Chapter 1151: The Plan of the Two Women

Escape!

Escape!

We must escape!

During their escape, the only thought in Jovie Lee and Keer's minds was to get away.

Supporting each other, they navigated through the complex terrain of the mountains, moving left and right without any specific direction, aimlessly flying through the air.

At the moment, they weren't thinking about a destination; they only wanted to get as far away from the Yin and Yang Sect as possible, to escape to safety!

"Sister Jovie, do you think our senior sister might have survived?"

Keer's youthful cheeks were filled with worry, her eyes brimming with tears as she quietly spoke to Jovie Lee beside her.

Hearing this, Jovie Lee fell silent for a moment.

Because she knew that their senior sister was unlikely to have survived.

"I don't know why Sun Peak suddenly erupted like a volcano. Probably because of that, they haven't pursued us yet... Sister Keer, let's escape and survive, and someday take revenge for our master and senior sister!"

Jovie Lee glanced behind at the distant Sun Peak, which was still erupting with magma, and changed the subject to encourage Keer.

"Yes."

Keer nodded firmly, her eyes flashing with vengeance, "I will definitely take revenge for the master and senior sister! Definitely!!"

In Keer's heart, the seeds of revenge were sprouting.

"This way!"

Jovie Lee called out to Keer, took a detour, and continued on a shortcut in the direction away from the Yin and Yang Sect.

They dared not fly through the air; though faster, it made them easier to spot.

With their current cultivation levels, they would quickly be caught if they attempted to fly.

So, they weren't seeking speed now, only to escape alive.

Whoosh!

Not far from where the two women were, a golden figure suddenly halted, a tall old man in a golden robe.

"The scent here mixes up... hard to distinguish."

This golden robed old man was Kamari Gold, sent by Wyatt Barnes to pursue Keer and Jovie Lee. Now, Kamari Gold furrowed his brows tightly.

Being a 'Hell Golden Hound', a type of canine demon beast, his nose was exceptionally keen.

However, the myriad scents in the vicinity overwhelmed his sense of smell, and he couldn't detect the two specific scents he was tracking.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

...

Without any hesitation, Kamari Gold continued flying back and forth, trying to pick up the scents, but all his efforts were in vain.

"There's no way... Now, I only have to shout."

Kamari Gold sighed, "I hope the two masters will hear me and be able to join me in time... so that I can report back to the master."

With that thought, Kamari Gold did not hesitate and shouted aloud:

"The two masters! My master is 'Wyatt Barnes' and he has now come to the Yin and Yang Sect. If you hear my voice, there is no need to keep hiding. Come with me to see the master."

Kamari Gold's voice, imbued with the 'Sixth Level of the Demon Emperor Realm' Origin Force, spread out like a thunderclap, sweeping across the surrounding mountains and forests.

For a moment, birds flew up from the mountains and woods, all startled by Kamari Gold.

In a valley within the nearby mountains, two women in white leaned against each other, sticking to the cliff wall and looking up into the sky.

Sadly, they could not see anything.

However, they heard the previous sound loud and clear.

"The two masters! My master is 'Wyatt Barnes' and he has now come to the Yin and Yang Sect. If you hear my voice, there is no need to keep hiding. Come with me to see the master."

Soon, the voice came again.

This time, however, the voice was farther away, clearly indicating that the shouter had moved to a distant place.

For a moment, the two women hidden in the valley breathed a sigh of relief.

"Sister Jovie, do you think he really could be someone from the young master's side?"

One of the women in white, with a beautiful but somewhat naive face, was Keer. She looked at Jovie Lee beside her, slightly hesitant as she asked.

"Considering how far that person's voice spread, his cultivation must be at least at the 'Fourth Level of the Martial Emperor Realm'! Do you think someone like that would call a villain 'master'?"

Jovie Lee shook her head.

Hearing Jovie Lee's words, Keer fell silent for a moment.

Yes.

Even if their young master truly came here, it was unlikely he would have followers above the 'Fourth Level of the Martial Emperor Realm'.

Any Martial Emperor would be too proud and haughty, unlikely to follow anyone unless that person was stronger in martial power, let alone claim them as 'master'.

"The villain may be talented, but his access to cultivation resources in the Seven Stars Sword Clan of the Green Forest Royal Country was limited... Even if he reached the Black Stone Emperor or the Great Turdo Dynasty, his improvement in strength would not surpass ours."

Jovie Lee stated her deductions, "Even if he left the Great Turdo Dynasty and joined a Third-Rate or even Second-Rate Power in the Outer Lands... his advancement couldn't possibly outpace ours."

"So, this person, he is not the villain's man! He must be someone Hunter Sun and his son hired to pretend to be someone close to the villain, trying to lure us into their trap."

Jovie Lee's tone at the end was resolute.

"But... they don't seem to know the young master's name, do they?"

While agreeing with Jovie Lee, Keer felt deeply puzzled.

"Those bastards' names, you and I have both mentioned them to our Senior Sister before... Sometimes, when Senior Sister mentioned the bastards' 'names,' there were many disciples of Shadow Peak present."

Jovie Lee guessed, "Perhaps, they had already learned the bastards' 'names' from some of the disciples of Shadow Peak."

"That must be it."

Upon hearing Jovie Lee's words, Keer nodded her head, her confusion no longer lingering.

"Ladies! My master is 'Wyatt Barnes,' and he has now arrived at the Yin and Yang Sect. If you hear my voice, please cease hiding and come with me to see my master."

"Ladies! My master is 'Wyatt Barnes,' and he has now arrived at the Yin and Yang Sect. If you hear my voice, please cease hiding and come with me to see my master."

The distant voice continued to carry, growing fainter and fainter until it faded from the ears of Jovie Lee and Keer.

"Let's go!"

Jovie Lee called out to Keer, and the two women set forth on their journey.

"Sister Jovie, once we leave, what is our plan? Are we to cross the Weak Water River by airboat to find Young Master in the South Outlands?"

Keer asked Jovie Lee.

"Our cultivation, although we've both stepped into the 'Martial Emperor Realm,' is merely at the 'First Level'... If we encounter those powerful bandits while crossing the Weak Water River, we would surely not survive!"

Jovie Lee said solemnly, "With our current level of cultivation, crossing the Weak Water River by airboat to the South Outlands is very risky."

"What should we do next?"

Keer asked.

Jovie Lee agreed with her.

Now, they were no longer living just for themselves, but for their man...

They also had to live for their deceased Master and Senior Sister!

Thus, they did not dare to take risks.

Years ago, when they had followed their Senior Sister to the Yin and Yang Sect, it was only because they had a 'Martial Emperor Realm Fifth Level' elder from Shadow Peak accompanying them that they were able to arrive safely.

They still remembered.

During that trip, their airboat encountered the strongest bandit—existing in the 'Martial Emperor Realm Fourth Level'—and they faced two of them consecutively.

Martial Emperor Realm Four-Level bandits.

Should they encounter them now, they would surely die!

Now, they were merely Martial Emperor Realm First-Level warriors.

"Next, let's first find a secluded place to hide and intensely cultivate."

Jovie Lee's eyes shimmered as she slowly said, "It's said that in three years, some 'Martial Emperor powerhouses' from the Inner Land will openly recruit disciples... At that time, we shall go to the Valley of Chill and participate in the trials set by the Emperor Stone of Martial Emperor, striving to pass the trial and become her disciple!"

"Training under a Martial Emperor will grant us better cultivation resources... Additionally, with guidance from a Martial Emperor, our strength would increase rapidly!"

"If we can become her personally taught disciples, just one word would suffice to have the Martial Emperor dispatch someone to eliminate Hunter Sun!"

As she spoke, when Jovie Lee mentioned 'Hunter Sun,' a cold glint flashed in her eyes.

"Valley of Chill? The chill Martial Emperor?"

Keer muttered, "It seems I have heard of this Martial Emperor... Is she the one from the Valley of Chill in the far northern region of the Inner Land?"

"That's right, it's her."

Jovie Lee nodded.

"Sister Jovie."

Keer's voice suddenly turned icy, "If one of us is fortunate enough to become a personally taught disciple of the Martial Emperor... let's not ask the Martial Emperor to send someone to kill Hunter Sun, alright?"

"Hmm?"

Jovie Lee paused, frowning as she asked, "Why?"

"I want to kill him with my own hands!"

Keer's voice was icily cold, filled with deep-seated hatred.

"I understand."

Jovie Lee nodded, "We need to rely on our own strength to avenge our Master and Senior Sister... In doing so, they will find peace even in death."

As Jovie Lee and Keer continued to move away from the Yin and Yang Sect...

Above the summit of Sun Peak in the Yin and Yang Sect,

Wyatt Barnes put away the Storage Ring and several 'realm and mystery fragments' left by Hunter Sun and his son, then returned to Winnie Romero's side.

His gaze immediately fixed on the three high-ranking members of Sun Peak, revealing a chilling intent to kill.

"Sir! The actions of Hunter Sun were only just known to us. As for the matter of your two fiancées, even though we knew, we were powerless to persuade Hunter Sun due to our lowly status."

One of the Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak spoke up first.

"Yes, sir! When Hunter Sun was here, we were weaker than him, so we had no choice but to obey him... However, I swear, I never did anything to wrong your two fiancées."

Another Vice Peak Master of Sun Peak followed suit.

Wyatt Barnes glanced lightly at the two men, then his gaze settled on an old man who had not yet spoken.

With his experience from the memories of the Reincarnated Martial Emperor, he could tell at a glance.

This old man's strength was greater than the other two, and might even rival Hunter Sun's.

"Do you... want to become the Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect?"

The old man also looked towards Wyatt Barnes and asked.

Chapter 1152: Search

Hearing the old man's words, not only Wyatt Barnes but also Winnie Romero and Fill Bear couldn't help but be startled.

The two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak glanced at the old man and frowned slightly, but ultimately chose not to say much more.

Their strength was not as great as the old man's, after all.

Even if they were stronger than the old man, daring to object at this moment could offend that purple-robed young man, and then they might not even realize how they died.

They still vividly remembered the scene of Hunter Sun and his son's murder.

"Why would you ask that?"

Wyatt Barnes came back to his senses and looked at the old man with a calm face, asking faintly.

It was as if the position of the Sect Leader of the prestigious Yin and Yang Sect held little allure for him.

In fact, he really wasn't interested in it.

"Because I think you are quite suited to becoming our Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect... With your strength, plus my assistance, your becoming the Sect Leader is almost a certainty," the old man continued, his words brimming with pride.

And he indeed had the capability.

Apart from being the Protector Elder of Sun Peak, he was also the junior brother of the previous generation's Peak Master of Sun Peak, holding absolute say in the matters of Sun Peak.

His status in Sun Peak was not inferior to Hunter Sun, the recently killed Peak Master of Sun Peak.

"Is that so?"

Wyatt Barnes gave the old man a deep look. "As far as I know, the Yin and Yang Sect doesn't consist of Sun Peak alone. Can you, a member of Sun Peak, represent Shadow Peak?"

"Shadow Peak?"

The old man was momentarily taken aback, then laughed, "Shadow Peak is now virtually non-existent... As long as you agree, I alone can help you subdue it."

"Oh?"

Hearing what the old man said, Wyatt Barnes suddenly became interested and asked, his eyes flashing: "I heard that the Peak Master of Shadow Peak and a Vice Peak Master are in seclusion, healing their injuries... Are you planning to plunder amidst the chaos?"

"Plunder amidst chaos?"

The old man shook his head, "Not really. Shadow Peak's Peak Master, along with that Vice Peak Master of Shadow Peak, were killed by Hunter Sun not long ago... If you claim Hunter Sun's Storage Ring as your own, you might even find the Storage Ring from Shadow Peak's Peak Master."

The old man spoke with calmness, as if he was completely detached from the matter.

Upon hearing this, Wyatt Barnes's expression darkened slightly.

If he remembered correctly,

the Vice Peak Master of Shadow Peak in seclusion seemed to be the master of his two fiancées.

Killed by Hunter Sun?

"Shadow Peak's Peak Master was... killed by the Peak Master?"

For a moment, the two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak were dumbfounded, completely confused.

What was their Peak Master trying to do?

However, considering their Peak Master was now dead as well, they had no one to hold to account even if they wanted to.

"Why did Hunter Sun kill them?" Wyatt Barnes asked in a heavy tone.

"Because he wanted to become the Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect! It is rare in the history of the Yin and Yang Sect to have a 'Sect Leader'... as a Sect Leader can only emerge when the strength of a Peak Master of either Shadow Peak or Sun Peak completely overpowers the other," the old man explained slowly.

"In this generation of the Yin and Yang Sect, Hunter Sun, as the Peak Master of Sun Peak, was nearly on par with Shadow Peak's Peak Master... Therefore, to become the Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect, he had to take advantage of Shadow Peak's Peak Master's injuries and kill her!"

"If he wanted to be Sect Leader, killing Shadow Peak's Peak Master would suffice... Why did he also kill another Vice Peak Master of Shadow Peak?" Wyatt Barnes's voice grew even lower.

The 'another Vice Peak Master of Shadow Peak' he referred to was the master of his two fiancées.

"You mean Ella Yorke and the master of your two fiancées?" The old man guessed why Wyatt Barnes was asking and continued, "Your two fiancées' master, although a Vice Peak Master of Shadow Peak, had a strength not inferior to that of the Peak Master of Shadow Peak!"

"If only Shadow Peak's Peak Master were dead, she would become the new Peak Master. Then Hunter Sun still couldn't become the Sect Leader of the entire Yin and Yang Sect."

The old man finished in one breath.

Now, Wyatt Barnes completely understood.

To Hunter Sun, the master of his two fiancées was as much a 'stumbling block' as Shadow Peak's Peak Master.

Only by clearing all the stumbling blocks could he have unobstructed control.

"You know quite a lot... Did you collude with Hunter Sun to kill the Peak Master of Shadow Peak and the Vice Peak Master?" Wyatt Barnes's eyes flashed with a chilling light as he immediately focused on the old man.

Murderous intent began to arise within him.

Should the old man dare to utter a 'yes', he would not hesitate to act and kill the old man before him.

The two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak also looked towards the old man, their complexions slightly gloomy.

If what the old man had just said was true, then their just-killed Peak Master of Sun Peak, Hunter Sun, was utterly insane!

"I am his uncle by way of cultivation. These matters...they were shared with me a few days ago when he wanted my assistance to ascend to the position of Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect," the old man said straightforwardly, meeting Wyatt Barnes's gaze unflinchingly.

"Elder Cloud, you just let the Peak Master do those things without holding him accountable?" One of the Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak couldn't help but challenge the old man.

The other Vice Peak Master of Sun Peak, though silent, also looked at the old man with a somber face.

"Accountability?" The old man glanced at the Vice Peak Master who questioned him. "How to hold him accountable? Let's set aside whether I am strong enough to do anything to him... Even if I were stronger than him, would I be able to kill him?"

After the old man's response, both Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak fell silent.

"Distinguished guest, if you are willing, I can assist you in becoming the new 'Sect Leader' of our Yin and Yang Sect!"

The old man looked at Wyatt Barnes again and said, "What, you want me to take over this mess of the Yin and Yang Sect?"

Wyatt Barnes gave the old man a meaningful glance and asked, "Or perhaps, you have some other motive?"

"Now, of the four 'Martial Emperor Realm Level Eight' warriors in the Yin and Yang Sect, all but me are dead! The Yin and Yang Sect is in a precarious state... Only if you become our Sect Leader can the Yin and Yang Sect stabilize once again."

The old man said to Wyatt Barnes, bowing his head as he spoke, a sharp glint flashing briefly in the depths of his eyes.

Nobody, including Wyatt Barnes, saw this moment due to the old man bowing his head.

"Please become the new Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect!"

"We swear to follow you unto death!"

At this moment, being reminded by the old man, the two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak quickly came to their senses and bowed to Wyatt Barnes in a hurry.

The current danger of the Yin and Yang Sect, having lost three of its pillars, frightened them into a cold sweat as they realized the crisis facing the sect.

Although the Yin and Yang Sect is a 'first-rate power' in the interior of the Cloud Skies Continent, it had conflicts with some other 'first-rate powers' during its millennia of inheritance.

If those 'first-rate powers' knew the current state of the Yin and Yang Sect, they would undoubtedly strike to obliterate it at the first opportunity.

Only if the young man in purple became the new Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect could there be a chance for the sect to survive this crisis.

However, Wyatt Barnes seemed to have perceived something and turned away, ignoring the Protector Elder of Sun Peak and the two Vice Peak Masters.

As he turned, a slight frown crossed Wyatt Barnes' face.

"Master!"

At this moment, a golden figure arrived from afar and stopped not far in front of Wyatt Barnes. It was Kamari Gold, whom Wyatt Barnes had just sent out.

However, Kamari Gold had returned alone after his departure.

"Didn't find them?"

Wyatt Barnes' expression darkened.

"Kamari Gold is useless."

Kamari Gold bowed his head, feeling unworthy to face his master.

"Walk and talk."

Wyatt Barnes beckoned to Kamari Gold, then moved swiftly, speeding off in the direction Kamari Gold had just come from.

Kamari Gold hurriedly followed.

Winnie Romero and Fill Bear naturally followed as well.

The Protector Elder of Sun Peak and the two Vice Peak Masters exchanged glances and, in the end, followed suit.

"With your sense of smell, how could you lose track of them?"

As they moved, Wyatt Barnes kept his speed close to Kamari Gold's and asked in a grave voice.

"I followed the scent left by our two mothers all the way there. The area was rife with mixed scents, and I lost track of our mothers... I've searched the vicinity numerous times but could not catch their scent again," Kamari Gold said helplessly.

"Did you do as I said and call out my name?"

Wyatt Barnes asked.

"I did."

Kamari Gold nodded. "I covered the area with my voice earlier, but no one responded to it."

Wyatt Barnes fell silent for a moment, then came to a stop.

Kamari Gold stopped too, following right behind Wyatt Barnes.

"What cultivation levels are my two fiancées at now?"

Soon, the three from Sun Peak, the Protector Elder, and the two Vice Peak Masters, reached them. Wyatt Barnes looked at the three and asked with a chilly voice.

"They are both at the 'First Level of the Martial Emperor Realm.'"

One of the Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak said.

"First Level of the Martial Emperor Realm?"

Wyatt Barnes was surprised at the breakthrough of the two girls' cultivation to the 'First Level of the Martial Emperor Realm'. However, he knew this was not the time for astonishment.

The most pressing matter was to find the two girls.

"If they were fleeing, they would not dare to fly in the open but would instead rely on the complex terrain here."

Wyatt Barnes surveyed the complex terrain and dense forest beneath him, making his guesses.

"Therefore, their speed should not be fast."

Wyatt Barnes' eyes flashed as he spoke, "Let's continue the search around here... If we can find them, I might consider becoming the new Sect Leader of your Yin and Yang Sect."

Wyatt Barnes' latter words were undoubtedly directed at the three from the Sun Peak of the Yin and Yang Sect.

Hearing this, the three from Sun Peak exchanged glances, their eyes lighting up. They then split up, each darting off in a different direction.

At this time, Winnie Romero and Fill Bear arrived belatedly.

"Let's split up and search."

After greeting them, Wyatt Barnes headed off alone, as fast as lightning.

For a moment, Winnie Romero, Fill Bear, and Kamari Gold also split up to search.

"His two fiancées... must be quite outstanding."

Winnie Romero searched the mountains and forests below, thinking to herself.

After her amnesia, on her way to the Yin and Yang Sect, she had also learned about the existence of Keer and Jovie Lee from Wyatt Barnes.

Chapter 1153: The Appearance of 'Heaven Fortin Sect

"Two young madams, if you are nearby, please come out quickly... don't hide anymore! Your fiancé has come, he has killed Hunter Sun and his son and is about to become our Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect!"

The two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak searched while shouting loudly.

The booming voice, filled with Origin Force, swept across the sky and land, startling birds hidden in the forest, but no human figure was seen.

"Hmph! He has also come looking... A Vice Peak Master of Sun Peak, to catch us, actually fabricates such nonsense! Does he think we would believe it?"

Within the complex terrain of the forest, two women in white, hiding behind the thickets, were Jovie Lee and Keer, who had escaped from Sun Peak.

Now, Jovie Lee watched a middle-aged man flying low, her tone filled with disdain.

"Sister Jovie, we should hurry."

Seeing the Vice Peak Master of Sun Peak leaving, Keer spoke to Jovie Lee.

"Alright."

Jovie responded, and the two women swiftly flew outwards, getting farther and farther from the Yin and Yang Sect.

Sometimes, fate is just so bumpy.

If it were Wyatt Barnes or Fill Bear searching this area for the traces of Jovie and Keer instead of the Vice Peak Master of Sun Peak.

Perhaps, they would have already smoothly reunited with Wyatt Barnes.

After the two women continued to move further away, Wyatt Barnes and others continued searching, but they did not go to places others had searched.

This also led to Wyatt Barnes missing the opportunity to find the two women.

Until nightfall, everyone found nothing.

"Young Master, it seems that the two Young Madams have already left."

After everyone regrouped, Fill Bear sighed.

Wyatt Barnes's eyes flickered, a trace of sadness appeared on his face, and he murmured softly, "I thought I could reunite with the two girls this time... but I didn't expect such changes to occur."

"Master, we will find the two madams."

Kamari Gold rarely spoke up to comfort.

"He is right."

Winnie Romero nodded, agreeing with Kamari Gold's words.

"Sir, then agree to our request and become the Sect Leader of our Yin and Yang Sect... Once you become the Sect Leader of our Yin and Yang Sect, the whole Yin and Yang Sect will be at your disposal! Then, finding your two fiancées will not be difficult."

The Protector Elder of Sun Peak looked at Wyatt Barnes, further enticing him.

It seemed as if they desperately wanted Wyatt Barnes to become the Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect.

"That's right."

The two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak also nodded, agreeing with the Protector Elder.

Wyatt Barnes heard this, raised an eyebrow, and began to ponder.

The three high-ranking members of the Yin and Yang Sect from Sun Peak wanted him to be the 'Sect Leader', he could guess the reason; they simply wanted to use his strength to preserve the foundation of the Yin and Yang Sect.

The Yin and Yang Sect, being an 'upper-tier power' in the inland, was able to deter others precisely because it was strong.

As an upper-tier power, the Yin and Yang Sect surely had made many enemies, including other upper-tier forces.

If these 'upper-tier forces' knew about the current situation of the Yin and Yang Sect, they would probably dispatch strong individuals immediately to uproot the entire Yin and Yang Sect and make it disappear from this world.

"Young Master, I think this old guy makes sense."

Fill Bear looked at Wyatt Barnes, his Origin Force forming words, "If we mobilize the entire Yin and Yang Sect to look for the two Young Madams, it would definitely be more efficient than us searching on our own."

"Of course, Young Master could choose not to become the Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect, and still force the remaining high-ranking members of the Yin and Yang Sect with his powerful strength, making them lead the search for the two Young Madams."

"However, this may not inspire their enthusiasm."

Fill Bear spoke to Wyatt Barnes.

Upon hearing Fill Bear's words formed from Origin Force, Wyatt Barnes nodded slightly, finally looking at the three eager high-ranking members of the Yin and Yang Sect, "I can agree to you and become the Sect Leader of Yin and Yang Sect."

"Meet the Sect Leader!"

As soon as Wyatt Barnes's words fell, the two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak showed surprise on their faces and hurriedly bowed in salute.

The Protector Elder of Sun Peak also bowed.

However, in the depths of his eyes, there was a hint of a successful conspiracy's cold gleam.

"Let's not rush to call me Sect Leader!"

Wyatt Barnes said unhurriedly, "I can become the Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect, but there is one condition, and it is the most important condition."

"Sect Leader, please speak."

The two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak looked curious, wondering what condition this purple-clad young man might propose.

Even the Protector Elder of Sun Peak now looked at Wyatt Barnes with more confusion, unsure what condition Wyatt Barnes would propose.

"The Yin and Yang Sect must change its name!"

A spark of brilliance flashed in the eyes of Wyatt Barnes, his purple robe fluttered without wind, making rustling sounds, giving him a graceful demeanor, and an extraordinary temperament, unlike an ordinary mortal.

"Change the name?!"

The moment Wyatt Barnes's words fell, the three high-ranking members of the Yin and Yang Sect were stunned and did not respond immediately.

As they came back to their senses, besides the Protector Elder of Sun Peak, the other two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak immediately furrowed their brows, a look of difficulty on their faces.

The Yin and Yang Sect, these three words, were more than just a name of a Sect.

The Yin and Yang Sect, with a heritage of thousands of years, is a sediment of history.

If they change the name, it meant that the Yin and Yang Sect would completely become history, and in a few decades, a hundred years, no one would remember the Yin and Yang Sect.

"Agreed!"

As the two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak were still hesitating, the Protector Elder of Sun Peak had already nodded and agreed.

"Elder Cloud!"

The expressions of the two Vice Peak Masters from Sun Peak slightly changed, they hadn't expected the Protector Elder to agree so decisively, and they were momentarily agitated.

You see,

once the Yin and Yang Sect was renamed, it meant the Sect would exist in name only, they would no longer belong to the Yin and Yang Sect.

"Hmph!"

Seeing the thoughts of the two Vice Peak Masters from Sun Peak, the old man snorted coldly and disdainfully said, "Even if the Yin and Yang Sect didn't change its name, it wouldn't be long before it was annihilated by enemies and vanished from this world... at that time, there will be a bunch of Yin and Yang Sect disciples who are unfortunate."

"With the renaming of the Yin and Yang Sect, we can still preserve a group of Yin and Yang Sect disciples, along with the foundation and pillars of the Sect."

As the old man spoke, his cold eyes swept over the two Vice Peak Masters from Sun Peak.

For a moment, the latter were silent.

They knew what the old man said made sense, but they were just struggling to accept it quickly.

After all, they had spent nearly half a lifetime in the Yin and Yang Sect and had long considered it their home... And now, this home was to be renamed, and would exist in name only.

"We agree too."

Soon, the two gritted their teeth and agreed.

"Sect Leader, since we are going to change the name... then the Sect will need a new name, but I don't know if the Sect Leader has thought of a new Sect name?"

The old man looked at Wyatt Barnes and asked.

"Heaven Fortin Sect!"

Wyatt Barnes' eyes hardened, each word rang out clearly.

Simultaneously, his purple garment, though there was no wind, fluttered as if emphasizing his words.

"Heaven Fortin Sect?"

Hearing Wyatt Barnes' words, everyone present suddenly brightened.

"What a good name!"

Fill Bear was the first to praise.

"Named after the master himself, quite domineering!"

Kamari Gold timely flattered Wyatt Barnes.

"Heaven Fortin... surpassing heaven, indeed a domineering name."

The two Vice Peak Masters from Sun Peak nodded in agreement.

"Sect Leader, is this name the same as your name?"

The Sun Peak Protector Elder looked at Wyatt Barnes, a gleam in his eyes, curiously asking.

"My master's honorable surname is 'Barnes', full name 'Wyatt'!"

Before Wyatt Barnes could speak, Kamari Gold answered for him to the Sun Peak Protector Elder.

"Heaven Fortin Sect, Sun Peak Protector Elder, Gabriel Cloud, has met the Sect Leader."

The Sun Peak Protector Elder bowed to Wyatt Barnes, indicating his submission to him with humble words, which seemed very sincere.

"Heaven Fortin Sect, Sun Peak Vice Peak Masters, Prince Sackman, Anand Sackman, have met the Sect Leader."

Soon, the two Vice Peak Masters from Sun Peak also came around and respectfully bowed to Wyatt Barnes.

"Prince Sackman? Anand Sackman?"

Wyatt Barnes scrutinized the two men before him, one old and one middle-aged man, "Are you brothers?"

"Yes, Sect Leader."

The elder nodded, "I am Prince Sackman, the elder brother, thirteen years older than Anand Sackman... Anand Sackman is more talented than I, thirteen years younger, yet his strength is no less than mine."

"Sect Leader, I am Anand Sackman."

The middle-aged man respectfully addressed Wyatt Barnes.

"I'll remember that."

Wyatt Barnes nodded, then looked at the distant 'Sun Peak' bathed in the incessantly erupting magma and slowly said, "The magma inside the belly of Sun Peak, who knows when it will cease... for now, it's uninhabitable."

"You three, gather everyone from Sun Peak and relocate them together to 'Shadow Peak'! From now on, Sun Peak no longer exists, Shadow Peak will be renamed 'Heaven Fortin Peak'."

Wyatt Barnes emphatically declared once again.

"Yes."

As soon as Wyatt Barnes' words fell, Gabriel Cloud and the Sackman brothers respectfully responded and then flew towards Sun Peak to gather the scattered disciples of Sun Peak.

No!

In the future, there will be no distinction between Sun Peak disciples and Shadow Peak disciples, only disciples of the Heaven Fortin Sect.

And 'Heaven Fortin Sect', the Sect born from renaming the Yin and Yang Sect, will officially step onto the historical stage of the Cloud Skies Continent, appearing before the inland people.

Wyatt Barnes, the first-generation Sect Leader of 'Heaven Fortin Sect'!

"Congratulations, Young Master, on becoming the Sect Leader of Heaven Fortin Sect... With the legacy left by the Yin and Yang Sect, along with your strength, as soon as Heaven Fortin Sect appeared in the central region of the Cloud Skies Continent, it became a 'first-rate power'!"

Fill Bear congratulated Wyatt Barnes.

"Congratulations, Master."

Kamari Gold also followed in congratulating Wyatt Barnes and simultaneously flattered, "Master, under your leadership, Heaven Fortin Sect will surely create an immortal legend... stepping on those two ancient clans is within easy reach!"

"Stepping on the two ancient clans?"

Wyatt Barnes looked deeply at Kamari Gold when he heard his words, "Otherwise... how about you represent Heaven Fortin Sect, go to the two ancient clans, and show me how you step on them?"

Kamari Gold hadn't expected his flattery to miss the mark and immediately smiled awkwardly, then squeezed out a flattering smile, "I believe the master will definitely be able to do it in the future."

Kamari Gold's words were full of confidence in Wyatt Barnes.

"Winnie, let's go over there too... Heaven Fortin Peak, is that way."

Wyatt Barnes no longer paid attention to Kamari Gold, called out to Winnie Romero, and the two set off first.

Chapter 1154: Gather at the Summit

The original 'Shadow Peak' has now been renamed 'Heaven Peak,' a mountain forever shrouded in ice and snow.

From a distance, the pure white snow that blankets the peak resembles a layer of shining silver armor.

Wyatt Barnes and Winnie Romero led the way on horseback, followed closely by Kamari Gold and Fill Bear, and the group of four quickly reached Heaven Peak, arriving at the summit.

Along the way, it was evident that Heaven Peak was far from serene.

Clusters of women in white stood everywhere, grouped in twos and threes, gazing distantly at a fiercely burning mountain peak and engaged in endless chatter.

"Sun Peak has been burning for a whole day now."

"I heard Sun Peak is now covered with boiling lava, and the ground where Sun Peak disciples used to cultivate has been destroyed."

"What are the Sun Peak disciples going to do now? They won't come to Shadow Peak to compete with us for our cultivation spaces, will they?"

...

These women in white were the disciples of Shadow Peak from the former Yin and Yang Sect, speculating and worrying amongst themselves about the Sun Peak disciples encroaching on their cultivation spaces.

They were still unaware that the Yin and Yang Sect was no more, replaced by 'Heaven Fortin Sect.'

They were now disciples of Heaven Fortin Sect, and the mountain they were on, formerly known as 'Shadow Peak,' had been renamed 'Heaven Peak' with a single pronouncement from the current Sect Leader of Heaven Fortin Sect!

Wyatt Barnes and the others quickly made their way to the summit of Shadow Peak, standing high in the clouds, as if waiting for something.

Time quietly slipped by.

After half an hour.

"They haven't arrived?"

Kamari Gold, looking in the direction of the burning mountain peak in the distance, furrowed his brow, "Those three are too inefficient! How dare they keep the master waiting so long!"

"They're here."

Kamari Gold had barely finished speaking when Wyatt Barnes's eyes lit up, as if he had spotted something.

Soon after, Winnie Romero, Kamari Gold, and Fill Bear could all see a group of people approaching from the direction of the burning peak.

Three figures led this impressive procession.

Even though they were far away, their extraordinary eyesight as beings of the Martial Emperor Realm meant they could see everything clearly.

"I'm at the summit."

As Wyatt Barnes saw the group reach the outskirts of Heaven Peak and stop midair, unsure of where to go, he spoke up at the right moment.

His voice carried the power of Origin Force; though it didn't seem loud, it rang clearly in the ears of everyone around Heaven Peak.

"Who's talking?"

"Such a strong cultivation! Is he really at the summit?"

"If he really is at the summit speaking now, judging from our location, everyone around Shadow Peak must have heard his voice."

...

Wyatt Barnes's voice startled many of the female disciples of Shadow Peak.

"I'm Gabriel Cloud, the Protector Elder of Sun Peak. All of you at Shadow Peak, listen up, gather at the summit immediately... anyone not present within half an hour will be expelled from the Sect! No matter the status, no matter the position!"

While the group of Shadow Peak female disciples was still shocked by Wyatt Barnes's voice, another voice reached everyone's ears at Shadow Peak.

"Not at the summit within half an hour, and will be expelled from the Sect?"

"That's definitely the voice of Elder Cloud from Sun Peak!"

"Elder Cloud is a Protector Elder of Sun Peak whose strength is no less than that of both Peak Masters. He is also the Sun Peak Master's martial uncle and is deeply respected by the Sun Peak Master... If he's asking us to go to the summit, we better hurry."

"Let's go! To the summit! I wonder what's happening today that requires all of us to go to the summit."

"If nothing unexpected has happened, it's probably to announce the Sun Peak disciples taking over our Shadow Peak... after all, they've become homeless."

...

After hearing Gabriel Cloud's voice, all female disciples of Shadow Peak hastened to the summit without delay.

"Elder Cloud?"

"With such an event happening at Sun Peak, shouldn't the Peak Master, Hunter Sun, be taking the lead? Why is Elder Cloud personally getting involved?"

"This Elder Cloud isn't usually one to seek such attention."

...

Many Shadow Peak elders also heard Gabriel Cloud's voice, and they understood the significance of his status in the Yin and Yang Sect better than the group of female disciples.

Therefore, they didn't dare to procrastinate and headed straight to the summit.

Halfway up the mountain, several figures stood in midair; among them were elderly women and middle-aged ladies.

Swoosh!

It was only when a figure shot out from halfway up the mountain and stood in the air that those present came to their senses and bowed respectfully to the newcomer, "Vice-Peak Master Rowan."

Now appearing before them was a woman of noble and elegant bearing, dressed in a white robe trimmed with silver, standing with a powerful presence.

It was none other than Vice-Peak Master Pearl Rowan of Shadow Peak!

"Hmm."

Responding with a slight nod to their salutes, Pearl Rowan's expression showed a hint of confusion.

"Vice-Peak Master Rowan, is Elder Cloud calling all of us to the summit to announce the Sun Peak disciples taking over our Shadow Peak?"

An elderly woman asked Pearl Rowan.

"I don't know."

Pearl Rowan shook her head.

"If they really are going to come to Shadow Peak, where will we find enough cultivation spaces for them all?"

A middle-aged woman with a grim expression said,

"If there's not enough space for cultivation, they can dig it out themselves... As fellow members of the Yin and Yang Sect, we cannot stand by and watch them die! Besides, we'll discuss any matters once we reach the summit."

After Pearl Rowan spoke, she took the lead and headed towards the summit.

"Alas... Now, our Shadow Peak has only Vice-Peak Master Rowan in charge, compared to Sun Peak's Peak Master, Protector Elder, and two Vice Peak Masters, we are at an absolute disadvantage," someone sighed, shaking their head as they followed Pearl Rowan.

"It seems that it's a foregone conclusion that the people of Sun Peak will take over our Shadow Peak today, and it cannot be changed," another person added.

At the summit of 'Shadow Peak,' now known as 'Heaven Fortin Peak,' the place quickly filled with people, and the number was still growing, a dark mass of figures.

"All these... They're all from our 'Heaven Fortin Sect'?"

Fill Bear looked at the crowd before him with a glint in his eye.

Heaven Fortin Sect was his Young Master's, so he also considered himself part of the Heaven Fortin Sect.

At the summit of Heaven Fortin Peak, the first group of people to appear was a group of white-clad women.

Among these white-clad women were old ladies, middle-aged women, young women, and some youthful girls.

They were indeed the female disciples from the Yin and Yang Sect's Shadow Peak.

"That Gabriel Cloud sure knows how to get things done."

Witnessing how Gabriel Cloud's mere word had mobilized all the female disciples of Heaven Fortin Peak with such efficiency, Wyatt Barnes was also quite satisfied.

Before long, as the number of people at the summit of Heaven Fortin Peak continued to increase, Gabriel Cloud, Prince Sackman, and Anand Sackman arrived at the summit with a grand entourage of Sun Peak disciples.

Many Sun Peak disciples looked dejected; their cultivation grounds had been taken away just like that.

"It's Elder Cloud!"

The appearance of Gabriel Cloud caused a stir among the crowd.

After all, he was the Protector Elder of Sun Peak, whose power was no less than that of Sun Peak's Peak Master. Many of the female disciples of Shadow Peak were excited to see him, like chickens injected with fresh blood.

"Both Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak have arrived... But why is Hunter Sun, the Sun Peak's Peak Master, nowhere to be seen?"

After a while, someone looked around but did not spot Hunter Sun, which they found puzzling.

"Indeed, where is Peak Master Hunter Sun? Why hasn't he come?"

Soon, another person expressed their doubts.

"It's not only Peak Master Hunter Sun who's missing; his son Felix Sun isn't here either... Also missing are Sister Ella Yorke, Sister Jovie Lee, and Junior Sister Keer."

"It's almost half an hour now... If they don't come soon, according to Elder Cloud's words, won't they all be expelled from the Sect?"

"Hmph! If Hunter Sun and his son really do get expelled from the Sect, that would be cause for celebration! Taking advantage of the Peak Master and Vice-Peak Master Winnie's closed-door healing, they threatened Sister Jovie Lee to coerce Junior Sister Keer... How despicable of them."

"We still haven't seen Sister Ella Yorke."

...

The group of female disciples from Shadow Peak was buzzing with conversation, and soon several realized that Hunter Sun and his son, along with Ella Yorke, Jovie Lee, and Keer, were all absent.

"Elder Cloud, Vice-Peak Masters Sackman."

Before long, an emotionless, indifferent voice rang out, capturing the attention of most present.

A woman of elegant and luxurious demeanor appeared, leading a group of old ladies and middle-aged women. She greeted the three men standing in front of a group of Sun Peak male disciples from afar.

"Vice-Peak Master Rowan."

Gabriel Cloud and his companions looked at the woman, a gleam in their eyes.

The woman before them was now the highest authority of Shadow Peak, the Vice-Peak Master of Shadow Peak, Pearl Rowan.

"Elder Cloud, where's the Peak Master of Sun Peak?"

Pearl Rowan looked at Gabriel Cloud, her eyes flickered, a flash of cold light passing deep within them as she bluntly asked.

"Sun Peak's Peak Master is dead," Gabriel Cloud said.

No sooner had Gabriel Cloud spoken than not only Pearl Rowan and the few Shadow Peak Elders behind her but all the people of Shadow Peak, and even the crowd of Sun Peak followers behind Gabriel Cloud and the Sackman brothers, were all stunned into silence.

Sun Peak's Peak Master is dead?

The mighty Sun Peak's Peak Master of the Yin and Yang Sect, one of the four strongest Martial Emperors in the Sect, is dead?

"Elder Cloud, you're not joking, right? Although Sun Peak was engulfed in lava, with the Peak Master's cultivation, escaping shouldn't have been difficult, right?"

Pearl Rowan asked Gabriel Cloud, obviously not quite believing that Hunter Sun, Sun Peak's Peak Master, was dead.

For a moment, all the people of Shadow Peak also turned their eyes to Gabriel Cloud.

The people of Sun Peak, aside from the two Vice Peak Masters, Prince Sackman and Anand Sackman, also turned to Gabriel Cloud, wanting to hear how he would respond.

"Our Sun Peak's Peak Master's death has nothing to do with the lava... He was murdered," Gabriel Cloud stated openly under everyone's watchful eyes.

Murdered?

The moment Gabriel Cloud said this, everyone present, except for Gabriel Cloud himself, the Sackman brothers beside him, and Wyatt Barnes's party of four hidden in the high sky, all turned pale.

Sun Peak's Peak Master, Hunter Sun, was one of the strongest beings in the Yin and Yang Sect.

In terms of power, no one in the Yin and Yang Sect should have been able to kill him.

Yet now, he had been murdered.

The one who killed him, could they not be a more powerful being than all the strong ones in their Yin and Yang Sect combined?

"Who killed him?"

For the first time, Pearl Rowan came to her senses and asked, somewhat dumbfounded.

Chapter 1155: Fury for the Beauty, Sword Breaks Sun Peak!

As Pearl Rowan questioned Gabriel Cloud and nearly everyone around the Summit of End Peak turned their gaze towards Gabriel.

"I killed him."

A calm voice transmitted from above the crowd and descended.

"Who's there?!"

Instantly, everyone, including Pearl Rowan, paled with shock; they hadn't expected someone to be hiding in the air above them.

When they looked up, they saw a purple figure descending from the sky.

Behind the purple figure, three other figures followed.

However, all eyes were fixed on the leading figure in purple, while the other three were deliberately ignored.

The purple figure was a young man around twenty-five years old. He wore a purple robe, had sword-like eyebrows, starry eyes, was extraordinarily handsome, and carried an elegant demeanor.

As soon as he appeared, many young female disciples from Shadow Peak lit up with excitement, their hearts fluttering.

However, their biggest question now was who this handsome young man in purple was, as he seemed to be the one who had responded to Vice-Peak Master Rowan.

"Did he... say he killed the Sun Peak Master, Hunter Sun?"

Numerous female disciples from Shadow Peak were stunned.

"Given his age, is that even possible?"

Many of them questioned.

"Age? What does age represent? Maybe he's a 'demon'!"

Some female disciples from Shadow Peak didn't think so.

Pearl Rowan fixed her gaze firmly on the purple-robed young man who had now descended from the sky. For some reason, looking at this expressionless young man, she felt a hint of danger.

As a woman and as the Vice-Peak Master of Shadow Peak of the Yin and Yang Sect, her intuition was much stronger than that of ordinary women.

Her intuition told her that this young man in purple was not simple.

Perhaps the Sun Peak Master was indeed killed by him.

While everyone was puzzled, looking at Wyatt Barnes and wondering about his identity, questioning whether he could have killed the Sun Peak Master "Hunter Sun."

"Sect Leader!"

Gabriel Cloud and the Sackman brothers beside him stepped forward and bowed respectfully to Wyatt Barnes.

Sect Leader?!

The action of Gabriel and the Sackman brothers boldly stepping forward initially drew the attention of many, including Sun Peak disciples. They had thought these three were about to attack the young man in purple.

But to their utter surprise, after stepping forward, they not only didn't attack the young man from the sky but bowed and addressed him as "Sect Leader."

Which stirred quite a commotion!

Regardless, the actions of Gabriel and the Sackman brothers were like a stone triggering a thousand ripples, causing everyone including Pearl Rowan and all the elders of Shadow Peak and Sun Peak to be greatly shocked.

"Are Elder Cloud and the two Vice-Peak Masters from Sun Peak addressing this purple-robed young man as the Sect Leader?"

A female disciple from Shadow Peak swallowed hard and asked with some difficulty.

"It seems so."

Another female disciple next to her nodded.

"Our Yin and Yang Sect rarely teases with the title 'Sect Leader'... today, after Elder Cloud said that the Sun Peak Master was killed, he referred to him as the Sect Leader. Could it be that he is to become our Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect?"

"Even if his strength is great, after all, he has killed the Sun Peak Master, our leader... isn't such a person unfit to be our Sect Leader?"

"What can we do if his power is strong enough to coerce us into acknowledging him as 'Sect Leader' with force?"

...

The attendees discussed fervently, and as they talked, their tones grew increasingly bleak.

This is the Cloud Skies Continent, where the powerful are respected!

As long as one is strong enough, not only can one walk horizontally, but one can also become the 'Sect Leader' of a sect after killing a high-ranking member of the sect.

"My name is Wyatt Barnes!"

Amidst the varied expressions and discussions of the crowd, Wyatt then spoke, his voice thunderous, resonating with everyone present.

Like thunder piercing through their ears!

"I recognize it... isn't this the voice that spread across Shadow Peak previously?"

Many quickly identified Wyatt's voice.

"I am at the peak."

They still remembered.

At the time, that voice had only said this short, confusing sentence.

And right after this statement, the Protector Elder 'Gabriel Cloud' from Sun Peak timely spoke up.

Summoning everyone to come to Shadow Peak summit, and he himself along with the other two Vice-Peak Masters brought along all Sun Peak elders and disciples.

"My name might sound unfamiliar to you all... but 'Keer' and 'Jovie Lee,' you might know these names, right?"

Wyatt continued.

Keer? Jovie Lee?

The moment Wyatt's words fell, the scene fell into a dead silence, then suddenly became noisy again.

"He knows Keer and Jovie Lee?"

Pearl Rowan looked at Wyatt, her expression softening a bit.

She was, along with another Vice-Peak Master of Shadow Peak, 'Marleigh Flower,' who were both mentors to Keer and Jovie Lee and were very close as sisters.

Recently, Jovie Lee was captured, and Keer was forced to marry the son of the Sun Peak Master; she had gone in person to confront Sun Peak Master 'Hunter Sun' and was angrily turned away.

Not only that,

Hunter Sun also threatened her that if she meddled in affairs that didn't concern her, he would break into the forbidden lands of Shadow Peak and kill the Peak Master of Shadow Peak and her senior sister, "Marleigh Flower."

Being less powerful than Hunter Sun, and considering the two major figures of Shadow Peak who were currently in seclusion for healing, she could only choose to endure.

To be honest,

when she heard today that Hunter Sun had died, her heart felt nothing but joy.

"Did he know Junior Sister Keer and Junior Sister Jovie Lee?"

"Who exactly is he? Also, where are Junior Sister Keer and Junior Sister Jovie Lee? Why haven't we seen them yet?"

"Not only are Junior Sister Keer and Junior Sister Jovie Lee missing, but Senior Sister Ella Yorke is also absent."

...

Many female disciples of Shadow Peak looked around, hoping to find Keer, Jovie Lee, and Ella Yorke, but all to no avail.

"Keer? Isn't that the Shadow Peak female disciple who was forced by the Peak Master to marry Junior Brother Felix Sun?"

"And that Jovie Lee... It was the Peak Master who imprisoned Jovie Lee and threatened Keer."

"This matter, including myself, many are dissatisfied... but what can we do when we have little influence?"

"Could his killing of the Peak Master be related to Keer and Jovie Lee?"

...

Many male disciples of Sun Peak were discussing, and as they talked, their eyes collectively turned toward Wyatt Barnes, filled with confusion and expectation.

"I remember now!"

At this moment, a female disciple of Shadow Peak exclaimed, drawing the attention of many.

Seeing many eyes fixed on her, the Shadow Peak female disciple said somewhat excitedly, "I once heard Senior Sister Ella Yorke mention the name of Junior Sister Keer and Junior Sister Jovie Lee's fiancé... Their fiancé, his name is 'Wyatt Barnes.'"

Wow!

As soon as the Shadow Peak female disciple spoke, it immediately caused another stir around her.

Having a fiancé was not something unusual for the people of Shadow Peak.

However, most of them did not know the name of the two women's fiancé.

Now, reminded by someone else, they fully realized.

"So he is Junior Sister Keer and Junior Sister Jovie Lee's fiancé!"

"This means his coming to our Yin and Yang Sect was for Junior Sister Keer and Junior Sister Jovie Lee?"

"I didn't expect that Junior Sister Keer and Junior Sister Jovie Lee's fiancé would be so powerful. He even killed the Peak Master Hunter Sun and subdued Elder Cloud and the two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak."

"I used to wonder... with the standards of Junior Sister Keer and Junior Sister Jovie Lee, each could find an extraordinarily outstanding man. Why would they share one husband? Now, I finally understand."

"Such an outstanding man, even I would be willing to share him with other women."

"You? Look at yourself in the mirror first! Do you think the man of Junior Sister Keer and Junior Sister Jovie Lee would even glance at you?"

...

A group of female disciples of Shadow Peak discussed animatedly, their eyes unanimously fixed on Wyatt Barnes, with many young female disciples gazing at him with adoration.

Soon, the fact that Wyatt Barnes was Keer and Jovie Lee's 'fiancé' spread throughout the entire Peak Summit.

"Indeed! I am the fiancé of Keer and Jovie Lee!"

At this time, Wyatt Barnes spoke up again, admitting that he was the fiancé of Keer and Jovie Lee.

For a moment, the summit fell silent again.

"I came here this time primarily to rescue my two fiancées from the Yin and Yang Sect... but I didn't expect so many unexpected incidents to happen afterward."

As everyone watched, Wyatt Barnes slowly spoke up, pausing for a moment.

"As for what exactly happened... Prince Sackman, you tell them."

Wyatt Barnes turned to look at one of the Sackman brothers, the elder brother and one of the two Vice Peak Masters of Sun Peak—an elderly man.

Initially, Wyatt Barnes had wanted Gabriel Cloud to speak.

However, for some reason, when he looked at Gabriel Cloud, he felt somewhat uneasy.

This was entirely his keen intuition developed from his past life as a special forces soldier, telling him that Gabriel Cloud was a complicated person, not so straightforward, and not trustworthy.

"Yes."

Under the slightly darkened gaze of Gabriel Cloud, Prince Sackman stood out, drawing the attention of everyone present.

At first, Prince Sackman spoke about Wyatt Barnes piercing through the belly of Sun Peak with his sword, causing a volcanic eruption.

For a moment, the people present were again in a stir.

None of them had expected that this young-looking man in purple would be so fierce.

Fury for a beauty, sword breaking through Sun Peak!

What kind of boldness was that?!

However, not many people blamed Wyatt Barnes for this; instead, they redirected the blame to the already deceased Peak Master of Sun Peak, 'Hunter Sun.'

After all, it was Hunter Sun who unnecessarily coerced someone else's fiancée to marry his son, which led to the disaster.

Otherwise, why would anyone attack Sun Peak?

Were they just bored?

As for the Sun Peak disciples who died due to the volcanic eruption of Sun Peak, ultimately, they were also indirectly killed by Hunter Sun.

"At that time, Sun Peak was completely enveloped by magma, and I, along with Elder Cloud and Anand Sackman, were the first to reach the summit of Sun Peak."

Prince Sackman continued.

"After we arrived, Hunter Sun and his son followed... At that moment, the Sect Leader also made his appearance."

At this point, Prince Sackman looked toward Wyatt Barnes.

Chapter 1156: Sect Leader, Wyatt Barnes!

Then, Prince Sackman recounted the incidents that had unfolded.

He did not omit the part about the Primordial Sun Peak Master, Hunter Sun, personally admitting to breaking into Shadow Peak's forbidden area and killing both the Peak Master and the Vice Peak Master of the Shadow Peaks.

At that moment, everyone present, including a group of male disciples from the Sun Peak, gasped in shock.

They had never imagined.

Their Sun Peak Master, Hunter Sun's ambition was so great—he actually wanted to become the first Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect in hundreds of years!

To achieve this, he had taken advantage of the time when the two strongest individuals from the Shadow Peak were in seclusion healing their injuries and had killed them both!

Such an action was tantamount to destroying the two main pillars of Shadow Peak.

"Cruel and inhumane! Cruel and inhumane!"

Knowing that Hunter Sun, out of personal desire, had killed their two Peak Masters, all the Shadow Peak disciples were furious.

"Sister!"

Pearl Rowan trembled, her eyes suddenly tinged with a hint of blood red. The next moment, she disappeared from where she stood, clearly heading to the Shadow Peak forbidden area to ascertain the truth for herself.

"What a pity for Sister Ella Yorke... to be killed just like that by Hunter Sun."

"Sister Ella Yorke was so outstanding, but to meet such a tragic end is truly lamentable."

...

Unbeknownst to them, the eyes of several female disciples from Shadow Peak darted towards Fill Bear, who was following Wyatt Barnes.

In Fill Bear's arms lay a woman in white who had been dead for quite some time.

Her white hair was purer than snow, and her white dress was largely stained bright red, stark and eye-catching.

It was "Ella Yorke"!

"I never imagined that the Peak Master would go so far as to lay hands on someone as pitiable as Sister Ella Yorke."

A male disciple from Sun Peak said indignantly.

"You still call him Peak Master? If you ask me, that Hunter Sun is nothing but a beast! Like father, like son; his son is also a beast."

"Yes! Both the father and the son are beasts!"

...

Many male disciples from Sun Peak also voiced their anger.

Ella Yorke, the strongest among the younger generation of Shadow Peak, with her astonishing talent and understanding, along with her unsurpassed beauty, was considered a 'dream lover' by all the male disciples of Sun Peak.

Now, learning that Hunter Sun had caused the death of their 'dream lover,' they were naturally enraged.

It wasn't long before Pearl Rowan returned, drawing all eyes to her upon her arrival.

Suddenly, the environment quieted down.

"Thank you."

Although Pearl Rowan's face was still tinged with sorrow, she now bowed and expressed her sincere gratitude to Wyatt Barnes.

She thanked Wyatt Barnes for avenging the Shadow Peak.

She thanked Wyatt Barnes for avenging her Sisters and fellow disciples.

Seeing Pearl Rowan's actions, everyone understood that everything Prince Sackman had just recounted was true without a shred of falsehood.

At that moment, the crowd's anger intensified even more.

"Vice-Peak Master Rowan, the disciple of Master Ella Yorke."

Then, Prince Sackman turned to Wyatt Barnes and introduced "Pearl Rowan".

"So, she is Aunt Master."

Wyatt Barnes's eyes flashed, and he nodded at Pearl Rowan.

Ella Yorke's Master, who was also the Master to both Keer and Jovie Lee.

Thus, this elegant woman before him was also Aunt Master to Keer and Jovie Lee.

He was the man of those two young women, so naturally, he should also call her "Aunt Master."

"In our Yin and Yang Sect, among the four great masters, aside from Elder Cloud, none remains... The crisis our Yin and Yang Sect will face next is something everyone can probably guess."

Prince Sackman continued to speak solemnly, "That is why I, Elder Cloud, and Anand Sackman, have boldly requested this man to become our Sect Leader!"

Having said this, Prince Sackman looked toward Wyatt Barnes.

At that moment, Wyatt Barnes once again became the center of everyone's attention.

By then, the people present had also realized why the Elder Cloud of Sun Peak and the two Vice Peak Masters addressed Wyatt Barnes as Sect Leader.

"Pearl Rowan, Vice Peak Master of Shadow Peak, greets the Sect Leader."

Pearl Rowan bowed again to Wyatt Barnes, and this time, she was not thanking him but acknowledging him as the Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect.

Wyatt Barnes, aside from being a powerful figure who could kill Hunter Sun, a protector of the Yin and Yang Sect, was also the fiancé of her two disciples.

Compared to the Elder Cloud of Sun Peak and the two Vice Peak Masters, her relationship with Wyatt Barnes was particularly close.

Therefore, she naturally would not refuse letting Wyatt Barnes become the Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect.

"Seen..."

Just as the remaining group of elders and disciples from both Shadow Peak and Sun Peak were about to collectively acknowledge Wyatt Barnes as their Sect Leader, Wyatt Barnes spoke up, interrupting them, "Wait!"

Immediately, not only did this group show a look of confusion, but even Pearl Rowan found it strange, not knowing what Wyatt Barnes intended to do.

Only Gabriel Cloud and the Sackman brothers remained calm, guessing what Wyatt Barnes might say next.

"If you want to respect me as 'Sect Leader'... however, there's something I need to tell you beforehand."

"That is... once I become the Sect Leader of the Yin and Yang Sect, it will be renamed to 'Heaven Fortin Sect.' That means the Yin and Yang Sect will cease to exist."

Wyatt Barnes said to the crowd: "Those who cannot accept this can leave now; the Heaven Fortin Sect will not hold anyone against their will."

Changing the name of the Sect!

The crowd burst into a commotion.

"The Yin and Yang Sect is changing its name?"

"Actually, changing the name is no big deal... Moreover, I think the new Sect name sounds better! More commanding!"

"I think so too... Heaven Fortin Sect, Wyatt, soaring above the heavens!"

...

Soon, except for some hesitance from the elders of Shadow Peak and Sun Peak, a group of disciples from both peaks were buzzing with discussion and seemed satisfied with the new Sect name.

Unlike the elders of Shadow Peak and Sun Peak who had spent many years in the Yin and Yang Sect and had deep feelings for it, these disciples from Shadow Peak and Sun Peak had not been with the Yin and Yang Sect for long and did not have strong attachments to the Sect. They only cared about whether they were still part of a 'first-rate power' and were unconcerned with the actual name of the Sect.

However, the hesitant group of elders from Shadow Peak and Sun Peak eventually compromised.

Since neither the elders of Sun Peak and the two Vice Peak Masters nor the Vice Peak Master of Shadow Peak had any objections, compared to these four, their opinions weren't significant.

"Since there are no objections... then, from today onward, I, Wyatt Barnes, am the first generation Sect Leader of Heaven Fortin Sect! From now on, Shadow Peak shall be renamed 'Heaven Peak.'"

Wyatt Barnes spoke loudly, his voice booming with authority, sweeping across the crowd.

"Greetings to the Sect Leader."

At this moment, all disciples of Heaven Fortin Sect bowed respectfully to Wyatt Barnes, forming a dense, majestic assembly.

Watching the crowd before him, Wyatt Barnes knew that from this moment on, he was shouldering a mountainous responsibility.

From now on, he was no longer just one person.

"Sect Leader."

Prince Sackman looked at Wyatt Barnes and respectfully asked, "Now that Sun Peak has been destroyed, I wonder how the Sect Leader plans to accommodate the people of Sun Peak?"

As Prince Sackman spoke, a group of former Sun Peak elders and disciples looked towards Wyatt Barnes eagerly.

Even the people from Shadow Peak were watching Wyatt Barnes, their hearts fluttering with unease, fearing that the people of Sun Peak might encroach on their cultivation grounds.

"When I came over here just now, I had already carefully inspected... Heaven Peak has only developed half of its area for the female disciples to cultivate, right?"

In the gaze of the crowd, Wyatt Barnes slowly spoke, eventually looking at Pearl Rowan.

"Yes, Sect Leader."

Pearl Rowan respectfully replied, then explained, "Heaven Peak is covered with snow all year round. The side where we cultivate is better, leaning towards the southern side, which is not affected by the cold winds... The other side, towards the north, is enveloped by cold winds all year round."

"Mm."

Wyatt Barnes nodded, "I noticed that when I arrived."

"Based on this... I declare!"

Wyatt Barnes's gaze swept over the imposing gathering of Heaven Fortin Sect's elders and disciples as he slowly said, "The people of the original Shadow Peak will keep their cultivation grounds unchanged."

As soon as Wyatt Barnes said this, a group of Shadow Peak elders and disciples smiled.

And the faces of the elders and disciples from Sun Peak changed.

"The people of Sun Peak will go to the northern side of Heaven Peak and carve out their own cultivation grounds."

Wyatt Barnes continued.

"Sect Leader!"

Anand Sackman frowned slightly, speaking out, "The northern side of Heaven Peak is harshly cold all year round. Even if we carve out cultivation grounds there, the cold winds will invade, making it hard to cultivate peacefully."

"Yes, Sect Leader."

A group of Sun Peak elders and disciples nodded in agreement.

"What if I can solve that problem?"

Ignoring the unhappy expressions of the group of Sun Peak elders and disciples, Wyatt Barnes looked at Anand Sackman and asked.

"Solve it?"

Anand Sackman was momentarily confused.

"I can set up a large Inscription Array that will cover the northern side of Heaven Peak, protecting it from all cold winds blowing in that direction."

Wyatt Barnes stated lightly.

Whoosh!

As soon as Wyatt Barnes made this statement, it stirred up a huge reaction among the onlookers.

An Inscription Array to protect the northern side of Heaven Peak from the cold winds?

Could such an Inscription Array really be set up?

They were skeptical.

Among them were some 'Inscription Masters', but they had never heard of anyone being able to set up such an extensive Inscription Array.

"Now, you, along with Gabriel Cloud and Prince Sackman, lead the people of the former Sun Peak to the north of Heaven Peak to carve out cultivation grounds... As for that Inscription Array, I will have it completed within three days."

Wyatt Barnes looked at Anand Sackman and said.

Though doubtful of Wyatt Barnes's words, the three top figures from the former Sun Peak still led the group from Sun Peak toward the north side of Heaven Peak.

Their task was to carve out cultivation spaces within the mountain.

"I wonder if the Sect Leader can really set up such an Inscription Array."

"An Inscription Array covering half of Heaven Peak... just thinking about it seems exaggerated! But the expression on the Sect Leader's face when he said that didn't seem like he was fooling us."

"Whether he's fooling us or not, we'll know in three days."

...

While discussing, the elders and disciples of the former Sun Peak followed Gabriel Cloud and the other two, hoping that the next three days would pass quickly.

"Vice-Peak Master Rowan, stay. The rest of you may leave."

Wyatt Barnes looked at the group of female elders and disciples before him and ordered.

Chapter 1157: Preparation

Upon hearing Wyatt Barnes's command, a group of Shadow Peak elders and disciples hurriedly left, not daring to hesitate.

"Sect Leader."

Pearl Rowan looked at Wyatt Barnes.

"Uncle Master, take me to Ella Yorke's training ground... I want her to return to her roots."

Wyatt Barnes said to Pearl Rowan.

Ella Yorke had died for his two fiancées.

He naturally would not mistreat Ella Yorke, even though she had already passed away.

Hearing this, Pearl Rowan shuddered, her gaze involuntarily falling behind Wyatt on Fill Bear's embrace.

The bloodstained white figure was the first thing that caught her eye.

"Scarlett... what a pity."

After a moment, Pearl Rowan sighed deeply, her face full of regret.

Ella Yorke, the strongest among the young generation of Shadow Peak and also an 'Odd Species.'

If she had not died, becoming the Peak Master of Shadow Peak wouldn't have been impossible.

"If Scarlett is watching from above, knowing how generously the Sect Leader is treating her, she would definitely be very happy."

Pearl Rowan bowed to Wyatt Barnes and said earnestly, "Sect Leader, I thank you on behalf of Scarlett."

"Uncle Master, what are you doing? Sister Ella Yorke was a great benefactor to my two fiancées, and thus to me as well... What I'm doing is only right."

Wyatt Barnes quickly helped Pearl Rowan up.

Led by Pearl Rowan, Wyatt Barnes and three others soon arrived at a spot halfway up near the summit of Wyatt Peak.

At the mountainside, a small, flat platform had been cleared.

On the platform stood a small wooden cabin covered in pristine white snow.

"This is Scarlett's training ground."

Pearl Rowan said.

Wyatt Barnes nodded, then floated down and pushed open the door of the cabin.

As soon as the door was pushed open, several clumps of snow fell, hitting Wyatt Barnes on the head, but he seemed not to notice and walked into the cabin on his own.

Inside the cabin was very tidy, with nothing but a bed, hardly resembling a woman's room.

"Since Scarlett joined under our sister's tutelage, she focused on cultivation, and her living was very simple... Before Keer and Jovie came, she rarely spoke with anyone, until Keer and Jovie became her juniors and she started talking more."

Pearl Rowan followed Wyatt Barnes into the cabin and continued.

"Yes."

Wyatt Barnes nodded, then raised his hand and a crystal-clear ice coffin appeared in front of him, guided by an invisible force to rest on the bed inside the cabin.

"This is?"

Pearl Rowan was taken aback.

Before she could react, Wyatt Barnes had already called Fill Bear inside, instructing him to place Ella Yorke into the ice coffin.

"This is an ice coffin made from 'millennial ice,' which can preserve Sister Ella Yorke's body eternally."

Fill Bear had just approached the ice coffin when Wyatt Barnes said to Pearl Rowan.

Originally, this coffin had been cast specifically for Winnie Romero, but now it was fitting to use for Ella Yorke.

"When I find those two girls, they will surely want to see Sister Ella Yorke again," Wyatt Barnes thought to himself.

"Wait."

Just as Fill Bear was about to place Ella Yorke into the coffin, Pearl Rowan stopped him.

"Hmm?"

Fill Bear looked at Pearl Rowan, puzzled.

"Uncle Master, is there something else?"

Wyatt Barnes also looked at Pearl Rowan.

"Sect Leader, I hope to let Scarlett lie there clean and tidy... Give me a quarter of an hour, I will wash her and change her clothes."

Pearl Rowan expressed her thoughts.

"Okay."

Wyatt Barnes nodded, had Fill Bear hand Ella Yorke over to Pearl Rowan, then left with Fill Bear, gently closing the door behind them.

"It's snowing."

As soon as he stepped out, Wyatt Barnes noticed that snow had started to fall around Wyatt Peak, bit by bit, looking very beautiful.

Stretching out his hand to let the snow fall on it, Wyatt Barnes murmured, "Sister Ella Yorke, thank you for what you did for those two girls... I, Wyatt Barnes, am grateful to you for my whole life."

The quarter-hour passed quickly.

During this time, the only sign of activity Wyatt Barnes noticed was when a window on one side of the cabin suddenly opened, and water sprayed out, stained with a streak of crimson.

Wyatt Barnes knew this was Pearl Rowan using the 'Water's Essence' to clean the blood from Ella Yorke's body.

"You can come in now."

Following Pearl Rowan's voice, Wyatt Barnes walked inside.

This time, Fill Bear did not follow him in, instead staying outside the cabin with Winnie Romero and Kamari Gold, waiting for Wyatt Barnes to come out.

Inside the cabin, Wyatt Barnes saw Ella Yorke, washed and dressed in clean white clothes, already lying in the ice coffin. Through the ice coffin, he could see her graceful figure and her exceptionally beautiful face.

Wyatt Barnes took a deep breath, bowed three times to Ella Yorke's body, then left with Pearl Rowan.

"From now on, this place will become a sacred site of Wyatt Peak! No one is allowed to approach without permission."

Wyatt Barnes said to Pearl Rowan.

Pearl Rowan nodded.

Then, Wyatt Barnes, as if not reassured, took out a pile of materials and top-grade original stones and began to busy himself, inscribing "Inscription" on the spot and setting up the "Inscription Array."

Pearl Rowan watched Wyatt's movements with dazzling confusion.

An hour later, Wyatt's movements slowed down, but the materials and original stones in his possession had already been taken from his hands and integrated into the snow around the small cabin.

In a moment, a semi-transparent shield rose, completely enveloping the small cabin.

A few breaths later, the semi-transparent shield disappeared from Pearl Rowan's sight.

Of course, Pearl Rowan knew the semi-transparent shield hadn't truly vanished and would be triggered if one approached it.

Because that was the defensive shield formed by the "Defensive Array."

"Sect Leader, I didn't expect not only your strength but also your mastery in the 'Art of Inscription' to be so profound and inscrutable," Pearl Rowan admired.

Although she wasn't an "Inscription Master," there was a saying, "Though I haven't eaten pork, I have seen pigs run."

She had once witnessed some Inscription Masters within the Sect inscribing and setting up the "Inscription Array." However, the speed and efficiency of those Inscription Masters were nothing compared to the young man in purple before her.

"Perhaps, Sect Leader can truly set up a large-scale Inscription Array capable of defending against the cold winds blowing towards the north side of Wyatt Peak," Pearl Rowan thought to herself.

Now, she only felt that the Sect Leader before her was more mysterious and unfathomable, and she couldn't see through him at all.

"Sect Leader, what level of attack can this defense array withstand at most?" Pearl Rowan couldn't help but ask.

"To destroy it, a force stronger than the power of three ancient grey dragons would be required," Wyatt Barnes replied.

The power of three ancient grey dragons?!

Upon hearing Wyatt's words, Pearl Rowan's pupils contracted slightly.

Generally speaking, only martial artists above the Seventh-Order in the Martial Emperor Realm could exhibit a force stronger than that of three ancient grey dragons.

In other words,

Martial artists below the Seventh-Order of the Martial Emperor Realm were unlikely to break through the defensive array enveloping the small cabin before them.

She could never have imagined that the "Defensive Array" set up by this person in just an hour could have such terrifying defensive power, far beyond her expectations.

"Uncle Master, I may need some materials for inscribing and setting up 'Inscription Array' in the next two days," Wyatt Barnes said to Pearl Rowan.

In the next two days, he would begin setting up a large-scale Inscription Array that would cover the north side of Wyatt Peak, and some of the materials needed for that array were not in his possession.

"Sect Leader, just say what you need, and I will go to the Shadow...Wyatt Peak's reserve warehouse and gather the items for you." Pearl Rowan said, initially wanting to say 'Shadow Peak' but before she finished, she remembered that Shadow Peak had been renamed 'Wyatt Peak,' the same name as the Sect Leader before her.

"Thank you, Uncle Master," Wyatt Barnes smiled with thanks, causing Pearl Rowan to hurriedly return the gesture.

She understood in her heart.

When Wyatt Barnes called her 'Uncle Master,' it was simply because of the respect for his two fiancées; otherwise, she was nothing before Wyatt Barnes.

Then Wyatt Barnes and his group, under Pearl Rowan's arrangements, settled down on Wyatt Peak.

Each took a cabin halfway up the mountain, close to one another.

Winnie Romero, Fill Bear, and Kamari Gold quickly returned to their rooms, and deeply immersed themselves in cultivation.

Unlike them, Wyatt Barnes temporarily had no time to cultivate, as he was busy inscribing the materials and top-grade original stones he had on hand with needed "Inscriptions."

All he was doing was preparing for the large-scale "Inscription Array" he planned to set up over the next two days.

That array, truth be told, was also a 'Defensive Array,' but it could only defend against the cold wind.

Originally, such a defensive array was very simple and could easily be set up.

But the problem was.

The defensive array being inscribed by Wyatt Barnes was meant to cover the entire north side of Wyatt Peak, an area so vast, one couldn't see its extent at glance.

Such a large-scale inscription array, had he not fused with the memories of the Reincarnated Martial Emperor, would have been impossible to set up.

Because this large-scale inscription array was initially experimented by the Reincarnated Martial Emperor himself, other inscribers, even if able to inscribe the same array, could not set up one so vast.

In short, if put plainly,

Only the Reincarnated Martial Emperor could inscribe and set up something so vast!

After Wyatt Barnes had almost finished inscribing the materials and top-grade original stones he had on hand, Pearl Rowan also managed to gather all the materials he asked her to find, not missing a single one.

The next two days, Wyatt Barnes was once again busy.

Two days quickly passed.

Two days later, Wyatt Barnes went alone to the north side of Wyatt Peak, only to find many male disciples busily working, and many elders helping as well.

While they were busy, their robes were whipped by the fierce cold wind making them flutter loud.

Even some of their hairbands had cracked, their hair untied and flowing with the wind.

"It's the Sect Leader!"

"Sect Leader!"

...

Wyatt Barnes' appearance, unsurprisingly attracted quite a bit of attention.

But what they were most concerned about was not Wyatt Barnes himself.

"Tomorrow will be the 'three days later' that Sect Leader mentioned."

Chapter 1158: Elder Cloud has Disappeared!

Faced with the questioning of a group of male disciples from the Heaven Fortin Sect, Wyatt Barnes did not say much.

He knew that no matter how eloquently he spoke now, it would be useless. Only through actual action, fulfilling his promise, could he silence everyone.

Thus, that day, Wyatt Barnes began his busy work.

Setting up the "Inscription Array," which enveloped half of Wyatt Peak, was undoubtedly a massive project.

Even though Wyatt had already inscribed the materials and original stones with "Inscriptions" beforehand, it still took time to set them up.

Throughout the entire day, Wyatt did not have a moment's respite.

From morning until late at night, Wyatt's figure flitted up and down the north side of Wyatt Peak. As he moved, various materials and original stones were integrated into the mountainside.

The placement of these materials and original stones was extremely precise; even a tiny deviation was unacceptable.

"Fortunately, I set up this 'Defensive Array' directly through the memories of the reincarnated Martial Emperor... if it had been passed down verbally, even ten days and nights might not have been enough to set it up properly."

After placing the last batch of materials and original stones where they belonged, Wyatt ceased his work and stood still.

From that moment on, the 'Defensive Array' covering half of Wyatt Peak was complete.

"Now, I just have to give them an explanation tomorrow."

Looking up at the sparsely starred night sky, Wyatt murmured to himself and then vanished from where he stood. When he reappeared, he was back in the temporary residence that Pearl Rowan had arranged for him.

A wooden house halfway up the southern side of Wyatt Peak.

This wooden house was much better than Ella Yorke's, not just in size but also in its fully furnished interior.

Sitting cross-legged on the bed, Wyatt Barnes began to cultivate with his eyes closed.

Nine Dragons War Sovereign, Divine Dragon Transformation!

In his hand, he firmly held three fragments of the "Nature Mystery," using them to comprehend and enhance his "Integrated Mystery."

Although these "Emperor Realm Nature Mystery fragments" were not as excessively effective as the "Heavenly Pearl," the Heavenly Pearl was a rare and hard-to-find treasure.

Just like the Heavenly Pearl Wyatt obtained in the berserk rodent clan last time, it was a pearl filled with "Nature's Force."

The Heavenly Pearl, which took a hundred years to accumulate Nature's Force, was exhausted by Wyatt in just one month.

Subsequently, the Heavenly Pearl temporarily became a useless object, needing long years to accumulate "Pearl Force" again.

However, after absorbing all the power within the Heavenly Pearl, Wyatt's "Integrated Mystery" naturally made a breakthrough, transforming into the "Second Layer Integrated Mystery."

Not only that, Wyatt could clearly feel it.

When he had absorbed half of the Heavenly Pearl's power, his Integrated Mystery had already broken through to the "Second Layer." After absorbing the remaining half, his Integrated Mystery improved even further.

In the end, it was infinitely close to the "Third Layer Integrated Mystery."

Now, he was just one step away from comprehending the "Third Layer Integrated Mystery."

"Just as I guessed... Integrated Mystery, whether in terms of power or difficulty of enhancement, is comparable to that of 'Emperor Realm Mystery.'"

As the Origin Force circulated within his body according to the Nine Dragons War Sovereign's "Divine Dragon Transformation" technique, Wyatt finally had a moment to contemplate other matters.

"Integrated Mystery is formed from the fusion of five different 'First Level Emperor Realm Nature Mysteries'... from that time, the Integrated Mystery is considered 'First Level Integrated Mystery.'"

"The First Layer Integrated Mystery is comparable to the power of two ancient Azure Dragons! This is the same as the 'First Level Emperor Realm Mystery.'"

"Now, with the help of the power from the Heavenly Pearl, my Integrated Mystery has further enhanced, evolving into the 'Second Layer Integrated Mystery!'"

"The Second Layer Integrated Mystery is comparable to the power of three ancient Azure Dragons, the same as the 'Second Layer Emperor Realm Mystery'... from this, it can be inferred that future enhancements of the Integrated Mystery will likely add the power of one ancient Azure Dragon for each new layer."

This was not hard to deduce.

"However, the facts have proven that I still have good luck... Two days before reaching the Yin and Yang Sect, my cultivation made another breakthrough, advancing to the 'Fourth Level Martial Emperor Realm'!"

"Without this breakthrough, I might not have been able to take Hunter Sun's full-powered slash with bare hands."

Unconsciously, Wyatt's thoughts drifted away.

Originally, according to his estimate, he thought it would take at least another month or two to break through to the 'Fourth Level Martial Emperor Realm.'

Yet, to his surprise, because he was frantic and overly worried about the safety of the two young girls, even the domineering medicinal power of the Nirvana Pill inside him was stirred.

The result was as one might expect.

The medicine's power from the Nirvana Pill was rapidly consumed, helping him to break through in advance to the 'Fourth Level Martial Emperor Realm'!

Once he reached the Fourth Level Martial Emperor Realm, Wyatt could wield the power of six thousand ancient Horned Dragons using just his Origin Force.

The Sixth Layer Emperor Sword Mystery is comparable to the power of seven thousand ancient Horned Dragons.

The Second Layer Integrated Mystery is equivalent to the power of three ancient Azure Dragons!

Thus, without using any spirit weapons, he was able to display the strength of four Ancient Azure Dragons, along with three thousand Horned Dragons.

Two days ago, it was with this very power that he snatched the Grade One spirit blade right out of Hunter Sun's hands.

"If I were to use an Emperor Grade spirit sword... my strength would be comparable to that of four Ancient Azure Dragons, plus nine thousand Horned Dragons! With the 'Nine Tribulations Sword Handling Art' and the 'Nine Dragons Inch Flash,' even if I came across a warrior with the strength of five Ancient Azure Dragons, it's not necessarily true that I'd be without the strength to fight!"

Wyatt Barnes was brimming with confidence in the means at his disposal.

He felt that once he gave it his all, he could completely make up for the mere gap of a thousand Horned Dragons' strength.

"My current strength is already comparable to that of an average Martial Emperor Realm warrior... Of course, I'm far from a match for those monstrous Martial Emperor Realm warriors."

Through the memories of the Reincarnated Martial Emperor, Wyatt Barnes knew all too well how difficult it was for a Martial Emperor Realm Ninth Layer warrior to break through to the 'Martial Emperor Realm.'

It was more than a hundred times harder than advancing from the 'Transforming Void Realm' to the 'Martial Emperor Realm'!

A Transforming Void Realm Ninth Layer warrior who had understood three 'Nine Layers Transforming Void Realms' or the advanced realms of water and fire, wouldn't find it difficult to break through to the 'Martial Emperor Realm.'

However, a Martial Emperor Realm Ninth Layer warrior, even one who had grasped three 'Nine Layers Emperor Realm Mysteries' or the mysteries of water and fire at the Emperor Realm, had only a one in a hundred chance of breaking through to 'Martial Emperor Realm.'

That's why, whether it was the era of the Reincarnated Martial Emperor's first life or his second, Martial Emperor powerhouses were pitifully scarce.

"According to the memories of the Reincarnated Martial Emperor... In the era of his second life, the strongest Martial Emperor Realm Ninth Layer warrior he ever saw had even comprehended six 'Nine Layers Emperor Realm Mysteries'!"

Six 'Nine Layers Emperor Realm Mysteries.'

What concept was that?

It also meant that this warrior, by simply unleashing the power of the 'Mysteries,' could match the strength of six Ancient Azure Dragons!

If he added his own Origin Force and a Grade One spirit weapon, he could completely display power surpassing that of eight Ancient Azure Dragons!

"Eight Ancient Azure Dragons' strength..."

Just the thought made Wyatt Barnes shudder with fear.

At present, although he could fully exert the strength of four Ancient Azure Dragons plus nine thousand Horned Dragons' strength.

Yet, in front of a Martial Emperor Realm Ninth Layer warrior who had mastered the strength of eight Ancient Azure Dragons, his strength amounted to nothing.

The opponent could kill him effortlessly, simpler than stepping on an ant.

"That warrior, who comprehended six 'Nine Layers Emperor Realm Mysteries,' still failed to break through to the 'Martial Emperor Realm'... It seems that breaking through to the 'Martial Emperor Realm' is indeed very difficult."

As Wyatt Barnes mulled this over, he felt a stir in his heart, accompanied by a great sense of pressure.

According to the memories of the Reincarnated Martial Emperor.

In his first life, the Reincarnated Martial Emperor broke through to the 'Martial Emperor Realm' in a bewildered fashion, not even he himself knew exactly what enabled the breakthrough.

At that time, the Reincarnated Martial Emperor had comprehended four 'Nine Layers Emperor Realm Mysteries.'

In his second life, the Reincarnated Martial Emperor had no experience to speak of when breaking through to the 'Martial Emperor Realm,' he initially faced repeated setbacks, finally making the breakthrough after understanding three 'Nine Layers Emperor Realm Mysteries.'

"It's also unknown whether my breakthrough to the 'Martial Emperor Realm' will be easier than the previous two lives of the Reincarnated Martial Emperor."

Thinking this, Wyatt Barnes felt somewhat uneasy.

Although he had merged with the memories of the Reincarnated Martial Emperor, he gained no help regarding breaking through to the 'Martial Emperor Realm,' because the Reincarnated Martial Emperor himself had stumbled through the breakthrough in confusion.

Therefore, if he wanted to break through to the 'Martial Emperor Realm,' he still needed to rely on his own efforts, instead of depending on the memories left by the Reincarnated Martial Emperor.

"I hope I can be like the Reincarnated Martial Emperor, breaking through in a confused daze."

Wyatt Barnes dreamt such a beautiful dream.

Before he knew it, Wyatt Barnes's mood gradually became calm, and he completely immersed himself in cultivation and comprehension.

Cultivating the 'Nine Dragons War Sovereign,' the ninth transformation, 'Divine Dragon Transformation.'

Understanding the 'Fusion Mystery,' grasping the insights of the Sword Dao contained within the 'sword' character left deep in his mind by the Sword Saint Breezy Wind.

As Wyatt Barnes immersed himself in cultivation and comprehension, he completely lost track of time.

It wasn't until the early morning sunlight spread across the land, shining through the gauze window on the side of the wooden house onto his face, that he perceived it and opened his eyes.

"Dawn has broken."

After waking up, Wyatt Barnes groomed himself and walked out of the wooden house.

Just as he stepped out, he noticed two figures waiting outside. They were the two Vice Peak Masters of Primordial Sun Peak, Prince Sackman and Anand Sackman.

"You're here so early, don't tell me you think I'll go back on my word?"

Looking at the Sackman brothers, who wore anxious expressions, Wyatt Barnes's brow arched, thinking they were here regarding his promise to resolve the cold wind issue to the north of Heaven Fortin Peak today.

"Sect Leader, Elder Cloud has disappeared!"

As Prince Sackman spoke with urgency, Wyatt Barnes realized he had guessed wrong.

Chapter 1159: Generous Rewards

Elder Cloud, the Protector Elder of Primordial Sun Peak 'Gabriel Cloud'."

"When did you discover he was missing?"

Wyatt Barnes asked with a calm face, undisturbed as he inquired.

"Three days ago, Sect Leader, you ordered us and Elder Cloud to lead people to the north side of Heaven Fortin Peak to excavate the 'cultivation site'. We separated from Elder Cloud then... Looking back, from that moment on, we haven't seen Elder Cloud again."

Prince Sackman said, "This morning, I asked the elders and disciples who were initially with Elder Cloud, and they all said that after Elder Cloud led them to split up with us three days ago, he left on his own."

"We searched the whole Heaven Fortin Peak this morning, but we couldn't find any trace of Elder Cloud."

Anand Sackman added.

"If I'm not wrong, he must have left three days ago... Left Heaven Fortin Peak, left the Heaven Fortin Sect!"

A gleam flashed in Wyatt Barnes's eyes, and then he asked, "Do you know what the relationship is between Gabriel Cloud and Hunter Sun?"

"Hunter Sun is the personal disciple of the previous Sun Peak's Peak Master, and Gabriel Cloud is the previous Peak Master's junior brother... Hunter Sun, calls Gabriel Cloud 'Master-Uncle'."

Prince Sackman said.

Wyatt Barnes nodded, "It seems he never intended to stay from the very beginning... He was just going along with me, in fact, to make me lower my guard. He, had long been prepared to leave."

"Sect Leader, what should we do now? If Gabriel Cloud has left, could it be harmful to our Heaven Fortin Sect?"

Anand Sackman asked.

"Him? He's not that capable yet!"

Wyatt Barnes narrowed his eyes, a flicker of cold light passing fleetingly.

"He probably left three days ago, it's too late to pursue now... Follow me to the north side of Heaven Fortin Peak."

No sooner had Wyatt Barnes's voice fallen than his figure vanished from where he stood.

When he reappeared, he was already at a distant location.

The Sackman brothers reacted, following him at once.

"I'll take a look too."

At that moment, Fill Bear also walked out from a wooden hut not far on the middle of the slope and followed, "Young Master is surely going to arrange that large 'Inscription Array'."

Whoosh! Whoosh!

Just as Fill Bear set off, two more figures streaked over from different directions and followed.

A woman in red.

An old man in a gold robe.

It was none other than 'Winnie Romero' and 'Kamari Gold'.

Upon returning to the north side of Heaven Fortin Peak, Wyatt Barnes found many people already there, all former elders and disciples of the Yin and Yang Sect's Sun Peak.

"The Sect Leader has arrived!"

"The Sect Leader has arrived!"

...

The news of Wyatt Barnes's arrival quickly spread among the people nearby.

Soon, the people scattered throughout the north side of Heaven Fortin Peak all came flying over, a dense crowd paying their respects toward the purple silhouette not far away.

The people of the former Yin and Yang Sect's Sun Peak, except for Gabriel Cloud, were almost all gathered together.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

Suddenly, behind Wyatt Barnes, aside from the Sackman brothers, three more figures appeared, precisely Winnie Romero, Fill Bear, and Kamari Gold who had followed.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

...

A series of howling winds captured the attention of everyone present.

They saw a group of women in white flying over, coming from the direction of the south side of Heaven Fortin Peak, obviously there to join the excitement.

These women were the disciples of the former Yin and Yang Sect's Shadow Peak.

"Sect Leader!"

It was Pearl Rowan, the former Vice Peak Master of Yin and Yang Sect's Shadow Peak, who now came, respectfully greeted Wyatt Barnes, and then stood behind him.

A series of piercing cold winds blew incessantly, causing everyone's robes, including Wyatt Barnes, to rustle in unison. Some with lower cultivation were even forced to squint their eyes.

"I won't say much else."

Wyatt Barnes surveyed the dense crowd before him, his countenance grave as he spoke loudly, "Today, I will fulfill the promise I made three days ago, to shelter the north side of Heaven Fortin Peak from the cold winds hereafter!"

Fulfilling a promise!

As soon as Wyatt Barnes spoke, the eyes of the crowd lit up with anticipation.

They were all eager to see how their young Sect Leader of the Heaven Fortin Sect would arrange that tremendously exaggerated 'Inscription Array' he had mentioned.

It was a pity that they were destined not to see it.

Whoosh!

With Wyatt Barnes lifting his hand and flicking a finger, a 'Top-grade original stone' shot out swiftly, burrowing into the mountainside of the north side of Heaven Fortin Peak like a hot knife through butter and disappeared from sight.

Whooosh!

Almost the instant the top-grade original stone vanished, everyone heard a faint sound at their ears; it wasn't loud, but it seemed as though it could make their souls tremble.

"This... This..."

Then, under the stunned gazes of the Heaven Fortin Sect's elders and disciples, a semi-transparent protective array seemed to emerge from within the mountainside of the north side of Heaven Fortin Peak, expanding outward incessantly.

Wherever the protective array passed, the biting cold winds from the north were repelled.

The protective array expanded continuously until it encompassed the entire mountain face of the north side of Heaven Fortin Peak. It then came to a halt, vanishing from everyone's sight as if it had never appeared in the first place.

Yet, at the place where the semi-transparent protective array had vanished, the cold winds blowing in from the north were completely cut off, never to blow inside again.

For a moment, as the cold wind died down, the robes on everyone, including Wyatt Barnes, stopped fluttering.

"This... this works?"

"Incredible! Absolutely incredible!"

"Is this the large 'Inscription Array' that the Sect Leader mentioned three days ago? When did he set it up?"

"Yesterday, many people saw the Sect Leader wandering around our side, frequently throwing something through the mountain walls and embedding it inside the mountain belly... Now it seems, at that time, he was setting up the Inscription Array."

"Yesterday? Does that mean the Sect Leader set up this large 'Inscription Array' in just one day?"

...

As a group of Heaven Fortin Sect disciples were shocked, they quickly realized another issue.

Their Sect Leader, to set up such a large 'Inscription Array', had only taken one day's time!

"It seems that our Sect Leader is not only a Martial Dao expert but also an exceptional 'Inscription Master'."

Many Heaven Fortin Sect disciples exclaimed in admiration.

The young female disciples, even more so, had eyes full of spring, sending covert glances towards Wyatt Barnes.

"Hmph!"

However, following a supremely icy hum, they felt a shiver down their spines, hastily lowering their heads, no longer daring to look at Wyatt Barnes.

It turned out to be Winnie Romero, standing behind Wyatt Barnes, who hummed coldly and swept a cold gaze over the group of young female disciples.

At the same time as she hummed, the imposing aura of a Martial Emperor swept out, pressing these young female disciples so they dared not raise their heads.

Winnie Romero's actions seemed like a declaration of her absolute authority over Wyatt Barnes.

"Is she the Sect Leader's wife?"

"It must be. Otherwise, why would she be displeased when we look at the Sect Leader?"

"The Sect Leader's wife is not to be trifled with either. It seems that even if we meet the Sect Leader in the future, we can only look on with longing."

...

A group of young female disciples whispered privately among themselves.

Although their voices were not loud, most of the people present were highly cultivated and had extraordinary hearing, so they heard their whispers loud and clear.

"Sect Leader's wife?"

Suddenly, the majority of the people on the scene turned their gazes unanimously towards Winnie Romero, making her the focus of everyone's attention.

Hearing the young female disciples' words, Winnie Romero's face was already feeling somewhat hot.

Now, being stared at by so many people, she tried to maintain her composure on the surface, but inside, she was anything but calm, feeling as if she were a lone boat amidst the waves, at risk of capsizing at any moment.

"What good fortune the Sect Leader has! Whether it's his wife or his two fiancées, each one is without exception, a peerless beauty."

"Yeah, the Sect Leader's romantic luck is too good."

"If one could live a life like the Sect Leader's, there would be no regrets in this life!"

...

Soon, many male disciples turned their gazes towards Wyatt Barnes, looking at him with envy.

"Now that I, the Sect Leader, have fulfilled my promise to you, you also have a new place for cultivation..."

Wyatt Barnes's gaze swept over the male elders and male disciples before turning to the group of female elders and female disciples, his eyes suddenly sharpening.

"Heaven Fortin Sect disciples, heed my command!"

Wyatt Barnes, who seemed to have left a sentence unfinished just now, successfully attracted the attention of everyone present. He then spoke up again, calling out loud.

Instantly, all those attentively watching Wyatt Barnes felt an inexplicable tremor in their hearts, their spirits immediately tensing up.

"Starting from today, Pearl Rowan, Prince Sackman, and Anand Sackman will serve as vice Sect Leaders of our Heaven Fortin Sect. They will be responsible for handling all matters big and small within the Sect on a daily basis, and you must all follow their commands."

Wyatt Barnes declared loudly.

"Yes."

For a moment, the disciples of Heaven Fortin Sect respectfully responded.

"Thank you, Sect Leader, for your trust."

Upon hearing this, Pearl Rowan, Prince Sackman, and Anand Sackman's eyes lit up, and they hastily bowed to thank Wyatt Barnes.

"Pearl Rowan, Prince Sackman, Anand Sackman... the three of you, effective immediately, are tasked with spreading the news to the outside world that the Yin and Yang Sect has been replaced by 'Heaven Fortin Sect', and there is a new Sect Leader. The name of our Sect Leader, you must also spread out."

Wyatt Barnes looked at Pearl Rowan and the others, then gave the order.

"Yes."

Pearl Rowan and the others respectfully answered.

"Additionally, dispatch Sect disciples who can recognize Keer and Jovie Lee to search for their whereabouts immediately..."

Wyatt Barnes gave another order.

"Any Sect disciple who finds their whereabouts, I, the Sect Leader, will bestow upon them a 'Grade One Spirit Weapon' that enhances strength by ninety percent and a bottle of 'Grade One Return-Life Pill' with a purity of ninety percent or more!"

After giving his orders, Wyatt Barnes went on to promise a great reward.

In that instant, the entire place fell silent.

A Grade One Spirit Weapon!

A Grade One Return-Life Pill!

These two items, for the ordinary elders and disciples of Heaven Fortin Sect, were undoubtedly extremely precious.

Only those at the level of Sect higher-ups like Pearl Rowan, Prince Sackman, and Anand Sackman did not lack these items.

Still, those were just ordinary 'Grade One Spirit Weapon' and 'Grade One Return-Life Pill'.

"I... I didn't hear wrong, right? Did the Sect Leader just say a Grade One Spirit Weapon that can amplify 'ninety percent' of one's strength?"

Soon, some people came to their senses and asked somewhat dazedly.

Chapter 1160: Spring Sun

"There's also a Grade One Return-Life Pill with a purity of 'ninety percent' and above!"

Someone else chimed in.

With the rising skepticism, gazes turned back to Wyatt Barnes' figure, as if everyone wanted to confirm they hadn't misheard.

"You didn't hear wrong, it is indeed a Grade One spiritual artifact that amplifies 'ninety percent' of one's strength and a Grade One Return-Life Pill with a purity of 'ninety percent' and above."

Facing the doubtful gazes, Wyatt Barnes confirmed emphatically.

Whoosh!

A single stone raises a thousand waves!

The crowd was in an uproar.

"Really? A Grade One spiritual artifact that amplifies 'ninety percent' of one's power? A Grade One Return-Life Pill with a purity above 'ninety percent'?"

"Nonsense! Hasn't the Sect Leader confirmed it? Do you still doubt his word?"

"I know... but is it even possible? I have never heard of anyone crafting a Grade One spiritual artifact that can amplify 'ninety percent' of power, nor of anyone able to create a Grade One Return-Life Pill with a purity over 'ninety percent'."

"Three days ago, the Sect Leader said he could set up a large Inscription Array to envelop the northern cliffs of Wyatt Peak... Did you believe it then?"

"I didn't."

"And what was the result?"

"..."

"I believe in the Sect Leader! Besides, I happen to know Junior Sister Keer and Junior Sister Jovie Lee... This time, I might have a chance to go find them."

A group of Heaven Fortin Sect disciples were discussing fervently, and their skepticism towards Wyatt Barnes gradually dissipated.

All of this was because Wyatt Barnes had made good on his promise today, truly setting up a massive Inscription Array that could shield against the northern cold winds, covering the entire north side of the Heaven Fortin Sect.

In their eyes.

Their young Sect Leader from Heaven Fortin Sect could not be evaluated by ordinary standards.

"However, speaking of which... If the Sect Leader really can produce a Grade One spiritual artifact that amplifies 'ninety percent' and a Grade One Return-Life Pill with a purity above 'ninety percent', doesn't that mean he knows a Grade One Artifact Refiner and a Grade One Alchemist?"

"And not just any common Grade One Artifact Refiner or Grade One Alchemist!"

"Of course! Do you need reminding? Could anyone who can craft a Grade One spiritual artifact amplifying 'ninety percent' power, who can make a Grade One Pill Medicine with purity over 'ninety percent,' be ordinary?"

"Such Artifact Refiners and Alchemists, surely they must be highly proud and lofty! Yet, they are willing to create such 'special' Grade One spiritual artifacts and Grade One pill medicines for the Sect Leader, which must mean they have a deep relationship with him."

...

Eyes from the Heaven Fortin Sect disciples landed on Wyatt Barnes, growing increasingly fervent.

You see, in the past, although the Yin and Yang Sect had 'Grade One spiritual artifacts' and 'Grade One Pill Medicines,' those were either sought externally or won at auctions outside.

All this because the Yin and Yang Sect had very little contact with Grade One Artifact Refiners and Grade One Alchemists in the past.

Even if they could make the connection, getting them to help craft artifacts and medicines came with a hefty price.

Because of that, the Yin and Yang Sect had few Grade One spiritual artifacts and Grade One Pill Medicines, so much so that even the ordinary elders couldn't get their hands on them, let alone the numerous disciples below.

Now, the Yin and Yang Sect no longer existed, replaced by the 'Heaven Fortin Sect.'

And their young Sect Leader of the Heaven Fortin Sect seemed to have a deep connection with a 'Grade One Artifact Refiner' and a 'Grade One Alchemist.'

In the future, 'Grade One spiritual artifacts' and 'Grade One Pill Medicines' might become more readily available to them.

How could they not be thrilled?

"What's wrong? Does our Heaven Fortin Sect not have a 'Grade One Artifact Refiner' and a 'Grade One Alchemist'?"

Wyatt Barnes frowned slightly and asked.

He never thought that just a mere 'Grade One Artifact Refiner' and 'Grade One Alchemist' would make the group of Heaven Fortin Sect elders and disciples in front of him so flustered, making him, as the Sect Leader, feel embarrassed and disgraceful.

"Reporting back to the Sect Leader, our Heaven Fortin Sect indeed does not have a 'Grade One Alchemist' and 'Grade One Artifact Refiner.'"

Pearl Rowan replied with a wry smile.

The Yin and Yang Sect, although considered a 'first-rate power' inland, was merely on the edges among the 'first-rate powers' within the mainland, at the bottom of the ranking.

Such a 'first-rate power' seldom attracted 'Grade One Artifact Refiners' and 'Grade One Alchemists.'

"It seems it's about time for me to go and 'persuade' a few Grade One Artifact Refiners and Alchemists to join us."

Wyatt Barnes murmured to himself.

Although Wyatt Barnes was speaking to himself, his voice wasn't quiet and reached the ears of the now-silent crowd.

Deceive?

For a moment, except for Winnie Romero, Fill Bear, and Kamari Gold, everyone, including Pearl Rowan, Prince Sackman, and Anand Sackman, couldn't help but twitch at the corners of their mouths.

However, they all thought that Wyatt Barnes was just speaking casually, not taking his words as the truth.

"Hmph! If my master says he can do it, he certainly can... do you still not believe him?"

Seeing the ambivalent expressions of the crowd, Kamari Gold snorted coldly, somewhat dissatisfied.

As early as when they left the frenzied hairy rat clan, he had pried a lot of information about his master from Fill Bear's mouth... The more he understood about his master, the more astounded he became.

His master was not only powerful in martial arts but also a 'Master of Inscription.'

Besides being a Master of Inscription, he was also a 'Grade One Alchemist' and a 'Grade One Artifact Refiner'!

Even though he was the "Hell Golden Retriever," with a strong heart, he was still shocked to learn all of this.

At that time, he had fully confirmed one thing.

His master was human!

He was not a monster like himself.

Faced with Kamari Gold's question, including Pearl Rowan and the other two Vice Sect Leaders of the Heaven Fortin Sect, the Heaven Fortin Sect members looked at each other in dismay; for a moment, no one could answer Kamari Gold.

"Kamari, why get angry? These guys won't turn back until they hit the south wall. Once I lure the person to them, they will naturally believe."

Compared to Kamari Gold's anger, Wyatt Barnes was completely composed, unfazed by the Yin and Yang Sect members' doubts.

"Sect Leader, forgive us! We are not questioning you, it's just that what the Sect Leader says is too incredible to believe."

Pearl Rowan bowed deeply to Wyatt Barnes, speaking with the utmost respect.

"Sect Leader, forgive us!"

Including the Sackman brothers, all the Elders and disciples of the Yin and Yang Sect bowed their heads and bent their bodies, realizing that their behavior had just violated the majesty of the Sect Leader.

Wyatt Barnes calmly swept his gaze over the people in front of him and said indifferently, "Instead of speaking empty words, I, the Sect Leader, prefer to use facts to shut your mouths and slap your faces!"

"Let's go."

After Wyatt Barnes's statement, he called out to Winnie Romero, Fill Bear, and Kamari Gold to leave immediately.

Soon, only Pearl Rowan, the Sackman brothers, and a group of Heaven Fortin Sect Elders and disciples were left.

As Wyatt Barnes and his companions departed, many Heaven Fortin Sect disciples started to stir again.

"To be honest, I still can't believe what the Sect Leader said."

"I don't believe it either. How can Grade One Artifact Refiners and Grade One alchemists be deceived so easily?"

"If you ask me, even the Grade One Artifact Refiners and Grade One alchemists who helped the Sect Leader forge Grade One Spiritual Tools and Grade One Pill Medicines, I doubt the Sect Leader could invite them to our Heaven Fortin Sect."

"That's natural! Exceptional Grade One Artifact Refiners and Grade One alchemists, if they wanted, could have joined the 'Ancient Clans' or pledged allegiance to Martial Emperor powerhouses long ago."

...

Most people tended to doubt what Wyatt Barnes had just said, thinking he was bluffing.

"I, on the other hand, think it might not be so... I always feel that the Sect Leader is not lying to us."

"Three days ago, I thought the Sect Leader was just talking nonsense to fool us... but today, the truth slapped me in the face."

"I also believe the Sect Leader would not deceive us. After all, the large 'Inscription Array' that covers this area alone is enough to prove that the Sect Leader is a man of his word."

...

Of course, there were also a few who believed Wyatt Barnes.

No matter what, whether they believed Wyatt Barnes or not, they all were filled with anticipation and longing for the 'future' of the Heaven Fortin Sect.

"Vice Sect Leaders, I know Junior Sister Keer and Junior Sister Jovie Lee, send me to find them!"

"I know them too!"

"I know them as well."

...

Soon, many female disciples eagerly turned to Pearl Rowan and the others, unable to wait to speak.

They knew.

As long as they found the two fiancées of the Sect Leader, they could get a heavy reward.

A Grade One Spiritual Tool with an amplification of more than ninety percent, a Grade One Return-Life Pill with a purity of more than ninety percent – just thinking about it, they couldn't help but feel a surge of excitement.

Although among them some did not believe Wyatt Barnes could deceive Grade One Artifact Refiners and Grade One alchemists into coming to the Heaven Fortin Sect, they still believed in the rewards he had promised.

That's why they were so eager to get it.

As many disciples of the Heaven Fortin Sect left the area outside Heaven Peak, far in the northwest direction, there was an old man on the road.

The old man was none other than Gabriel Cloud, who left the Heaven Fortin Sect three days ago.

He was also the former Protector Elder of Sun Peak in the original Yin and Yang Sect.

"Let that Wyatt Barnes take over the 'Yin and Yang Sect' mess, and since he needs to use the Yin and Yang Sect to find those two girls ... he won't leave the Yin and Yang Sect anytime soon."

Gabriel Cloud's eyes sparkled, "In this way, it will be convenient for Spring Sun to seek vengeance for his brother."

Spring Sun!

When he mentioned these words, Gabriel Cloud became solemn, his eyes revealing awe.

To Gabriel Cloud, Spring Sun was a powerful opponent who was not to be taken lightly; indeed, if Spring Sun wished to kill him, he could do so in the blink of an eye.

Because the other party was a Martial Emperor in the nine-layer of the Martial Emperor Realm, a strong fighter incomparable to ordinary nine-layer Martial Emperor warriors!

Furthermore, he had another astonishing identity.

The disciple of a Martial Emperor!

Most importantly, Spring Sun was also Hunter Sun's elder brother.

"Although the Peak Master often disagreed with his brother 'Spring Sun,' they are close kin after all; knowing that he was killed, Spring Sun will definitely not stand by idly!"

Gabriel Cloud's eyes flickered with sharp light, "If Spring Sun can avenge his brother this time, then he also owes me a favor... after all, if it weren't for me suggesting that Wyatt Barnes stay, he would be who knows where by now, not likely to remain."
