

King of kings

2425

When the Ten Thousand Violet Great Sage heard this, his gaze turned, and he said in his heart, "Even they have become Omi's men, so it doesn't seem to be a shame for me to be Omi's men, as I said before."

The Ten Thousand Violet Great Sage's strength was only ranked in the top ten in the Earth Immortal Realm, about ninth, so the Ten Thousand Violet Great Sage didn't feel ashamed when those who were stronger than him all became Omi's men.

The pill laughed loudly and said, "Omi, don't forget, I'm also one of your men."

"Ah, Great Sage, this."

"Come on, they're willing to be your men anyway, so what else can't I be."

The Dragon King chuckled, "Alright, Omi, you kid, you've taken in so many men, is this a preparation for a comeback?"

Omi said awkwardly, "Grandpa Dragon, I hadn't thought about that either, but mainly, the current Immortal Emperors are somehow so much more powerful, and I really don't know how hard it is to make a comeback."

The Dragon King nodded and said, "I've also already heard about it, it seems that this cuckold emperor, has finally started to use his Hong Meng heart."

"Grandpa, what does this mean?" Omi asked.

The Sun Bidding Palace Master was also puzzled, "Dragon King, you seem to know quite a lot about the Immortal Emperor's Hong Meng Heart."

In fact, no one else knew much about the Hong Meng Heart, and the Dragon King was the oldest qualified and longest lived among their kingly forces, arguably, the closest to the Immortal Emperor's generation. One second to remember to read the book

The Dragon King chuckled, "This is not the time to talk, I'll talk to you guys some other time."

"Fine."

Omi asked, "Grandpa Dragon, are you guys planning to go somewhere?"

"Yes, the Ten Thousand Violet Great Sage and I were discussing, now that our home is gone, our clan is gone, and our flesh is destroyed, there is no worse time than now, so we plan to, take a walk to the legendary Evil God's Ruins."

The divine nun on the side was shocked, "Evil God's ruins."

The Dragon King laughed, "Sun-daughter-in-law, you also know about this place."

The divine nun snorted, "Nonsense, I also suggested to Omi before that I was planning to go to the Evil God's Ruins, but unfortunately, because his relatives couldn't be placed, that's why I postponed it until now and couldn't move."

"It seems that you are somewhat knowledgeable and actually know about this place."

The divine nun seemed to have some grievances about the Dragon King calling her granddaughter-in-law, after all, Omi was much younger than her, and even though she was Omi's woman, she didn't want to be pulled down in rank because of his young age.

The bidding Palace Master said, "Dragon King, what is that Evil God's Relic?"

"Haha, this place, in a word, I don't know."

"Er."

The Lord of the Baily Palace asked Godni, "Do you know, Kit?"

"I don't know, I've heard that I can train, that's all I know, and also, although this is a ruin, it's not a normal ruin."

"Oh, where are the Evil God's ruins? Did the Immortal Emperor run off to kill us?"

"No, no one knows exactly where the Evil God's ruins are, only that it's in the uninhabited area to the west. Immortal Emperors wouldn't venture into the uninhabited area."

"That's really a nice place." Omi said.

However, Omi became depressed at the thought of his relatives having nowhere to go, and the divine nun said that that place would be useless even if they were collected in the Qiankun Stone Tablet.

At that moment, the Dragon King said, "Omi, you don't have to worry, the Immortal Emperor can't even sense your past lives, your relatives are all closely connected to your past lives, his root

Ben won't be able to find it, and besides, the levels of your relatives are too low for the Immortal Emperor to be interested yet. If you really can't, when the time comes, find a safe place to hide at the edge of the Western No Man's Land, I think it will be fine."

"We'll see."

The Destroyer Patriarch said, "Then let's hurry up and leave, we have nowhere to go anyway, so why don't we take a trip to some Evil God's ruins, if we die, let's pretend we were killed by the Immortal Emperor, and if we come back alive, maybe we'll be stronger."

Everyone agreed, but only the Dragon King felt, inside, difficult, because, only the Dragon King understood that Hong Meng's heart.

Just at this moment, a man flew in not far away.

"Uncle." That person called out to the Dragon King.

When Omi took a look, it was none other than the Dragon Bone War God.

The Dragon Bone War God had escaped quickly last time and his flesh body was not destroyed.

The Thunder Valley Master said at once, "Isn't this the Immortal Emperor's right-hand man, the Dragon Bone War God?"

The Dragon Bone War God glared, "Thunder Valley Master, you less talk sarcasm in front of me, you f*cking don't even have a physical body, right now I can perfectly pinch you."

Thunder Valley Lord said, "A dog still needs to see its master, this, my master." The Thunder Valley Lord pointed at Omi.

The Dragon Bone War God looked at Omi and snorted, "How come it's you again, you've caused the death of countless of my fellow Dragon Clan members, and now you appear before me, what exactly are your intentions."

The Dragon Bone War God seemed to hate Omi quite a bit.

Omi greeted, "Hi, Dragonbone."

"Don't get close to me."

The Dragon King advised, "Come on, Dragon Bone, it's already happened, besides, the destruction of our dragon clan can't be counted on Omi's head."

"Uncle, why are you still siding with this kid just because he's the man your dead granddaughter likes?"

"Dragonbone, don't get excited."

"Uncle, if you and the Ten Thousand Violet Sage hadn't accompanied him to lobby for an alliance, the Immortal Emperor wouldn't have destroyed the ecology of our Dragon Clan and the Ten Thousand Violet Mountain, we also."

The Dragon King said, "Also what? Can't you see that the Horned Goat Sacred Ground, the Dark God Palace, the Earth Demon Clan, the Yan Religion, the Green Man Family, and the Valley of Thunder have all been wiped out? We're not just two starters."

"Er." The Dragonbone War God seemed to have nothing more to say.

The Dragon King said, "Alright, we're getting ready to head west, any of you who want to come with me."

Everyone said they were willing to go.

Gao Xiaolian said, "There's strength in numbers, how about getting the few remaining people, as well as the Earth Demon Clan Leader, Fa Wu Tian, the Green Man Old King, and a few people from the Heavenly Demon Old Demon."

The Dragon King thought about it and nodded, "Fine, but it shouldn't be hard to find them, they are also on the edge of these uninhabited areas."

A year later, Omi and the others arrived at the edge of the Western No Man's Land.

There, they ran into the Earth Demon Clan Leader and the Old Heavenly Demon.

"Haha, Earth Demon Clan Leader, long time no see." Everyone went up to greet them.

Only Omi wasn't too familiar with them.

The Dragon King said, "Let me introduce you, this is Omi, I'm sure the rest of you don't need to be introduced."

The Earth Demon Clan Chief looked at Omi and smiled, "I didn't expect that the person who was rumored very loudly before was you, Omi, I've heard a lot about you."

"Earth Demon Clan Leader, you're welcome."

Old Heavenly Demon also came up and said to Omi, "Brother Tang, hello."

"Oh, hello."
