"Lan Lan, what are you thinking about?"

"Ah, no, nothing."

"It can't be that you're thinking about your old daughter again, alas, it's been so long since she died, what else are you thinking about, besides, that daughter of yours, her origin is all a question, according to me, can't be considered your child at all."

"Sister, don't say it."

"Alright, I won't say it, don't think about it so much, it's all in the past, and now you've also married Omi and are living a happy life, come, hug your niece." Ding Xiang handed her newborn daughter to Ding Lan.

"Okay, auntie hug."

In the evening, Omi and Ding Lan left Ding Xiang's place together and returned to their residence.

Omi asked, "This afternoon, what did your sister, Ding Xiang, mean by that remark?"

"What words?"

"Why did she say that when she said the origin of that daughter of yours was a question, and that she didn't count as your child at all?"

"There's no why." A second to remember to read the book

"Can't you just tell me? I'm your husband, though."

"Outwardly, yes, but you and I both know it's nothing but vain, and it's impossible between us."

"Really?"

Ding Lan originally didn't want to say, but seeing that Omi was quite curious, considering that he had just returned today, and not wanting to quarrel over it again, she had to say, "If you really want to know, I'll tell you."

"Back then, I was still ignorant and unknown, I followed my father for the first time and went to the Academy of Immortality, at that time, I was full of innocence and innocence. Less than a thousand years after arriving at the Immortal Academy, I met a boy named Li Changting, who was the first genius of the spell department, Li Changting's family in the Earth Immortal Realm wasn't bad, however, it was naturally incomparable to my family. I was in the same class with him, and I liked him a bit, but I knew in my heart that it was impossible for me and her, because my father was the first to say no, and I also kept a certain distance from him. However, that Li Changting didn't know when he learned about my relationship with the dean and he started to pursue me. But I refused, and I only promised that if he achieved something in the future, it would not be too late for him to pursue me again. Unfortunately, he was in too much of a hurry. Just a few months later, my father suddenly sensed that there was a faint sign of life in my stomach. My father asked me what was going on, and I told him I didn't know, that at that time I wasn't sure if it was definitely a child in my belly, or if there was a parasite or something. I just told my father that there might be some kind of parasitic beast living inside me, and that I would refine it when I got back, and my father didn't say anything."

"After that, I immediately went to find Li Changting, and only then did Li Changting tell me honestly, it turned out that when he saw that I was late in agreeing to his quest, he wanted to cook the raw rice. So, he put seeds in my stomach through the air, I didn't even notice it at all, and by the time I found out, it was almost two months ago."

Omi frowned, "Is there still such a ridiculous thing in the world?"

"Why would I lie to you, in fact it couldn't be simpler, you could do it if you wanted to."

Don nodded, "Okay, so what happens after that?"

"When I found out afterwards that it was really an embryo, of course I wasn't happy, I was on the spot Taken out across the gap."

"What? It's only been two months and you've taken it out through the air?"

"Yeah, it's only a two-month embryo, and it's only about the size of a pinky finger when you take it out."

"Then what?"

"Then, Li Changting begged and pleaded with me to put it back."

"You agreed? If you didn't put it back, how can there be a former life of Tang Huan behind it?"

Ding Lan said, "How could I agree to that, no matter how much Li Changting pleaded with me, I didn't, and I was so disappointed in Li Changting that I turned around and walked away, and I swore I would never speak to him again."

"And then what?"

"After that, after another eight months or so, Li Changting came to see me, and, moreover, he was holding a baby in his hands. Li Changting said that this baby was my daughter, because, eight months ago, he took the embryo I took out and put it into another woman's stomach to gestate."

"Ha." Omi was suddenly happy, the world was so full of wonders.

Ding Lan Dao: "I was very angry, if I knew that Li Changting would take it to someone else's stomach to gestate, I would have stopped him. However, the baby was already born, so it was too late to say anything. Li Changting shoved the baby into my arms, and told me to do whatever I wanted with it, whether to drop it or squeeze it to death, it was up to me. However, it was already a living person, how could I bear to fall to death, I was very angry, but I had no choice, Li Changting shoved the baby into my arms and ran away. I could only raise the child first."

"However, what I didn't expect was that within a month, the entire Spell Department knew that Li Changting and I had a child. After hearing about it, many people came to my retreat to see where I was, and when they saw that I was actually holding the child, everyone believed it. I couldn't explain it at all, and no one listened to my explanation, and usually Li Changting and I did get closer, and usually people thought we were meant for each other. However, no matter what, the child was innocent, I was worried that my father would find out, and the child would definitely be killed then, so I was going to give the child to someone else to raise. Inside the Immortal Academy, everyone is a student, so of course no one wants to raise it, so I have to send the child outside the Immortal Academy.”

“I managed to take the child with me and finally left the Immortal Academy. I was afraid that my father would come after me, so I had to send the child far away, and in fact, my father did find out very quickly and brought someone after me right away. After that, I ran around with the child for eight years, and after eight years, I was caught up by my father’s people. By this time, the child, who was originally a baby, would already be calling me mother.” Ting Lan suddenly had red eyes and wiped away her tears.

Omi handed over a piece of tissue paper.

Ding Lan continued, “Together with that child, running around for eight years ah, from a baby into a little girl who can call me mother, between us, there is already a strong affection, I also somehow, really become her mother. I did have a chance to hand her over to a family, but, looking at the child who was growing up by her side, day by day, I always felt reluctant to let go, and always wanted to wait and wait and wait. If I had, at first, taken off sooner and given her to someone else to raise, then my father’s people wouldn’t have caught up with her and the tragedy wouldn’t have happened. I feel like, I’m sorry for her, I’m really sorry that I killed her. Sooooo.” Ding Lan said unable to control her emotions and cried.

Omi was also overwhelmed and didn’t know how to comfort her, Omi really didn’t expect that there were so many twists and turns in between.
