

Chapter 69

It was 5:40 p.m.

Marilyn's nervous mood finally eased a lot.

"Okay, look at you. Come on, let's go inside." Linda opened the door of the restaurant.

When Marilyn was about to take a step, her phone rang. She looked at the caller and found it was Spencer.

Marilyn picked up the phone. Before she could say anything, Spencer's growl sounded from the phone.

"Marilyn! What the hell are you doing? What do you want to do?"

Spencer's actions startled Marilyn. Marilyn hurriedly asked, "Dad, stop being in a hurry. Slow down. What's going on?"

"Stop being in a hurry? How can I stop being anxious?" Spencer roared on the phone. "Marilyn, what do you want to do now? Are you looking for Robert? Do you have a brain? What do you want Kendrick to think about this?"

"Dad! It's not like that," Marilyn explained in a hurry. "Robert is not what you think. His family is..."

"What is it? It is Zabinski Group, right? So what? Marilyn, let me tell you. Your mother is still lying on the hospital bed. She told me she would go to Yrinas to let you be engaged with Kendrick after she was discharged from the hospital! I didn't even dare to tell her that you went to find Robert. Do you want to make her angry?"

"Do you?" Spencer was extremely furious, and every word shocked Marilyn's eardrum.

Marilyn's eyes were full of tears. She shook her head and said, "Dad, I don't want to be with Kendrick."

"Marilyn, let me tell you. Zabel Group had a meeting overnight last night and made a decision this morning. Yrinas's market share must be taken. It is the most important indicator for Zabel Group in recent years. Zabinski Group is vulnerable to Zabel Group! Don't tell me anything else. The Quesnell family has been completely tied up with the Zabel Group. We will rise and fall together! I won't tell your mother about this. Think about it yourself. After a while, I will go to Yrinas with your mother and arrange your engagement with Kendrick. That's all! If you want to completely piss off your mother, you can continue to be stubborn!"

After that, Spencer hung up the phone without giving Marilyn an opportunity to explain.

After hanging up the phone, Marilyn could not help crying.

"Linda, I..." Marilyn looked at the opened restaurant door in front of her and took a step back. "I think... Let's forget it."

"How can we just forget it?"

The surroundings were noisy. Linda did not hear what Spencer said on the phone just now.

Marilyn shook her head with tears on her face. She did not explain it to Linda anymore. Marilyn turned around and wanted to escape. She was afraid to see Robert.

As soon as Marilyn turned around, she was grabbed by a hand.

"Marilyn, where are you going?" There was a sneer on Kendrick's face. "Why are you running away when you see your fiancé? Come on, let's go upstairs and have dinner together."

While talking, Kendrick dragged Marilyn into the restaurant.

"Kendrick, let go of me!" Marilyn shouted, trying to break free.

"Marilyn, you are my future wife. If you do this, I have to call my mother-in-law. I heard that my mother-in-law is not in good health." Kendrick was about to take out his phone.

His words calmed Marilyn down. She stared at Kendrick and gritted her teeth. "Kendrick, you bastard!"

"Bastard? Haha. Marilyn, you're the real bastard. Come on, go upstairs with me!" Kendrick dragged Marilyn upstairs.
