Chapter 53

Chapter 53

Sitting in the commercial vehicle, Kendrick saw Charles walking out of the hospital.

With a smile, Kendrick alighted from the car and greeted, "Charles!"

However, when Kendrick walked closer, he noticed the gloomy look on Charles' face.

Shocked, Kendrick asked, "Charles, what's wrong with you? Could it be that Mr. Stephen Hoffman—"

Before Kendrick could finish his words, Charles interrupted him with a roar, "Kendrick!" He kicked Kendrick with reddened eyes.

Kendrick could not react to Charles' sudden change and was directly kicked to the ground by the latter.

"Charles, you're crazy!" Kendrick, who was kicked to the ground, shouted.

"I'll kill you today! All of you, come here and beat him to death!" Charles was furious, thinking he would have been expelled from the Hoffman family if Kendrick hadn't framed him. Because of Kendrick, he lost everything from that day onward.

The dozen young men at the hospital gate were initially summoned by Charles for a celebration. Now that they saw that their boss was infuriated, they rushed up and beat the other party despite the person's identity.

Kendrick was directly punched and kicked by those people and he kept screaming in agony.

"Charles! No, Mr. Hoffman! Mr. Hoffman, there must be a misunderstanding here! Please, please stop hitting me!"

Charles' anger subsided a little as he listened to the miserable and agonized howl. He took a look at the hospital behind him and murmured, "You tricked me, Kendrick. From now on, I will live for you. I will not stop until I finish you off!"

Charles walked away in the night after that.

The lackeys who were beating Kendrick irrationally in front of the hospital did not notice Charles' departure at all. They only stopped when they felt that the person they had been beating was about to die.

"Boss, this guy would lose his life if we continued to beat him."

"Where's the boss?"

"I have no idea!"

"Let's leave first!"

It only took them more than ten seconds to escape from the scene.

Kendrick lay on the ground. His face was covered with blood, and he felt severe pain everywhere. His clothes were utterly ragged, and his phone was completely broken. It was late at night, and the surroundings were quiet. The Alphard, which was also Charles' vehicle, had long disappeared.

Kendrick stood up with difficulty. He even felt that he could not stand steadily. His fingers seemed broken. A slight touch could trigger severe pain and make him groan. He looked around, but there was no car. It was at that moment that he felt utterly helpless in Lofbury.

"Charles Hoffman, just you wait! Sooner or later, I will end your life!" Kendrick glanced at his broken phone and staggered toward the hospital.

It was midnight when Kendrick woefully knocked on the emergency room door while Robert was pondering at his executive desk.

Marilyn's words that night pierced Robert's heart again like a steel needle.

Robert mused, "Inferior to Kendrick? Marilyn, on what grounds do you say I'm inferior to Kendrick?"

At the thought of that, Robert picked up the phone and dialed a number. "Naomi."

"What a surprise! I didn't expect you to take the initiative to call me, Robert." Naomi's sweet voice rang out from the other end of the line. "It's said that the way to get over the pain of love is to start a new relationship quickly. You're calling me so late at night. Are you planning to try it with me?"

Robert was stumped, thinking it was really hard to tell what Naomi was thinking. He cleared his throat before saying, "Let's be serious. It's about the trade between Everlasting Trade and your family. Please arrange a position for me. I want to know more about the trade."
