

Chapter 68

Carlos looked respectful, completely different from the cruel look last night.

Robert gained some reminders from what happened in Everlasting Trade.

In the coming period, he found it was necessary to go to the companies and have a look.

Robert nodded, and Carlos stepped out respectfully. Robert picked up the paper and pen and drew on it.

The conflict with the Zabel Group last night was well-known by the people, and it could not be solved. Zabel Group would continue to find a way to gain market share in Yrinas's market.

"No matter what Zabel Group does, we must block it!" There was a fierce look in Robert's expression.

It was time for both sides to fight hard now. Whoever was weak, victory would fall to the other party.

At noon, Robert received a message from Linda. Linda invited him to meet with Marilyn at Fairsaint Restaurant at six o'clock in the evening.

Seeing the news, Robert held back his ecstasy and agreed to the invitation.

At this time, Marilyn was sitting beside Linda. After Linda sent the message, Marilyn was so nervous that her palms were sweating.

"Do you think he doesn't want to see me? Naomi is also good and likes him. Linda, do you think he has a lunch break now?"

Listening to the nagging voice beside her, Linda reached out and touched Marilyn's eyebrows. "Well, are you tired? I'm tired of listening to you."

While she was talking, Linda's phone suddenly rang. Marilyn took the phone more anxiously than Linda. When Marilyn saw the word Robert replied, she jumped up excitedly.

"Linda! Hurry up and choose clothes with me. Which one do you think I should wear? This one? This one? This one?"

Marilyn pulled Linda to her wardrobe and took out all her clothes.

"Stop it. Look at you. You're a love-struck woman!" Looking at Marilyn who was in front of the wardrobe with a silly smile, Linda said helplessly, "Women in love are all brainless!"

At five o'clock in the afternoon, Robert arrived earlier at Fairsaint Restaurant.

Marilyn was wearing a white dress, showing her temperament and youthfulness. She deliberately put on light makeup on her delicate facial features. Her perfect figure attracted many people's attention.

Standing downstairs at Fairsaint Restaurant, Marilyn looked extremely nervous. She had been standing here for twenty minutes, but her palms were still sweating. She did not know what to say when she met Robert later.

"Stop it, why are you so nervous? Robert told me that he had arrived. Let's go." Linda took Marilyn's arm and walked inside.

What Marilyn and Linda did not notice was there was a car parked in the parking lot in front of Fairsaint Restaurant. Matthew was driving, and the person sitting behind the car was Kendrick.

Chapter 68

"Matthew, are you sure that Robert is inside?" Kendrick's face darkened.

"Kendrick, I'm sure." Matthew nodded. "I was keeping an eye on Robert and wanted to teach him a lesson, but I met Mari."

Kendrick snorted coldly and dialed Spencer's number, "Mr. Quesnell, I'm Kendrick. Please tell Mrs. Quesnell that forget about the relationship between Zabel Group and the Quesnell family. Marilyn sneaked out to find her ex-boyfriend."
