

The Love She Didn't Say by Mona

Chapter 17 Because I need you

Alston Rivers nodded, his heart in his mouth, "Did I guess wrong?"

Elena Forbes shook her head speechlessly, "Alston Rivers, you can never guess what I like, so you'd better stop."

She inhaled and raised her eyes, "You know why I like to come here? That's because the entrees in here are your favorite, and you have a bad stomach, and this is the only place you can eat something more comprehensive."

"So.....what do you like to eat?" Alston Rivers did not expect that answer from Elena Forbes at all, he thought they just happened to both like the food here, never thought it was she accommodating him.

"Does it matter?" She asked again, "We're no longer together, and I'm not pestering you, so do you just find your conscience and suddenly fall in love with me?"

Alston Rivers subconsciously shook his head and blurted out, "How is it possible."

Elena smiled, shrugging her shoulder, "See, I knew it would be like this, so let's just leave each other alone."

After saying that she got up to go outside, but her wrist was caught by Alston's long arm.

He said, "Elena, you can't go." "Why can't?" Elena really did not understand, at this kind of time, this person should be scolding her into the dust, but he actually pulled her?

For a moment she wanted to see if the sun rose in the west in this world.

"Because.....because I need you." Alston originally found it a little difficult to say, but he didn't think that much when things between them came to this.

Then he repeated, "Elena, I need you, I need you badly."

"Is that so?" Elena massaged her brow and said, "But, do I have to stay just because you need me? What kind of reason is this? You have to know that even those interns looking for jobs have the right to say no, not to mention, with my ability, you can't afford to hire me."

These words, like thunder, as if what he said is ridiculous to the extreme.

But Alston Rivers is not thinking this way, he believes that, as long as he said, Elena Forbes.

will definitely stay, and as long as he request, Elena Forbes will definitely make it for him.

This idea is what makes him so arrogant in front of her, and then no matter how great she is, she has to surround him like a dog, which makes him extremely satisfied.

So, while he enjoyed Elena Forbes's giving, he did not put her giving in his eyes, only thinking that this is what she should do, this is what she owes him. But the fact is, Elena Forbes, never owed him, she also has the right to choose and can choose more after she leaves him.

Alston Rivers can't accept this going to happen, so he lowers his head, and personally invites Elena Forbes to dinner. But he didn't expect at all that Elena would actually be so cold-hearted and didn't even take a single bite.

It's like all these things he likes are worthless in front of her. Alston Rivers, his whole person is dumbfounded, feel his worldview is impacted, why Elena Forbes does not surround him anymore?

And at this time, Elena Forbes unveiled everything straightforwardly, "Alston Rivers, you have always been hated me, you know yourself well, this time you to put down your pride to come to me, one because unaccustomed, one because the board of directors."

She closed her eyes for a moment and massaged her temples, "Have I made my words clear enough?"
