"Then it's a bit difficult for us to exterminate the Yi Clan, I'm afraid the Yi Clan, too, already has a population of several hundred million, where can we kill so many."

"Just kill some of the top brass, those weak ones, and drive them to the Six Seas. What I'm more worried about now is that our Tang Ji Gate, with a total of less than 10,000 people, how can we manage such a large territory with so few people."

"The population will naturally grow as it slowly grows."

Omi continued to ask around, and finally, Omi arrived at the territory of the Yi Clan.

The I Clan's territory was in the southwest region of this southernmost continent.

The Yi Clan had developed in this region for tens of millions of years, and by now, the population had exceeded 800 million, with a total of thirty-two cities, of which, the most prosperous city was their family headquarters.

Omi and Little Fire were now heading to the headquarters of the Yi Clan.

It wasn't long before Omi and Little Fire arrived at the Yi Clan's headquarters, which had a population of over a hundred million, and houses and buildings that were endlessly magnificent and prosperous.

Omi said, "Little Fire, how do you extinguish it?"

"How about just a dragon, I'll just go down with a fire, and in less than half an hour, I'll make sure the I Clan burns to the ground."

"Never, it's not that I pity their lives, but if you go down in a fire, a good building is all destroyed, and we'll have to rebuild it later, we don't have the manpower here, so we can only use others ready-made." First URL m.kanshu8.net

"Then what do you say?"

Omi shouted, "All the people of the Yi Clan listen, your ancestor is dead, if you don't want to die now, immediately get out of here, kneel to the sky and receive my judgment."

Omi's shout was heard by the entire headquarters of the Yi Clan.

Many people had no idea what was happening, but those strong Half Immortals of the Yi Clan rushed out at the first opportunity.

Within seconds, dozens of Half Immortal powerhouses flew into the sky and surrounded Omi and Little Fire.

"Who are you guys? Why are you slandering my ancestor, my ancestor, who is clearly chasing after a lowly dog in the Six Seas." An old man of the fourth stage of Tribulation roared.

Omi snorted, "My name is Omi, I just came from the Sea of Sixfold."

"Ah, you're Omi." Suddenly, dozens of Half Immortals were shocked, they all knew that their ancestor had gone to the Six Seas to kill a man named Omi, that Omi had gone to hide in the Sea of Death, but, never would they have expected that this man was Omi.

"How could you be Omi, if you were Omi, you would have been killed by my family's ancestor."

Omi said, "Your Yi's ancestor is already dead, this is his pseudo-immortal weapon, the Black Water Pearl, and it's now my property." After saying that, Omi unleashed the Black Water Bead.

"What."

"Oh my god, it really is the Black Water Bead, our ancestor's pseudo-immortal artifact."

At this moment, a clan member from afar came running with a shout, "It's bad, the light of life of our ancestor, extinguished."

At the same time, a mournful death knell came from the direction of the Yi Clan's ancestral hall.

"Dang, dang, dang." Each sound of the funeral bell was extremely mournful and sorrowful.

Omi snorted, "Only now have you discovered that the ancestor is dead."

At this moment, dozens of Half Immortals were suddenly foolish, and they no longer had any doubts about this sudden arrival of the two men and really killed their family ancestor.

Little Fire snorted, "What your family ancestor's, is now my big brother's. Alright, we're not here to inform you that your ancestor, and the nine Half Immortals who helped hunt us down in the Six Seas, are all dead, and we're now up here to receive the territory."

"Receive, receive the territory?"

"Otherwise, your ancestor, as well as the patriarch, are already dead, is there still a reason for you to occupy this place? Originally, we wanted to exterminate the Yi Clan, but, we didn't expect the population of the Yi Clan to grow to hundreds of millions, our big brother is merciful and doesn't want to kill so many people, so you guys can tell us what we should do."

The entire headquarters of the Yi Clan, upon hearing the death knell, erupted with cries of pain, Omi stood in the air, his ears full of cries.

The dozens of half-immortals that had surrounded Omi before were now all sobbing and crying.

Omi and Little Fire, for a moment, were just as ignored.

"Hey hey, have you guys made a mistake, we're up here to exterminate the family, you're just crying and ignoring us, what's the meaning of this." Little Flame shouted.

However, those half-immortals, who couldn't listen at all, howled and cried.

"Brother Chen, what should we do, this is the first time we've encountered such a situation, why don't we wait until they finish crying first and their emotions stabilize before we exterminate them?"

Omi was speechless, "Damn, extermination will have to wait until their emotions have stabilized, small fire, one breath of fire, first exterminate this group of half-immortals."

"Brother Chen, I'm a bit unable to do anything in this situation ah, they're all still crying, we're just going to kill people, wouldn't that be too inhumane."

Omi said depressingly, "Alright, alright, let them cry first, we'll deal with them when they're done crying. I'd like to see what they want."

Omi rushed from the sky to one of the most magnificent halls of the I Clan.

Omi and Little Fire sat in the grand hall, and they ate the various fruits in the hall as if they were in their own home, as well as drinking tea.

The cries that happened in the Yi Clan, of course, quickly spread to the next area, the Yong Clan.

Omi and Little Fire were lying unrestrained in the main hall when a shout came from the sky outside, "Who then, come out for a moment."

Little Fire was busy saying, "Brother Chen, is it calling us? A very strong momentum suddenly came from the sky."

Omi said, "If I'm not mistaken, it must be a strong person from one of the other families, who heard that the I Clan's ancestor had died and rushed here to watch the fun, or, with some purpose. Little Fire, let's go out."

"Will they make a move on us?"

"Hard to guarantee it won't, get out first."

Omi blinked and rushed out of the palace, standing in the sky, and sure enough, there were many half-immortals in the sky, one of them was at the eighth stage of Tribulation.

Omi smiled and said, "Who is your Excellency? What brings you to my Tang Chi Gate?"

One of the half-immortals snorted, "Tangible Gate? This is the Yi Clan."

Omi smiled, "From now on, this is Tang Ji Gate, my Omi's place, although there are still so many people from the Yi Clan living here, it's just that I'm benevolent and haven't driven them away yet. Aren't you guys going to report your history?"

"Listen up, we're neighbors of the I Clan, the Yong Clan."

"Oh, then we'll be our neighbors at Tang Ji Gate from now on, neighbors, hello." Omi said with a smile.
