

King of kings

Chapter 1891

“Thank you, Gate Master.”

“Alright, you all go back to your respective divisions, within a month, I will visit each division, I want you to go back and remodel properly to meet my requirements.”

“Yes.”

The eight long kings, bowed their heads and left. To be precise, eight Divisional Ministers, walked away with their heads bowed.

Although they might be unwilling in their hearts, Omi was bent on unifying the Six Seas, and if they didn't cooperate, Omi would at most take the trouble to destroy their dynasty before establishing a division.

“Brother Chen, now the entire Six Heavy Sea, the nine imperial dynasties, have become our nine divisions. There's one headquarters in the Seven Seas and nine divisions in the Six Seas, this is simply too cool.”

“Hehe, in the future, the nine divisions can compete with each other, and all the geniuses can be guaranteed to go to the headquarters of the Seven Heavy Sea, so that our Tang Ji Gate can become stronger and stronger, and the geniuses of the Six Heavy Sea can also have the opportunity to go to the Seven Heavy Sea to cultivate without having to join some kind of initiation meeting and be a tethered door stick for those families.”

“Mhmm, this will definitely be more beneficial to the cultivators of the Six Seas, so that all the resources don't go to the previous Nine Great Immortal Dynasties.”

“Yes.”

“Let's go, go pick them up.”

Omi tore open the illusory space of the Rainbow Bridge of the Six Seas and arrived at the Five Seas.

Omi directly shouted in the sky of the Five Seas, “Mu Qianji, if you hear me, please look for me at the Blue Fox Family location.”

Saying that, Omi directly landed at the Blue Fox Family.

Omi thought that Mu Qianji and the others must be hiding in some hidden place in the Five Heavy Seas.

However, Omi didn't know that Mu Qianji and the others had gone to the Four Seas because they felt that the Four Seas were safer and, after all, the Four Seas were prosperous.

Dao: “Brother Chen, I have a suggestion.”

“Say.”

“Since our Tang Ji Gate has established branches in the Six Heavy Seas, why not establish a branch in the Five Heavy Seas? There were some geniuses in the Sea of Five Heavens, but because there were no channels, they were unable to travel to a better place to cultivate throughout their lives. The eight rainbow bridges in the Five Heavy Seas are in the hands of that family in the Five Heavy Seas, and the rainbow bridges held by the eight families are only open to people from their own families, and outsiders don’t have a chance. We might as well establish a branch of the Tang Chi Gate in the Five Heavy Seas as well, or even, we could establish branches in the Four Heavy Seas, Three Heavy Seas, Two Heavy Seas, and One Heavy Seas as well. That way, those geniuses who truly cultivate hard will not be buried due to a lack of channels. Even in the One Heavy Sea, as long as they are truly talented, they can continue to pass the examinations and bail out layer by layer, and in the end, they might even bail out to the Seven Heavy Sea. Tell me, if a certain genius, from the First Sea, constantly breaks through himself, and in the end, he successfully enters the Seven Seas, how inspiring is that.”

Omi seriously thought about it and nodded, “Little Fire, this suggestion of yours is good. Fine, then listen to you, establish Tang Ji Gate branches from the First Sea to the Fifth Sea.”

“I’ll thank the minister for those bottom level immortals who don’t have connections as well as a backstage.” Little Flame laughed loudly.

After that, Omi wiped out the eight huge immortal cultivation families in the Five Seas and then turned them into the Five Seas Division of Tang Ji Gate.

For Omi, it took but ten days to establish and get the Five Heavy Seas Division up and running.

“Strange, why hasn’t Mu Qianji come looking for me yet

We? The Tang Ji Gate branches of the Five Seas have all been established.” Ten days later, Omi looked puzzled.

“Brother Chen, could it be that they are in the Four Seas? Why don’t I start with the Four Seas, and incidentally, establish a Tang Dynasty Gate branch in the Four Seas as well.”

“Mm, good.”

Omi and Little Fire, immediately came to the Fourfold Sea.

As expected, Mu Qianji and the others were in the Four Seas and were staying at the home of Lu Yuxi in the Four Seas.

When Mu Qianji and the others saw that Omi had finally come to find them, they were all surprised and happy, they had been waiting here for too long, and every day was like a year.

“Omi, you’ve finally come to find us.” Mu Qianji cried and threw himself into Omi’s arms.

“I told you, I, Omi, am not so beaten down, so you can relax now.”

“The Yi Clan and the others?”

“Now that there is no longer an I Clan, Little Fire and I have killed Idincon and taken away his pseudo-immortal weapon, the Black Water Pearl.”

“Ah.” Mu Qianji trembled, it was hard to imagine how Omi had done this.

“Now that I’ve been to the territory of the Yi Clan of the Seven Heavy Seas, I believe that the other four families of the Seven Heavy Seas already know that I’ve been there and will be going up to take over the territory soon. It’s only logical that I’ve become an overlord of the Seven Seas. Furthermore, the six heavy seas I also unified all of them, and all of the nine imperial dynasties became the nine divisions of the Tang Dynasty Gate. The Five Heavy Seas have also established a few divisions by the way, and I plan to, from the First Heavy Sea to the Six Heavy Seas, all establish Tang Dynasty Sect divisions.”

“That’s a good suggestion.”

“Next, I also need your help to establish Tang Ji Gate branches from the First to the Fourth Sea, forming a bottom-up competition mechanism that will allow talents to be truly utilized.”

“Mmhmm.”

Omi, Mu Qianji, Lu Yuxi, and the others, lingered for a few days, then they began to establish the Tang Ji Gate branches in the Four Heavy Seas, and when they were done, they established the Tang Ji Gate branches in the Three Heavy Seas, Two Heavy Seas, and One Heavy Sea, divisions.

When all the divisions had been established, it was already three months later.

So far, Tang Ji Gate had turned into a super sect that ran from the One Heavy Sea, through to the Seven Heavy Sea.

Regardless of which division a disciple was in, he only needed to use his hard work to cultivate and work his way up, and he could be guaranteed to go to a higher division, and in the end, he could even travel to the headquarters of the Seven Seas.

Every disciple at the bottom was full of fighting spirit and motivation as he fantasized about being able to go to the headquarters in the future.

Omi’s establishment of the Tang Chi Gate could be said to have completely given the lower level Immortal cultivators the hope of becoming strong.

Of course, regarding Omi, the Gate Master, no matter which division they were in, they all worshipped him very much, and the disciples at the bottom all longed to meet the legendary Gate Master one day.

Three months later, Omi and the others, returned to the Six Seas.

“When are we ten million Seven Seas headquarters?” Tang Huan asked.

“There’s no rush, the nine divisions of the Six Seas, I haven’t gone to assess them yet, I gave them to those imperial elders to handle before, I don’t know how they handled it, did they satisfy me or not, I have to visit them myself, the Six Seas is a very important division, I can’t be sloppy.” Omi said.

The next day, Omi personally went to the second division of the Six Heavy Sea, where the Zhu Dynasty was previously located.
