Chapter 31: The South Transforms into a Kindergarten

The channel became larger again, because his strength had become stronger during this period.

However, Luther was still crushed to pieces. After falling to the ground, the Doomsday gene quickly restored Luther's body and reshaped it at a speed visible to the naked eye.

"Doomsday's cells are full of energy again, no, it is releasing stronger energy!"

Luther felt that the cells in his body that were originally consumed by the time travel were full of energy again, and doubled than before.

The reappearing Luther took a look around and knew that he was still on Broly's planet.

"The electronic clock in the laboratory shows that a month has passed... It's different from Marvel? The flow of time is not opposite."

Luther was thoughtful. It only took one second to go back to Marvel from Dragon Ball, but it took a month to go from Marvel to Dragon Ball?

This is still a month on Broly's planet, and I don't know how long it has been on Dragon Ball's Earth.

"I didn't return to Earth, so let's try my guess."

Luther felt that his ability to travel should not only be used to travel through the world.

So he began to try to use the ability of travel to return to Dragon Ball's Earth!

The super brain analyzed, and the super senses observed the changes in itself in detail.

Then Luther's whole body was seen shining with golden light!

The next moment, his whole body was particled and disappeared.

The passage was so wide that it seemed that the whole earth could be stuffed in. Luther easily passed through the passage and reappeared in the laboratory of the Universal Capsule Company.

He half-knelt on the ground, and only consumed a tiny part of his energy to cross such a long distance.

Standing up again, Luther found that there was no one in the laboratory. He thought about it and left the laboratory without contacting the people of the Universal Capsule Company.

"It turns out that a year has passed on Earth."

After figuring out the current time, Luther took out the Dragon Ball Radar as soon as possible. No matter what time it is, of course, he would first master the seven dragon balls.

Then Luther found that several of the seven dragon balls were staying together, and it was obvious that someone was collecting dragon balls.

He flew over and found that it was someone he didn't know, so he took the dragon balls away at super speed without alarming them.

The remaining dragon balls were in an unmanned corner and were taken by Luther.

Last time, because he was focused on Broly, Luther ignored many good things in Dragon Ball, such as teleportation, the transformation technique of the Southern Transformation Kindergarten, and the superpower of stopping time by stopping breathing in the Ginyu Force in the Dragon Ball world.

The magic in Dragon Ball is also very interesting, such as the magic of Majin Buu that can turn people into various foods and clay.

Luther got the Dragon Ball in order to go directly to Namek. He wanted to get the more powerful Namek Dragon Ball to make a wish. Three wishes, even if they can only work on one person, are much more powerful.

If you learn all the superpowers and magic in the Dragon Ball world through the Namek Dragon Ball, it will be a big improvement.

However, Luther put the Dragon Ball into the universal capsule first. He plans to go to the Southern Transformation Kindergarten to learn the transformation technique first.

From the fact that the Southern Transformation Kindergarten recruits students, it can be seen that their transformation technique can be learned.

However, the audience and readers only see Oolong and Poole. Maybe there are many people who can transform in places that cannot be seen.

Luther obtained information about the entire earth through super hearing. After the super brain analyzed it, Luther knew the location of the Southern Transformation Kindergarten. Then he appeared above the Southern Transformation Kindergarten and took classes with the children who were learning the transformation technique.

With Luther's super brain, he learned the transformation technique in less than a few minutes.

"Transform!"

Luther tried to transform, and then he turned into a huge robot 50 meters tall.

"The complete transformation technique can have the characteristics of transformation. Wu Long's incomplete transformation, after turning into a missile, can exceed Sun Wukong's somersault cloud... But I am too strong, so the characteristics of the transformation are affected by myself."

Think about it, how destructive is a 50-meter-tall Kryptonian?

For a complete transformation technique, the transformation time depends on the consumption of physical and mental strength, and there is no limit to the number of transformations. If the physical and mental strength are sufficient, you can transform whenever you want, and it is no problem to transform multiple times in one second.

For Luther, who has the physique of Doomsday + Kryptonian, he can have as much physical and mental strength as he wants.

"Well, next is... the Red Ribbon Army."

Last time, Luther was too busy to find Dr. Gro. This time, it was different. He had enough time to make the entire Red Ribbon Army his own.

An evil army that aims to conquer the world. The entire army is divided into several units, each of which is commanded and managed by a cadre and operates under the command of the commander-in-chief.

The troops often threaten local residents to do physical labor in the jurisdiction area.

With abundant funds and powerful military weapons, it is known as "the most evil army in the world."
