Chapter 2312

I wanted to change the knife, but the knife was also a bird.

At that moment, Omi suddenly had a bright idea.

“Why can’t I pull off one of the demon beast’s claws and use it as a sword?The sharpness of the demon beast’s claws as well as its toughness far surpasses my sword.”

Omi rushed towards the weakest of the demon beasts.

Omi risked risking going towards that demon beast’s claws.

Omi instantly grabbed one of the claws.

“Yah.”Omi shouted and used all his strength to put.

It might be hard to cut the claws off, but pulling them out of the flesh might not be that hard.

It loosened.

The demonic beast struggled frantically, attacking Omi with its other claw.

However, Omi couldn’t give up, even if the other claw penetrated his body, Omi had to pull it off with a bang, otherwise it would be hard to get a chance after the demon beast prevented it next time. First URL m.kanshu8.net

“Puff.”Sure enough, the demon beast’s other claw ruthlessly stabbed through Omi’s back and pierced through his front chest.

Omi’s ninja shouted in pain, “Ahhhh.”

In the next moment, poof, a stream of blood soared out, and that claw was pulled out as well.

Omiton took the claw and stabbed down from close range, from the top of the demon beast’s head.

“Poof.”The claw was indeed sharp and stabbed into the demon beast’s skull in one go.

“Hahaha, hahaha.”Omi laughed, he had finally killed a demon beast.

At this moment, everything around him stood still, and several of the demonic beasts that had jumped on Omi were also frozen in mid-air.

“En?What’s going on?”Omi was stunned, but Omi found himself frozen in mid-air as well.

A voice sounded in Omi's ear, "You have completed this month's mission, do you wish to continue? If you retreat, you are instantly away from the battlefield, if you continue, everything will continue, but if there is danger, you can also choose to retreat at any time."

Omi thought about how he could retreat just like that, he had managed to pull off a demon beast's claw, he hadn't even tried how powerful it was.

"Continue." Omi shouted.

In the next second, all recovered.

The demon beasts that had jumped on Omi instantly pounced down from above.

Omi picked up his claws and fiercely met them.

"Swoosh."

"Puff." Omi stabbed a demon beast in the head in one go.

"Bang." The demon beast crashed to the ground.

Just like that, Omi's strength finally increased greatly, and his attacks were no longer skin wounds, but serious injuries that could threaten the demon beast.

Of course, Omi didn't have it easy, and although he chose to raise his strength and avoid his weaknesses, he was still wounded.

As such, Omi continued to battle for over an hour, and finally.

"Puff." Omi ruthlessly stabbed his claws into the skull of the last demon beast.

"Boom." The last demon beast ended.

"Phew." Omi's entire body loosened up and fell down.

Omi had no strength at all, relying entirely on willpower to hold on, and after killing the last demon beast, willpower could no longer hold on.

Omi breathed heavily, never had a battle as sound as today, even in the Heavenly Demon Battlefield, there was no such feeling of facing a great enemy every moment.

Omi took out the last of his healing pills and took it, his body recovering a lot.

Omi climbed up and counted the corpses of only ten demonic beasts on the ground.

"There are still four of them?"

"It looks like the other four should have gone after the six of them."

Don

Omi immediately followed the traces of the other four demon beasts and ran away.

Although those six teammates didn't come up to help, they were able to lure away the four demon beasts, relieving Omi of some of his burden, and if all fourteen demon beasts attacked Omi, then Omi would be really hard to deal with.

Omi ran a few meters and fell back.

"They said that for every demon beast killed, there is a possibility of finding the Hong Meng Beast Core, I almost forgot."

Omi immediately cracked open the heads of one demon beast at a time to see if there was a so-called Hong Meng Beast Nucleus.

The first one, there was none.

The second one, no.

The third one, there was none.

Just like that, when Omi broke open the tenth demon beast's skull, he finally found two Hong Meng Beast Nuclei.

"Wow, one demon beast has two Hong Meng Beast Nuclei inside." Omi was overjoyed, to be able to find two by killing ten of them was already a very big gain.

Omi put away the Hong Meng Beast Core before heading straight for the other four.

At this moment, hundreds of kilometers away from Omi.

The four demonic beasts were pursuing those six people from Group Nine, relentlessly.

"Group Leader, what should we do, these four demon beasts never separate, they don't separate, how are we going to find the ones that are alone." Yao Fang said as she fled.

"Keep running, try to run to places with complicated roads, I don't believe it, they never separate."

"Oooh, it's been over an hour now, I'm sure Omi is dead."

"Alas, it's our incompetence."

"Quick, there's a stone forest ahead, that will be our best chance to kill the demon beasts."

They immediately entered that stone forest, with the size of these demon beasts, entering this stone forest would definitely fork out and then they would disperse.

Ten minutes later, they finally found their chance.

"Kill, kill quickly." Six of them, rounded up and killed the demon beast that had fallen alone.

However, the remaining three demon beasts, though forked apart, would find their way here in ten to twenty minutes at most, so all six of them knew that there wasn't much time left for them.

And right now, Omi was already outside this stone forest.

Omi chased the trail all the way here.

Omi also quickly entered the stone forest, and now that Omi had the experience of killing demon beasts and had weapons that could harm them, Omi wasn't so afraid of demon beasts anymore.

"Roar." As soon as he entered the human stone forest, a demon beast jumped on Omi.

Omi also roared and met it with his sharp claws.

"Swoosh." Omi's figure shifted several times, getting closer to the demon beast bit by bit, and finally, when he found the opportunity, he ruthlessly plunged into the demon beast's skull.

"Puff." The demon beast was killed by Omi and collapsed with a crash.

Omi continued to walk through the stone forest, when Omi saw that not far ahead, the six people from the nine groups were jointly fighting against a powerful demon beast, which was estimated to be three times as strong as Captain Affen.

Omi saw that the six of them seemed to be unable to carry it.

"Team Leader, this demon beast is too strong, we can't kill it."

"Team Leader, let's run away, we can't kill him at all, and now Hu Guangrong has been seriously injured."

"Oooh, Team Leader."

Team Leader Fen, his muscles swelling to the extreme, fiercely confronted the beast, but Fen's strength was not as strong as this beast, and he repelled every collision.

The other team members around them cried out in despair, and Team Leader Fen could hear it, he himself was slowly trying his best.

"Is it, are we really going to be wiped out today?" Captain Fen said with grief and reluctance.

The beast had gained the upper hand and suddenly swept down on the six of them with both claws, in danger.
