

Kryptonian 34

Chapter 34: Unbelievable Wish

"I know, Luther."

The great elder smiled and nodded, and then he asked Nailu to ask the elders of each village to send the dragon beads over.

"Great Elder!"

Nairu glanced at Luther and said uneasily.

Before, he felt that he could crush Luther to death at any time, but now, he felt that Luther could crush him to death at will, so he was very worried about the safety of the great elder.

"Don't worry, Neru, if he had really bad intentions, he could do it now."

The great elder said.

Nailu was still not reassured, but finally went to inform the other elders.

"I suggest you, Great Elder, create more fighting Namekians. I have a special ability and can see the future. In the future, Namek will be destroyed at the hands of the Universe Emperor Frieza."

Luther thought for a while and finally told the information.

"Really, Luther, you are such a good boy."

When the great elder heard this, he was thoughtful, and then said to Luther with a smile.

Luther also had his own little thoughts. The Namekians were really outrageous.

In the original plot, Piccolo, a weak scumbag with less than 10,000 combat power, merged with Neru, a Namek with 42,000 combat power, and became a 1.1 million combat power!

I don't know how many times this has been multiplied, but what follows is even more outrageous. Piccolo can crush the cyborg that even a Super Saiyan can't beat after assimilating it with a god, completely destroying Cell's first form.

The assimilation of three combat-type Namekians can reach this level. If the Great Elder listens to Luther and creates more combat-type Namekians, Frieza will probably have to face a warrior with a combat power of one. Billion Super Namekians!

"I know that the Namekians have the ability to assimilate the surge in strength, and Frieza is powerful beyond imagination. Even after merging Naru with a fighting Namekian, he is no match. I think the best thing is to be able to create more Assimilate the fighting Namekians to deal with Frieza."

Luther had already told it, so he simply continued to tell the great elder more information.

The Great Elder didn't speak, thinking about whether Luther could be trusted, but even Namekians knew that they could assimilate each other and become stronger, so it seemed that Luther's words were trustworthy.

The great elder was even more shaken by a powerful enemy that neither Neru nor a fighting Namekian could deal with.

By the time Neru brought the Dragon Balls back, the Great Elder had already made a decision. He wanted to create more fighting Namekians!

He also knows about the Universe Emperor Frieza, and there is also a Frieza Legion, so more fighting Namekians are needed to protect the Namekians!

"Little Luther, tell me your wish."

The great elder asked Neru to summon the Namekian dragon Polunga, and then said to Luther.

Luther was unable to learn the Namekian language through telepathic communication in a short period of time, and could only make wishes through the Great Elder and Neru. He also knew that this was a restriction imposed on him by the Great Elder.

"My first wish is to get the super power in the universe!"

Luther's first wish made the elder's eyes widen, mainly because he had never seen such a daring wish.

"Little Luther, are you sure you want this wish?"

The great elder couldn't help but ask.

"Yes, Great Elder."

Luther nodded.

So Neru told Polunga what Luther wanted.

The next moment, Polunga answered.

"I'm sorry, this wish is beyond my ability. Please make other wishes."

Neru translated and told Luther.

"Then let me learn all the magic in the universe!"

"I'm sorry, this wish is beyond my ability. Please make other wishes."

"Give me a spiritual tree seed, the kind that can be planted, not dead."

After Luther was rejected again, he suddenly made an unrelated wish.

Nailu was stunned, but he repeated Luther's wish.

This time Polunga did not refuse. Along with the light, a seed fell into Luther's hand.

"What is this and why did he wish for this?"

Nailu and the Great Elder were very curious about this question, but obviously Luther would not tell them.

The spirit tree is also called the spirit tree.

"This fruit was originally food that only gods could eat."

"After the tree takes root, it will absorb all the nutrients from the earth and bear fruit, but the land on this planet will turn into a barren desert. After hundreds of years, not even a single blade of grass will grow on the land."

Dales was able to open up the Kaiou Fist ten times after eating one, and Sun Wukong had a fighting power of 30,000, which shows how deep the potential of this thing is.

However, Luther does not think that there is no upper limit for the fruits of the spiritual tree and can be infinitely strengthened.

Just kidding, if he was really that powerful, Dales wouldn't have had so little fighting power before he met Sun Wukong and the others.

The most reasonable conjecture is that the earth's vitality is stronger than imagined, and the fruits of the spiritual trees that absorb this vitality are stronger than those on other planets, which is why Dales and the others have become so terrifyingly strong.

In other words, the quality and quantity of the planet's vitality determine the quality of the fruit of the spiritual tree.

And since it is food eaten by gods, the upper limit is probably the level of a god, but I don't know whether it is a Kaioshin or a Great Kaioshin.

After all, when Kaioshin first came out in the original plot, Piccolo exclaimed that he was invincible and surrendered directly.

The fighting ability is definitely much stronger than that of Dales.

But it doesn't matter. Luther thinks he can study purification, extraction and synthesis to make better strengthening potions!

Maybe he can also study it with Super Divine Water, Marvel's heart-shaped grass and other good things from other worlds.

Carefully putting the seed into a capsule, Luther began to think about what he wanted. The remaining two wishes can't be wasted.

"I want learning materials on magic in the entire universe, including the demon world and the god world!"

Neru is numb. Does he feel that Luther's wish is okay?

However, can he really learn the magic encyclopedia of the entire universe?

"Your wish has been fulfilled."

Originally, Luther thought that this wish might not be realized. Unexpectedly, Porunga was so powerful that he directly instilled the magic knowledge of the entire universe into him!

Ordinary people probably died of brain overload.

But Luther completely absorbed it and began to browse it. Then he found the magic used by Majin Buu, which might be from the Kai King God he swallowed.

Transformation magic! It can also be called transformation, which can turn living things into anything you want. After all, Majin Buu can turn people into clay, so obviously anything can be transformed.