

Long night

Madison POV

"Mommy, mommy, look a buttery!"

Madison was startled out of her thoughts by the cheerful voice of her daughter, Mia.

"It's beautiful, isn't it?" She smiled at her adorable little girl, who had her brown hair tied up into two pigtails.

"Mason, don't climb so high!" She admonished her son, who was climbing on one of the jungle gyms. Though he may only be four, Mason was all Alpha. He constantly wanted to try new things. And the more dangerous they were, the more he wanted to try them.

It was a Sunday morning, and Madison, after doing her daily exercise routine, always did a fun activity with her twins.

She wanted to spend as much time with them as possible on the weekends.

Owning her own successful business meant working a lot. After school, they had a nanny who took care of them, though Madison tried to be home on time as often as she could.

Her daughter ran into her arms and Madison hugged her to her chest. She placed Mia on her lap and ran her hand over her cheek.

"How about we go out for hamburgers and fries and some ice cream afterward?" Madison asked, already knowing the answer. Her daughter's eyes went big before she started screaming with excitement.

"Mason! Mason! Let's go! We're going for hamburgers and ice cream."

Madison chuckled as she saw her son jump down from the jungle gym and run full speed toward them.

"How about we ask Colton to come along?" Madison asked, getting another excited squeal from her children.

Colton was Madison's love interest, whom she had been seeing for eight months now. She introduced him to the children about a month ago, and they were as fond of him as he was of them.

After leaving behind the werewolf community, Madison had sworn off men. She had convinced herself that she didn't want nor need a man in her life. She was a strong, independent woman and the last thing she needed was a man to complicate everything.

But Colton... Colton was different. Yes, he did come from money and Madison had thought of him as a trust fund baby when she first met him. But he was persuasive and kept asking her for a date every chance he had.

When Madison finally gave in, her initial intent to scare him off, he had surprised her. Not only was there a true gentleman beneath that charming exterior, but a true business man as well. He was handsome and witty. It was a surprise that no one had snatched him up yet.

He was definitely husband material. The only thing that had her hesitating to take the next step was the fact that she and the children were werewolves. How would she ever be able to explain that?

They arrived at their local diner and as Madison was helping her children unbuckle their seatbelts and getting out of the car, they heard a male voice behind them.

"There's my favorite set of twins!" Madison turned around to a beaming Colton. Goddess, he was handsome for a human.

"Colton!" the children squealed as they ran toward Colton, who crouched down and scooped them both up. He carried them all the way inside as a chuckling Madison followed along behind them.

The twins ran straight to the indoor playground while Madison and Colton ordered on the touchscreen displays of the self-order kiosk. When it was time to pay, Colton held up his hand and took out his card. "I got this." He winked at her.

Everything he did was incredibly sexy. Madison never thought she would feel this way about a man ever again.

"And how is my favorite mommy doing?" Colton asked, getting closer to her.

"Mommy, huh?" Madison asked, crooking her eyebrow. She stepped closer to him and whispered in his ear. "How about I show you later tonight that I'm more than just a mommy?"

Colton caged her in against the digital display.

"I would be careful about making such suggestions in a public place, Miss Matheus." He replied with a husky voice.

"Uh-hum" Someone cleared their throat behind them before continuing, "This is a public place!" The woman continued with a scowl.

"Sorry," Madison replied, her cheeks turning pink.

"You're so cute when you blush." Colton chuckled while pulling her along. Luckily, the children had been too engrossed in their playtime to notice the indecent scene between the adults.

Dinner had been wonderful. The children had talked a mile a minute, telling Colton everything that they had done with Madison on Saturday and on Sunday morning.

But what warmed Madison's heart was the way he patiently listened to them and helped them both punch their straw through the lid of their drink cup.

He was sexy as hell.

When the children left for one final round in the playground, Colton stood up from his booth and scooted in beside Madison.

"If you keep staring at me like that, I'm going to have to shock everyone and take your right here." He whispered as his lips touched her ear, causing a shiver to run through her.

"Please tell me you're staying over?" She asked him, not hiding her arousal any longer.

"Oh yeah, I have my overnight bag in the car." He replied with a smirk.

Madison suddenly couldn't wait to put the kids down for the night. Goddess, she was horny. It had been over a week since Colton had last spent the night. They both had busy lives, making spending time together a challenge.

It also didn't help that Madison's libido was higher than his. She often wore out the poor guy.

Madison leaned forward and kissed him on the lips. When he reciprocated, she sucked him bottom lip into her mouth and nibbled on it, before pulling back.

"You're such a dirty girl." Colton groaned, closing his eyes to tame his excitement, "Let's go get the kids and head to your place."

When they finally arrived at Madison's duplex, the kids were already fast asleep. Colton helped carry them out of the car.

"I'm going to change them into their pajamas. Why don't you go ahead and shower first," Madison suggested to Colton.

When Madison was finished, she found Colton on her bed in only a pair of slacks, watching TV, patiently waiting for Madison to get ready.

She quickly showered and pulled on a sexy white lace negligée. It barely covered any of her private parts, so it would be perfect for the occasion.

Stepping out of the bathroom, she was surprised to see Colton still staring at the TV screen.

"Dirty girl, reporting for duty," She used Colton's earlier words to catch his attention. When his head snapped to her, he slowly took her in while his eyes darkened a shade.

She stalked toward him, like a predator ready to devour her prey. She slowly climbed on the bed and crawled toward him. When she reached him, he had already readjusted himself against the headboard of her bed.

She got on his lap, straddling him. His hands slid over her thighs, sliding towards her stomach.

"So beautiful." He whispered, before catching one of her erect nipples between his teeth, through the lacy fabric. Madison hissed. She loved the way his large hands felt on her.

When they were intimate, she would usually get on top. She loved being in control.

"Colton." She moaned, slipping one of her hands into his brown hair and sting it. She placed her other hand on his shoulder as she started gyrating her already wet core against his slacks, where she could feel his erect member already waiting for her.

"Oh God, Madison, you feel so good." Colton groaned, gripping her breasts in his hands as he helped her ride against him.

"Colton. I need you." Madison moaned. She slid off of him while he pulled off his slacks, freeing his erect member.

She quickly pushed him back, placing him at her entrance.

"Condom," Colton grated out as Madison lowered herself onto him. She threw her head back and closed her eyes, loving the feeling of being stretched.

"I'm on birth control and haven't been with anyone since the twins were born." She grated out between moans as she started moving on top of him. Colton was pretty strict about condoms, but Madison wanted to feel all of him tonight.

"Fk it." Colton said, grabbing Madison's waist and slamming her down onto him, making her cry out as he groaned.

"Let me watch you ride me, Madison." He commanded as he lay back on the bed with his hands behind his head. Madison got even wetter hearing his dirty request.

She placed one of her hands on his chest while the other massaged her breast. She started moving with more vigor, moving all the way up before slamming back down.

Soon, she was riding him hard and fast as she used both of her hands to roll her nipples between her thumb and forefinger. She looked down to see Colton leaning up on his elbows to watch how Madison's pussy bounced on top of his ck, taking all of him.

"You take me so well, baby."

That image and his words were enough to send her over the edge. She cried out before crashing on top of him. He flipped them over and started pounding into her, chasing his own release. Not even a minute later, Madison could feel him jerking inside of her, as he too, reached his peak.

"Oh God, Madison, that was..." He chuckled, breathing heavily.

"I know." She laughed out, trying to catch her breath. "I hope you're not tired yet because I am far from done."

"I wouldn't dream of it. I slept in today, to spare my energy." He chuckled before he started moving again. Madison felt his penis swelling inside of her and was soon a moaning mess, as she let Colton rip her over once more and take her from behind.

This was going to be a long night.
