

A Love Forgotten (Arianna and Elijah)

Chapter 271

Chapter 271

Logan sensed my unease and held my hand protectively. "Don't be scared." Then, he led me and walked leisurely to the grand hall, which had even brighter li lights.

I took a deep breath before I follow him. The last thing I had expected was to walk right into the biggest challenge I had faced ever since I lost my memories. The wedding of a wealthy and powerful man was a stressful and treacherous one, and I was simply too naive to foresee it. Better Logan and I reached the grand hall, I already saw several guests wearing formal attire in the hallway, chatting and chuckling away.

I took a look at the grand hall, and the lights in there shone brighter. There were a lot of people here, and they were all dressed to the nines. There was an exquisite pastry station by the entrance, which was decorated with fresh flowers.

At that moment, it felt as if I had just walked into a television drama set in the 1940s. Logan took a look at my outfit and felt relieved that I was dressed appropriately for the occasion. If I had been a model, then I might've humiliated myself.

After all, this was the first time I was meeting the members of the Wood family. I could be the laughingstock for the rest of my life if I tried too hard.

"You're finally here. Logan!" Atamilun's voice in the distance hooked over and found myself looking at Ruby. When she saw me, Logan nodded at her calmly and intended to bring me inside.

Her expression became unusual.

Ruby blocked me off and asked, "What are you doing here?"

I cast a look at her, and she immediately lowered her voice. "You shouldn't have begged her here, Logan. Your mother invited Ms. Lancaster today."

Logan could feel Logan's arm stiffening, but he quickly asked her, "Really? Why didn't she let me know about it?"

Ruby responded in an ingratiating tone. "It just so happens that Ms. Lancaster returned to the country today. Your mother found the timing to be just right. So, she invited her over stepped into the grand hall, I was dazed by the various vibrant lights. The once familiar living room had been completely transformed.

All furniture was removed from the hall, except the long rectangular dining table. It was covered with a white tablecloth featuring embroidered local patterns, and exquisite silverware was laid out on each seat. There were delicate bouquets as well. Several noble ladies were sitting around Mrs. Wood, chaffing with her enthusiastically. She originated from the southern part of the country. So, she was very elegant and graceful. There was a boan emerald necklace on her neck as well as an emerald bracelet on her wrist.

stinctively looked at the emerald necklace I was wearing, and I finally understood what they meant when they said that certain people exuded an overwhelming sense of opulent elegance. The necklace on Ms. Wood's neck alone was enough for her to outclass every noble lady in Marins City by a landslide.

Logan led me forward, and the people around us fell silent as they cast their gazes our way. All of a sudden, the nervousness I had been feeling vanished into thin air. Perhaps I was so nerous that my heart became numb to L

I noticed Ms. Woodsweeping a quick glance at me before she decidedly dismissed me she rose to her feet with a smile on her face and walked over to Logan gracefully.

"You te heir, Logan Mix Woodshopped in front of him and held his hand. Then, she introduced him to her guess. "This is my son, Logan Wood."

Praises rose in the all, and Logan grinned in response. He proceeded to shake hands and swap pleasantries with some of the guests he knew in person.

Mr. Wood was about to sit him down on the couch, but he suddenly said, "Allow me to introduce, Mum

Before Logan could finish, she was already frowning and looking at me. Het youre was ity and barely loud enough for the three of us to hear it. "Don't be a buzzkill, Logan. I have no interest inking someone who means nothing to us."

In the next moment, my mind seemed to go blank. I couldn't hear anything that was being said after that. The lights intertwined in front of me, bluating my vision,

I wanted to hold onto Logan's arm, but I could hear Huby saying, "Ms. York is with me, te Wood Come on, let's have a chat at the back."

Someone came over to drag me away I wanted to resist, but was gripped tightly by a pair of hands. It was very painful, and I wanted to yell. However, a part of my brain held me back and prevented me from humiliating myself. Logan immediately pulled me to his side and said coldly, "You're getting naughty, Ruby, She's my girlfriend"

Huby decoed a smile and responded, "Huh? Come on, Logan. There's no way that's true,"

What should do?

I realized that I couldn't even utter a single word I couldn't protect myself. >>

1. Mrs. Wood's voice was by when she said, "Young people these days are more and more uncultivated. They don't even greet older people when they see them."

I looked at Mrs Wood's affectionate eyes, which were laced with coldness now, as she stared at me. I parted my lips, but I couldn't say anything

Logan held my hand tightly clearly, he was controlling himself it was time for me to say something. I did my best to squeeze a smile on my face and said, "Hi, Mrs. Wood Fo"

Mrs. Wood suddenly turned around and said to the household staff, "It's almost time. Ask Mix. Lancaster to get down here,"

The household staff responded, "Ms. Lancaster is still taking a nap. She's still adjusting to the time difference"

Ms. Wood smiled lovingly "Gee, I completely forgot about it not you have to wait her up all the same. Tell her that Logan is here. It's been a long time it is the best opportunity for them to reunite a long time since they've met each other. This"

Then, Mrs. Wood said suggestively, "it's all my fault really should've set them up with each other much earlier. I'll never understand why a lady has to study philosophy."

The latter part of my sentence was back in my throat. As I stood behind Logan, I thought I was nothing but a Laughingstock

I wept a frantic glance at the people arounds only to find that the guests were churking and chatting. They were barely aware of my presence, but none of them batted an eye at me

Chapter 273

Titel betove a searing heat set in. It felt like someone had thrown me into an oven before plunging me into an ice cavern.

The Word family's household staff went away to wake up the aforementioned Mrs. Lancaster, Meanwhile, Max Wood turned around and approached the circle of noble ladies before resuming

I heard Logan's voice. "Let's take a seat over there, JulTM

I nodded numbly before I moved my stiffened feet and followed him to a corner of the li

● living room. I didn't realize that I had forgotten to breathe until I took a seat on the chair. This was a huge mistake. I shouldn't have come to this party. Things my head as tears fell in my dress. The fabric was so smooth that they slid right off and disappeared from sight

Logan stood next to me and handed me a piece of tissue quietly. I glanced at him to a second before I quickly lowered my head

At that moment, someone by the stairs said something. A figure in white swiftly darted towards me. She was very slender and graceful, which brought to mind the way a white butterfly glided beautifully in the air.

I raised my head and found myself staring at a lady who was as exquisite as a fairy. She was descending the stairs with a spring in her steps, wearing an extraordinarily white dress. Her long hair cascaded over her back messily, seemingly bobbing with a mind of its own. After I got a good look at Mrs. Lancaster's face, I finally understood what someone with bright eyes and a lovely gaze looked like. She smelled like lilac, and she possessed an ethereal charm.

Mrs. Lancaster wore a plain dress, and she didn't touch up her appearance in the slightest. In fact, she even had some freckles on her face and nose.

She probably got out of her bed immediately after waking up. Then, she probably didn't brush her hair or freshen up before she walked right into the party.

Silence hung over the spacious hall, and everyone couldn't resist fixing their gaze on Mrs. Lancaster. I also couldn't help but look at her skipping and hopping toward us

"Hi, Ms. Wood." Mrs. Lancaster greeted Mr. Wood playfully. Her accent sounded strange, almost as if her tongue hadn't straightened out. It added an air of cuteness and innocence to her

Ms. Lancaster slapped toward Mrs. Wood with a smile on her face. Then, the disregarded everyone's paze and squeezed Mrs Wood's arm

"Owe, I sure missed you, Mrs Wood' Her voice was gentle and warm, making us want to smile along with her.

Mrs. Wood bald Ms. Lancer back happily. She patted her back and said, "Good grief. You're wearing a dress and nothing else. Aren't you cold?"

That was when I realized that Ms. Linciter's back was completely bare. I didn't notice how revealing her dress was because her hair had covered most of it

In fact, no one even found her startled reaction to be undignified

Ms. Lancaster sipped in front of Logan and smiled. She was allout to reach out and hug him when he took a step back. Then, he said calmly, "Oh, you're back" sin dabeled. He wore a cold expression "Yeah. Didn't my mom tell you about it?"

I noticed Lysa's eyes turning red in a matter of a second, and it was my turn to be stunned.

At that moment, Mas Wood came over and held Lysa's shoulders and frowned at Logan. "What did you say to Lysie, Logan?"

Logan's face lit up into a grin, and his tone was laced with sarcasm. "I said what needed to be said. You don't have to go through this much trouble to find me a girlfriend, Mom. I told you a long time ago that I've only men loved a lady." Logan cast a glance at and down

Mrs. Wood patted Lysa's shoulder, comforting her, "Don't listen to his nonsense. This lady isn't his girlfriend, and she will never be."

Mrs. Wood looked at me and said coldly, "Please remember the bond between our families and stay out of my family's business, Ms. York."

I finally found my voice. "Thank you for overstepping my boundaries, Mas Wood"

Mrs. Wood noted how dejected and polite I was, and her tone softened considerably. "I'm aware that you're facing some issues lately, Ms. York. However, that's none of our concern. If you need any assistance, then the Wood family will gladly lend you a hand. But.." Mrs. Wood chuckled a little before she continued, "My son is going to marry Lysa."

Chapter 275

Chapter 275

I couldn't hear anything Mrs. Wood said next. It was as if someone covered my ears, causing everything to sound vague and far away

Then, my vision started blurring, and there was a ringing in my ears. It was the first time I had been humiliated in such a thorough and brutal manner reminded me of the moment when my mom brought me to our neighbor's house. I was five years old, and I was in the middle of a tooth transition period. However, I couldn't help but in the end, our neighbor's so caught me red-handed. It was a similar feeling to what I was experiencing now.

They ridiculed me for having no self-respect and becoming a thief, stealing something that didn't belong to me. Their laughter grew louder by the second in my mind

It seemed that Logan said something before dragging me away from the party and taking me home. When we were in the car, I slowly regained my composure. Logan was staring at me with unblinking eyes. I rubbed my eyes and said, "I'm fine, Logan."

He let out a long sigh and pulled me into his arms. "I'm sorry"

I was actually in the mood to make a joke at his expense. "The great Logan just apologized to me. Now, that's something you don't see every day."

Logan shook his head. "This isn't funny, Ari-not one HE"

The smile on my face gradually appeared. He was right. It wasn't funny at all. Nothing about what happened today was funny. If anything, I was the butt of the joke. I'd even go so far as to say the joke itself

I took off my hairpin quietly and removed my necklace before leaning on my seat. Logan's expression shifted. "What's the meaning of this, Ari?"

I shook my head. "It's nothing I just want to take a breath."

Logan observed my expression meticulously and solemnly before he instructed the driver to get into the car and drive us away.

I looked out the window as the scenery sped past me and slowly shut my weary eyes.

Back in the Wood residence, the luxurious party was still going on. The music was graceful, and the female party guests donned exquisite outfits. However, some of the more observant guests noticed that the Lady of the house wasn't smiling at all

At the same time, some esteemed guests didn't see a person who should be at the party, the CEO of Wood Group-Logan Wood

When the party commenced, the Lady of the house merely delivered a brief and formulaic speech before she disappeared. The esteemed guests lowered their voices in Marina City as they snored the delicious meal voices and discussed the recent

All of a sudden, one of the extremely wealthy noble Lathes said in a moderate voice, "bet. I did so her. In fact, I saw her today when Mr. Wood brought her to Silverwood Enterprises. I've seen too many of her kind. They love making connections with powerful and wealthy men who have a higher social status. Her ex-husband is from the Linden family, and he's also an heir "Now, they're already divorced Let me tell you, their divorce is aburring one. You can find their names on gossip news" Mrs. Cardenas was enthusiastically spreading the scandalous news she read in the gossip columns earlier

"Women like her are hotheads, and there's a lot of unfavorable news about her. She splashed liquor on someone during a ceremony. She also jumped from a building and into the ocean. Also, she seemed to have seduced a top management employee of her supplies." "Gosh, is than who she really l

"This can't be possible The Work family is quite reputable, but she has ruined it."

The esteemed guests on the side of Mrs Cardenas swapped glances, and they saw a burning interest for gossip in each other's eyes.

The Wood family was one of the wealthiest families among the high society in Marina City.

Chapter 276

Chapter 276

The Wood family had always been strict and mindful of their reputation. Never was there any scandalous news about them Now, however, an indecent lady clung onto their current her tightly.

It was no wonder that Vera didn't intend to entertain the guests she invited herself

Back on the second floor of the Wood residence, Vera was on an overseas phone call with a grim expression. It was a call from Zachariah Wood. A loyal butler had already informed him about what had happened earlier.

Zach was on the phone, and his voice was cold when he asked, "How are you going to handle today's mess?"

Vera protested nonchalantly. "Your son is extremely rebellious, Zachariah. Why are you asking me about my way of handling it instead of calling him and ripping into him?"

Zachariah responded in a cold and aloof tone, "You have five minutes to explain the situation to me."

Vera said calmly. "There's nothing to explain here. Logan can't marry that lady. I won't let that happen, even if she has divorced her ex-husband. That lady isn't even divorced now. I've put out the feelers, and she has done questionable things since long ago on top of that, she has caused the Linden family a great deal of humiliation."

"That's why none of the Lindens care. How is someone like her supposed to be Logan's wife, Zachariah? Who's the one with a screw loose, me or Logan?" Zachariah responded nonchalantly, "Neither of us has lost our minds, but there is an issue now. I'm only interested in knowing what you're going to do next."

She fell silent for two seconds before she said. "The only course of action is to make Logan gradually give up on Ariana."

Zachariah seemed to have chuckled on the other side of the phone.

The calm in Vera's voice finally began to crack. "What do you mean by that? Tell me exactly what's on your mind and stop giving me ambiguous responses like that all the time!" Zachariah responded calmly, "What I'm saying is that I hope your wish comes true. Then, he hung up the phone."

Verlooked at the darkened phone screen. She had done her best to hold herself together, but she was starting to lose it. With that said, she quickly pushed her ruined mood aside and walked outside with her head held high. Anger and fears had no place in the wealthy and powerful families. Vera had never failed at getting what she wanted if she set her mind to it. That was why she was certain to win this tug-of-war with Logan.

If Logan was being difficult, then she would take Ariana out of the picture. She might look exquisite and charming, but it wasn't hard to see that she was a complete icon. After she arrived at home, Logan stayed back. This was the first time something like this had happened.

that she would

Meanwhile, I removed my makeup and took the dress the moment I stepped foot into my place. I took a hot shower and was able to cry my heart out when the hot water fell on me,

I took a long time in the bathroom. I came out after a long time and dried my hair. Huge wisps of steam rushed outside, and I didn't notice that Logan was sitting in my room. Just as I was about to take off my towel, he cleared his throat.

Logan almost scared the out of me. I clutched my towel and looked more catally. When I was sure that it was him, my face reddened from anger. "What are you doing in my room?" Logan rubbed his cheek. I was worried that something might happen to you in the bathroom. "Why would anything happen to me in there?" I didn't sound confident at all. After all, I did shower for a long time.

Lepan walked over, which caused me to hurriedly take some steps back. Then, he caressed my cheek and asked, "Did you cry

I removed his hand from my face awkwardly. "N-Not at all took a long bath in there. That's all Water.. No, shampoo got into my eyes."

Chapter 277

Chapter 277

I immediately ducked out of Logan's reach and sat at the dressing table to dry my hair. I also wrapped myself tightly with a bathrobe.. Logan on the chair next to me and stated at me in silence. Feeling diffident, I didn't dare to look at him, but my heart was in turmoil. All of a sudden, Logan took the towel away from me and helped me dry my hair.

I was at a loss for words. He was being very gentle with it. First, he let the towel absorb droplets from the tips of my hair. Then, he dried my hair with it before getting the hairdryer. "No, I'll do it myself." I immediately took the hairdryer away from his hands. I was worried that I would lose my composure the moment he switched it on..

Logan's eyes darkened. "It still bothers you very much, Ari"

I averted his gaze. "No, it doesn't

He reached for the hairdryer from me and suddenly leaned close to me, forcing me to back up against the dressing table. His eyes seemed sullen, and there was a storm brewing in them. All of a sudden, I was disheartened. "What do you want to ask me about?" Logan tilted my chin, and I could see my reflection in his eyes. I looked disheveled and pitiful. Then, I chuckled bitterly

Will you want to ask me about my feelings, I have to say that I'm really in a bad place now. So, will you spare me the questioning?"

My voice sounded choked up. "Going to the Wood dance today has left me feeling silly and naive."

I mercilessly smacked my head several times. "I failed to retain the lesson I've learned, and I forgot the fact that my reputation is very bad. Why did I put myself in that situation?! I deserved it because I'm a moron, naive, silly, and idiotic. I'm

A kiss put a stop to all the things I wanted to say. This time, the kiss was much more passionate and bolder than before

I felt Logan's body trembling from his raw emotions, but his aggressive kisses came in by the second. He held me assertively as he undid the ties on my bathrobe

My bathrobe was taken off in the middle of the confusion before falling to the floor. However, I was still wrapped in a thick towel. I thought I heard Logan grunting before he placed me on

"Mrgh." A sudden clench in my chest made me take a sharp breath, and my confused mind suddenly sobered up. I couldn't do this, and neither could he

I mustered up some courage and pushed out, pushing against Logan's half-exposed chest. "No No! We can't do this."

Logan couldn't stop himself from advancing. He proceeded to my neck and clavicles. His breath was so hot that it was searing, and the look on his face made me think that he was going

I could feel the carnal passion that he previously suppressed as well as his determination. However, was this the right time for it?

I saw in my mind how Mrs. Wood had grinned at me. She explicitly told me that Logan was set to marry Lysa in the future. I felt a shiver and immediately curled myself up.

Logan was interrupted by my reaction, but there was still lust in his eyes. His voice was hoarse. "What's the matter, Ari?"

I immediately blurted out and looked into his eyes solemnly. "I can't do this, Logan

Logan suddenly asked, "Do you think I'm not good enough?"

I was stumped. Then, he suddenly leaned in close to me and pinched my chin. He squinted and asked, "are you still bothered by something someone else said?"

I chucked bitterly. "Who could it be? I'm thinking about the attitude your mom showed me

However, Logan responded coldly. "Ignore her "

"Stop. I'll have my way with you if you move." Logan's voice was hoarse and deep. I immediately went still, caught between the urge to move and the fear of doing so. "Lie on the bed with me for a little longer." Logan requested that much choice but to lie down obediently and remain motionless. He pressed his chin against my head and held my wrist with his lean arm. I noticed that his eyes were closed, and his curled eyelashes were very defined. Logan had wide shoulders, and his muscles were delicate and fair. I could just see the veins beneath them. Then, there was his sexy Adam's apple.

Logan grunted and tightened his grip on my body. He was acting as if he was afraid of losing me, which gave rise to warmth rising in my chest. It felt as if the humiliation I suffered last night wasn't that unbearable anymore.

Logan's breathing was even, and he seemingly drifted back to sleep. I began to count the number of eyelashes he had. After I was done counting, I felt a shadow obscuring my vision. Logan coiled my face with his palm, "What are you doing? You're misbehaving." He opened his eyes as he spoke. They were hazy and deep. It took merely a glance to nearly captivate me. A smile slowly spread across Logan's face in a matter of a second, I was deeply mesmerized by his grin. It wasn't that I succumbed very easily, but he was simply too seductive. My brain was just mesmerized when it came to this, and I couldn't have resisted him if I wanted to.

Logan leaned close and stared into my eyes.

"Your eyes are exquisite, Art" he said softly before he kissed me passionately again. It was more intense than last night, leaving me feeling dizzy. He prised open my lips with his tongue and by gradually went soft before turning hot and stiff. I accidentally touched Logan's arm, which was hard and searing. I wanted to push him away, but I came to realize that I was weaker than he was last night.

Actually, I didn't want to test Logan. The realization made me feel ashamed, but the feeling lasted less than a second.

All of a sudden Logan stopped what he was doing and heard him whispering in my ear. "We can't

Huh? Was there something wrong with him down there? That probably wasn't it, though. After all, I could feel him patching a track, I quickly halted my train of thought,

Logan was already forcing himself to be upright. He stared at me with a profounder, and his eyes were a little shot

Hunched a little "Logan. You."

He took several deep breaths and gave me a long and intense look before he got out of bed and went away to freshen up, I didn't dare to look at his half-naked body, and I quickly put on my pajamas before going out of the room. Lara was setting up the dining table for breakfast. She looked

Then, Lara looked at me. She said as she left, "Dee, I have to leave as soon as I've made breakfast next time " ine with a mile. "Hurry up and grab a bite. I'm going to buy some ingredients. Remember to ask Mr. Wood to eat with you."

I could do nothing except stand by the dining table awkwardly. After a while, Logan came out of my room, wearing formal attire.

Chapter 280

I didn't have the habit of reading the local news in the morning. Now that Teri talked about it, I immediately tapped on it and browsed. As expected, the same article was right there I sighed and sent Teri another text, "This is scary. No one has any secrets anymore."

Taci replied, "Welcome the grand, new age of big data. To be honest, I sympathize with you a lot. You still have been harsh to you, Ari."

No words had been spoken. As I read the article, I noticed that the most decorated words were used to describe Lysa, who wore sunglasses in the photos. A sense of powerlessness

However, I didn't have any energy left back now. The only thing left in me was the courage that I had to master.

I clicked the webpage and asked Teri if she had the time to go to the university with me. She agreed to it immediately.

Ever since I took Logan's advice and had Teri invest in Silverwood Enterprises on my behalf, she had been going to work very diligently. On top of that, I discovered that she had her own unique take on fashion design. Right now, Teri had basically quit her job
