

King of kings

Chapter 2376

That fruit-like thing, omi could tell at a glance that it wasn't something ordinary, probably something even better than the Fetal Pill, and needless to say, that sword was definitely a peerless divine weapon.

"Haha." omi was in a good mood, having gained two more great items.

Only, omi was wondering why no one came in. By all means, can't ah, this Beginning Ancient Ruins, it wasn't a very large ruin, it was just a palace with a radius of more than ten miles, it wasn't like other people hadn't found it here yet.

omi didn't want to care about anything, keep looking for anything else.

Right, that stone tablet just now, omi also took away a piece of it.

omi continued his search.

This palace complex, ninety-nine percent of it, was already very dilapidated, so it was not certain if he could find anything good again.

omi searched and searched for several days.

But still, he hadn't met a single person from outside.

"Damn, evil." Where did omi know that right now, at the other entrance to the relic, that entrance had already turned black, which meant that the entrance to the relic had already closed.

Every time the relic opened, it wasn't for a long time, and those people, didn't enter the relic within a limited amount of time. Remember the URL . kanshu8 . net omi searched the entire palace complex, every corner, to make sure he couldn't find anything.

omi had to lie down and take a break.

omi took out a bowl and poured out a night's worth of Hong Meng Qi liquid.

"Knock knock knock." omi drank a large bowl down.

"Wow."

"Cool."

omi couldn't describe the feeling of drinking the Hong Meng Qi one bowl at a time, it was truly a top-notch experience.

omi felt that his body was expanding, but not really, as if his body had entered the clouds.

omi's entire body was heating up.

"Ahhhh." omi shouted out in comfort, having the pain of a drunken maniac.

Then, omi exhaled and fell asleep, omi told himself that he couldn't sleep, but he still slept.

omi didn't know how long it took, but anyway, when he woke up, he found that he had reached the Golden Immortal, and he had broken through the Golden Immortal barrier.

"Phew."

"Golden Immortal, hehe, I drank a big bowl of Hong Meng Qi liquid, it's risen so much ah, I don't know if I can drink it again."

But omi felt that he couldn't drink any more because he was a bit dizzy when he stood up, perhaps, with his physique, he couldn't withstand so much Hong Meng Qi power in a short time.

"There's no hurry, I still have so much Hong Meng Qi, a whole well of it, there must be tens of thousands of bowls of Hong Meng Qi liquid, after I go back, I'm going to make all of my loved ones drink a big bowl of it, after I resurrect all of my loved ones, hahaha."

Tens of thousands of bowls, omi had enough to drink all of his dead relatives.

omi took out the fruit he had obtained earlier again, it wasn't much, there were only a few dozen grains in total, omi didn't eat this fruit right away, or take it later.

"I'm almost ready to withdraw, although I don't know why the people outside didn't come in, but I've searched the place all over, there's nothing left."

omi returned along the road to the palace where he came in.

When at the bottom of that palace, omi looked up and saw that the entrance that he came in before, disappeared.

"Ah.

Gone? Fuck, I can't get out?" omi was shocked.

Having no choice but to wait here, omi was sure that it would open again.

At that moment, omi saw the statue of the unknown creature that he had touched before.

When he had touched it before, it was electrocution-like and also came with an unknown message, omi went up to it again and touched that statue.

It felt like an electric shock and an unknown message came from it.

"Barang and see Hagon splash wax mo shivers." Don read it out as well.

In the next second, the miracle happened again.

An inexplicable creature suddenly appeared in front of omi's eyes.

"Ah."omi panicked and backed away, this inexplicable creature, its eyes staring at omi, then rushed up towards omi.

omi immediately used the newly obtained Yonder Divine Sword and slashed it.

"Dang."A huge clash sound was made.

The creature looked a bit like a sheep and didn't seem to have any offensive power, more like it was eating something that could greatly tonic.

After being cut down by omi, the creature didn't dare to come up here and looked at omi vigilantly.

omi took out the stone tablet that he had harvested earlier.

Then, the sheep-like creature suddenly disappeared, and omi looked down to see that the stone tablet in his hand had, at some point, carved a 'sheep' like creature.

"Ah."omi was surprised, this stone tablet was amazing, those who didn't know, thought that a creature was really carved on the stone tablet.

omi secretly said, "Could it be that I'm using this thing and even immortals can give it an engraving?For example, I say an incantation to the Immortal Emperor, the Immortal Emperor disappears, and there's an additional Immortal Emperor on the stone tablet."

"Hahaha."omi laughed with pleasure, but he knew that it was definitely impossible because that Immortal Emperor at least possessed the Heart of Hongmeng.That Hongmeng's Heart couldn't be worse than this stone tablet, no matter what.

No matter what, this stone tablet was a good thing, and definitely a great weapon, and in the future, whoever dared to mess with omi, omi would carve him on the stone tablet.

Also, that statue, omi also took it away, this statue is also something that can be carved on, the sheep just came out of this statue.

omi waited and waited for almost a year, finally, above that palace, once again, a gap appeared, through that gap, omi could see the sky outside.

"Good chance, I have to get out quickly."omi leapt and climbed out of that gap.

"Phew, finally got out."omi let out a deep breath.

At this moment, on the other side of the entrance, there was another fight.

Perhaps every single one of their forces was too eager to get what was inside the ruins, so they all fought to the death.

After all, that well's Hong Meng Qi definitely made any power jealous, and they all seemed to know that this Beginning Ancient Relic must have something good.

omi did not circle back to the original spot, quickly detouring from the side and then leaving from afar.

omi took the lead all the way back to the French Dynasty, not that he still wanted to continue back to the French Dynasty.

omi had obtained so many things, and next, there should be a plan, but he was too late in practicing his Lotus Pillow Body Refining Method, unable to resurrect his loved ones.

Of course, omi himself was still weak.

Perhaps, omi should make good use of what he had obtained and make himself strong first.
