

King of kings

1899

"Hey, Uncle Purple Hitomi, are you here to see my brother, too?" Sebastian spotted the purple pupil.

"Ah, little, little white, yes, yes." Purple Hitomi stammered a bit, not able to keep her words straight in the face of such pretty words.

"Then hurry up, my brother's just finishing his training."

"Oh, good." Purple Hitomi nodded, Little White turned around and walked away, not taking many steps, Little White suddenly rushed up into the sky and turned into a white dragon.

"Knock!" Seeing Little White manifest his original body, suddenly, Purple Pupil was dumbfounded and couldn't help but swallow his saliva. In Purple Pupil's eyes, the little white dragon that transformed into its original body was the most beautiful, and he couldn't see the beauty or ugliness when it transformed into human form.

Omi stayed at home for three days, and after three days, Omi set off with Little Fire, Purple Hitomi, and Little White.

"Where are we going first?" Little Fire asked.

"We're in the extreme south continent, there's a continent directly north of us, a continent to the northeast, and a continent to the northwest, let's go to the one to the northeast first." Omi said.

"Good."

Omi and the others, soon flew out of the extreme southern continent and entered over the ocean.

Several people flew over the ocean for half a day. One second to remember to read the book

"What's going on? Not here yet? The four continents weren't far apart from each other when we looked at them from above before." Little Fire looked puzzled.

"I don't understand, keep flying."

After two more days of continued flying, finally, they ended up on the continent to the northeast.

"Ow." Before they got close to the continent, Omi and the others heard a dragon roar.

"Hey, what's that sound." Little Fire was shocked.

Little White Dragon was busy saying, "Brother, it's a dragon."

"Ah, no, a dragon clan?"

Clearing the clouds and mist, indeed, Omi saw the continent in front of him, there were many dragons hovering in the sky, and, the dragons were of various colors, red, blue, purple, black, and white.

“Wow damn, it’s really a dragon, we’ve even come to the land of the dragons.” Little Fire laughed.

There were also many many dragons that had transformed into human forms on the Dragon Clan’s ground.

Little White said in surprise, “Great, really great.”

At this moment, Purple Pupil was also pleasantly surprised, although Purple Pupil used to be just a jiao and only evolved into a dragon later, but it was now a kindred spirit no matter what.

Omi said, “Don’t be impulsive yet, this is after all the Dragon Clan’s territory, don’t act rashly, since the Dragon Clan is able to survive in the Seven Seas all year round, it must have something remarkable, perhaps, the Dragon Clan doesn’t need any pseudo-immortal weapons, its fighting power is as good as those human overlords who have pseudo-immortal weapons.”

At this moment, a black dragon saw Omi and the others in the clouds and immediately rushed up.

“Bold human, how dare you violate the land of my dragon race.” Without saying a word, this black dragon directly opened its mouth and spat out a white gas.

The entire sky stunk, simply letting out poison.

Omi waved his hand and blew away all the poisonous gas.

This was a black dragon, a first-ranked robbery dragon.

The black dragon became angry and swept its tail towards Omi and the others.

Little Fire rushed out.

“Bang.” A single blow knocked the black dragon away.

“If you do that again, I won’t be polite.”

“What race are you again.” That black dragon raged.

At that moment, Little White was busy saying, “Senior, I’m also of the dragon race, you see.” After saying that, Little White suddenly revealed himself as Ben Body.

“Ah.” When Black Dragon saw Sebastian, a hint of shock appeared in his eyes, but he immediately regained his composure.

: “See, I’m also a dragon.”

“And me.” At this time, Purple Pupil also flew out, and Purple Pupil’s original body was also a black dragon.

"You guys?" The black dragon seemed to be confused, because in this world, the dragon race was only so populated, but he had never seen a purple pupil before, and as for White, he felt familiar at first glance, somewhat suspecting that he was the offspring of a certain dragon.

At this moment, a voice came from the distant sky, "Rono, bring them to the Valley of the Dragons."

"Yes, Clan Chief."

The black dragon immediately put his face away and said, "Everyone, our clan chief has just spoken, come with me to the Valley of the Dragons."

Omi and the others looked at each other, not knowing if there was any danger in rashly coming to the Dragon Clan, but, Little White and Purple Pupil were both from the Dragon Clan, so reasonably speaking, they couldn't.

Omi said, "Let's go, I'll take a look, besides, Little White and Purple Pupil are both from the Dragon Clan, maybe they have to return to their own clan. Besides, Xiaobai should have a life, maybe, we can find Xiaobai's relatives here."

Little White was full of anticipation, in fact, Little White also wanted to know who her relatives were.

Omi flew forward following the black dragon in front of him, and along the way, Omi saw many dragons.

Little Fire asked the black dragon, "You dragons have quite a large population."

"Multiple fart, compared to the human race, our population is far inferior."

"How many populations do you have now?"

"Only a hundred thousand."

"Oh."

Hundreds of thousands of dragons were indeed pitifully small compared to humans.

Little White asked, "Senior, why do I rarely see white dragons on this journey?" Sebastian paid more attention to the white ones because he was white, but he didn't see many white dragons. The largest number of them were black dragons.

"White dragons have the highest body mass, where are there so many white dragons?"

"Ah, so I have the highest body mass, yay." White shouted excitedly.

"Why as childish as humans." The black dragon snorted.

Little Fire whispered to Omi; "Brother Chen, this guy doesn't seem too friendly."

"Well, it's better to be careful." Omi said.

Soon, he arrived at the Valley of Dragons, where there were even more dragons, and almost all of them were concentrated in the Valley of Dragons.

As soon as Omi entered the Valley of the Dragons, he felt many powerful impositions.

Omi's face changed, so many powerful qi, this is definitely comparable to those overlords of the eighth stage of tribulation, this random one, can fight with those overlords who have pseudo-immortal weapons.

Omi had an ominous premonition, if these dragons were to kill Omi right now, I'm afraid it would be very easy. Even if those few human overlords, unitedly came here, I'm afraid they would not be a match.

However, having reached the Valley of the Dragons, Omi had no reason to turn back and could only continue with a hard scalp.

Arriving at the center of the Dragon's Valley, Omi and the others landed on the ground.

On the ground, there was a luxurious, golden palace built, which was actually very similar to the buildings inhabited by humans, it seemed that the dragons also liked to live like humans, this could be seen from the fact that almost all of the dragons on the ground were transformed into human forms.

After Omi landed on the ground, an old man with a somewhat old appearance came out and swept a glance at Omi and the others.

"Patriarch, they are the ones who got our dragons, and, these two, too, are from the dragon clan, but have never seen them."
