

A Love Forgotten (Arianna and Elijah)

Chapter 261

Chapter 261

Jonathan and Logan continued squabbling all the way home.

Once Jonathan was provoked by Logan, he said that he would transfer ownership of his newly bought sports car to me. I don't want that Logan pressed my hand down and grieved. "Why not? Your brother is filthy rich. You'd be silly not to accept it

Jonathan warned. "There are only tens units of that sports car in the entire world. Don't allow any random person, especially this prick, to drive it." They were giving me a headache coldly, Logan added, "Who cares? I've driven a useless car like that ten years ago

Jonathan stifled a laugh in anger. "It cost seven million dollars I pre-booked it two years ago!"

Logan responded, "Oh, I see "

Jonathan became frustrated. "What did you mean by that? Say something!"

Logan remained seated relaxedly and glanced at him lazily. "What I meant was that I see that this car is the only thing that you can put forward"

Jonathan lost it upon hearing that. "What do you mean that this car is the only thing that I can put forward? I, too, have things that are better than this car.

Logan took his phone out. He casually tapped on a page, then handed his phone to him

Jonathan took a brief glance at it and frowned. "What is this. Sunneby's auction website. This redface."

I couldn't help but steal a peek from the corner of my eye. An emerald necklace was displayed on that page. Written beneath it was its appraised value. There were so many zeros that it made my jaw drop. Jonathan understood what was happening right away. He flung Logan's phone back to him

"Sude, continue putting on an act! Are you saying that you want to purchase this for An?"

Logan tapped his well-defined fingers on the screen of his phone,

"Yeah. What's the mater? Do you think that I won't be able to afford it?"

Jonathan choked and kept quiet after that. Indeed, Logan could afford it. As for himself. It was true that he wouldn't be able to afford it.

Sering as both of them had come to a pause in their arguments, 1 quickly chimed in, 'Jon, don't be mal I'm really happy that you're giving me the car. But I can't drive

Jonathan was taken aback "Didn't you already get your ense?"

Jonathan's anger was igruted once again, thank to Logan's gaze. He tilted his chin upward and asked, "What are you looking at? I'm pampering my sister by giving her a luxury car Can't she just look at it if the's unable to dine in Jonathan got rely annoyed "h? What's that "ch' fo Konchalantly, Logan replied, "What I'm trying to say is that you're not getting it right when it comes to pampering your sister. I, on the other hand, have also prepared a driver for her.

The pin on Jonathan's face darkened

I was truly afraid that they would end up lighting in the cat. 1 interjected immediately, "Stop arguing I'm getting a headliche."

Jonathan became anxious "You're having a headache? Where does it hurt?"

I shuttled Logan beard some noce, and he looked up from his laptop and in my direction at first, his gaze was sharp and frigid. The moment he saw that it was me, that iciness of his melted into a warm tenderness.

He pulled the hem of my pajamas between my fingers. After a moment of hesitation, I walked toward him obediently.

He extended his arms and pulled me into an embrace.

I would no longer feel the chill in the air. Instead, I snuggled comfortably in his arms.

Our etiquette. I asked, "Logan, are you still working?"

"Yeah," he answered. He found a comfortable position by resting his chin on the top of my head. Then, he continued working on his laptop.

He worked on his laptop with speed. He browsed through the pages one by one. Even when he typed, he was able to type out a number of lines just by running his fingers across the keyboard. He checked his engine data on the keyboard as he typed it was engaging. So many good-looking men were pleasing to look at. More than that, they were downright attractive when they worked.

I took a glance at it and realized that it was an old-fashioned dress designed in Crystal Trenton's style. It gave off a feeling of elegance.

Logan nodded. "I'm taking you to meet my mom the day after tomorrow. I need to choose an outfit for you." Jerking of servonnis rose within me instantly. "Or... shall I just meet her another time?"

Suddenly, I was reminded of Norman's warning. "He's able to find out about whatever he wants to look into."

I wasn't aware of what Logan had learned about that night. But my instincts told me not to let him know that I remembered the dealings between Elijah and Mr. Hall. As for why that was... I rubbed my forehead, "Who's Mr. Hati? I don't know who he is Dangan's hands froze. After a long while, he gave a human-like response coldly. He no longer said anything else after that.

I was really tempted to question him loudly, just like Jonathan did to ask him what that response meant. However, it seemed like the atmosphere around us had come to a standstill. Finally, Logan diverted the topic "Let's go to Silverwood's studio tomorrow to try out the necklace. Then, you can match it with that necklace."

I was stunned in shock. "You've actually bought it?"

With a slight smile on his face, Logan nodded.

Chapter 263

I was even more flustered "Weren't you just showing off to Jon earlier today? How did you purchase it so quickly?"

Did he manage to purchase it when he was showing off to Jonathan in the car?

That wasn't right. Even if he had auctioned Sunneby's necklace right off their website, there was no way that he could get his hands on it so soon.

I was an idiot Logan saw through my questions. He tapped his fingers lightly "Silly girl of course, I had Camden purchase it two weeks ago. I happened to receive it today."

So far so good, he pressed his finger on the fingerprint lock at his desk. A drawer slid open automatically, revealing a black exquisite-looking box within.

I smiled gratefully. In an earnest voice, I said, "Thank you." He smiled and said, "No need to thank me. Anyway, were you serious about giving me that watch?"

I felt a twinge in the stomach. "What would you like to have as a gift?" Logan tilted his head and pondered a moment. He answered, "In that case, I'd like to have Mr. Patton's latest mechanical watch

My heart raced at the moment I heard that. I forced myself to smile. "Okay. How much is it?"

With a slight smile on his face, Logan replied. "At least ten million dollars."

Logan's face when he saw my reaction added. "But it's really fun to buy mechanical watches made by Mr. Patton himself. How about this? I'll give you Lora sighed "I that know. The pile of items outside is all wrapped up nicely. Hurry up and take a look

Chapter 265

I dashed out of my room. As Lora described, there was a pile of gift boxes from various brands in the living room.

The gift boxes taking up almost all of the space on the table and the couch. If it wasn't because the living room was spacious, this place would have become really cramped up. I was astounded by all these gifts. I walked around all the gift boxes, feeling uncertain of where to begin. With a smile on her face, Lora encouraged from beside, "Hurry up and open them. I'm sure that Mr. Wood has given you lots of nice things to come from, Ms. York."

I picked up a blue-colored box. I examined the logo printed on it. It was from a luxury brand. I opened the box and saw a watch that was adorned with diamonds all over. I let out a gasp

Wasn't this the diamond watch from the "Starry Night" series that this brand released?

All of a sudden, I lost the awe to the other gifts. All of those boxes looked to be really expensive. Could we still refund them if I didn't unbox them?

Lora cocked her head from beside. She complimented, "That looks stunning Ms. York, hurry up and try it on."

H

I put the watch on carefully. Sure enough, the brightness of the diamond watch complemented the fairness of my skin very well

Lora examined it for a while. "Well, Ms. York, you've got really fair skin. This watch looks really good on you."

After a brief search, I actually couldn't find its price tag, in a soft voice, I said, "Lora, this watch is really expensive."

Lora asked. "How is this expensive to Mr. Wood?"

My excitement from earlier vanished. I snapped. "Take them back I don't want any of them!"

This was such a party pooper I actually got excited over gifts that were not from Logan

Norman seemed to have been startled by me turning him down. "Why don't you want them? They're all really expensive,"

I protested. "I was just wondering who sent these to me. Logan would never give me gifts like these."

"Laina?" Norman got so red up that he became tongue-tied. "How dare you say that the gifts I gave to you are lame? Have you even unboxed them? They're all luxurious items from the latest trend!
