

Chapter 65

Outside Grand Triumphant Hotel.

An Audi was parked in the shadows. The car's engine was not started. Robert and Naomi were sitting in the car.

Naomi looked at the departing luxury cars at the entrance of the Grand Triumphant Hotel with a smile on her cheeks, looking particularly happy.

"Robert, you're so amazing. These people who were about to follow Zabel Group have all left after such a scene today!"

Robert smiled and said nothing.

His palms now were still full of sweat because of nervousness.

The fight against Kendrick today had been planned before Robert came here. Matthew's appearance was an accident.

But for the result that Robert wanted, it was definitely a good thing.

Robert was sure that Kendrick did not dare to say anything if Robert scolded him about Gabriel's case. Even if Kendrick dared to jump up and fight with him, Robert had asked Carlos to be prepared in advance.

In any case, Kendrick had to be punished.

Now everyone in Yrinas knew that the Zabinski Group and the Zabel Group would compete.

Kendrick said in front of so many people today that Zabinski Group was useless and would be screwed up. If Robert did not do anything, he would not have had others' confidence in the Zabinski Group.

It was impossible for one company to do all business. Without multi-party cooperation, the Zabinski Group was really likely to be squeezed out by the powerful foreigner Zabel Group.

Robert took a deep breath and thought, "Things have become like this. If a fight's unavoidable, we just have to fight to the end!"

In the future, the Zabinski Group would participate in the business in which the Zabel Group was involved. If the Zabinski Group wanted to do it, they would do their best and not leave any opportunities for the Zabel Group!

Robert's phone suddenly rang. He glanced at it and saw it was an unknown number.

Robert answered the phone in confusion, "Hello, this is Robert."

"Hello, I'm Linda, a friend of Marilyn's. I want to talk to you about Marilyn. Do you have time?" Linda's clear voice came from the other end of the phone.

Robert thought for a while and nodded. "Okay, book a place. I'll go there."

"Fairsaint Restaurant. It serves delicious food. I'll send you the number of the private room." After saying that, Linda hung up the phone.

Robert glanced at the time and put away his phone.

Naomi could hear clearly the voice on the phone.

When Naomi heard that it was about Marilyn, her heart beat fast. When she saw Robert agree after only thinking for a while, Naomi found that there was a trace of loss in her heart.

"What's going on?" Naomi asked herself.

"Naomi, I have something to do. I'll leave first." Robert opened the car door and got out of the car before Naomi answered.

Looking at Robert outside the car, who was rushing to take a taxi, Naomi felt uncomfortable, but she could not say it out loud.

Five minutes after Robert took the taxi, Naomi saw Marilyn's car driving out of the entrance of the Grand Triumphant Hotel.

Only Marilyn was in the car.

For some reason, Naomi honked the horn. She drove the car to Marilyn's side and rolled down the window. "Ms. Quesnell, can we talk?"

Marilyn looked at Naomi's delicate face and nodded gently.

At ten o'clock at night, in a two-person private room at Fairsaint Restaurant, Robert looked at the beautiful woman with yellow hair sitting opposite him.

"It's my first time meeting you. Marilyn should have told you about me, right?" Linda smiled and greeted Robert.

"She mentioned that you are her best friend." Robert nodded with a smile.
