so fast that almost everyone couldn't defend themselves against the human sea, and even some of the cultivators might have drunk a few mouthfuls of seawater.

"Shh, keep it down." Mo Qing was busy.

"It already is, what's the point of being so high-profile, and it also looks like it doesn't even care about us Six Seas Immortals." Omi looked at the large bird that had stopped in midair, the person on the back of the bird, as if he hadn't noticed anyone on the surface of the sea, the arrogance of his appearance and his disregard for the Sixfold Sea Immortals on the surface of the sea was almost clear to see.

"That's the Seven Seas, the Yong Clan, the superpower with the pseudo-immortal weapon Sky Eagle, they certainly didn't put us Six Seas Immortals in their sights. However, they don't care about all of us, but let's not go looking for death, those more than a hundred Half Immortals, who can resist."

Omi was incomparably depressed, with so many Half Immortals, let's just say that Omi's scrolls were useless, and even if they were, Omi didn't have that many to use.

Facing such a powerful force, it was better to say less.

After the sea returned to calm, many people moved out of their storage rings and moved out of their new ships.

Mo Xu also moved a ship of about the same size from his storage ring and placed it back on the surface of the sea.

However, as soon as the new ship was moved out of the sea, another powerful momentum came from the distant sky.

This time, it was unknown which family was coming again.

In the next moment, there was a fiery blaze from afar, only to see a long, slender blade in the sky that flew like a bullet, the blade was red all over, as if a meteor had grazed the air and carried a huge flame. The sea that the flame passed over, the seawater instantly boiled.

It was really boiling, and in the end, the flaming knife flew in and stood over Omi and the others.

The intense heat of the flames boiled the sea surface within tens of thousands of meters around, and the sea surface was like boiling water, evaporating soaring hot air.

The new ship that everyone had just moved out of, at this moment, was reduced to ashes, as the flaming blades in the sky could even boil seawater, let alone a ship, in one go.
