

L. Wyatt 1551

Chapter 1551: Julia's Mentor

"Junior Brother, you actually managed to kill Abu Dunn... That Abu Dunn was at the 'Peak of Entering the Saint Realm' level, strength-wise, below the Middle Saint Realm in the Sect, there are only a few Vice Sect Leaders, and another Inner Sect Elder and I who could suppress him. To what extent has your current strength reached?"

Trevor Baillie asked solemnly, quite curious about Wyatt Barnes' current strength.

"To be frank, Senior Brother... right now, as long as it's an existence below the 'Saint Realm', I'm almost fearless."

Wyatt Barnes didn't hide it, he spoke outright.

He exuded immense confidence with his words.

Of course, there was one thing he didn't say.

And that was, once he soon breaks through to the 'Peak of Entering the Saint Realm', he'd even have the confidence to annihilate ordinary Saint Realm powerhouses.

"You have confidence even against those half-step into the Saint Realm?"

Trevor Baillie gasped.

"Yes."

Wyatt nodded. Although those half-step into the Saint Realm are strong, with his current strength and using the celestial treasure 'Splendid Fairy Sword', it would only take one strike to decapitate them.

"It seems that I really don't need to worry about your safety anymore, Junior Brother. Your current strength has surpassed that of mine as your Senior Brother."

Trevor Baillie sighed.

He didn't doubt Wyatt Barnes' words in the slightest.

While feeling wistful, Trevor Baillie was genuinely happy for Wyatt, as it signified that his junior brother had become much more capable of self-defense.

"No matter how strong I become, Senior Brother will always be my Senior Brother," Wyatt said earnestly.

Hearing Wyatt's words, Trevor Baillie nodded in satisfaction, his face beaming with smiles.

"Junior Brother."

Suddenly, as if remembering something, Trevor Baillie's smile disappeared, and he looked gravely at Wyatt, "Your current strength should just be known to me, but you must not reveal it easily... otherwise, you may attract misfortune upon yourself."

"I understand."

Wyatt nodded.

He wasn't a fool; naturally, he understood what kind of trouble Trevor Baillie was implying.

If the Exalted Elder 'Quinton Jimenez' were to find out about his current level of strength, he might immediately seek him out to hold him accountable.

Simply because his current strength was already capable of easily killing Abu Dunn.

"Besides, those two pieces of news were clearly released by Evander Mullins... He must know he can't do much to us, yet he still did it, so he must be seeking something,"

Trevor added.

"His agenda isn't hard to guess. He must be worried that I'll remain secluded after returning and might cultivate for a few years to outmatch him... Then, the initiative between us would completely shift,"

Wyatt's eyes flickered as he assuredly spoke.

"That's probably it,"

Trevor nodded in agreement, then chuckled sarcastically, "Unfortunately for him, he's probably never dreamt that your current strength, Junior Brother, already far exceeds his... You could kill even Abu Dunn, so killing him would be as simple as killing a chicken or cutting grass."

"Since he's so anxious to act, I'll play along with him,"

Wyatt's eyes glinted coldly as he spoke in a crisp voice.

When he left the Moon Radiance Sect, he was already unafraid of Evander Mullins.

Back then, he hadn't yet received the inheritance of the 'Supreme Heart Sword' nor could he wield the celestial treasure 'Splendid Fairy Sword.'

Now, his strength could not be compared to before, so he was naturally even less fearful of Evander Mullins.

"This time, I'll certainly not cause any disruption,"

Hearing Wyatt's words, Trevor Baillie said somewhat awkwardly.

"However... Junior Brother, I advise you to wait a while before taking action. At this time, besides Evander Mullins, there might be other eyes watching you as well,"

Trevor seemed to remember something and spoke with grave concern.

"Are you referring to Quinton Jimenez?"

Wyatt raised an eyebrow.

"Yes."

Trevor nodded, "I always feel there's something extraordinary about the relationship between Quinton Jimenez and Abu Dunn, possibly exceeding that of typical master and disciple... Given the stance Quinton showed in front of me a few days ago, he definitely won't let the death of Abu Dunn pass by so easily! So, I'm worried he might be keeping an eye on your every move now."

"Understood,"

Wyatt nodded, though in his mind he had already made up his plan.

"Given the situation, I'll wait until I break through to the 'Peak of Entering the Saint Realm' before I go and have a good time with that Evander Mullins,"

As he said this, Wyatt emphasized the word 'time' strongly.

In the days that followed, Wyatt once again repeated what he had done before, quietly training on the third floor of the Jewel Tower, paying no attention to matters happening outside.

Meanwhile, the words of the Sect Leader of Moon Radiance Sect, Remy Mitchell, soon spread outside.

"Elder Baillie has already made a Thunder Punishment Oath, stating that Elder Abu Dunn's death is unrelated to him... If anyone dares to slander Elder Baillie again, they will be severely punished!"

Those were Remy Mitchell's original words.

Following these words spreading within the Moon Radiance Sect, the entire sect was once again in an uproar.

"So the nine thunderclaps a few days ago were caused by the resonance of the Nine-Nine Thunder Tribulation when Elder Baillie took the oath of thunder punishment."

"Since he took the oath of thunder punishment, this matter surely has nothing to do with Elder Baillie."

"I really didn't expect that for an Elder like Abu Dunn, the Sect Leader would have Elder Baillie take the oath of thunder punishment... Isn't he afraid that doing so will dishearten Elder Baillie?"

"Elder Baillie is our Moon Radiance Sect's only three-star Saint Markings Master. If he gets upset, he can completely leave the sect... The other eight major sects, as well as the Shadow Mountain Black Market, would be eager to have Elder Baillie join them."

"In this matter, the Sect Leader indeed went a bit too far."

...

The Moon Radiance Sect is abuzz with similar discussions, and most people are siding with Trevor Baillie.

Meanwhile, the other Great Elders within the Moon Radiance Sect's forbidden grounds also learn of this matter and go to find Sect Leader 'Remy Mitchell.'

"Sect Leader, what you did was too much!"

"If Elder Baillie leaves the Moon Radiance Sect because of this, you will be the sinner of the Moon Radiance Sect!"

"Hmph! It's just Abu Dunn... even if Elder Baillie did kill him, so what? Compared to Elder Baillie, he's worthless to our Moon Radiance Sect!"

...

Several Great Elders begin questioning Remy Mitchell as soon as they see him.

For a moment, Remy Mitchell felt very wronged and immediately looked towards Quinton Jimenez not far away, "Uncle Master Jimenez, you don't mean to make me take the blame for this, do you?"

Quinton Jimenez was brought by the other Great Elders, though he really didn't want to come, he knew he had to be there.

Of course, he wasn't there to confront Remy Mitchell but to stop the other Great Elders from confronting him.

Sure enough, when Remy Mitchell said this, the other Great Elders all turned to look at Quinton Jimenez.

"Uncle Master Jimenez, what is going on?"

"Uncle Master Jimenez, was it you instead of the Sect Leader who made Elder Baillie take the oath of thunder punishment? If that's the case, you're too muddle-headed!"

"Senior Brother Jimenez, I know Abu Dunn almost became your disciple, but in the end, he didn't, did he? Why do you care so much about his life or death? Provoking Elder Baillie for him is not worth it."

...

The Great Elders are either senior or junior brothers of Quinton Jimenez, all of whom are the older generation of the Moon Radiance Sect.

They speak to Quinton Jimenez without the same courtesy as they do to Remy Mitchell.

"What if he were my son?"

Facing the reprimands from his senior and junior brothers, Quinton Jimenez's face turned frighteningly grim, and finally, he revealed the relationship between himself and Abu Dunn.

Immediately, the scene fell into dead silence.

The few Great Elders of the Moon Radiance Sect were clearly unaware of the relationship between Quinton Jimenez and Abu Dunn. Upon hearing Quinton Jimenez's words, they were stunned for a while and finally showed bitter smiles.

If this was true, they indeed could not blame Quinton Jimenez anymore.

After all, if it were them in his place, they would have done the same.

At the side, Remy Mitchell also breathed a sigh of relief.

The opinions of the people below didn't concern him.

But the views of these few individuals in front of him mattered greatly, because they were not only his elders but also were like the Guardian Deity of the Moon Radiance Sect.

For Remy Mitchell, the current outcome was the best possible outcome.

However, he didn't realize that from a certain perspective, this matter had just begun, and the outcome was still far away.

Moon Radiance Sect, Inner Sect Area.

"Is Wyatt Barnes staying so calm?"

Evander Mullins' expression was very unsightly. He thought Wyatt Barnes would lose his composure due to this incident, but Wyatt's calmness completely surpassed his expectations.

For a moment, he was both embarrassed and helpless.

Could it be that all his secret maneuvers were in vain?

He was unwilling! Truly unwilling!

But even if he was unwilling, what could he do?

"Wait! Wait... I just don't believe that you, Wyatt Barnes, can stay holed up in Trevor Baillie's residence forever."

Evander Mullins said through clenched teeth.

Meanwhile, at a place near the center of Moon Radiance Sect, a silhouette swiftly flew out from a secluded residence hidden behind a foggy range of mountains, disappearing into the clouds in an instant.

Soon, this figure reached deep into the mountainous range.

"Master, you have finally returned."

Looking at the graceful figure of the beautiful woman in front of her, Karina Hanson said with some excitement.

"Julia, I have already asked my friend to divine the 'Sister Keer' you mentioned. She is currently safe and sound... However, not long from now, she will face a great calamity! That calamity could even threaten her life... Whether she can withstand it will depend on her own fate."

The beautiful woman saw Karina Hanson, and a beautiful smile appeared on her face before she sighed softly.

As soon as she heard the beautiful woman say that Keer was safe, a smile appeared on Karina Hanson's face.

But when she heard the latter part of the beautiful woman's words, her expression changed, "A great calamity affecting her life? Master, did Senior Oracle really say that?"

Her master's friend was the renowned 'Old Man of Destiny' in the Martial Dao Sacred Land.

She would naturally not doubt the words of the Old Man of Destiny.

Chapter 1552: Seven Terminating Sect

The Destiny Elder is a legendary figure in the Martial Dao Sacred Land.

Even her father, the House Master of the Azure Waves Han Residence, has never seen him.

However, she, at a young age, followed her master and had an encounter with the Destiny Elder.

That time, the Destiny Elder calculated her fate, saying that in a few years, she would go with Ruby to the distant mortal continent 'Cloud Skies Continent,' where a great opportunity awaits her.

Even now, she still doesn't know what the great opportunity mentioned by the Destiny Elder is.

However, the journey to the Cloud Skies Continent was the happiest time of her life, where she met Brother Wyatt, Sister Keer, Sister Jovie, and Little Gold, Little Black, and Little White.

In front of them, she was unrestrained.

They would not treat her like the people of the Azure Waves Han Residence, who viewed her as a 'little princess.'

"Master, is there a way to resolve Sister Keer's great calamity?"

Karina Hanson's voice trembled slightly; she didn't want any harm to come to her kind sister, nor did she want to see Brother Wyatt saddened.

If anything really happened to Sister Keer, how could Brother Wyatt bear it?

"That old fellow said she can only rely on herself."

The graceful woman sighed.

"No way! I must go to Crescent Island... I must find Sister Keer."

Saying this, Karina Hanson turned to leave.

"She's no longer on Crescent Island, nor on Cloud Skies Continent."

The words of the graceful woman froze Karina Hanson's body completely, and she turned back to look at the graceful woman, "Master, where is Sister Keer now?"

"I can't say for sure."

The graceful woman shook her head, "However, the main reason I've returned is to tell you that I need to leave for a while..."

"Master, you are leaving?"

Before the graceful woman could finish, Karina Hanson's pretty face changed slightly.

In her eyes, this master was no different from her own mother.

Her master saying this clearly indicated this departure would not be short, and she naturally felt reluctant.

"Yes."

The graceful woman nodded, "I have something very important to do this time... As for you, your Sister Jovie, and those three little ones, you can go back to Cloud Skies Continent to take a look. According to that old fellow's calculation, your Brother Wyatt should have returned to Cloud Skies Continent. Perhaps this time you can confirm his whereabouts."

Brother Wyatt!

Hearing the graceful woman's words, Karina Hanson's eyes brightened.

"As for the Dragonsmith Clan..."

Saying this, the graceful woman raised her hand, took out a small exquisite sword, and handed it to Karen, "If you encounter the Dragonsmith Clan, just inject True Energy into it... As for the rest, you need not worry."

After placing the small sword into Karen's hand, the graceful woman disappeared, vanishing without a trace.

"Master."

Holding the small sword tightly, Karina Hanson suddenly felt like crying; her master had quietly accompanied her at the Azure Waves Han Residence all these years.

Now leaving, it's uncertain when they will meet again.

Even though her master had long told her that she would leave one day... She didn't expect that day to come so quickly.

However, thinking of her master's cultivation far surpassing even her father's, Karina Hanson felt relieved. With her master's cultivation, she could go anywhere... As long as she is still around, there will be a day they meet again.

"Julia, after today, you can officially train in our 'Redford' Sect's mental techniques, without any concerns... It's time for the inheritor of our Redford Sect to step into the spotlight."

Karina Hanson's ear heard her master's timely voice.

After leaving the Azure Waves Han Residence, the graceful woman headed north.

"Fire Worship Sect, Fire Worship Sect... It's unexpected that the 'Saintess' who disappeared years ago from the Fire Worship Sect is one of his people. Hopefully, the Fire Worship Sect won't go overboard this time... Otherwise, although our 'Seven Terminating Sect' is weak, we won't take it lying down! Now, the long dormant first successor of the Seven Terminating Sect's 'Smoke and Rain' lineage has also appeared. Perhaps, as that old fellow Destiny has said, it's time for our Seven Terminating Sect to step into the spotlight again."

The graceful woman murmured to herself.

Seven Terminating Sect, in the distant past within the Martial Dao Sacred Land, was an apex top force renowned across the land.

Later, the Martial Dao Sacred Land split in two, and Seven Terminating Sect retreated into seclusion, gradually forgotten by the world.

Since the founding of Seven Terminating Sect, the number of members has never exceeded twenty, yet this sect with fewer than twenty members once astonished an era of the Martial Dao Sacred Land.

During that era, a person appeared on the horizon of the Martial Dao Sacred Land.

He was Sword Saint 'Breezy Wind'!

One man, one sword, traversed the Martial Dao Sacred Land, undefeated across the world.

A sect that astonished an era of the Martial Dao Sacred Land, a strong figure that astonished an era of the Martial Dao Sacred Land—few relate them together.

Even fewer know that Sword Saint Breezy Wind is an inheritor of the Seven Terminating Sect's first successor 'Smoke and Rain' lineage.

Seven Terminating Sect consists of seven successors.

Smoke and Rain is the first successor.

Destiny is the second successor.

Redford is the seventh successor.

Besides these three absolutes, there are four other absolutes, also lying dormant in the Martial Dao Sacred Land, just waiting for the right time to emerge from hiding and make a grand appearance.

"According to that old fellow Destiny, the foremost inheritor of the Seven Terminating Sect in this generation has a ridiculously high fate, one even he cannot predict... Perhaps, I'll be fortunate enough to witness the Seven Terminating Sect's past glory once again!"

At this thought, the beautiful woman's eyes, akin to autumn water, reflected a radiant brilliance.

Just as Karina Hanson was about to return to Crescent Island with Jovie Lee and the three little ones, heading back to the Cloud Skies Continent.

An unexpected event caused Karina Hanson to momentarily abandon her plans.

Jovie Lee's baby was about to be born!

Moon Radiance Sect, Inner Sect region, Trevor Baillie's residence.

"Why do I recently feel so restless... as if something is about to happen."

Inside the third level of the Jewel Tower, Wyatt Barnes frowned deeply.

Originally, by this time, he should have broken through to 'Entering the Saint Realm Great Perfection.'

However, due to the sudden restlessness, he found it impossible to focus on cultivating, let alone break through to the 'Entering the Saint Realm Great Perfection.'

After forcing himself to practice for a while, Wyatt Barnes found himself growing increasingly irritable, and could only leave the Jewel Tower, walking out the door intending to take a walk to clear his mind.

At this moment, Wyatt Barnes did not think much of anything else, his intention was simply to go out to clear his mind.

Therefore, after leaving Trevor Baillie's residence, he left the Moon Radiance Sect grounds altogether.

Even the greetings from the Moon Radiance Sect disciples along the way seemed to go unheard, as he wandered like a lost soul, appearing as though he had lost his very essence.

"What's happened to Senior Brother Barnes?"

"He seems off... look, the light has gone out of Senior Brother Barnes's eyes, what on earth has happened to make him appear so desolate?"

...

At this moment, the disciples of the Moon Radiance Sect also noticed something was wrong.

The current Wyatt Barnes appeared like a wandering spirit.

"Wyatt Barnes, you finally came out."

Evander Mullins, who had been waiting outside the Moon Radiance Sect for a long time, saw Wyatt Barnes leaving the sect alone and confirmed that Trevor Baillie didn't follow, then stealthily followed him.

Of course, he was very cautious, not intending to make a move nearby.

"Hmm?"

Following behind Wyatt Barnes, Evander Mullins quickly noticed the anomaly in Wyatt Barnes's mood, "Could it be he discovered me?"

However, when he observed no other peculiarities in Wyatt Barnes, he relaxed.

Half a day passed, even if Wyatt Barnes was only walking, he had already distanced himself from the Moon Radiance Sect.

As Wyatt Barnes entered a dense forest, Evander Mullins finally couldn't hold back and prepared to strike.

Boom!!

With a thunderous explosion, Evander Mullins, an Inner Sect elder of the Moon Radiance Sect, launched a sneak attack from behind Wyatt Barnes, striking full force with a palm, aiming to kill Wyatt Barnes outright.

Seeing his attack about to land on Wyatt Barnes, Evander Mullins smiled at the corners of his mouth.

In his view, after today, his greatest worry would finally be eliminated.

However, as a more violent sound followed, the smile on Evander Mullins' lips completely froze.

Heavens!

What did he see?!

Evander Mullins clearly saw that just as his attack was about to touch Wyatt Barnes, a barrier emerged inexplicably on Wyatt Barnes's body surface.

Upon close inspection, the barrier was composed of quickly moving golden sword lights, forming a shield that intercepted his full-force strike.

Seeing the golden barrier merely tremble without collapsing, Evander Mullins's expression changed instantly.

At this moment, he naturally realized that he had underestimated Wyatt Barnes.

"Stasis Domain!"

Without any hesitation, Evander Mullins immediately deployed his domain, covering an area with a radius of a hundred meters.

Evander Mullins's domain was called the 'Stasis Domain.'

Within this domain, apart from himself and those with cultivation higher than his, everyone's True Energy would be somewhat impeded, as if some mysterious force was preventing them from exerting their full power.

At the same time, Evander Mullins also took out his Holy Artifact.

In the void above his head, methods of condensing weapons and beasts with True Energy appeared.

Simultaneously, Wyatt Barnes had already turned around, and now even his previously lifeless eyes had regained some brightness.

Seeing that the person who ambushed him was Evander Mullins, he was not surprised at all, and said indifferently: "Elder Mullins, you really don't miss any chance to kill me... That Abu Dunn, you must have incited him to hunt me as well?"

"So what if I did!"

Evander Mullins sneered, "It's just a pity, he was too useless, and got killed by someone else before he could kill you."

"What if I told you... Abu Dunn was killed by me?"

At this moment, Evander Mullins heard Wyatt Barnes's voice again.

However, this time Wyatt Barnes did not speak out loud, but used True Energy transmission to convey the message.

Chapter 1553: Mirror Image Talisman

"You?"

Upon hearing Wyatt Barnes' True Energy transmission, Evander Mullins was visibly taken aback, then sneered, "You think you can take down Abu Dunn? Dream on!"

"Whether it's a dream or not, you'll find out soon."

Wyatt Barnes responded nonchalantly.

At the same time, in the void above his head, True Energy transformed into the visage of a Divine Dragon. Around the Divine Dragon's visage, strands of blood aura were pulsating continuously, making the dragon appear vividly lifelike.

Suddenly, a dragon's roar echoed.

The massive body of the Divine Dragon visage moved, darting toward the void above Evander Mullins' head where his Godly Weapon visage and Giant Beast visage were gathered.

The appearance of the Divine Dragon made Evander Mullins completely dumbfounded.

A dragon!

It's actually a dragon!

At that moment, he even forgot to be shocked by Wyatt's Small Perfection Entering the Saint Realm cultivation.

In his mind, there was only one thought, that Wyatt had used a True Energy Beast Condensing technique to conjure a dragon, and it was a dragon formed with Essence Blood as its foundation.

Bang! Bang!

Accompanied by two loud bangs, Evander Mullins finally came to his senses.

Right then, both his Godly Weapon visage and the Giant Beast visage were effortlessly suppressed and crushed by Wyatt Barnes' Divine Dragon visage.

"You..."

Just as Evander Mullins looked at Wyatt Barnes in horror, Wyatt raised his hand and instantly pulled out the Splendid Fairy Sword, using only 30% of his strength, and casually swung it.

Swish! Swish! Swish!

...

Immediately, the sound of something shattering echoed in the void.

It was Evander Mullins' 'Captured Yuan Field' technique, formed through True Energy, which was instantly shattered and fragmented.

Destroyed by a single slash from Wyatt Barnes.

"No... impossible!"

Faced with this scene, Evander Mullins' pupils widened in shock, his face filled with disbelief.

In the blink of an eye, True Energy Condensed Weapon, True Energy Condensed Beast, and True Energy Condensed Field were all annihilated by Wyatt Barnes, leaving Evander Mullins with mixed feelings known only to himself.

Whoosh!

At the moment of Evander Mullins' shock, before he could even react, Wyatt Barnes' Splendid Fairy Sword trembled again, a flash of sword light shot out like lightning, slicing off the hand holding the sacred artifact, as easily as chopping wood.

Evander Mullins groaned in pain and looked at Wyatt Barnes again, as if he'd seen a ghost, "You... how could you..."

"How could you possess such incredible strength?"

Wyatt Barnes finished Evander Mullins' sentence and smiled faintly, "Elder Evander, do you believe what I said earlier now? Do I still seem to be dreaming?"

"Impossible... It's impossible... You can't have such formidable strength!"

Evander Mullins was still unwilling to accept it, as it was just too unbelievable.

Not so long ago, Wyatt Barnes, whom he considered a mere ant, had now surpassed him in power.

Furthermore, the sword in Wyatt Barnes' hand was especially terrifying.

With a casual swing, it destroyed his Captured Yuan Field.

"There's nothing impossible about it."

Wyatt Barnes said calmly, as his Splendid Fairy Sword trembled again, a sword light whistling out.

This time it was a thrust, aimed directly at Evander Mullins' chest.

Already prepared, Evander Mullins executed a defensive move immediately, simultaneously moving to dodge.

But could he escape?

Whoosh!

The sword light whistled by, piercing through the defensive barrier conjured by Evander Mullins' defensive move effortlessly, then penetrated his heart before he could dodge.

Evander Mullins, an inner sect elder of the Moon Radiance Sect, died just like that, killed by an inner sect disciple who had entered Moon Radiance Sect for less than two years.

Casually collecting Evander Mullins' sacred artifact and Storage Ring, Wyatt Barnes adeptly erased any traces, before heading back to the Moon Radiance Sect base.

In fact, he hadn't planned to lure Evander Mullins out to kill him.

He purely wanted to get some air.

Because while he was cultivating earlier, he always felt restless, like something was about to happen.

However, after the commotion from Evander Mullins, that restless feeling disappeared.

Wyatt Barnes didn't notice that at the same time he killed Evander Mullins, a figure was disappearing in the distance.

This figure came without a trace and left without a trace, with strength far surpassing Wyatt Barnes'.

Hidden in the shadows, the only ones capable of evading Wyatt Barnes' senses are those above the Saint Realm.

"Who would've thought, Wyatt Barnes is hiding so deeply... It seems most likely he killed Chidark too. Moreover, the sword in his hand gave me a feeling of extreme danger... Truly strange."

The Saint Realm expert departing after Wyatt Barnes gradually revealed his form, a robust middle-aged man.

This robust middle-aged man was none other than Richard Thai, one of the Saint Realm experts stationed in the Shadow Mountain black market's Nine Sect Alliance area.

Since the Shadow Mountain black market division chief ordered the cancellation of the task targeting Wyatt Barnes, Richard Thai had become very curious about him.

Recently, he had a sudden impulse to lurk near the Moon Radiance Sect.

Today, as he waited like a hunter for his prey, he discovered that Wyatt Barnes had actually left the Moon Radiance Sect's premises.

What's more intriguing is that a Moon Radiance Sect inner sect elder was following Wyatt, clearly with the intention of killing him.

From start to finish, he remained hidden, watching.

Initially, he thought Wyatt would be killed... but the result was completely unexpected; it was not Wyatt who died, but the inner sect elder of the Moon Radiance Sect.

Divine Dragon's apparition, mysterious treasure sword.

At that moment, Wyatt Barnes appeared to him as if cloaked in an impenetrable 'veil.'

That mysterious sword is so formidable, he couldn't help but feel tempted.

However, every time he felt greedy for that sword, he noticed his heartbeat inexplicably speeding up... as if the sword could pose a great threat to him, even to his life.

Because of this, he stayed cautious.

"I'm really curious... what expressions will the people of the Moon Radiance Sect have when they witness Wyatt Barnes killing the sect elder?"

Glancing at the 'Taoist Talisman' in his hand, Richard Thai's face revealed a sinister smile.

As someone in the Saint Realm, Richard Thai's speed was far superior to Wyatt Barnes's.

Moreover, since Wyatt Barnes seemed to be strolling leisurely back, Richard Thai arrived well ahead of him over the Moon Radiance Sect's premises.

As soon as Richard Thai appeared over the Moon Radiance Sect, several Saint Realm experts from the Moon Radiance Sect, including the Sect Leader 'Remy Mitchell,' immediately noticed him and rose into the sky.

At that moment, Richard Thai lifted his hand and crushed the Taoist Talisman in his hand.

Instantly, the sky above the Moon Radiance Sect was filled with a massive and incredibly clear mirror image... If Wyatt Barnes were here to see this, he would certainly be shocked, because it closely resembled the 3D mirroring technology from Earth in his previous life, very realistic and full of depth.

The Taoist Talisman that Richard Thai threw was precisely a 'Mirror Talisman.'

The Mirror Talisman can store what it has seen; people or objects in its view can all be stored within.

After crushing the Taoist Talisman, Richard Thai hid himself.

At this point, Remy Mitchell and the others were also drawn to the mirror image in the sky.

Just because one of the two people appearing in the mirror image was someone they recognized.

"It's Evander Mullins!"

A Moon Radiance Sect elder exclaimed softly.

"Who is that young man?"

"Evander Mullins seems to be tracking him."

...

Several elders of the Moon Radiance Sect looked at the mirror image in the sky, where a youth in purple clothes walked ahead, with Evander Mullins following closely behind.

Of course, the reason these old folks from the Moon Radiance Sect didn't recognize Wyatt Barnes was that they had never seen him before.

Even though Remy Mitchell had long been aware of Wyatt Barnes's existence and investigated him, he had never seen Wyatt, so naturally, he couldn't recognize him.

However, the fact that Remy Mitchell and several Saint Realm experts from the Moon Radiance Sect did not recognize Wyatt Barnes didn't mean others in the Moon Radiance Sect didn't.

When the mirror image appeared in the sky, the entire Moon Radiance Sect was stirred up.

"It's a sky mirror image!"

Many knowledgeable disciples of the Moon Radiance Sect exclaimed.

"A sky mirror image can only be produced by a 'Mirror Talisman'... and although Mirror Talismans don't have a specific grade, only Taoist talisman masters of four-star level or above could Inscription Draw them. Who is making such a grand gesture, using a Mirror Talisman?"

Many elders of the Moon Radiance Sect exclaimed in surprise.

"Look quickly! It's Elder Evander Mullins... he seems to be following someone."

Many inner sect disciples of the Moon Radiance Sect recognized Evander Mullins.

"The person he's following seems to be Wyatt Barnes?"

"That's right! It's Wyatt Barnes!"

"What is Elder Evander Mullins up to? He dares to follow Wyatt Barnes?"

"You don't know? Are you even a part of this? Wyatt Barnes hails from Hill Mountain City, his teacher is City Lord 'Tabo Garcia,' and Elder Evander Mullins and Tabo Garcia are archenemies; it's normal for him to want to kill Wyatt Barnes."

...

The entire Moon Radiance Sect was in uproar due to the mirror image in the sky, with many hearts filled with worry for Wyatt Barnes.

At Trevor Baillie's residence, Taoi Romero and others also saw the mirror image in the sky.

The sky mirror image was visible from any open area within the Moon Radiance Sect; they found it hard not to notice it while practicing Saint Realm-level martial arts moves in the courtyard.

"What is this?"

Taoi Romero and others, unfamiliar with the 'Mirror Talisman,' wondered what the mirror image in the sky was all about.

"This is trouble!"

Trevor Baillie, upon seeing the mirror image in the sky switch to the scene of Evander Mullins attacking Wyatt Barnes, couldn't help but change color.

Those uninformed might think he was worrying about Wyatt Barnes.

However, ever since learning about Wyatt's strength, he wasn't worried about Wyatt's safety at all.

Wyatt's strength already surpassed his, making it impossible for Evander Mullins to even scratch him, even if attempting a sneak attack.

He didn't have to guess to know the result; surely, Evander Mullins died!

The reason Trevor Baillie's expression changed was his realization that someone had used a 'Mirror Talisman' to record the conflict between Wyatt Barnes and Evander Mullins, exposing this conflict to everyone within the Moon Radiance Sect.

Chapter 1554: Power Revealed

"Who is it? So vicious!"

Trevor Baillie's face darkened. He wished he could tear the mirror image in the sky to pieces, but he knew he was powerless.

The mirror talisman, once activated, cannot be destroyed unless by a Saint Realm expert.

At this moment, Trevor Baillie only hated his own weakness, unable to help his junior brother shred the mirror image in the sky.

"The Sect Leader and the others are still fine... but if Quinton sees this scene..."

Thinking of this, Trevor Baillie became even more anxious.

"Wyatt Barnes? He's Wyatt Barnes?"

Meanwhile, Sect Leader Remy Mitchell of Moon Radiance Sect also learned that the purple-clothed youth in the heavenly mirror image was Wyatt Barnes, causing his expression to change involuntarily.

He was well aware of the conflict between Evander Mullins and Wyatt Barnes.

However, he never expected Evander Mullins to be so insane to the extent of wanting to kill Wyatt Barnes.

At this moment, Remy Mitchell felt some regret, regretting not secretly executing Evander Mullins beforehand.

He could imagine that Elder Baillie, upon seeing this scene, would certainly fly into a rage, possibly blaming him and the entire Moon Radiance Sect.

That was not what he wanted to see.

Meanwhile, aside from Quinton, the other elders also changed their expressions, sharing Remy Mitchell's concern about Trevor Baillie seeing Evander Mullins trying to kill Wyatt Barnes.

"This mirror image in the sky must be shattered!"

Remy Mitchell and several elders, their eyes slightly cold, prepared to join forces to destroy the mirror image.

However, just as True Origin surged through their bodies, readying them to act, the scene in the mirror image shifted slightly... And it was this very change that left them all stunned and involuntarily dispersed the True Origin they had gathered.

Inside the mirror image, Evander Mullins launched a sneak attack on Wyatt Barnes, aiming to strike Wyatt Barnes to death.

But at this critical moment, a layer of golden light enveloped Wyatt Barnes, effortlessly blocking Evander Mullins' seemingly thunderous attack.

"This... Such a powerful defensive move!"

At this moment, everyone in the Moon Radiance Sect witnessing this scene was shaken.

The defensive move Wyatt Barnes displayed left them in shock.

"Observing Elder Mullins' posture, it's clear he held nothing back... But little did we expect Wyatt Barnes to effortlessly fend off his full-force attack."

"Incredible! Unbelievable!"

"When did Wyatt Barnes' strength reach such heights?"

"Terrifying! Is Wyatt Barnes really human?"

...

All the disciples of Moon Radiance Sect were stunned by the mirror image in the sky.

Without looking back, without turning, simply using a defensive move, he blocked Evander Mullins' full-force strike.

How strong must Wyatt Barnes' strength be?

Even ordinary martial artists at Small Perfection in Entering the Saint Realm probably couldn't easily block Evander Mullins' full-force attack like this, right?

"Junior brother..."

If it were a usual day, upon seeing this scene, Trevor Baillie would breathe a sigh of relief because his junior brother was safe.

However, now he not only doesn't feel relief but his mood grew heavier.

The next scene was not something he wanted to witness.

At the same time, Taoi Romero and others staying at Trevor Baillie's residence, upon seeing Evander Mullins' sneak attack on Wyatt Barnes, were all worried for Wyatt Barnes.

Moments later, seeing Wyatt Barnes blocking Evander Mullins' attack, they finally breathed a sigh of relief.

"What exactly is the mirror image in the sky? Why does it feel so real?"

Taoi Romero and the others were puzzled by it.

Finally, Enzo Hawkins was the first to react, "Do you remember, when we previously bought several jade slips from the Hall of Merit, there seemed to be records of a taoist talisman called 'Mirror Talisman'... The current scene and the effect produced by the mirror talisman are almost identical."

"Seems like it."

"It's really the effect of the Mirror Talisman!"

"Mirror Talisman can only be inscribed by four-star or higher Taoist talisman makers, right? Are there four-star Taoist talisman makers within the Nine Sect Alliance region?"

...

Upon hearing Enzo Hawkins' words, Taoi Romero and the others reacted as well.

"The golden light that formed the shield seemed to be strands of golden sword aura... Such powerful defense, clearly an extremely refined defensive move."

High above, several Saint Realm experts from Moon Radiance Sect immediately saw through Wyatt Barnes' defense.

"Wyatt Barnes' strength is actually this strong?!"

Even Remy Mitchell was shocked by the scene before him, but moments later, his face turned to a smile, "I never expected such an extraordinary martial arts prodigy to appear in my Moon Radiance Sect... Such a talent, with slight refinement, could lead our Moon Radiance Sect to greater heights, possibly becoming a Sixth-Rank power."

At this moment, Remy Mitchell's heart was filled with excitement, looking at Wyatt Barnes as if he were a treasure.

Aside from Quinton, the other elders also brightened their eyes at this scene.

Previously, they had only heard of Wyatt Barnes, assuming he was a lucky young man, but without Trevor Baillie, amounted to nothing.

However, they now realized that this young man acknowledged by Trevor Baillie as his junior brother was no ordinary person.

Under forty years old, with such strength.

When he grows up in the future, what kind of extraordinary existence will he be?

Quinton Jimenez's face looked very bad, extremely bad, "Is this Wyatt Barnes, Trevor Baillie's junior apprentice brother? I didn't expect him to have such strength at such a young age... Now it seems that Abu Dunn's death must also be related to him!"

At this thought, killing intent flashed in Quinton Jimenez's eyes.

Not long after, the image against the sky changed once more.

In the image, Wyatt Barnes turned around and confronted Evander Mullins.

And at this moment, Evander Mullins displayed methods of condensing True Energy into weapons, beasts, and domains, and took out a sacred artifact, fully prepared, intent on killing Wyatt Barnes.

Although the image captured by the talisman did not have sound.

However, some who could read lips could make out what he was saying by the movement of others' lips.

As it happened, Quinton Jimenez was one of those people.

Evander Mullins opened his mouth, causing Quinton Jimenez's face to become even darker.

"With just you, you want to take down Abu Dunn? Dream on!"

That's what Evander Mullins said.

"Whether it's a dream, you'll know soon enough."

That's what Wyatt Barnes said.

The next scene shocked everyone at the Moon Radiance Sect.

To be precise, it shocked everyone who saw the image in the sky.

Only to see, facing Evander Mullins who had exhausted all means, Wyatt Barnes also displayed the method of condensing True Energy into beasts... for a moment, everyone realized that Wyatt Barnes had already become a Martial Artist at the Small Perfection of Entering the Saint Realm!

True Energy condensing into beasts is precisely the hallmark of the 'Small Perfection of Entering the Saint Realm'!

What shocked them even more was the scene that followed.

They clearly saw that the giant beast form condensing above Wyatt Barnes' head in the void was actually a dragon, a Divine Dragon, a real Divine Dragon!

For most people present, dragons were undoubtedly legendary existences.

Among those present, only a few like Taoi Romero had truly seen dragons.

But now, Wyatt Barnes had condensed a Divine Dragon form, and judging by the blood gang surrounding the Divine Dragon form, it was clearly formed using Essence Blood... which meant that Wyatt Barnes had once obtained the 'Divine Dragon Essence Blood'.

For a moment, many people, including Remy Mitchell, couldn't help but feel jealous of Wyatt Barnes' fortune, having obtained the Divine Dragon Essence Blood before reaching Small Perfection of Entering the Saint Realm.

The next moment, they saw clearly that Wyatt Barnes' Divine Dragon form easily destroyed Evander Mullins' divine weapon form and giant beast form.

"So strong!"

"As expected of a Divine Dragon!"

"I really didn't expect that the giant beast form condensed by Wyatt Barnes from True Energy was actually a Divine Dragon form!"

...

A group of Moon Radiance Sect elders exclaimed.

"Senior Brother Wyatt Barnes is defying the heavens!"

"Indeed! Not only has his cultivation broken through to Small Perfection of Entering the Saint Realm, but he also condensed such a heaven-defying Divine Dragon form... Senior Brother Wyatt Barnes has simply created a miracle for the younger generation of our Moon Radiance Sect!"

"I wonder if Senior Brother Wyatt Barnes can defeat Elder Evander Mullins... After all, Elder Mullins, as an existence at the Great Perfection of Entering the Saint Realm, has even stronger True Energy condensation domain methods."

...

A group of Moon Radiance Sect disciples looked at the scene in the sky with anticipation.

And at that moment, Wyatt Barnes used his actions to give them the answer.

Only to see, Wyatt Barnes casually took out a sword, with a casual wave, the void trembled, and then tore apart Evander Mullins' 'Stagnant Origin Domain'.

As Evander Mullins looked on in astonishment, Wyatt Barnes swung another sword, severing one of Evander Mullins' arms.

Because the 'image' was recorded by Saint Realm powerhouse Richard Thai with a talisman, every detail was crystal clear. Even the Moon Radiance Sect disciples with weaker cultivation recorded the entire process without missing any detail due to Wyatt Barnes' speed.

"So strong!"

"Too terrifying!"

...

Throughout the Moon Radiance Sect, whether among the elders, stewards, or disciples, everyone was astonished by the methods displayed by Wyatt Barnes.

Especially those who had previous conflicts with Wyatt Barnes, all gasped, sweating profusely.

Of course, it was cold sweat.

A moment later, everyone saw that Wyatt Barnes pierced Evander Mullins' chest with a sword, killing him.

At this moment, no one pitied Evander Mullins, everyone felt he brought it upon himself.

After all, he was the one who first harbored murderous thoughts.

"The master's revenge has been avenged!"

In the outer region of Moon Radiance Sect, Lingyun and Baer Bear exchanged a glance, seeing some excitement in each other's eyes.

"Heaven bless our Moon Radiance Sect! Heaven bless our Moon Radiance Sect!"

And the Sect Leader of Moon Radiance Sect, 'Remy Mitchell', and several other Moon Radiance Sect Elders felt incredibly excited for having such a 'monster' as Wyatt Barnes appear in the sect.

On Wyatt Barnes, they saw the future of Moon Radiance Sect.

Due to the excitement, they hadn't noticed when Quinton Jimenez quietly left.

Chapter 1555: The Death of Quinton Jimenez

As Quinton Jimenez departed, Trevor Baillie also left his mansion and quickly arrived near the Moon Radiance Sect's mountain gate. His task was to intercept Wyatt Barnes, keeping him away from the Moon Radiance Sect.

The reason for doing so was naturally because of 'Quinton Jimenez.'

In his view, Quinton Jimenez witnessed the scene and must have concluded that Wyatt Barnes killed Abu Dunn.

Given Quinton Jimenez's previous attitude towards Abu Dunn's death, he would definitely not let Wyatt Barnes off the hook.

Just as Trevor Baillie left, Quinton Jimenez arrived at his mansion, searched it thoroughly, and didn't find Wyatt Barnes. His expression immediately turned grim, "Could he not have returned yet?"

With that thought, Quinton Jimenez searched the Moon Radiance Sect up and down at the fastest speed in a circle and finally appeared near the Moon Radiance Sect's mountain gate, waiting to take action.

"Trevor Baillie!"

As Quinton Jimenez arrived near the Moon Radiance Sect's mountain gate, he immediately noticed Trevor Baillie, making his expression turn grim.

However, he did not alert the enemy but hid nearby.

Trevor Baillie was waiting, and he was waiting too.

Wyatt Barnes, who was the person in question, had no idea what was happening at the Moon Radiance Sect. At the moment, he was returning to the Moon Radiance Sect's location, seemingly without concern.

Not long after, he noticed a small black dot in the distance.

As he continued forward, the black dot kept enlarging, eventually transforming into the Moon Radiance Sect's location. The mountain gate of the Moon Radiance Sect clearly appeared before his eyes.

"Back again."

Seeing the Moon Radiance Sect's mountain gate, a smile appeared on Wyatt Barnes' face, "I'll find some time to return to Hill Mountain City and inform my teacher about Evander Mullins' death... By that time, my teacher will surely be very pleased."

"Wyatt Barnes!"

Just as Wyatt Barnes continued toward the Moon Radiance Sect's mountain gate, a thunderous roar came from the direction of the Moon Radiance Sect's mountain gate. The sound was so loud, it spread in all directions.

For a moment, everyone inside the Moon Radiance Sect's location heard the explosive sound.

At that time, it was just when the celestial image above the Moon Radiance Sect vanished.

Most people inside the Moon Radiance Sect's location froze for a moment before rushing toward the Moon Radiance Sect's mountain gate... They vaguely sensed there was an exciting event to watch where the roar came from.

"It's Uncle Master Jimenez!"

Among a group of elders and disciples of the Moon Radiance Sect rushing outside the mountain gate, Remy Mitchell in the sky couldn't help but pause, recognizing the owner of the voice.

"Uncle Jimenez?"

"Brother Jimenez?"

At this moment, several other Saint Realm experts from the Moon Radiance Sect, elder elders of the sect, couldn't help furrowing their brows, momentarily unable to react.

"Oh no!"

Quickly, Remy Mitchell was the first to react, his expression drastically changing.

"What happened?"

Immediately, the other elder elders of the Moon Radiance Sect looked toward Remy Mitchell.

"Uncle Master Jimenez encountered Wyatt Barnes' strength and confirmed that Wyatt Barnes killed Abu Dunn... We must stop him!"

As soon as the words fell, Remy Mitchell disappeared from where he stood, heading toward the Moon Radiance Sect's mountain gate as fast as possible.

The other elder elders of the sect reacted quickly, their expressions changing immediately.

"Uncle Jimenez is reckless!"

"Brother Jimenez is too impulsive!"

As they followed Remy Mitchell swiftly, they couldn't help cursing in their hearts.

At this time, they realized the severity of the situation.

They knew Quinton Jimenez's temperament all too well. Upon confirming Wyatt Barnes's strength to kill Abu Dunn, he surely wouldn't show mercy.

Because he was the kind who would rather mistakenly kill thousands than let one escape.

However, in their eyes, Wyatt Barnes was the 'treasure' of the Moon Radiance Sect, bearing the sect's 'future'... Therefore, they couldn't allow Quinton Jimenez to harm Wyatt Barnes.

But as things stood, the situation was not optimistic.

Even if they arrived in time, Wyatt Barnes might already have died at Quinton Jimenez's hands.

Meanwhile, Wyatt Barnes was also stunned by the roar from afar, unable to regain his senses.

"Junior Brother, run!"

Soon, another familiar voice came.

He could tell it was his senior brother 'Trevor Baillie's' voice.

At this moment, Trevor Baillie's voice was full of urgency, as if he encountered something that frightened him.

Hearing Trevor Baillie's voice, Wyatt Barnes suddenly felt panic.

Just then, he felt a suffocating sensation rapidly encompassing his entire body. Around him, within a hundred-meter radius, suddenly became a golden ocean.

"A domain! And it's not a typical Entering the Saint Realm domain!"

This thought rose in Wyatt Barnes's mind instantly, his expression changing dramatically.

Even at this moment, he didn't understand what had happened or why an apparent 'Saint Realm powerhouse' was attacking him.

"Wyatt Barnes, I will make you accompany my son 'Abu Dunn' in death!"

Just as Wyatt Barnes was being suffocated by the oppressive force of a golden ocean-like domain, unable to catch his breath, the person who had just roared angrily sent a message to Wyatt.

This message almost caused the already suffocating Wyatt to faint.

It was at this crucial moment, under immense pressure, that the vast True Energy within Wyatt's spirit sea surged forth, swiftly flowing through the ninety-nine Saint Veins.

With the Nine Dragons Maneuver, the True Energy completed a Great Cycle in an instant before rushing into Wyatt's spirit sea.

In an instant, Wyatt's spirit sea deep within his mind shuddered and then seemed to explode open.

The feeling of fainting reappeared, but this time, Wyatt did not feel oppressed. Instead, he felt a lightness in body and mind.

And all of this because he had broken through!

Under immense pressure, he completed a breakthrough to 'Entering the Saint Realm Perfection', everything happening naturally.

Originally, Wyatt was merely a step away from 'Entering the Saint Realm Perfection', having trained for such a long time on the third level of the Jewel Tower. It wasn't in vain.

It was only due to certain reasons that he had not pierced through the final layer of paper.

This time, however, the oppressive force of that domain from a suspected Saint Realm powerhouse, along with the thunderous message, prompted Wyatt to complete the final breakthrough, taking the most crucial step.

After breaking through to Entering the Saint Realm Perfection, although the golden ocean still oppressed him, it was far less intense than before.

However, the feeling of a near-suffocation crisis grew stronger.

At the same time, he sensed a terrifying aura speeding towards him at an exaggerated rate.

Without any hesitation, Wyatt immediately activated the 'Mysterious Eye', continuously depleting his mental power, causing the scene in his vision to slow down.

Taking advantage of this critical moment, Wyatt quickly drew the 'Splendid Fairy Sword', and the True Energy that had expanded his spirit sea post-breakthrough poured into the Splendid Fairy Sword.

However, Wyatt reserved 'one-tenth' of his True Energy.

'Ninety percent' of the True Energy was hastily injected into the Splendid Fairy Sword.

In an instant, the Splendid Fairy Sword began to tremble violently, emitting an intimidating, fierce aura. The continually flickering azure energy on the sword's body disturbed the surrounding void.

Without any hesitation and with no time for Wyatt to think, he raised his hand, swinging the Splendid Fairy Sword out.

In that casual raising of his hand, Wyatt found his heart to be unusually calm, as though he had formed some kind of connection with the Splendid Fairy Sword in his hand.

This connection was mysterious, hard to articulate, but Wyatt genuinely felt it.

Swoosh!

The fleeting sound of the sword's whistle seemed to flash past Wyatt's ear like a shooting star.

At the same time, under the watchful eyes of the Moon Radiance Sect elders and disciples who had flooded out of the sect's residence, not far ahead of Wyatt, an aged figure was cleaved in half by the sword light.

Simultaneously, the golden ocean that filled the void dissipated as well.

"Uncle Master Jimenez!"

"Brother Jimenez!"

"Senior Brother Jimenez!"

At the moment when the aged figure was sliced into two halves by the sword light, several cries of lamentation rang out from high in the distance, belonging to the Moon Radiance Sect Leader Remy Mitchell and several of the sect's senior elders.

They had been a bit dejected, thinking Wyatt couldn't escape Quinton Jimenez's clutches.

Yet the abrupt scene before them left them utterly dumbfounded.

Wyatt, with one sword strike, slew Quinton Jimenez!

At the same time, not only Remy Mitchell and the others were stunned, even Richard Thai, who was hiding high above watching the spectacle, was momentarily shocked, beads of cold sweat forming on his forehead.

"Thank goodness... thank goodness..."

At this moment, his mind held only one thought: thank goodness he hadn't tried to seize the mysterious sword from Wyatt's hand earlier.

Even though he claimed his strength far exceeded that of the slain Quinton Jimenez.

However, facing that sword strike just now, even he couldn't say with certainty that he could have fully blocked it.

That sword strike was too fast, too powerful.

So fast it frightened him, so powerful it made his heart tremble.

"Junior, run!"

Though Trevor Baillie was also startled by Wyatt's domineering sword strike, he was the quickest to react, urging Wyatt.

He might not understand how Wyatt could unleash such a fearsome sword strike, but he vaguely realized that doing so must have required specific conditions.

To have Wyatt unleash the same sword strike now would be quite challenging.

"I will protect your friends and family!"

Trevor Baillie continued to urge.

"Quinton Jimenez?"

Upon hearing Trevor Baillie's words, Wyatt's thoughts also cleared in an instant.

"So that Abu Dunn was indeed Quinton Jimenez's illegitimate son!"

At this moment, Wyatt recalled the message Quinton Jimenez had sent him and realized that his previous speculation was correct; Abu Dunn was indeed Quinton Jimenez's illegitimate son.

However, he was a bit puzzled as to how Quinton Jimenez knew he had killed Abu Dunn.

From the way Quinton Jimenez was shouting and threatening earlier, it was clear he confirmed that he had killed Abu Dunn.

Chapter 1556: Being Hunted

However, Wyatt Barnes also knew he didn't have time to think too much.

Quinton Jimenez was a Supreme Elder of the Moon Radiance Sect.

As a Saint Realm powerhouse, Quinton was a figure akin to a Guardian Deity within Moon Radiance Sect.

Killing Quinton, especially in front of so many people, was a serious crime.

Most importantly, Wyatt killed Quinton with just one sword strike, not because of his own strength, but because he relied on the power of the 'Splendid Fairy Sword'... and using the Splendid Fairy Sword consumed ninety percent of his True Energy.

Now, he only had ten percent of his True Energy left in his energy sea.

"Senior Brother, Uncle Romero and the others are entrusted to you."

As the thought fell, Wyatt's mind moved.

In an instant, centered around him, sword energy surged within a hundred meters.

Sharp and unmatched sword lights roared past, making the area within a hundred meters look like a sword domain.

This was the 'domain' Wyatt had mastered after breaking through to the perfection stage of entering the Saint Realm.

The condensing of True Energy into a domain, specifically what type of domain, was not something Wyatt could control.

However, after breaking through to the perfection stage of entering the Saint Realm, Wyatt realized that the domain he understood was the 'Ten Thousand Sword Domain'!

He vaguely realized that the reason he understood this domain was undoubtedly related to the 'Supreme Heart Sword'.

Upon knowing what domain he had understood, Wyatt naturally knew its uses.

Therefore, as the area within a hundred meters around him was filled with a multitude of swords, in a moment, the multitude of swords swiftly flew towards him, appearing as if they were going to pierce him through with countless swords from an outsider's perspective.

The spectacle of countless swords whistling was extremely spectacular, and the void traversed by the swords left only a series of piercing sword howls.

In a flash, the multitude of swords gathered beneath Wyatt's feet, transformed into a solid and dazzling sword, and carried him like a streak of light, quickly disappearing into the distance.

"What a terrifying domain! Such speed! This speed far surpasses the half-step Saint Realm, and even rivals the Saint Realm."

High above in the sky, witnessing this scene, Richard Thai was also filled with astonishment.

"However, judging by his complexion, it seems he is not in a good state... Clearly, using that mysterious sword earlier consumed a lot of his True Energy. It's unlikely he'll be able to perform a second strike shortly."

As a 'Saint Realm powerhouse', Richard Thai's discernment was naturally keen, easily seeing through Wyatt's current state.

Therefore, he immediately pursued him.

And as Richard Thai pursued, several Moon Radiance Sect Supreme Elders, including Sect Leader 'Remy Mitchell', also snapped back to attention and chased after Wyatt with grim expressions.

They never expected things to develop to this stage.

Wyatt Barnes had killed Quinton Jimenez!

Who was Quinton?

He was one of the elder generation powerhouses in Moon Radiance Sect, someone they had been associated with for many years as an elder in the Moon Radiance Sect.

Yet today, he fell right before their eyes.

The one who killed him was even a disciple of Moon Radiance Sect.

Although they thought highly of Wyatt, believing that if he continued to grow, he could lead the Moon Radiance Sect to glory... the development to this point was beyond their control.

If only they had seen Wyatt kill Quinton, it might have been different.

But the problem was, most of the people in Moon Radiance Sect saw it.

Even though Quinton was a Supreme Elder of Moon Radiance Sect, and many disciples hadn't seen him, those elders and some disciples of Moon Radiance Sect recognized him.

If even a person who killed a Supreme Elder of Moon Radiance Sect could still receive cultivation from the sect and even become a future leader of the sect, it would undoubtedly be a colossal joke.

Thus, at the moment Wyatt killed Quinton, they knew Moon Radiance Sect could no longer accommodate Wyatt.

Since they couldn't accommodate him, and Wyatt might hate Moon Radiance Sect because of Quinton's death... they had only one choice left, to kill Wyatt to eliminate future troubles!

They couldn't take the risk!

If they risked it, when Wyatt grew stronger, he would undoubtedly be a potential threat to Moon Radiance Sect.

They had to nip this threat in the bud!

At this point, they had already cast Trevor Baillie aside, although a 'Three-Star Saint Markings Master' was rare, in the face of the sect's survival, it was insignificant.

Furthermore, as they pursued Wyatt, Sect Leader 'Remy Mitchell' instructed several Vice Sect Leaders, "Keep an eye on Trevor Baillie, and don't let him and his people in the mansion leave."

Upon hearing this, several Vice Sect Leaders immediately rushed back to Trevor Baillie's mansion, intercepting him as he returned, ready to take Taoi Romero and others to leave.

Accurately speaking, they intercepted Trevor Baillie and Taoi Romero's group.

"Elder Baillie, the Sect Leader has ordered that you and your people from your residence are not allowed to leave... Please forgive any offense."

One of the Vice Sect Leaders said while surrounding Trevor Baillie and others.

"Gentlemen, how about we make a deal?"

Trevor Baillie looked at several Vice Sect Leaders, not flustered, and asked faintly.

"What's the deal?"

Several Vice Sect Leaders frowned.

"If you let me go, I am willing to offer each of you a sacred artifact engraved with three 'three-star Saint Markings'."

Trevor Baillie said.

And Trevor Baillie's words made the eyes of the Vice Sect Leaders bright, "Is this true?"

"I can make a Thunder Punishment oath...but, within the sect now, it's not convenient to make a Thunder Punishment oath. Surely, you don't want the resonance of the Nine-Nine Thunder Tribulation to be heard by others, do you?"

Trevor Baillie continued.

"Let's go!"

For a moment, several Vice Sect Leaders exchanged glances, not only defying Sect Leader 'Remy Mitchell's orders but also personally escorting Trevor Baillie and Taoi Romero out of the Moon Radiance Sect premises.

Of course, their departure was extremely secretive, so no one noticed.

The reason being, Trevor Baillie's promise was too tempting.

Sacred artifacts with three-star Saint Markings, not only they didn't have them, the Sect Leader and several elders didn't have them either.

To them, the life or death of Trevor Baillie was irrelevant; what truly mattered was the benefit they could gain...as for Sect Leader 'Remy Mitchell', they could readily excuse themselves, saying they chased Trevor Baillie but couldn't catch him.

Once at a place far from the Moon Radiance Sect premises, after Trevor Baillie made the Thunder Punishment oath and negotiated a deal with the Vice Sect Leaders of Moon Radiance Sect, they contentedly let Trevor Baillie leave.

Although they hadn't received the sacred artifacts engraved with three 'three-star Saint Markings' yet, given Trevor Baillie made the Thunder Punishment oath, they weren't worried he would break his promise.

Moreover, Trevor Baillie's Thunder Punishment oath promised to deliver one sacred artifact within three years to each of them.

Three years wasn't a long time for them.

The events here were naturally unknown to the Moon Radiance Sect Leader 'Remy Mitchell', or he would have been furious enough to spit blood.

And while Trevor Baillie led Taoi Romero and others away from Moon Radiance Sect, near the mountain gate of Moon Radiance Sect premises, a group of Moon Radiance Sect elders, stewards, and disciples had already regained their senses.

The earlier scene shocked them greatly.

Especially those Moon Radiance Sect elders who recognized 'Quinton Jimenez', murmured in astonishment, "Wyatt Barnes...actually killed Elder Jimenez? This...this...how is this possible!"

"Elder Jimenez is one of our Moon Radiance Sect's elders, a Saint Realm master...yet he, actually...actually..."

"Unbelievable! Unbelievable! How could Wyatt Barnes have such tremendous power!"

...

The faces of a group of Moon Radiance Sect elders showed shock from the depths of their hearts.

Some even tried various means to confirm they weren't dreaming.

"Elder Jimenez?"

"Elders?"

"Saint Realm master?!"

...

And those words from the Moon Radiance Sect elders were naturally overheard by a group of Moon Radiance Sect disciples.

For a moment, the identity of the old man they witnessed being killed spread quickly.

Quinton Jimenez, Moon Radiance Sect elder, Saint Realm master.

"My God! Am I dreaming...Brother Wyatt Barnes first killed Elder Evander Mullins, and then Elder Jimenez? Elder Jimenez is a Saint Realm master!"

"A Saint Realm master, to martial artists and Taoist cultivators below the Saint Realm, is nearly invincible...Could Brother Wyatt Barnes also be a Saint Realm master?"

"When Brother Wyatt Barnes left earlier, he seemed to use the True Energy domain technique, showing his 'domain' ...his power is far beyond what he showed against Elder Evander Mullins!"

"The technique of the True Energy domain is the mark of a strong Entering the Saint Realm master...Brother Wyatt Barnes is at least an Entering the Saint Realm master!"

"What Entering the Saint Realm master...I think Brother Wyatt Barnes himself is a Saint Realm master, otherwise how could he have killed Elder Jimenez."

"I also think Brother Wyatt Barnes is a Saint Realm master."

...

The Moon Radiance Sect disciples discussed endlessly, each speaking of Wyatt Barnes with awe and astonishment.

Not just them, even a group of Moon Radiance Sect elders didn't notice, although Wyatt Barnes killed Elder Jimenez, it was with an immensely taxing strike.

Not just Richard Thai from Shadow Mountain's black market, even the Moon Radiance Sect Leader 'Remy Mitchell' and several Saint Realm masters noticed.

They knew Wyatt Barnes couldn't easily deliver such a powerful strike again soon, hence dared to chase him immediately...otherwise, facing a master who could kill Elder Jimenez with one blow, how could they dare pursue him?

Of course, chasing Wyatt Barnes wasn't just about wanting to kill him and eliminate future troubles, but more so because they saw the extraordinary nature of the sword in Wyatt's hand.

As Saint Realm masters, they not only had incredible vision but also insight far beyond ordinary martial artists.

When Wyatt Barnes swung that sword, they could clearly perceive that Wyatt's aura wasn't strong, but his sword was.

Chapter 1557: Unlucky Wyatt Barnes

Because of this, several Saint Realm powerhouses, including the Moon Radiance Sect Leader 'Remy Mitchell', all became covetous of the sword in Wyatt Barnes' hand.

So, they chased after him without a second thought!

Meanwhile, far ahead, Wyatt was flying on his sword, his face growing increasingly pale.

The sword stroke that killed Quinton Jimenez earlier seemed simple, but in fact, it consumed ninety percent of his True Energy... The remaining ten percent was used to employ the technique of True Energy Domain Condensation, forming the 'Ten Thousand Sword Domain'.

Subsequently, the Ten Thousand Sword Domain transformed into a Flying Sword, carrying Wyatt rapidly away from the Moon Radiance Sect.

It must be said that the speed of the Flying Sword was very fast.

But because it was so fast, the consumption was also significant.

Before flying too far, Wyatt found that his True Energy was almost exhausted, and his mental power, due to the previous exertion of the 'Mysterious Eye', was also nearly depleted.

With his True Energy almost gone and his mental power nearly depleted.

Wyatt now felt unbearably uncomfortable, not physically, but mentally.

"What should I do? Those Saint Realm powerhouses of the Moon Radiance Sect will definitely catch up."

After killing Quinton Jimenez, Wyatt noticed several figures flying out from above the Moon Radiance Sect's location, which were precisely those Saint Realm powerhouses.

Although he could kill Quinton Jimenez, and with just one stroke, it was all because of the 'Splendid Fairy Sword'.

Without the Splendid Fairy Sword, even if he broke through to 'Entering the Saint Realm Grand Perfection', he could only claim invincibility below the Saint Realm... Without the Splendid Fairy Sword, facing powerhouses above the Saint Realm, even the weakest kind, he may not be their match, let alone kill a Saint Realm powerhouse in one strike.

And now, using the Splendid Fairy Sword, the burden was also enormous.

Killing one Quinton Jimenez consumed ninety percent of his True Energy.

"They are closing in fast."

Simultaneously, Elder Fire's voice emerged from inside the Jewel Tower, reminding Wyatt.

"Elder Fire, what should I do now?"

Wyatt smiled wryly, the speed of the Flying Sword beneath his feet not only slowed down but also began to fade, seemingly about to vanish anytime.

"Find a place shielded from wind and rain, then put the Jewel Tower inside. As long as they don't go on a rampage destroying the surrounding environment, you should be safe."

After a moment of contemplation, Elder Fire advised.

As soon as Elder Fire spoke, Wyatt naturally guessed Elder Fire's intention.

"This can work!"

At this thought, Wyatt did not hesitate, he let himself fall on the Flying Sword into a dense forest, where a gigantic stone appeared in sight.

"That's it!"

Wyatt mustered his remaining True Energy to lift the boulder and then dug a hole beneath it, into which he threw the Jewel Tower.

Immediately, before the boulder fell back, he entered the Jewel Tower with a thought.

Bang!

As the boulder crashed down, the small pit where the Jewel Tower now powdered into dust was entirely concealed, completely shielded from wind and rain.

Under such circumstances, unless the pursuing enemies went insane, devastating the surrounding environment, they were unlikely to force Wyatt to emerge.

Upon entering the Jewel Tower, Wyatt immediately went to the third floor of the Jewel Tower and began to recover his True Energy while also starting to restore his mental power.

For him, this was the urgent task at hand.

Meanwhile, as Wyatt was hiding, Richard Thai, a Saint Realm powerhouse stationed in the Shadow Mountain black market of the Nine Sects Alliance, appeared above the forest where Wyatt was hiding.

"So, you're hiding?"

Richard Thai looked at the forest below and chuckled coldly.

Immediately, as if having sensed something, his gaze froze, and he concealed himself as well.

As Richard Thai hid, Moon Radiance Sect Leader 'Remy Mitchell' and a few other elder figures also appeared above the forest, halting mid-air, scanning the area.

"His aura seems to have vanished here."

Remy Mitchell said with a frown.

"Search the surroundings."

For a while, the group of Saint Realm powerhouses from the Moon Radiance Sect split, some patrolling the air, while the rest entered the forest for a thorough search.

As Saint Realm powerhouses, they had developed 'Divine Sense', which allowed them to see through anything in its range.

In the high air, Richard Thai, who was hiding, had a slightly grim expression.

He feared no single Saint Realm powerhouse from the Moon Radiance Sect.

Yet together, he was no match for these Saint Realm powerhouses from the Moon Radiance Sect.

Therefore, even though he was anxious and worried that Remy Mitchell and the others would seize the mysterious treasured sword from Wyatt Barnes, he had no choice but to watch helplessly.

"I hope you hide well enough to evade their detection... Otherwise, you'll greatly disappoint me."

Richard Thai whispered to himself.

His words were apparently directed at Wyatt Barnes.

One could imagine, if Wyatt Barnes heard Richard Thai's words, he'd surely be speechless.

Amid Richard Thai's anxiety, the group of individuals from Moon Radiance Sect searched the surroundings for a whole hour, eventually regrouping without any success.

Seeing this, Richard Thai breathed a sigh of relief.

"Couldn't find him."

Remy Mitchell frowned, "His aura clearly vanished here... could he possibly fly or burrow into the ground?"

"Perhaps he has some means to remove his aura, making it undetectable to us."

An elder from the Moon Radiance Sect speculated.

"That's possible."

The words of the Moon Radiance Sect elder quickly garnered agreement from another sect elder.

"That must be the case... otherwise, how could a martial artist who hasn't even entered the Saint Realm escape our Divine Sense?"

Finally, including Remy Mitchell, several Saint Realm experts from the Moon Radiance Sect reached a consensus.

Little did they know, after Wyatt Barnes entered the Jewel Tower, his aura was isolated by the tower... as an immortal treasure, the Jewel Tower has such capabilities.

"Now, we can only split up to search."

Soon, the Saint Realm experts of the Moon Radiance Sect came to a new consensus, dividing into three groups to meticulously search ahead for Wyatt Barnes's whereabouts.

Watching the Moon Radiance Sect members scatter, Richard Thai remained hidden high above and did not show himself.

His expression was serene, as if he was waiting for something.

Before long, several high-ranking members of the Moon Radiance Sect, including Remy Mitchell, rapidly returned from three directions and gathered together again.

Clearly, their earlier departure was just a 'decoy,' aimed at luring Wyatt Barnes... because they were uncertain if Wyatt Barnes was still around.

Now, they confirmed that Wyatt Barnes was no longer in the surrounding area.

At this moment, they genuinely split up again into three teams to search for Wyatt Barnes.

It was only at this point that Richard Thai made his appearance.

"Humph! If I weren't the closest to him and aware that he was hiding around here, I might have been fooled by him like those useless ones from the Moon Radiance Sect."

Upon revealing himself, Richard Thai coldly smiled as he gazed down at the forest below.

His muttering clearly affirmed that Wyatt Barnes was indeed still in the vicinity.

"Wyatt Barnes, though I don't know what secret method you've used to hide... however, in front of me, Richard Thai, even if you have the most enigmatic secret technique, today you'll come crawling out!"

With a cold laugh, Richard Thai suddenly stretched out his arms.

All of a sudden, a vast swirling force of True Energy emerged from each of Richard Thai's arms, resembling two grand dragons constantly roaring and spewing.

In the next moment, as Richard Thai's arms trembled, the two grand dragons morphed from True Energy lashed down onto the forest below like two massive whips.

The air was filled with whistling winds, and it seemed as if even the air itself was being entirely sucked away.

Bang!!

Bang!!

Simultaneously, the two grand dragons struck the forest, causing the ground to tremble as if in an earthquake.

Although the dragons didn't hit the boulder hiding the Jewel Tower, the tremors caused the rock to fly away... and in an instant, the Jewel Tower hidden beneath the boulder was jolted out.

Within the Jewel Tower, before the fourth level is restored, the space inside is unstable.

Thus, after such an intense shock, Wyatt Barnes, who was recovering his True Energy and mental strength inside the Jewel Tower, was immediately shaken out.

Lacking True Energy, Wyatt Barnes rolled on the ground several times after being ejected, ending up dusty and in a disgraceful state.

"Not good!"

It was at this moment that he finally snapped back to reality, realizing that what he most feared had happened.

Originally, he knew there was a certain risk in hiding this way.

He was unsure if the 'pursuers' would destroy the surrounding environment, and once they did, even if he hid in the Jewel Tower, he would be immediately exposed.

At that time, he had no other choice but to take the risk.

And now, the reality proved that he was unlucky.

"Didn't expect to be caught after all."

Realizing his great misfortune, Wyatt Barnes couldn't help but sigh inwardly and immediately gazed at the figure descending from above.

Yet, seeing the dark figure, he couldn't help but frown, "This doesn't seem to be any of the Moon Radiance Sect's Saint Realm experts... and moreover, the vibe he's giving me doesn't seem to belong to the Moon Radiance Sect."

Now, the figure that emerged was undoubtedly Richard Thai.

"Wyatt Barnes."

After revealing himself, Richard Thai looked at Wyatt Barnes with interest, "You have some tricks, managing to deceive those useless ones from the Moon Radiance Sect... unfortunately, pulling such tricks in front of me, Richard Thai, you're still too green."

"Who are you?"

Wyatt Barnes's complexion darkened, suddenly realizing he was right; this man in black was not from the Moon Radiance Sect.

Furthermore, for this person to dare call the Moon Radiance Sect's Saint Realm experts 'useless,' he must be someone even more powerful than them.

"Who I am doesn't matter... just know that you'll die by my hands today."

Richard Thai said lightly.

Chapter 1558: Blast Kill

Although Richard Thai is considered a high-ranking member in the Shadow Mountain's Black Market branch of the Nine Sects Alliance, he is still an assassin in the higher branches of the Shadow Mountain's Black Market.

As long as one is an assassin of Shadow Mountain's Black Market, they have all sworn the Thunder Punishment Oath, prohibiting them from revealing their identity.

Otherwise, they will be struck down by Thunder Punishment!

"I have no enmity with you; why are you trying to kill me?"

Hearing Richard Thai's words, Wyatt Barnes's pupils contracted, and he asked in a deep voice.

"You and I have no enmity... it's just a pity that an ordinary man with a treasure invites his own ruin! I have my eyes on the sword in your hand."

Richard Thai said with a sinister laugh, a trace of greed flashing in his eyes.

"Sword?"

Upon hearing Richard Thai's words, Wyatt was initially taken aback but then quickly realized that the sword Richard Thai referred to was his 'Splendid Fairy Sword.'

"Don't play dumb! You, who haven't even entered the Saint Realm, managed to kill Quinton Jimenez of the Moon Radiance Sect, was it not because of that sword? Although Quinton Jimenez was useless, he was still a Saint Realm expert... Without that sword, you could never have killed him with one strike."

Richard Thai sneered.

"You're talking about this, aren't you?"

Wyatt raised his hand, and the 'Splendid Fairy Sword' appeared in his hand, asking lightly.

Seeing the Splendid Fairy Sword in Wyatt's hand, Richard Thai's eyes lit up sharply.

"If you're interested in this sword, I might as well give it to you. However, the premise is that you can lift it."

Wyatt turned the sword over, holding the blade and handing the hilt to Richard Thai, as if truly intending to give the sword to him.

"Kid, what tricks are you trying to pull?"

Seeing Wyatt so cooperative, Richard Thai grew somewhat apprehensive and did not reach out to take it, instead asking with a stern face.

"What tricks can I pull?"

Wyatt chuckled self-deprecatingly, "If I could pull any tricks now, would I still be here wasting words with you? A dignified Saint Realm expert being too scared to take a sword 'given' to you?"

By the end of his words, Wyatt mocked, emphasizing the word 'given.'

Hearing Wyatt's words, Richard Thai snapped back to reality, realizing that Wyatt was already powerless to wield the sword in his hand.

Otherwise, as Wyatt said, he wouldn't be wasting words and would have already swung the sword.

Earlier, the strike with which Wyatt killed Quinton Jimenez was vividly remembered by him.

That strike, seemingly ordinary and plain, actually contained an extremely powerful and terrifying force.

That force emitted an aura that made even his soul tremble.

If that strike was aimed at him, he would certainly be dead without a doubt!

He had no doubt about this.

Thinking of this, Richard Thai relaxed, reaching out to take the Splendid Fairy Sword handed over by Wyatt.

However, his expression quickly changed.

It was only because he discovered that the Splendid Fairy Sword, which was as light as a feather in Wyatt's hand, was impossibly heavy in his own.

Even using all his strength, he couldn't lift it.

"Kid, what's going on? A sword you, a Saint Realm Martial Artist, can wield with ease, why can't I lift it?"

After a moment, Richard Thai withdrew his hand and asked in a deep voice.

In his view, there must be some secret on Wyatt's sword.

And to lift the sword, one must grasp that secret first.

"I gave you the sword, but if you can't lift it, it's not my fault."

Wyatt shook his head and sighed.

Meanwhile, Richard Thai did not notice that the fear deep in Wyatt's eyes had completely disappeared, replaced by calmness.

It was as if his mindset had undergone a significant change in that instant.

"Kid, you must have some tricks up your sleeve!"

Richard Thai's face alternated between pale and green before he shouted loudly: "I advise you, if you're sensible, to reveal the secret of this sword... Otherwise, even if I can't get it, I will kill you!"

Saying this, Richard Thai's eyes flickered with a murderous intent that threatened to devour people.

"What tricks can I possibly have."

Wyatt continued to shake his head, showing none of the panic Richard Thai expected, his face calm, as if he didn't regard Richard's threats seriously.

"Kid, are you questioning my words? You think I won't kill you?"

Richard Thai's face sank, and he asked coldly.

Wyatt smiled faintly, not responding.

"Kid, I can ruin you as easily as I can kill you... I suggest you cooperate with me, and perhaps in a good mood, I might spare your life."

Richard Thai sneered.

"You, ruin me?"

Hearing this from Richard Thai, Wyatt was dumbfounded, not understanding what he meant by those words.

"You surely don't know what exciting things happened in the Moon Radiance Sect before you returned?"

Richard Thai said with a sinister laugh: "I don't know why Quinton Jimenez attacked you, but even if you hadn't killed him today, there might no longer be a place for you in the Moon

Radiance Sect! Killing an inner sect elder of the Moon Radiance Sect, that crime, in the Moon Radiance Sect, is a capital offense."

"Killed an inner sect elder of Moon Radiance Sect? Are you referring to Evander Mullins?"

Wyatt Barnes frowned, becoming even more puzzled by Richard Thai's words and what they meant.

"I don't know any Evander Mullins, but the elder of the Moon Radiance Sect you killed, since his cultivation had reached the 'Perfection of Entering the Saint Realm', was naturally an Inner Sect elder of the Moon Radiance Sect."

Richard Thai snorted, "Perhaps you don't know, but before you returned to the Moon Radiance Sect, I had already recorded the scene of you killing that Inner Sect elder entirely into a 'Mirror Talisman'... Then, I displayed the entire recording in the sky over the Moon Radiance Sect's territory before you returned."

However, Richard Thai didn't know something.

If Wyatt Barnes hadn't killed Quinton Jimenez, even if the matter of him killing Evander Mullins was exposed, Wyatt wouldn't have been in any trouble.

Evander Mullins's death was more self-inflicted.

Though Evander Mullins died, there was no one in the Moon Radiance Sect to sympathize with him; everyone felt that he had dug his own grave and deserved to die.

And figures like Remy Mitchell in the Moon Radiance Sect, after witnessing Wyatt Barnes's strength, regarded him as a 'treasure'... If not for what happened afterward, even aside from considering Trevor Baillie's influence, they had already planned to groom Wyatt as the next Sect Leader inheritor for the Moon Radiance Sect.

"I see!"

Upon hearing Richard Thai's words, some of the doubts in Wyatt Barnes's heart were immediately answered.

"No wonder Quinton Jimenez wanted to kill me; turns out he already knew my real strength... Knowing my true strength, he would naturally suspect that Abu Dunn's death was inseparable from me!"

Wyatt Barnes suddenly saw the light.

"Kid, I'll give you one more moment... After a moment, if you still refuse to reveal the 'secret' of this sword to me, I will kill you!"

After speaking, seemingly to add persuasive power, Richard Thai even swore a Thunder Punishment oath.

Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang!

...

Accompanied by the response of the Thunder Tribulation 'Nine Nine Thunder Tribulation', Richard Thai faced Wyatt Barnes with a victorious posture, as if not worried that Wyatt would refuse to reveal the secret of the sword in his hand.

"Hahahaha..."

Seeing Richard Thai make such a Thunder Punishment oath, Wyatt Barnes laughed, laughed boldly, laughed freely.

"What are you laughing about?"

Richard Thai asked, somewhat annoyed and embarrassed.

"Laughing at your ignorance!"

After slightly restraining his smile, Wyatt Barnes said calmly, "However, since you like making Thunder Punishment oaths, I'll accompany you for a good game then..."

After speaking, Wyatt Barnes also made a Thunder Punishment oath.

"...If I have a way to let this person use the sword in my hand, may I be struck and killed by Thunder Punishment!"

This was the Thunder Punishment oath that Wyatt Barnes made.

And after making the Thunder Punishment oath, Wyatt Barnes did not encounter any Thunder Punishment.

This also showed that Wyatt Barnes wasn't lying.

"You can't make me use it? Impossible! Impossible! Then how can you possibly use it... How can you, an ant at the entry-level of the Saint Realm, use a sword that I, a strong person of the Saint Realm, can't even lift!"

Realizing that Wyatt Barnes was not lying, Richard Thai's expression changed dramatically.

Originally, he had imagined a beautiful scenario.

As long as he obtained the sword in Wyatt Barnes's hand, he could leave this forsaken place of the Nine Sects Alliance area and return to the Shadow Mountain black market's upper division.

He not only wanted to return but also wanted to kill everyone who had opposed him in the past!

And now, reality told him that he couldn't use this sword he had longed for.

"In this vast world, nothing is impossible."

Wyatt Barnes said calmly.

"Since I can't use it, neither can you... Die! Go die!!"

Richard Thai's gaze suddenly sharpened, staring directly at Wyatt Barnes.

With a cold snort, extremely furious, his True Energy surged, intent on killing Wyatt Barnes.

"It's a pity you won't have the chance."

And when Richard Thai, in his fury, was nearly losing his sanity, Wyatt Barnes calmly spoke once again; simultaneously, he casually threw an object.

A monument missing a corner appeared out of thin air, and as Wyatt Barnes threw it, it darted toward Richard Thai like a bullet, as if injected with adrenaline.

Boom!!

Before Richard Thai could strike, the monument struck him.

The next moment, although Richard Thai showed no visible injuries, he collapsed, his wide-open pupils dull and void, as if he had lost his soul.

And indeed, he had lost his soul.

To be precise, his soul was suppressed.

And the object that suppressed his soul was naturally the 'Demon Sealing Monument' that Wyatt Barnes had just taken out.

When Richard Thai struggled to seize the Splendid Fairy Sword from Wyatt's hand, Wyatt had noticed that Richard Thai was a 'Demon Cultivator.'

And knowing that Richard Thai was a Demon Cultivator, he was no longer worried.

With his current Entering the Saint Realm cultivation, if Richard Thai was just a Demon Cultivator of the first level of the Saint Realm, it was impossible for him to escape under the Demon Sealing Monument in Wyatt's possession.

The Saint Realm is divided into multiple levels.

Previously, Wyatt Barnes had heard from his senior brother, Trevor Baillie, that the strongest in the Nine Sects Alliance area was only a peak-level first-level Saint Realm expert.

Such a strong person, across the entire Nine Sects Alliance area, there were only two.

The 'leader' of the Shadow Mountain black market stationed in the Nine Sects Alliance area was said to be one of them.

Chapter 1559: Asa Honorston! Withered!

After killing Richard Thai, taking his Storage Ring, and destroying the corpse to cover up the traces, Wyatt Barnes immediately left the forest that Richard had left in ruins.

Currently, his urgent task was to find a secluded place to recuperate and heal.

As for other matters, they would have to wait until he recovered his True Energy and mental strength.

Including Sect Leader 'Remy Mitchell', a group of Saint Realm strongmen from the Moon Radiance Sect pursued Wyatt Barnes relentlessly for ten days without any results, eventually returning to the Moon Radiance Sect in disappointment.

Upon returning to the Moon Radiance Sect, Remy Mitchell heard about Trevor Baillie fleeing with others and was instantly enraged.

He wasn't a fool; the first thought was that several Vice Sect Leaders had let Trevor Baillie escape on purpose.

However, even if he could suspect it, what could he do?

Could he possibly execute them or expel them from the Moon Radiance Sect?

Any one of the Moon Radiance Sect's Vice Sect Leaders was at the 'Half-Step Saint Realm', all of them pillars of the Moon Radiance Sect, and they could breakthrough to the 'Saint Realm' anytime.

Loss of any one would be a loss for the Moon Radiance Sect.

Because of this, Remy Mitchell was angry but took no action.

And the Moon Radiance Sect's Vice Sect Leaders dared to privately allow Trevor Baillie and others to flee precisely because they had considered this point.

Regardless, the Moon Radiance Sect lost a 'Quinton Jimenez', and one 'Trevor Baillie' fled, losing a once-in-a-lifetime genius like 'Wyatt Barnes'; the loss was inevitably immeasurable.

As a result, 'Remy Mitchell', as the Sect Leader of the Moon Radiance Sect, had no good mood for a long time.

Of course, although he did not continue searching for Wyatt Barnes, Remy Mitchell did not give up and secretly sent trusted elders of the Moon Radiance Sect out to explore Wyatt Barnes's whereabouts.

"If our Moon Radiance Sect could obtain that sword... Our Moon Radiance Sect could easily become the leader among the nine sects; it is not impossible."

Thinking of the mysterious sword Wyatt Barnes used to kill Quinton Jimenez that day, Remy Mitchell's heart was ablaze.

That sword, he was determined to obtain it!

Meanwhile, Wyatt Barnes was hidden in a secluded place, cultivating on the third level of the Jewel Tower.

While more than ten days passed outside, over a month had already elapsed in the Jewel Tower's third level; Wyatt Barnes's True Energy within his body had mostly recovered and his mental strength was completely restored.

The reason he hadn't awakened from cultivation was that Wyatt Barnes was further consolidating his 'Entering the Saint Realm: Grand Perfection' cultivation level.

His breakthrough to 'Entering the Saint Realm: Grand Perfection' happened abruptly, leaving his cultivation unstable.

This time, he intended to use this opportunity to thoroughly consolidate the 'Entering the Saint Realm: Grand Perfection' cultivation.

After his cultivation consolidates, he plans to go back to the Moon Radiance Sect once more.

His heart was filled with worry about Trevor Baillie and a group of relatives and friends.

However, despite the concern, Wyatt Barnes didn't believe the Moon Radiance Sect would execute them, as doing so would be more harmful than beneficial.

In his view, the Moon Radiance Sect, being a seventh-tier sect, should avoid making such foolish decisions.

As Wyatt Barnes consolidated his 'Entering the Saint Realm: Grand Perfection' cultivation, in the distant 'Mansion of Azure Clouds', things were also unsettled.

Whoosh!

A swift figure fell like wind onto the floating island in the sky.

"Elder Honorston!"

"Elder Honorston!"

...

The rows of black-armored guards patrolling on the floating island halted respectfully upon seeing the visitor slow his pace, offering their reverent greetings.

The person they called 'Elder Honorston' was an elderly man,

The old man wore a gray robe, with white hair and brows; he had a youthful appearance despite his age, exuding a sense of immortal demeanor.

However, his face at this moment was slightly downcast.

Nodding indifferently to the black-armored guards he encountered along the way, the old man moved his body and accelerated again, quickly entering the most luxurious area of the floating island's architectural complex and into the vastest mansion within.

"House Master!"

Soon, the old man met the House Master of Mansion of Azure Clouds, Lanni Barnes.

"Elder Honorston, what happened? You seem hurried and anxious," Lanni Barnes asked.

The elder in front of him had been following him for many years, in charge of the 'intelligence' under his command, and would not come rushing to him so hurriedly unless something had happened.

"House Master, if I am not wrong... Junior House Master's full name is 'Wyatt Barnes'?"

The old man took a deep breath and asked.

"That's correct,"

Lanni Barnes nodded, then gleefully asked, "Why? Did Elder Withered bring Wyatt back?"

"No,"

Facing Lanni Barnes's cheerful expression, the old man shook his head with a bitter smile and continued, "I've received news that the Dragonsmith Clan is secretly searching for a young man named 'Wyatt Barnes'... It is said that the order came personally from the Clan Chief of the Dragonsmith Clan. Furthermore, in the Dragonsmith Clan's intelligence department, there is also a portrait circulating."

"Here's a sketch made by my subordinates; the person on it seems to resemble you a bit, House Master... Therefore, I suspect that the person the Dragonsmith Clan is searching for may be the Junior House Master!"

The old man raised his hand and took out a portrait, handing it to Lanni Barnes.

Lanni Barnes unfolded the portrait and his gaze immediately sharpened.

The person in the portrait, with just one glance, he recognized as his son, Wyatt Barnes.

"What on earth is going on? My son is still in the Mortal Continent, how could he provoke the Dragonsmith Clan?"

Lanni Barnes's face darkened slightly.

The matter concerned the Dragonsmith Clan, so he had to be cautious.

Although his Mansion of Azure Clouds did not fear the Dragonsmith Clan, the thought of them searching for his son—obviously not to invite him for tea—made him worried about his son's safety.

"I can't figure it out either. Logically, the Junior House Master should be on the Mortal Continent now... Besides, you said you left a Condensing Sound Jade for the Junior House Master, and had Withered waiting for him at the southern edge of the Martial Dao Sacred Land. Logically, if he left the Mortal Continent, he should have gone to Withered first thing, but there's been no news from Withered until now."

The old man was the chief of the intelligence department of the Mansion of Azure Clouds, effectively Lanni Barnes's 'eyes' and 'ears' in the Martial Dao Sacred Land.

In the Martial Dao Sacred Land, any little disturbance, he could learn of it immediately.

Of course, if it was just some insignificant force, he wouldn't pay attention to it.

"Something must have changed about this matter."

Lanni Barnes's eyes gleamed with a sharp light, then he said in a deep voice, "Asa Honorston, I plan to return to the Cloud Skies Continent. Go inform the lady and tell her that I went out for some urgent matters... Do not tell her about this, I don't want her to worry."

"Yes!"

Asa Honorston, also the chief of the intelligence department of the Mansion of Azure Clouds, was Lanni Barnes's right-hand man, who respectfully complied upon hearing his words.

He left alone, without bringing anyone along.

His target was none other than the southern region of the Martial Dao Sacred Land.

"House Master?"

In the southern coastal area of the Martial Dao Sacred Land, 'Withered' was shocked, as he never expected the House Master to appear in person.

"Withered, come with me to the Cloud Skies Continent."

Lanni Barnes saw the old man cloaked in a gray robe, and said blandly without any expression.

After speaking, he headed towards the direction of the Cloud Skies Continent first.

The old man dared not delay, and followed immediately.

This old man, though like Asa Honorston wore gray, was the complete opposite of Asa Honorston's celestial demeanor, emitting a cold aura as if surrounded by countless ghosts.

In his hand, he held a cane.

If Karina Hanson were here, she surely would recognize him at a glance.

This was the man who, when she left the Martial Dao Sacred Land with the group from Han Mansion of Azure Waves, stopped them single-handedly.

Alone, he held back all the experts from Han Mansion of Azure Waves.

Even her strongest ally at the time, Aurelio Woodson, was exceptionally respectful towards this old man.

"Withered, Asa Honorston brought back news that the Dragonsmith Clan is searching for my son."

On the way, Lanni Barnes said.

Although his tone was calm, Withered could sense a chilling coldness within it.

"The Junior House Master? Wasn't he on the Cloud Skies Continent?"

With the information, Withered's emotions couldn't help but stir a little.

"Have you noticed anything unusual over the years? For example, were there any powerful figures leaving the Martial Dao Sacred Land heading towards the Cloud Skies Continent?"

Lanni Barnes inquired.

"A few days ago, a group indeed headed south."

Withered pondered for a moment and said, "That time, it was people from Han Mansion of Azure Waves, but they didn't go to the Cloud Skies Continent... They searched a large sea area for a while, seemingly looking for someone, but eventually left empty-handed."

"Did you see anyone from the Dragonsmith Clan?"

Lanni Barnes asked again.

"The Dragonsmith Clan?"

Hearing Lanni Barnes's question made Withered tighten up, and then he said: "A year ago, Emperor End, a Five-Clawed Golden Dragon from the Dragonsmith Clan, passed through here. I met with him... According to him, he was headed to an island away from the Cloud Skies Continent, not the continent itself. Recently, he returned looking forcedly cheerful, but I could tell he seemed to have suffered a setback."

"Then there's no doubt... It must be related to that Emperor End!"

Lanni Barnes's face suddenly darkened upon hearing this.

Hearing Lanni Barnes's words, Withered seemed to realize something, and his face changed drastically, "House Master, this was my oversight. If the Junior House Master suffered due to that Emperor End, even if I fall in the Dragonsmith Clan, I will ensure Emperor End's death!"

Withered's words were extremely cold and sinister.

"It's meaningless to speak of this now. The urgent matter is to get to the Cloud Skies Continent to gauge the situation... Given that the Dragonsmith Clan is searching for my son, my son should be safe for now."

Thinking of this, Lanni Barnes secretly breathed a sigh of relief.

Additionally, recalling what that mysterious 'Destiny Elder' had told him, he felt reassured.

Chapter 1560: Three Teachings and Nine Schools

According to the 'Destiny Old Man', Lanni Barnes's son, is not someone with a short life.

Realizing that there might really be some conflict between the Dragonsmith Clan and Wyatt Barnes, Lanni Barnes and Withered immediately accelerated southward, heading towards Cloud Skies Continent.

With their speed, they soon arrived at Cloud Skies Continent.

All of this, Wyatt Barnes was naturally unaware of.

After consolidating his Saint Realm cultivation to perfection, Wyatt Barnes also left the Seven Treasures Jewel Tower.

After leaving the Seven Treasures Jewel Tower, he headed straight for the vicinity of Moon Radiance Sect.

After lurking for a few days, he finally found an opportunity, knocked out a Moon Radiance Sect inner sect disciple returning from outside, disguised himself as the other party, and changed into the other party's inner sect disciple token, entering Moon Radiance Sect smoothly.

Once inside Moon Radiance Sect, he went straight to the inner sect area.

Soon, he learned that Trevor Baillie had left Moon Radiance Sect with Taoi Romero and others, and he couldn't help but breathe a sigh of relief.

"Since my brother left with Uncle Romero, it means they are safe... With my brother's strength and status as a three-star Saint Marking Master, not to mention in the Nine Sect Alliance area, even outside of it, he wouldn't worry about having nowhere to stand."

Thinking of this, Wyatt Barnes felt relieved.

After confirming that Trevor Baillie and others were fine, Wyatt Barnes went to the outer sect area, intending to secretly check on Keer and Baer Bear.

However, unfortunately, Keer and Baer Bear were both not there.

"Hopefully, nothing has happened to them?"

Concerned about exposing his identity, Wyatt Barnes didn't investigate further and left Moon Radiance Sect's premises first.

After leaving, he made a trip to Hill Mountain City.

However, he did not show himself.

Who knows if Moon Radiance Sect arranged for people to stake out at Hill Mountain City's City Lord's Mansion waiting for him?

Outside Hill Mountain City, after making some inquiries, Wyatt Barnes realized that the City Lord of Hill Mountain City, Tabo Garcia, was fine and hadn't been implicated, which made him quietly breathe a sigh of relief.

"That Sect Leader of Moon Radiance Sect, hasn't completely lost his mind yet."

Wyatt Barnes muttered to himself as he distanced himself from Hill Mountain City.

After leaving Hill Mountain City, the first thought that came to Wyatt Barnes was to head to Thames River City, "After my brother left Moon Radiance Sect with Uncle Romero, who knows if they would settle in Thames River City... Might as well try my luck. Perhaps I can gather some useful information in Thames River City."

With this decision, Wyatt Barnes headed towards Thames River City.

Thames River City, being the foremost city within the Nine Sect Alliance area, naturally disseminated first-hand news.

Thames River City, Wyatt Barnes has been to once before, so this time it was quite smooth for him to navigate.

Upon reaching Thames River City, for several consecutive days, Wyatt Barnes stayed in the inn, listening to Martial Artists and Taoist Cultivators from all directions discussing recent events in the Nine Sect Alliance area.

However, he was astonished to discover that matters concerning Moon Radiance Sect had not been publicized.

Neither the death of a Saint Realm powerhouse in Moon Radiance Sect nor the departure of Trevor Baillie from Moon Radiance Sect had been spread around.

This made Wyatt Barnes feel somewhat peculiar.

Wyatt Barnes did not know that after several Saint Realm powerhouses from Moon Radiance Sect returned without finding him, the Sect Leader of Moon Radiance Sect, Remy Mitchell, urged a group of inner and outer sect elders to make all inner and outer sect disciples swear a Thunder Punishment oath not to spread the news of that day.

That day's events naturally referred to Wyatt Barnes's killing of Quinton Jimenez and Trevor Baillie's departure from Moon Radiance Sect.

Both of these events, irrespective of which one, were sufficient to impact Moon Radiance Sect's foundation.

After all, Quinton Jimenez was one of the few Saint Realm powerhouses in Moon Radiance Sect.

Trevor Baillie was moreover Moon Radiance Sect's only three-star Saint Marking Master.

If outsiders learned that Quinton Jimenez was dead and Trevor Baillie had left Moon Radiance Sect, there was no doubt it would be a heavy blow to Moon Radiance Sect.

After staying in Hill Mountain City for a few days, Wyatt Barnes couldn't gather any useful information.

For a moment, he felt somewhat lost.

Where should he go now, he thought?

To him, even the Nine Sect Alliance area wasn't really a safe place.

So, he didn't plan to stay in the Nine Sect Alliance for long.

The situation in the Martial Dao Sacred Land was pretty similar to Cloud Skies Continent, the more central the area, the more powerful Martial Artists and Taoist Cultivators there were.

The powers standing there were as numerous as the hairs on an ox, including not only sixth-rate forces but even forces above the sixth-rate.

"I'll head north for now, towards Fletcher Kingdom's capital city."

Very quickly, Wyatt Barnes made a decision.

Previously, when he was still at the Moon Radiance Sect, Wyatt Barnes had already gained some understanding of the forces surrounding the Nine Sect Alliance, knowing that the vast land to the north of the Nine Sect Alliance territory belonged to a six-tiered sacred nation known as Fletcher Kingdom.

In the Martial Dao Sacred Land, six-tiered forces include not only sects and families but also 'sacred nations'.

Of course, these so-called 'sacred nations' initially started as families, but not content with being confined to one area, they ruled a large surrounding territory to establish themselves as a country.

And in the Nine Sect Alliance territory, a significant portion of the nine sects originated from the vast land occupied by Fletcher Kingdom.

Because they 'prefer to be a rooster's head rather than a phoenix's tail', they came to settle in the remote, barren land of the Nine Sect Alliance territory, continuing to establish their sect bases and live carefree, undisrupted lives.

It is said that it is precisely because Fletcher Kingdom's current territory is vast, that they look down upon the barren land of the Nine Sect Alliance territory, allowing the nine sects to live comfortably here.

What separates Fletcher Kingdom from the Nine Sect Alliance territory is an expansive desert.

This desert is home not only to various powerful savage beasts but also high levels of perilous natural environments.

Even with Wyatt Barnes's current cultivation level, it would take him at least ten days to completely cross this desert without traversing using the 'Flying Sword' formed by his Myriad Sword Domain.

"Perhaps a significant reason Fletcher Kingdom has not occupied the Nine Sect Alliance territory is because of this desert."

Standing at the edge of the Nine Sect Alliance territory, gazing at the boundless desert ahead where he planned to cross into the Fletcher Kingdom region, Wyatt Barnes couldn't help but muse inwardly.

What Wyatt Barnes was unaware of, was that as he entered the desert, his 'cheap old dad' Lanni Barnes had already arrived at the southern ten dynasties of the Cloud Skies Continent.

After entering the Great Turdo Dynasty, he then proceeded into Blackstone Empire, into Green Forest Royal Country, and finally into Crimson Heaven Kingdom.

"Withered, you just wait for me here."

Overlooking the Imperial City of Crimson Heaven Kingdom at his feet, Lanni Barnes spoke indifferently to Withered.

"Yes, House Master."

In front of Lanni Barnes, Withered was exceedingly respectful, not daring to overstep in the slightest.

Soon, Lanni Barnes entered the Imperial City of Crimson Heaven Kingdom.

And it must be said that Lanni Barnes was very wise to know to return to the Imperial City of Crimson Heaven Kingdom.

In the Imperial City of Crimson Heaven Kingdom, he finally found the 'clues' he wanted... these clues were originally left by Wyatt Barnes deliberately before leaving the Cloud Skies Continent for 'Jovie Lee', because he knew as long as Jovie Lee was alive, she would definitely return.

However, what he did not expect was that these clues were first discovered by his cheap old dad, Lanni Barnes.

Even the Sound Condensation Jade Stone Wyatt Barnes left for Jovie Lee ended up in Lanni Barnes's hands.

Through the Sound Condensation Jade Stone left by Wyatt Barnes, Lanni Barnes also learned the ins and outs of the matter.

"What a Dragonsmith Clan, what an Emperor End!! Good! Very good... they destroy my son's sect, I will definitely seek an explanation from the Dragonsmith Clan!"

Murderous intent flared in Lanni Barnes's eyes.

However, after knowing that one of his daughters-in-law was taken away, his heart suddenly sank.

"Fire Worship Sect? What on earth is that daughter-in-law of mine? Her twin sister actually claims to be from the 'Fire Worship Sect'... should not the Fire Worship Sect's people be in the 'Upper Domain'? Why would they come to the 'Lower Domain'?"

"No! Natalie said that this daughter-in-law named 'Keer' grew up with Wyatt from childhood, how could she have ties with the Upper Domain's Fire Worship Sect... yet it happens that someone claiming to be from the Fire Worship Sect took her away! Moreover, that person even claims to be her twin sister."

"Further, the woman who claimed to be Keer's twin sister is incredibly powerful, even more so than Emperor End!"

Remembering this, Lanni Barnes felt somewhat heavy-hearted.

Emperor End, while he does not take him seriously, he still knows a bit about Emperor End's level of strength.

After all, Emperor End is one of the only two Five-Clawed Golden Dragons in the contemporary Dragonsmith Clan.

Even though he has not fully matured yet, his strength is indeed quite formidable.

If that woman is truly Keer's twin sister, then would her actual age now only be just over thirty?

Just over thirty, yet possessing strength far surpassing Emperor End.

"So young, with such monstrous strength... it seems like she wasn't lying, and there is a strong possibility she truly is from the Fire Worship Sect. Only the outstanding young talents of top-tier forces in the Upper Domain have a chance of possessing such monstrous strength at such a young age!"

Upon reaching this realization, even Lanni Barnes couldn't help but draw a deep breath.

The 'Upper Domain' of the Martial Dao Sacred Land, even he has only heard of.

He has never interacted with people from the Upper Domain.

"It has been generationally passed down that the Martial Dao Sacred Land has three teachings and nine streams... among them, the 'nine streams' refer to the various forces in the Martial Dao Sacred Land, from first-tier to ninth-tier. The 'three teachings' refer to the words of three top-tier forces that have the most ancient heritage and are the most powerful and mysterious... the Fire Worship Sect being one of them!"

"Since the martial Sacred Land split into two, the three sects and the later rising strong forces entered the 'Upper Domain'... over the years, people seldom mention the three sects in the 'Lower Domain' anymore."

Lanni Barnes found in his mind the information he knew related to the 'Fire Worship Sect'.
