Chapter 72

Chapter 72

Marilyn's eyes fell on Robert as soon as he appeared.

However, Marilyn realized that Robert didn't even bother to look at her at all, so she looked away.

She didn't hold out hope that Robert would forgive her after what happened last night. After all, she would have been heartbroken if the same thing had happened to her.

"Haha," Kendrick sneered. "I hope you're not just bluffing. I'm telling you that land will be mine no matter what!"

"I seem to remember you saying a similar thing when you were bidding for the postage stamp the other day. How did that end for you?" said Robert with a shrug.

"So it was you!" Kendrick's eyes suddenly became vicious. He thought it was the old man from the Zabinski Group.

Robert ignored Kendrick and crossed his legs indifferently.

"We're talking about 33 acres of land. Do you even have that much money, Robert?" Matthew sneered.

Matthew was confident that Zabel Group had given Kendrick the green light to put in a bid of 30% above the market price which came to an amount of 78 million dollars. There was no way Zabinski Group could outbid that amount.

In fact, Matthew was sure that the real controller of Zabinski Group would not be happy if he found out Robert would throw that much money on a piece of land. Not to mention, the shareholders would feel the same way.

Besides, it would take some time for the land to bring in some return after buying it. With Zabinski Group's cash flow in trouble, Zabel Group would only need to sit back and watch as Zabinski Group slowly fell into ruins.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I trust that everyone has familiarized themselves with the details of the land. It's now time for everyone to throw in their bids!" announced the host at last.

Kendrick raised his hand and was about to bid, but before he could call out his price, Robert already beat him to it.

"75 million dollars," called out Robert, the first to bid.

The price sent everyone into an uproar.

The market valuation of the land was only 60 million dollars, and yet Robert bid 75 million dollars. What was more, Robert didn't seem fazed at all!

Kendrick, who was going to bid, was momentarily stunned by the price, and everyone there noticed his expression.

"75 million dollars? Robert, are you crazy?" Matthew couldn't help but reprimand Robert. He had thought that Zabel Group would definitely win the bid and that the highest Zabinski Group could go would be 67.5 million dollars. It never crossed his mind that Robert would start his bid at 75 million dollars.

"I'm filthy rich and can do whatever I want. You salty?" Robert lit a cigarette and raised his hand again. "78 million dollars!"

Robert added another 3 million dollars before the Zabel Group put in its bid!

Robert was the epitome of having money to throw around.

Oh, hail the mighty Zabinski Group! No one would dare to question Zabinski Group as the leading enterprise in Yrinas after this display of power!

Matthew was extremely annoyed at Robert for adding another 3 million dollars to his bid since 78 million dollars was the highest Zabel Group could go. There was no way Zabel Group could win this auction now.

"It'll be humiliating if I only add another 300 thousand dollars to the price, especially when Robert added another 3 million dollars. In the face of 3 million dollars, 300 thousand dollars is only chump change. Unless I make it a round number and bid 90 million dollars? But the land isn't worth that much? Only a fool will bid that high! We'll still need some money to develop and build the land. It doesn't make sense for the company to spend 90 million dollars on a piece of land!" thought Kendrick.

Kendrick's face darkened. Moments ago, he was confident he would get the land today, hence the tough talk. But now, the price Kendrick put had already surpassed the amount he was prepared to pay. Zabel Group would definitely put a stop to buying the land even if Kendrick himself was willing to fork out the money.

Matthew glared at Robert angrily. "Robert, put out your cigarette! We're at an auction, for crying out loud!"
