Chapter 15

Chapter 15

Earlier on, Barry was still showing off. He said that his company invested 750 thousand dollars, and he had an office space of more than 3,200 square feet. How proud he was!

However, compared to Robert's building, his office space was nothing.

Barry's eyes were wide open and bloodshot. He was jealous and angry, unable to understand why Robert could have so much.

However, if he knew that Robert was the heir of the Zabinski Group, he would have already knelt.

The beautiful women in gowns in the first row lowered their heads and left. Then, the beautiful women standing in the second row stood forward again, still holding the trays.

With what happened just now, the people at the job fair knew what those trays meant. The value of each tray was at least tens of millions of dollars! What kind of family was Robert in?

The small enterprises that had previously joined Kendrick in boycotting Robert were now in a state of panic and uncertainty, unsure of their next move. The thought of facing the wrath of such a powerful individual was enough to make them tremble. They knew that he didn't even need to take direct action against them, as a single statement from him to the public would be enough to ruin their businesses.

Looking at the beautiful women in the second row coming up, Robert felt that it was already a little unbearable. After all, there were so many people at the scene, and Robert had never really seen such a big display of wealth. He waved his hand at Carlos and said, "Carlos, forget it. Don't make them announce it."

"Okay, sir." Carlos lowered his head and said, "I'll make a detailed list of all the assets and send it to you."

Robert nodded, feeling the strange gazes from the surrounding crowd. It was then that he understood why many people felt uncomfortable attending big occasions. The sensation of being so conspicuous was not something that he could handle easily.

Robert smiled bitterly at Samuel and Carlos and said, "Carlos, let's end this display first. I have a graduation party tonight."

Carlos nodded slightly. He picked up the walkie-talkie and gave some instructions. Then, he turned around and walked out of the school gate.

Before Carlos left, he said to Robert, "Mr. Zabinski, from today on, there are 17 companies under your name. You can find someone to manage them together."

After uttering those words, Carlos cast a brief glance at Samuel and the others standing beside Robert. Carlos was aware of his position and knew that it wasn't up to him to decide whether Samuel and the others could intern at the company. As a butler, he was merely offering suggestions to Robert.

Robert quickly understood Carlos' suggestion. He patted Samuel's shoulder and said, "Hey, Samuel, did you hear about the companies earlier? You can choose which company you want to work for and the position you want as long as you think you can handle it."

When Robert said that, at least hundreds of envious eyes fell on Samuel and the others.

Everyone had previously laughed at Samuel and his friends because they thought they could not get internships due to their relationship with Robert. Their resumes were even tossed aside. However, now the situation changed. The three of them were given the opportunity to choose from over a dozen companies and hold any position they felt they were capable of, even that of a general manager.

It was much better to be a general manager in such a big company than to be the boss of one's own business!

What was it called? They achieved success and made rapid progress in a single leap.

Those people close to Barry and Kendrick had already moved to alienate Samuel and others. Now, they all slowly gathered around Samuel and others.
