

L. Wyatt 741

Chapter 741: One Shock After Another

"Wyatt, we must not spare them... otherwise, once they go and inform the three sects of the Green Forest, claiming they've seen you, a disciple of the Seven Stars Sword Clan, the people of the Green Forest sects will never let it go!"

Ivaan Nigel was the first to react, telling Wyatt Barnes.

Before Wyatt could say anything, the astonishment on the faces of the kneeling old woman in green and the old woman in blue who were levitating faltered, and they looked at Ivaan Nigel furiously.

If they wish for their deaths, shouldn't they come up with a better excuse?

They understood that Ivaan Nigel must have known about the destruction of the three Green Forest sects by Wyatt, but his use of the Green Forest's three sects as an excuse was simply to make them die, to avenge his wife.

"Including these female disciples of the Flying Rainbow Sect, since they have recognized you as a disciple of the Seven Stars Sword Clan, none should be spared."

Atharv Nigel also seriously said to Wyatt Barnes.

Just now, a group of female disciples from the Flying Rainbow Sect were discussing about Wyatt Barnes, making him realize that he was quite famous in the Green Forest Royal Country when he was in the Seven Stars Sword Clan.

As soon as Atharv Nigel finished speaking.

On the Martial Arts Performance Field, a group of female disciples from the Flying Rainbow Sect suddenly lost color. If Wyatt Barnes really wanted to kill them, they wouldn't have the strength to fight back, nor could they escape.

"I am willing to swear on the 'Ninety-nine Thunder Tribulations' that I will never inform anyone or betray Wyatt Barnes."

"I am willing too!"

...

One by one, the female disciples from the Flying Rainbow Sect became completely anxious, and no longer had the mood to send furtive glances at Wyatt.

"Ivaan, Elizabeth... don't you know that Wyatt himself has already destroyed the three sects of Green Forest?"

As soon as Ivaan Nigel started speaking, Lillie Morgan's face filled with confusion. When she heard her son, Atharv Nigel, say almost the same thing, she couldn't help but ask.

The three sects of Green Forest had been destroyed by Wyatt?

At Lillie Morgan's words, everyone seemed to be hit by two massive hammers in their chests, their chests heaving like bellows, unable to calm down for a long time.

"Lillie...You...are you saying that Wyatt had extinguished Green Forest's three sects?"

Ivaan was the first to react, after swallowing hard, he looked over at Wyatt. The look in his eyes was full of astonishment.

At this moment, the purple-dressed youth before him seemed so unfamiliar. So unfamiliar that it was a little scary.

Of course, the reason he had this feeling was not because of anything else, it was solely because of the strength Wyatt now possessed.

Atharv Nigel also stared blankly at Wyatt.

"Yes."

Lillie Morgan nodded and slowly said, "Just recently, Wyatt took action and wiped out all the high-level 'Sixth-Order Enter Void Realm' of the Green Forest's three sects. He then joined hands with two other 'Sixth-Order Enter Void Realm' powerhouses from the Seven Stars Sword Clan and slaughtered the rest... Now, the Green Forest's three sects no longer exist, and the Seven Stars Sword Clan is on the verge of revival."

Lillie finished speaking in one breath.

The whispering began!

Everyone, except for Wyatt Barnes and the two elderly women kneeling in the air, froze. This included both Ivaan Nigel and Atharv Nigel. They felt that the most frightful day of their lives had just taken place. The shock was heart-stopping!

"Wyatt, you... really..."

Atharv gasped, looking at Wyatt, seemingly wanting to confirm.

"Yes."

Wyatt Barnes nodded with a slight smile.

With a complicated gaze, it took Atharv a long while to sigh and say, "No wonder you were fearless when you invaded the Flying Rainbow Sect today. You simply weren't afraid of these old guys from the Flying Rainbow Sect."

As he finished speaking, Atharv gave a bitter smile, glancing at the two elderly women kneeling not far in front of Wyatt Barnes.

Now, he finally understood why these two old women were so afraid of Wyatt Barnes.

Because of what Wyatt had done a short time ago, annihilating the three sects of the Green Forest.

Both Ivaan Nigel and the group of female disciples on the martial arts arena couldn't help but gasp at the same time. For a moment, the entire arena was filled with heavy breaths.

The group of female disciples on the martial arts arena, after learning that the three sects of Green Forest no longer existed, heaved a sigh of relief.

After all, without the existence of the three sects of the Green Forest, they no longer feared Wyatt Barnes would kill them to silence them.

"Wyatt can kill 'Sixth-Order Enter Void Realm' powerhouses? Doesn't that mean his strength is 'Seventh-Order Enter Void Realm' or above?"

"A 'Seventh-Order Enter Void Realm' powerhouse under thirty years old... God! Even in the Great Turdo Dynasty, there may not necessarily exist such a heaven-defying young powerhouse, right?"

"Who would have expected that our Green Forest Royal Country has given birth to such a great man."

...

Lacking fear, the group of female disciples from the Flying Rainbow Sect had even more passionate gazes toward Wyatt Barnes. Many even continued to gaze at him intently.

"Wyatt Barnes, spare us!"

At this moment, the two old women in blue and green, kneeling in mid-air and prostrating before Wyatt, continued to beg for mercy. Fear was evident in their voices.

Wyatt glanced casually at the two old women and shifted his gaze to Lillie Morgan. He smiled and said, "Grandma Morgan, how do you think these two should be dealt with? Just give the word and I can make them disappear from this world without a trace."

Wyatt's words were said calmly as if killing the two old women was absolutely no challenge to him.

Indeed, there was no such difficulty.

"Sect Leader, we promise not to oppose you again in the future, please spare us!"

"Sect Leader, save us!"

Hearing what Wyatt said, the two old women turned to Lillie Morgan and knelt before her, pleading with old tears in their eyes.

In their eyes, the current Lillie Morgan, was their last lifeline.

Seeing that Lillie Morgan did not respond, the two old women panicked, hastily broke their fingers, causing a drop of blood to fly from each of their fingertips into the sky.

The next moment, the two old women hastily pledged.

The pledge they made was nothing but that they would willingly die by 'Thunder Tribulation' if they ever opposed Lillie Morgan in the future.

Seeing such a vow from the two old women, Lillie's eyes flashed, and she slowly said, "You can live, but you must go to the forbidden area. Unless the sect faces disaster, you are not allowed to step out of the forbidden area for the rest of your lives."

"Thank you, Sect Leader."

The two elders of the Flying Rainbow Sect, upon hearing Lillie's words, knew they had saved their lives and quickly thanked her.

To them.

Life was more important than anything else.

Soon, they left for the forbidden area.

Meanwhile, Wyatt, Ivaan Nigel and Atharv Nigel left with Lillie and soon arrived at a higher part of the Flying Rainbow Mountain, settling in a spacious pavilion.

After being invited by Lillie to sit in the pavilion, Atharv couldn't help but look at Wyatt, raising his thumb, "Wyatt, Uncle Nigel never thought that you could achieve so much after leaving the Crimson Heaven Kingdom."

"What? Uncle Nigel, do you look down on me that much?"

Wyatt asked with a laugh.

At these words, Atharv was taken aback and got a bit embarrassed, "Not at all, I just think your achievements are truly astonishing... I used to dream that those who have left our Crimson Heaven Kingdom would reach the heights where you stand now."

"Hmph! Wyatt, after all, is not like an ordinary person."

Ivaan Nigel gave Atharv a glare and huffed.

At this time, Lillie made tea for the three of them and walked over. "Wyatt's fame was already known throughout the Royal Country years ago. However, when I learned that Wyatt was from the Crimson Heaven Kingdom, and that he was closely related to Elizabeth, it was too late as the Seven Stars Sword Clan was..."

Here, Lillie paused, skipped the rest, and continued, "I was deeply afraid that the Royal Country would implicate the Crimson Heaven Kingdom and the Crawford Mansion because of Wyatt...therefore, I didn't mention to Elizabeth about Wyatt's matters in the Royal Country."

"Wyatt, you don't blame me, do you?"

Lillie looked kindly at Wyatt.

"Grandma Morgan, you're kidding. You were also thinking about the overall situation, what is there to blame?"

Wyatt shook his head.

"Wyatt, you have now reached 'Seventh-Order Enter Void Realm'... Not long ago, I believe the Great Turdo Dynasty had its 'Dynastic Martial Competition', and the young talent who was promoted through the 'Dynastic Martial Competition' will be given the opportunity to participate in the 'Decade Martial Competition'. Did you get the chance to participate in the 'Decade Martial Competition'?"

Suddenly, Lillie's eyes lit up, she curiously looked at Wyatt with immense anticipation in her eyes.

For a moment, both Ivaan Nigel and Atharv finally realized that Wyatt's cultivation progression had exceeded their imagination. Over a year ago, it was possible that he won through the empire's 'Youth Talent Contest', gaining the qualifications to participate in the 'Dynastic Martial Competition'.

However, whether Wyatt advanced in the 'Dynastic Martial Competition', they could not be completely sure.

After all, the 'Dynastic Martial Competition' is a stage where young talents from the Great Turdo Dynasty and its major empires compete. Surely there must be many talented young martial artists there.

In addition, Wyatt was younger than those young talents. Even with the 'Seventh-Order Enter Void Realm' cultivation, he might not have been able to pass the 'Dynastic Martial Competition' and get the qualifications to participate in the 'Decade Martial Competition'.

"Yes."

In response to Lillie's question, Wyatt nodded, "In a few months, I will go to the palace of the Great Turdo Dynasty to meet with nine other young talents. We will then go to the Northern Desert and participate in the 'Decade Martial Competition'."

Wyatt's words undoubtedly confirmed that he truly passed the 'Dynastic Martial Competition'.

For a moment, the three figures sitting in front of Wyatt were stunned. They slowly regained their composure.

"If His Majesty knew about this, he would be overjoyed! Someone from our Crimson Heaven Kingdom has gained the qualifications to participate in the 'Decade Martial Competition'..."

Atharv's face was red with excitement, barely able to control himself.

The Decade Martial Competition was a contest among the most outstanding young talents from all the major kingdoms.

Although Ivaan Nigel and Lillie Morgan did not say anything, the shock in their eyes was evident as they looked at Wyatt.

"Grandfather Nigel, Grandma Morgan, Uncle Nigel... I have some things to do, so I won't disturb your reunion."

Wyatt bid the three of them goodbye, stood up and prepared to leave.

Chapter 742: Extracting the Spiritual Cave

After leaving the Flying Rainbow Sect, Wyatt Barnes did not return to Crimson Heaven Kingdom or Seven Stars Sword Clan but headed directly to the Imperial City of the Green Forest Royal Country.

With Wyatt's speed, he did not spend much time before reaching the Imperial City of the Green Forest Royal Country.

Upon arriving at the Imperial City, he went directly to the headquarters of the Artifact Refiners Association and found Brendan Rowan.

Brendan Rowan, the Chairman of the Green Forest Royal Country Artifact Refiners Association, was also the grandfather of the first of the five princes of Green Forest Royal Country, Young Master Mad 'Alfonso Rowan'.

He was an old acquaintance of Wyatt's in the Imperial City of the Green Forest Royal Country.

"Master, you're back?"

After two years, upon seeing Wyatt Barnes again, Brendan Rowan still maintained the respect he had for him in the past.

This respect was due to Wyatt's invaluable teachings in the field of artifact refining, which left a lasting impression on him.

"Help me find some materials."

Wyatt Barnes cut straight to the chase.

Of all the people he knew in the Green Forest Royal Country, the old man in front of him undoubtedly had the broadest network.

"Please tell Master."

Brendan Rowan respectfully responded.

Wyatt Barnes nodded, then listed some materials, all rather rare.

Of course, while these materials were rare, they were not overly valuable and could be found in the Imperial City of the Green Forest Royal Country.

If not, Wyatt would not have come to find Brendan Rowan.

"I'll arrange it now."

Brendan Rowan excused himself from Wyatt, and returned half an hour later, "Master, I have issued reward tasks for those materials at our Artifact Refiners Association... Furthermore, I have arranged for someone to communicate with the Imperial Family. The Imperial Family has the most comprehensive collection of materials in the entire Green Forest Royal Country. It should take no more than three days to gather them."

"Hmm, thank you."

Wyatt Barnes nodded, then asked, "By the way, has Alfonso returned yet?"

"No."

Brendan Rowan shook his head, then slowly said, "That boy has always been competitive. When he was recognized as the most outstanding young talent in the Green Forest Royal Country, everything was fine as he had no pressure... Your appearance two years ago and the subsequent pressure from Young Master Blade dealt a big blow to him and led to his decision to go out and train. But going out to train will help him temper his sharp edges and make him more mature."

As he said this, Brendan Rowan paused before continuing, "Master, I heard that you advanced in the 'Youth Talent Competition' held in the Black Stone Empire, earning an opportunity to participate in the 'Royal Martial Competition' of the Great Turdo Dynasty... However, I don't know if you advanced in the 'Royal Martial Competition' of the Great Turdo Dynasty?"

Wyatt Barnes nodded with a smile.

"Just as I thought."

Brendan Rowan nodded, seemingly not surprised, which made Wyatt somewhat puzzled and couldn't help but ask: "You... aren't surprised?"

"If this were to happen to someone else, such as my grandson, perhaps I would be surprised... But given that it happened to you, Master, I find it to be absolutely normal."

Brendan Rowan expressed his true feelings, leaving Wyatt at a loss for words and unsure of how to respond.

He couldn't possibly just say 'Thank you for the compliment', could he?

Shortly after, under the arrangement of Brendan Rowan, Wyatt temporarily stayed at the Alchemist Association headquarters, awaiting the shipment of materials.

The materials Wyatt asked Brendan Rowan to gather were all needed for Inscription, and were also necessary for Wyatt to construct the 'Arrays of Inscription'.

"Constructing the 'Arrays of Inscription' for the first time is indeed exciting. But with the memory of the Reincarnation Martial Emperor, there is no pressure."

Wyatt Barnes sat quietly in the room, looking at a pile of materials on the table in front of him. A flush of excitement spread across his face.

As he reached out, numerous low-grade original stones were taken out by Wyatt, "As for the original stones, they are not a problem... I just hope all the materials can be gathered and then I can successfully extract all the 'Spiritual Caves' from the old Mysterious Lotus Blade Sect, the Returning Origin Sect and the Snow Moon Sect, and transfer them all to Seven Stars Sword Clan."

An extraction is different from a draw.

To draw the years of Origin Force accumulated in the Spiritual Cave, all you need is an 'Origin-gathering Bead' and the process is easy and simple, it's a laborious task that does not require effort, anyone could do it.

But to extract a Spiritual Cave is a very laborious and mentally intensive technical task, requiring a special combination of arrays of Inscription for execution.

If there's a difference to be spoken of.

The former only involves drawing the heavenly and earthly inner energy accumulated over many years in the Spiritual Cave; after being drawn, given some time, the inner energy will accumulate in the Spiritual Cave again, and the energy drawn will be used up.

The latter, however, involves completely removing the Spiritual Cave itself, whether it's the heavenly and earthly spiritual energy accumulated inside the Spiritual Cave or the Spiritual Cave itself.

What Wyatt Barnes intends to do is exactly that.

He plans to use the 'Arrays of Inscription' in his possession to extract all the Spiritual Caves from the old three Sects' residences and relocate all of them to the seven Sword Peaks of the Seven Stars Sword Clan.

By that time, the Seven Stars Sword Clan will have over twenty new Spiritual Caves in addition to the nine that temporarily lost their heavenly and earthly inner energy.

"Perhaps I can consider extracting the Spiritual Cave from the 'Mountain-Opening Sect' too... After all, the Mountain-Opening Sect was exterminated by the three Sects of the Green Forest Royal Country anyway... it's a waste to just leave the Spiritual Caves there."

Wyatt Barnes wore a serious expression and uttered these bold words with an air of righteousness.

Although Wyatt Barnes doesn't quite have enough materials yet, this does not prevent him from starting to inscribe 'inscriptions'. The inscriptions that he is inscribing now are ones needed to construct the 'Inscription Array'.

These inscriptions no longer rely on his Origin Force's urging but instead, on the urging of the original stone. Only in this way can the 'Inscription Array' continue to operate tirelessly.

It isn't as if he himself should continuously urge the 'Inscription Array' to operate with his Origin Force, right?

The 'Inscription Array' constructed by powerful Inscription masters 'outside territory' runs mostly on original stone instead, apart from some special ones.

The inscription needed now is almost no consumption for his spiritual force, after Wyatt Barnes' cultivation breakthrough to the 'Enter Void Realm Nine Layer', his mental force was subsequently elevated to the 'Cave Void Realm Second Layer'.

So, even after three restless days and nights, Wyatt Barnes doesn't feel even the slightest fatigue. He is still energetic.

On the evening of the third day, Brendan Rowan knocked on Wyatt Barnes' door and delivered a batch of materials, the last that Wyatt needed. "Master, here are all the materials."

"You've exerted yourself."

Wyatt Barnes nodded at Brendan Rowan in thanks.

"Master, you are being too polite. I could not repay your great kindness to me even if I were to die. Let alone doing these trivial things."

Brendan Rowan said, then tactfully stepped back. "Master, I won't disturb your rest then."

After Brendan Rowan left, Wyatt Barnes quietly shut the door.

Looking at the closed door, Wyatt Barnes had a flash of inspiration. At this moment, he even thought about refining a third-grade spiritual tool to thank Brendan Rowan.

However, giving Brendan Rowan a third-grade spiritual tool seems to do more harm than good.

Not to mention the desire of the powerful individuals in the Great Turdo Dynasty for a third-grade spiritual tool. Even if Brendan Rowan hid the third-grade spiritual tool securely, as an Artifact Refiner, would he not study it?

With Brendan Rowan's current attainment in 'Artifact Refining', forcefully studying a third-grade spiritual tool would do more harm than good.

So, Wyatt Barnes plans to properly reward Brendan Rowan later.

"The most pressing matter now is to get those inscriptions ready."

Wyatt Barnes came back to his senses and continued to inscribe the inscriptions.

Half a month passed in a flash.

In these past few days, besides occasionally going out for a meal with Brendan Rowan, Wyatt Barnes had mostly locked himself in the room. After half a month, he finally completed the inscription of the required inscriptions.

"It's time for me to leave."

Wyatt Barnes found Brendan Rowan and said his farewells plainly.

"Master, no matter what happens in the future, feel free to tell Brendan Rowan about it. I will use all my strength to help you, Master."

Brendan Rowan said sincerely.

"Thank you."

After Wyatt Barnes nodded in thanks, he left the Alchemist Association's headquarters, and having asked about the whereabouts of the Returning Origin Sect and Snow Moon Sect in the Royal Country's Imperial City, Wyatt left the Imperial City.

Upon leaving the Imperial City, Wyatt headed north, swiftly entering a world of snow and ice. According to what he had learned earlier, this had once been the territory of the Snow Moon Sect.

However, the Snow Moon Sect's territory was cold and desolate, with few signs of life. After searching for a long time, Wyatt found no living souls.

"It seems that Elder Giant Bird really scared them off...aside from the former Mysterious Lotus Blade Sect's territory, Mysterious Lotus Valley, I'm afraid it's not just the former Snow Moon Sect's territory which is deserted, the former Returning Origin Sect's territory might be the same."

Wyatt thought to himself.

Soon, Wyatt Barnes composed himself, and began to search for the location of the 'Spiritual Cave' in this former territory of the Snow Moon Sect.

Since the spiritual energy inside the Spiritual Cave here had not been extracted by the 'Origin-gathering Bead', Wyatt quickly found the location of the Spiritual Cave.

"Only six?"

After searching carefully across the former territory of the Snow Moon Sect, Wyatt Barnes only found six Spiritual Caves.

Having found the Spiritual Caves, Wyatt Barnes set to work.

First of all, he took out the 'inscriptions' inscribed on various low-grade original stones, meaning, he simply took out these low-grade original stones inscribed with inscriptions.

Wyatt Barnes stood at the 'entrance' of one of the Spiritual Caves, shooting out one low-grade original stone after another in his hand, placing them in an orderly manner at the entrance of the cave.

Gradually, they formed into an orderly triangle, the low-grade original stones closely connected with each other, inseparable.

Clang!

As the last low-grade original stone shot out and merged into the triangle formation made of low-grade original stones, all the stones arranged into a triangle began to glow with a hint of milky white light.

Soon, the milky white rays of light scattered out, finally converging together, forming a triangular-shaped milky white light ring.

"Success."

Although he had guessed that it wouldn't fail, when he saw the scene of the successful activation of the 'Inscription Array', Wyatt Barnes couldn't help but reveal an excited smile on his face.

Chapter 743: Seventeen Spiritual Caves

A triangular shape of milky white halo appeared, this indicated the formal activation of the 'Inscription Array'.

After the activation of the Inscription Array, it was visible to the naked eye that a twisted vortex appeared in the center of the triangular halo, and the vortex became clearer and clearer.

The terrifying suction force swept out from the vortex and acted on the ground.

Crack!

It didn't take long before a horrific crack appeared on the ground.

Crack! Crack! Crack! Crack! Crack!

...

As time passed, there were more and more cracks on the ground. They intertwined densely like a spider web constantly spreading and extending outwards.

"There it is."

As if detecting something, Wyatt's gaze was on the area under the Inscription Array.

At this point, as the vortex formed by the Inscription Array spun continuously, a trenched which appeared bottomless could be seen beneath the cracked ground.

After a while, what originally appeared to be a dark trench suddenly lit up.

A milky white ball of light, forming from almost solidified heaven and earth inner energy, rose from beneath the trench. It quickly merged into the vortex and was swallowed by it.

After the almost solid milky white light ball was completely swallowed by the vortex, it dissolved and merged into the lower-grade original stones that were inscribed with 'Inscription'.

The vortex gradually dissipated, and the triangular white light halo made up of a combination of all the white light began to gradually dim, revealing its true form.

They were the lower-grade original stones that had formed a triangular shape.

If you took a closer look at these lower-grade stones, you would see extremely bright milky-white liquid flowing on the surface of these stones.

These were the 'Spiritual Cave' temporarily sealed by the Inscription and the 'heaven and earth inner energy' accumulated within the Spiritual Cave.

The Spiritual Cave does not exist as a solid form. Like the heaven and earth inner energy in it, it exists as a liquid, usually tightly attached to the ground.

Even though the 'Origin-gathering Bead' can extract the liquefied heaven and earth inner energy stored within the Spiritual Cave, it cannot extract the Spiritual Cave itself.

However, Wyatt had now achieved this through the 'Inscription Array', successfully extracting the Spiritual Cave completely from the ground.

Whoosh!

Wyatt took out a spare Storage Ring, and gathered the pile of low-grade original stones on the ground. These stones were the key to transferring the 'Spiritual Cave', no mistakes could be made.

The Spiritual Cave resides temporarily in these lower-grade original stones.

"Continue."

After extracting one Spiritual Cave, Wyatt did not hesitate at all and went straight for the next one.

Even though he could extract the Spiritual Cave with the 'Inscription Array', there was a certain time limit. If the extracted Spiritual Cave could not be released within ten days to find a 'new home', it would completely disintegrate.

Wyatt spent three hours extracting all six Spiritual Caves from the former Snow Moon Sect site.

Following this, he then ventured into the Mysterious Lotus Valley.

There were originally seven Spiritual Caves within the Mysterious Lotus Valley, but after searching for a while, Wyatt could only find four, "The heaven and earth inner energy stored within the other three Spiritual Caves was previously extracted by Khai Dragonsmith using the 'Origin-gathering Bead', I didn't know their location before, so it won't be easy to find them now."

"However, even if I could extract those three Spiritual Caves, they would not be immediately useful. It would take a certain period of time to accumulate heaven and earth inner energy again.....Hmm, just forget about them for now."

Thinking of this, Wyatt temporarily gave up on the three Spiritual Caves in the Mysterious Lotus Valley that had the inner energy extracted, and focused his attention on the other four Spiritual Caves with abundant heaven and earth inner energy.

Just like recreating from a model, Wyatt soon extracted the four Spiritual Caves using the Inscription Array.

"Continue."

Wyatt, who had extracted a total of ten Spiritual Caves, did not stop there. After leaving the Mysterious Lotus Valley, he headed for the former residence of the Returning Origin Sect.

The Returning Origin Sect's residence was located at a great canyon, the entrance was a narrow path, if Wyatt hadn't heard about it beforehand, he would never have expected there to be such a place when passing by.

"Just as I guessed."

Upon entering the Returning Origin Sect's residence, Wyatt didn't see a single soul. The only beings were demon beasts running away in all directions, and several fierce beasts which tried attacking him directly.

The demon beasts, possessing a degree of intelligence, could sense Wyatt's power and dared not provoke him.

But fierce beasts didn't have this level of awareness.

Yet, no fierce beasts managed to reach Wyatt. Every time they lunged at him, they would be knocked away from a distance.

Streams of earth-colored energy shrouded Wyatt's body, swirling and intertwining like subterranean dragons, occasionally visible.

This was the advanced earth-level defensive technique, the 'Earth Dragon Protection', casually exhibited by Wyatt!

'Earth Dragon Protection' is also a defensive technique included within the sixth variation 'Earth Dragon Transformation' of the method Wyatt cultivates, 'Nine Dragons War Sovereign'. Although it is not as powerful as heavenly level defensive techniques, it is still considered top-notch among earthly level ones.

"Roar~~"

"Squeak~~"

...

Regardless of the type, whether terrestrial fierce beasts or avian ones, once struck by the defensive energy on Wyatt's body, they seemed to wake up, whining twice before desperately retreating.

Perhaps their intelligence pales in comparison to that of Demon Beasts, but after suffering a loss, they still inherently initiate self-protection.

"Seven Spiritual Caves?"

After a tour around the previous site of the Returning Origin Sect, a smile appeared on Wyatt Barnes's face.

Since he had found the Spiritual Caves, Wyatt began to take action.

Clang! Clang! Clang! Clang! Clang!

...

One by one, the original stone, engraved with 'Inscriptions,' flew out of Wyatt's hands, landed on the ground, formed an 'Inscription Array,' and then began to extract the 'Spiritual Caves.'

With the experience from before, Wyatt was now even more adept.

This time, the extraction of the seven Spiritual Caves took less time than the extraction of the six Spiritual Caves from the former site of the Snow Moon Sect.

After extracting seven Spiritual Caves, Wyatt set his course for the Seven Sword Peaks where the Seven Stars Sword Sect was located.

"The Spiritual Caves in the former location of the Mountain-Opening Sect, I don't need to hurry for now... I'll extract them in a few years, when I have the time. Yes, and the other three Spiritual Caves in Mysterious Lotus Valley."

On the way there, Wyatt's murmured words showed he hadn't forgotten about it.

With his full-speed flight, it took him three days to finally see the site of the Seven Stars Sword Sect.

The seven sword peaks, rising into the sky like sharp swords, gave Wyatt a sense of inexplicable familiarity.

Wyatt hovered over the peak of Heavenly Pivot Peak. His eyes were glittering.

After a moment, he sighed and murmured, "Sect Leader, Colin Clark Peak Master, Iker Colby Peak Master, Jade_Elder... The Seven Stars Sword Sect has been rebuilt and it's still the number one Sect of the Green Forest Royal Country as it was before! You can now rest in peace."

As he continued his murmuring, Wyatt slightly bowed as a tribute to the sacrifice made by the seniors and disciples of the Seven Stars Sword Sect in the past.

The platform at the summit of the Heavenly Pivot Peak, which was once stained with blood, was now spick and span, evidently cleaned by someone deliberately.

"Jadey Inky is quite swift."

Wyatt's brows rose, and his figure moved. In an instant, he arrived over the Heavenly Pivot Palace in the Heavenly Pivot Peak.

The Heavenly Pivot Palace was where Zeke Foxsong, the Sect Leader of the Seven Stars Sword Sect, used to practice. After Jadey Inky became his disciple, he also moved in to practice there.

However, the present Heavenly Pivot Palace, despite its pristine condition, was empty.

"It seems Jadey Inky must be busy elsewhere."

Wyatt thought to himself.

Earlier when he was above the summit of the Heavenly Pivot Peak, he'd noticed many disciples from the Seven Stars Sword Sect busily working, reflecting a prosperous scene in the entire Seven Stars Sword Sect.

The Seven Stars Sword Sect, this long-dormant lion, was beginning to awaken.

Without disturbing anyone, Wyatt landed inside the Heavenly Pivot Palace, took out a pile of original stones, and immediately integrated a 'Spiritual Cave' that had been sealed within into the earth beneath the Heavenly Pivot Palace.

Extracting Spiritual Caves and integrating them were two different concepts.

The former required the power of an 'Inscription Array' to break the foundation before the Spiritual Cave could be fully extracted.

The latter only needed the Spiritual Cave to be released from the seal of the Inscription Array and it would instantly burrow into the ground, seeking a new home.

Whoosh!

The milky white ball of light, made of liquefied inner energy, was infused into the earth almost instantly after Wyatt activated the Inscription Array.

Almost simultaneously, a vast amount of inner energy spread out, enveloping the entire Heavenly Pivot Palace. The environment here for cultivation was suddenly transformed.

Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang!

...

At the same time, a series of light thudding sounds were heard. It was the original stones that had been arranged in a triangular form on the ground, shattering into dust, vanishing without a trace with the breeze.

These original stones, each engraved with Inscriptions that formed an 'Inscription Array,' had fulfilled their purpose.

"Once the other Spiritual Cave beneath Heavenly Pivot Palace accumulates inner energy again, the two combined Spiritual Caves will improve the cultivation environment of Heavenly Pivot Palace by doubling it!"

Wyatt was absolutely certain of this.

Following this, Wyatt left the Heavenly Pivot Palace, moving on to other locations.

"Each of the other eight original locations of the Spiritual Caves will also integrate a new 'Spiritual Cave', and the rest of the Spiritual Caves will be integrated into the other six Sword Peaks."

Wyatt quickly made up his mind.

He had extracted a total of seventeen Spiritual Caves from the former locations of the three Sects, used one in the Heavenly Pivot Palace, leaving sixteen.

That is to say, even if he spent eight more Spiritual Caves, he would still have eight left.

Of these eight Spiritual Caves, he planned to integrate six of them into the other six Sword Peaks. As for the remaining two Spiritual Caves, he intended to give them to Elder Giant Bird.

Elder Giant Bird was the Protector and the Sacrificial Officer of the Seven Stars Sword Sect, the 'Sixth Order Enter Void Realm' Giant Roc.

Last time he saw Elder Giant Bird, he could tell that he was just one step away from breaking into the 'Seventh-Order Enter Void Realm'.

Presumably, with the cultivation grounds of these two Spiritual Caves, along with some low-grade original stones, Elder Giant Bird should be able to break through smoothly.

Chapter 744: Six-Clawed Divine Dragon

It wasn't just Elder Giant Bird. Wyatt also intended to leave some of the inferior original stones for Kinsley Cooper, Jadey Inky, and Sonny Clark.

After all, he couldn't stay in Seven Stars Sword Clan forever. In the future, the sect would need them to safeguard its legacy.

After leaving the Heavenly Pivot Palace, Wyatt arrived at the Shimmering Light Palace.

By chance, Sect Leader Kinsley Cooper of Shimmering Light Peak was there too.

After greeting Kinsley Cooper, Wyatt started to construct the 'Inscription Array' and released the Spiritual Caves to integrate them into the ground underneath the Shimmering Light Palace.

Instantly, a mighty surge of inner energy radiated outward, leaving Kinsley Cooper at the side with a surprised look on her face.

Although Wyatt had previously mentioned that he could move the 'Spiritual Caves' from the old Demon Lotus Sword Sect, Returning Origin Sect, and Snow Moon Sect to the Seven Stars Sword Clan...

Hearing about it and witnessing it were two very different things. For a long time, Kinsley Cooper was too shocked to react.

Wyatt didn't disturb the stupefied Kinsley Cooper, instead he continued towards his next destination.

Soon, Wyatt had integrated a 'Spiritual Cave' at each location that previously held one of the nine Spiritual Caves on Heavenly Pivot Peak.

Then, he went to the other six external Sword Peaks and similarly integrated a 'Spiritual Cave' at each one.

At this point, Wyatt went in search of Elder Giant Bird.

Elder Giant Bird usually resided on the cliff face behind the main peak of Heavenly Pivot Peak in the Seven Stars Sword Clan. This was his place of cultivation.

"Elder Bird."

Wyatt descended from the sky, greeting the Giant Roc that was lying not far away.

Upon seeing Wyatt, a gleam appeared in the Giant Roc's eyes. It slightly nodded its head but was soon struck dumb.

All because Wyatt had already begun integrating the 'Spiritual Caves' into its cultivation place.

The integration of two Spiritual Caves on this back mountain of Heavenly Pivot Peak triggered a powerful, extensive surge of inner energy, enveloping both Wyatt and the Giant Roc.

Sensing this surge of inner energy, the Roc blinked its sharp eyes and said to Wyatt in Origin Force, "Young man, what is happening?"

"Elder Bird, I left two 'Spiritual Caves' in your cultivation area. In the future, your cultivation will yield double the results... Also, these original stones are for you."

With a wave of Wyatt's hand, he took out tens of thousands of inferior original stones and placed them in front of Elder Bird in the form of a small mountain.

"Original stones?"

The Giant Roc was initially surprised at Wyatt's ability to transfer 'Spiritual Caves', but upon seeing the original stones, it was completely stunned.

Although it hadn't seen original stones before, it was a Sect's Sacrificial Officer of the Seven Stars Sword Clan and certainly knew about their existence.

"These are inferior original stones."

Wyatt continued, "Cultivators or demon beasts at the Enter Void Realm level can absorb the inner energy within the 'inferior original stones' for cultivation... One inferior original stone can be absorbed over one hour."

"With the aid of two 'Spiritual Caves', combined with these inferior original stones, it should be an easy task for you, Elder Bird, to advance beyond the 'Seventh-Order of the Enter Void Realm'."

Wyatt finished speaking with a smile on his face.

"Young man, keep these original stones for yourself... I may be able to advance to the 'Seventh-Order of the Enter Void Realm' in this life, but there is no chance of entering the Cave Void Realm. It's not worth wasting so many original stones."

The Giant Roc, knowing the value of the original stones, had directly refused Wyatt's kindness, "With your talent and these original stones aiding you, you're bound to reach greater heights and go further!"

Clearly, the Giant Roc's refusal was rooted in its disinclination to slow Wyatt's progress because of himself.

"Elder Bird, if you're refusing these inferior original stones for this reason, you don't have to worry... I have plenty of original stones on hand that I won't be able to use for the time being."

Wyatt smiled, then ascended into the sky, "Furthermore, the future of the Seven Stars Sword Clan will need Elder Bird's protection... The stronger you are, Elder Bird, the safer the Seven Stars Sword Clan will be."

Having said this, Wyatt left without waiting for Elder Bird's reply.

The Giant Roc watched Wyatt leave with a complex gaze full of gratitude, staring at Wyatt's disappearing figure in the clouds.

Years ago, when it first met this young man, his impressions of him were deeply etched into its memory.

Not to mention, this young man had indeed inspected its soul essence.

But it never expected that in less than ten years, this young lad would previously be beyond its reach.

"To have such a devoted disciple is a blessing to the Seven Stars Sword Clan..."

Elder Bird silently thought in its heart.

After leaving the cultivation place of Elder Bird, Wyatt went to find Jadey Inky.

"Senior Brother."

Seeing Wyatt again, Jadey Inky greeted him respectfully with a face full of joy.

Since seeing the terrifying strength of Wyatt last time, Jadey Inky wasn't as casual as before in front of Wyatt.

Wyatt nodded and smiled, immediately asking, "Has Brother Sonny Clark returned yet?"

"Not yet."

Jadey Inky shook his head, "I guess it will take them another half a month to return. Senior Brother, why don't you stay in the Seven Stars Sword Clan during this time and wait for their return?"

"If they haven't returned yet, that's fine."

Wyatt reached out and handed over the storage ring to Jadey Inky, saying through Origin Force, "There are a total of thirty thousand 'inferior original stones' in this. You keep ten thousand, give ten thousand to Sect Leader Kinsley Cooper, and the last ten thousand to Brother Sonny Clark."

"In addition, I have relocated a 'Spiritual Cave' into each location within the Heavenly Pivot Peak where the original nine Spiritual Caves were located. Also, in those six external Sword Peaks..."

Wyatt told Jadey Inky about all the locations where he had placed the Spiritual Caves before stepping into the air to leave.

"Senior Brother, what is an inferior original stone?"

Just as Wyatt Barnes took to the skies, he heard the Origin Force condensed voice of Jadey Inky, filled with doubt.

"You should ask Peak Master Kinsley Cooper about that, she will tell you. Also, say goodbye to her on my behalf."

Wyatt Barnes responded to Jadey Inky and, in an instant, he turned into a purple bolt of lightning, disappearing into the high clouds.

Jadey Inky heaved a sigh before setting aside his current business to seek out Kinsley Cooper in the Shimmering Light Palace.

As he approached Shimmering Light Palace, he felt waves of rich and vibrant inner energy. He knew in his heart, this was the 'Spiritual Cave' that Wyatt Barnes had transferred to the Seven Stars Sword Clan.

"Senior Brother really did it."

Although Jadey Inky was mentally prepared, he was still filled with astonishment when he truly sensed the dense inner energy.

In his eyes.

Senior Brother Wyatt Barnes seemed capable of anything, as if there was nothing he couldn't accomplish.

"Sect Leader."

Upon seeing Jadey Inky, Kinsley Cooper nodded her acknowledgment.

"Elder Cooper, there's no need to call me Sect Leader in private, calling me 'Jadey Inky' as you always have is fine."

Jadey Inky said respectfully.

Kinsley Cooper nodded in response.

"Elder Cooper, the message from Senior Brother before he left ..."

As Jadey Inky looked at Kinsley Cooper and spoke slowly, he was interrupted by her, "What did you say? Wyatt Barnes left?"

"Yes."

Jadey Inky nodded.

"And he didn't even say goodbye."

Kinsley Cooper furrowed her brows slightly.

"Elder Cooper, before Senior Brother left, he asked me to say goodbye for him."

Jadey Inky, remembering Wyatt Barnes' instruction, hurriedly spoke.

Immediately after, Jadey Inky changed the subject, or more accurately, brought back his initial question, "Elder Cooper, do you know what a 'Low Grade Original Stone' is?"

"Low Grade Original Stone? How would I..."

Kinsley Cooper didn't listen attentively to Jadey Inky's question and only realized after she had started speaking, her expression full of shock, "What did you say? You said 'Original Stone'?"

As she spoke, her gaze was fixed on Jadey Inky.

"Yes."

Jadey Inky nodded, immediately pulling out an unclaimed Storage Ring, "Senior Brother said that he placed three ..."

Before Jadey Inky could finish his sentence, the Storage Ring in his hand was snatched by Kinsley Cooper who promptly cut her finger to claim it.

After successfully claiming the Storage Ring, with just a thought, the space within the ring appeared before Kinsley Cooper.

"This ...So many Original Stones?"

At the first sight, Kinsley Cooper could not control the contraction of her pupils and uttered a low exclamation in disbelief.

In the space of the Storage Ring, there was a mountain of Original Stones, no less than tens of thousands.

"Senior Brother said there are thirty thousand Low Grade Original Stones in there. Elder Cooper, me and Brother Sonny Clark, are each to have ten thousand."

Jadey Inky, seeing Kinsley Cooper's disbelief, faintly realized that the so-called 'Low Grade Original Stone' should not be an ordinary material, otherwise, why would Kinsley Cooper be so flustered?

"Elder Cooper, what exactly is this Low Grade Original Stone?"

Jadey Inky asked again.

Kinsley Cooper's eyes flickered before she finally explained what an Original Stone was and what its uses were to Jadey Inky.

Jadey Inky was stunned for a moment.

Turns out, Original Stones were a kind of auxiliary item that could greatly enhance a person's cultivation. Even the Black Stone Empire didn't have them, only the Great Turdo Dynasty had an Original Stone mine, controlled by the dynasty's Imperial Family.

"How did Senior Brother get so many Original Stones?"

Jadey Inky gasped in shock.

At this moment, Wyatt Barnes, of course, knew nothing about Jadey Inky's astonishment. After leaving the Seven Stars Sword Clan's base, he headed south, intending to return to Crimson Heaven Kingdom.

"Now, I've completely settled the matters in the Green Forest Royal Country... and my parents are not in Crimson Heaven Kingdom. After I catch up with Remi Sinclair, Tiggi Field, and Darren Lee, I should leave with Uncle Romero, Winnie, and Elder Kane, to go back to the Great Turdo Dynasty."

Wyatt Barnes said to himself.

"Hm?"

Wyatt Barnes had not traveled far from the Seven Stars Sword Clan when he suddenly halted in mid-air.

It was because, out in the distance, a middle-aged man dressed in a golden robe was standing in the sky, standing there like a landmark.

The middle-aged man had his back to him, his golden robe embroidered with a prominent dragon.

"Dragon robe?"

Wyatt Barnes frowned, before relaxing again, "No... The dragon robes worn by Emperors, be it the Emperor of Crimson Heaven Kingdom or the Emperor of the Great Turdo Dynasty, are always embroidered with a 'Five-Clawed Divine Dragon'. But the dragon robe on this man is embroidered with a 'Six-Clawed Divine Dragon'."

Chapter 745: Wyatt Barnes' Pride and Dignity

Wyatt was not unfamiliar with the creature known as 'dragon'.

In his previous life, when he was still on Earth, when he was still the weapon master, 'Wyatt', in that ancient eastern nation he belonged to, the people had another title.

The descendants of the dragon!

He was a descendant of the dragon.

Of course, the 'dragon' of his previous life was more of a mythical creature. At least before he came to this world, he did not believe that 'dragons' truly existed.

"The dragons in the legends of my previous life consisted of three-clawed Divine Dragons, four-clawed Divine Dragons, five-clawed Divine Dragons... But the Five-Clawed Divine Dragon seemed to be the limit of the dragons. Never had I heard of the existence of a 'Six-Clawed Divine Dragon'."

In the ancient eastern nation of his previous life, the more claws a dragon had, the higher its status and position.

Just like the dragon robes of ancient times.

Only the supreme emperor could wear the dragon robe embroidered with the 'Five-Clawed Divine Dragon'. Those princes and crown princes, even if they wore dragon robes, they were merely embroidered with the three-clawed Divine Dragon or the four-clawed Divine Dragon, far from being on par with the 'Five-Clawed Divine Dragon'.

"Six-Clawed Divine Dragon...unseen and unheard of in the past."

Looking at the middle-aged man standing in front of him, dressed in a robe with a Six-Clawed Divine Dragon, a hint of surprise flashed in Wyatt's eyes, then he chose to ignore him and walked by.

Yet, when Wyatt tried to bypass him and leave,

Whoosh!

A burst of wind hit him in the face, and a figure, a figure in a Six-Clawed Divine Dragon robe, appeared out of thin air in front of Wyatt.

"Huh?"

Looking at the middle-aged man standing in front of him, his face calm, Wyatt furrowed his eyebrows.

He suddenly realized that this middle-aged man was targeting him.

"Who are you?"

Wyatt asked solemnly.

At the same time, he carefully examined the middle-aged man in the Six-Clawed Divine Dragon robe. The fact that this man dared to wear a Six-Clawed Dragon Robe implicitly suggested that he sought to surpass the emperor, his ambition was no small matter.

The middle-aged man was not particularly handsome, but he was respectable, with a stern face, thick eyebrows, and big eyes. As he quietly gazed at Wyatt, it was as if he were looking at air.

The middle-aged man did not answer Wyatt's question. After examining Wyatt up and down, he nodded and said, "Indeed, a good seed."

"Huh?"

Wyatt furrowed his eyebrows, not understanding what the middle-aged man meant.

For a moment, he couldn't help but extend his spirit, hoping to probe the man's identity.

However, when Wyatt's spirit approached the middle-aged man, before it could get close, it felt like it hit a cotton ball—leaving him unable to make further investigations.

"This..."

In an instant, Wyatt's pupils involuntarily shrank and a trace of shock appeared on his face.

There were only two possibilities to explain why his spirit was unable to probe.

The first, the man in front of him had comprehended the 'Transforming Void Realm', a 'high-level realm', belonging to the Cave Void Realm powerhouses;

The second, he was a powerhouse of the Transforming Void Realm!

No matter which possibility, the man before him was not someone he could handle at this stage. He knew his limits.

The man in the Six-Clawed Divine Dragon robe gave him the same impression he had when he met Taoi Romero.

"An inscriber?"

The middle-aged man was somewhat surprised looking at Wyatt, "It seems that I have underestimated you. To have such strong capabilities, along with being an 'inscriber' ... In the history of the Great Turdo Dynasty, there has hardly been anyone with martial arts talent that could match you."

"Who on earth are you?!"

Wyatt was not surprised at being recognized as an inscriber by the middle-aged man and asked gravely.

He was desperate to know the other's identity as well as their intentions.

He didn't believe that such a strong man would personally come to him just to chat... There must be something more important; otherwise, why would such a powerhouse make a personal appearance?

"You, swear with 'Nine-Nine Thunder Tribulation' to be loyal to me alone, without a shred of duplicity..."

Instead of answering Wyatt, the middle-aged man stated sentence by sentence.

Wyatt was dumbfounded.

"You, asking me to swear? To pledge loyalty to you?"

He quickly reacted and couldn't help but laugh, "Who do you think you are? Wanting me to swear loyalty to you...ridiculous!!"

"Otherwise, death!!"

At this moment, the middle-aged man finished his sentence, his normally calm eyes instantly shot out intimidating cold lights, sweeping toward Wyatt like a blade.

In an instant, Wyatt only felt a powerful surge sweep over him, his face turned pale and he was out of breath.

However, even in the face of the strong aura emanating from the middle-aged man, Wyatt stood staunch, choosing death over surrender.

"What are your intentions? Speak up."

Wyatt took a deep breath and asked solemnly.

He didn't believe that the other party came to him just to make him a servant. He saw a trace of unnoticeable eager light in the other party's eyes. That was the light of 'desire'.

Accordingly, he knew that the other party must have come with an ulterior motive.

"The dead don't need to know too much."

The middle-aged man spoke lightly and suddenly stepped forward, coming a little closer to Wyatt.

Whoosh!

Almost at the same time, Wyatt Barnes felt the pressure on him increase instantly, as heavy as Mount Tai.

However, Wyatt Barnes still continued to endure with gritted teeth, motionless, not showing any signs of submission.

It wasn't that Wyatt Barnes didn't want to fight back, but under this overwhelming presence, he dared not distract himself by moving his Origin Force, otherwise, he would surely be injured.

Most importantly, even if he moved his Origin Force, he could not escape under the opponent's watch, let alone defeat him.

"Stubborn fool! Let's see how hard you are!"

The middle-aged man coldly spoke and took another step forward.

Instantly, his aura increased even more.

Whoosh!

The overwhelmingly strong aura rose yet again, like a huge mountain pressing down on Wyatt Barnes' body, making his body tremble, and his face turned pale.

The middle-aged man lifted his brows, surprised to see Wyatt Barnes was still being able to remain unmoved. He then took another step forward.

Boom!

At the moment when the middle-aged man took his step, Wyatt Barnes felt an even more terrifying aura blasting at him. This time, he could no longer manage to resist it.

"Puh!"

Wyatt Barnes spat out a mouthful of blood and barely managed to maintain his posture, refusing to kneel in front of his opponent.

"Hmm."

Seemingly surprised by Wyatt Barnes' resilient spirit, the middle-aged man was amazed and then solemnly said: "I must say, I admire your determination. But, I will give you one last chance... either you die or swear to be my servant!"

"Humph!"

With a cold snort, Wyatt Barnes made his answer blatantly clear to the middle-aged man.

"If you don't drink the wine of respect, you will have to drink the wine of punishment!"

The middle-aged man's face instantly turned gloomy. He prepared to take another step forward, to completely obliterate Wyatt Barnes with his strong aura.

As he stepped out, a surge of sky-reaching milky white flame burst out from his body. The flame was so intense it looked like real fire.

At the same time, in the void above the middle-aged man's head, dynamic forces of heaven and earth were at play. The air in that particular area of the void seemed drained.

Vast ancient Horned Dragon phantoms gradually took shape, baring their teeth and claws, with an imposing demeanor.

Soon, the vast Horned Dragon phantoms stabilized. Two hundred of them in total.

In terms of the power of Origin Force, it was comparable to the power of two hundred ancient Horned Dragons, which was a hallmark of a first-level strong person of the Transforming Void Realm.

Clearly, this middle-aged man, clothed in a six-clawed Divine Dragon robe, was a true 'Transforming Void strong person'!

"Are you so certain that whatever you want is on me?"

The foot of the middle-aged man hadn't yet landed, as Wyatt Barnes calmly looked at the two hundred ancient Horned Dragon phantoms above the man's head and slowly spoke.

As expected, as soon as Wyatt Barnes finished speaking, the middle-aged man withdrew his foot.

At the same time, he withdrew the aura enveloping Wyatt Barnes and the burst of Origin Force on his body gradually diminished.

Above the void, two hundred ancient Horned Dragon phantoms crumbled as if they never existed in the first place.

"You know I am here for something you have?"

The middle-aged man's eyes flashed, slowly asking.

"What else could it be? A Transforming Void strong person like you, can't possible be interested in a Enter Void Realm warrior like me, just to make me your 'servant', right?"

Wyatt Barnes scoffed. His profound gaze, as if he could see right through the middle-aged man.

"Even though you are only an Enter Void Realm warrior now, with your talents, you will inevitably breakthrough to 'Transforming Void Realm'...A servant of Transforming Void Realm, who wouldn't want that?"

The middle-aged man said coldly.

"So, both the choices you gave me were actually for that thing... either I swear to be your servant, survive, but hand over that thing to you; or I die, and you directly take it."

Wyatt Barnes's face remained unmoved, staring steadily at the middle-aged man, "Is that right?"

"You're clever...Unfortunately, clever people often don't live long."

A hint of surprise flickered in the middle-aged man's eyes.

"Is that right?"

Upon hearing this, Wyatt Barnes suddenly burst into laughter, laughing brightly as the sunlight.

"What are you laughing at?"

The brows of the middle-aged man knitted.

"Nothing... I'm just curious, what is your reaction going to be when you kill me and discover the thing you are looking for isn't in my Storage Ring?"

Wyatt Barnes casually shrugged his shoulders, ignoring the other's glare.

"Do you know what I want?"

The middle-aged man asked.

"If I'm not wrong, the thing you want should be the broken stone tablet that I used not too long ago in the 'Dynastic Martial Competition'."

Wyatt Barnes cast a deep glance at the middle-aged man and continued, "But, do you think I would carry something so important with me everywhere? The people of the Great Turdo Dynasty's Imperial Family don't really think so foolishly do they?"

"You know I am from the Great Turdo Dynasty's Imperial Family?"

Up until this point, the middle-aged man had kept his composure, now his expression finally changed.

He never expected that Wyatt Barnes could guess his identity.

Chapter 746: The Uncertain 'Talisman

The middle-aged man's response made Wyatt Barnes narrowed his eyes involuntarily.

Sure enough, he guessed correctly.

In fact, what he had just said was just his own speculation, he dare not assert.

Despite the fact that the other party was a practitioner of the 'Transforming Void Realm', among those who have broken through to the 'Transforming Void Realm' in the current Great Turdo Dynasty, there were probably only two.

One of them was the universally acknowledged strongest person in the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty.

The other was Taoi Romero, the patriarch of the Romero Clan.

Because of this, and also because the other party was wearing a robe with a six-clawed Divine Dragon, he had this speculation.

Once he had this speculation, he began to recall the motives of the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty for attacking him.

After much consideration, the only thing he revealed that could make the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty sacrifice him was the 'Demon Sealing Monument'.

You must know, he was the victor of the current Great Turdo Dynasty's martial arts contest, destined to win great glory and rich rewards for the Great Turdo Dynasty in the 'Decade Martial Meeting' a year from now.

Under these circumstances, the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty still attacked him, implying that what they wanted from him was far more valuable than the benefits they could get from the Outer Powers who host the 'Decade Martial Meeting'.

Obviously, only the 'Demon Sealing Monument' could make the Great Turdo Dynasty so covetous.

This was not difficult to guess.

Of course, all of this was just his speculation, and it wasn't until the middle-aged man responded that he knew he had guessed correctly.

The middle-aged man was from the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty, the 'Guardian Deity' of the Imperial Family, and the most powerful existence in the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty.

In the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty, this person was rumored to be above the Emperor in rank. Even the Emperor had to respectfully call him 'Great Imperial Uncle' when he saw him.

It was said that, decades ago, this person was a significant figure in the Great Turdo Dynasty, recognized as a once-in-a-lifetime genius in the Great Turdo Dynasty.

Later, he secluded himself in the depths of the palace, not involved in worldly affairs.

As the rumor went, he had now successfully broken through to the 'Transforming Void Realm' and was the strongest person in the current Great Turdo Dynasty.

"Not only do I know you belong to the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty, but I also know your name, 'Brett Buckingham', the Guardian Deity of the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty."

Wyatt Barnes tried to maintain a calm expression, but a trace of chill rose in his heart for no reason.

Although he had integrated the memory of the Reincarnation Martial Emperor, a practitioner of the Transforming Void Realm was not unfamiliar to him.

But he now was just a Ninth-level 'Entering Void Realm' warrior. In front of a Transforming Void Realm practitioner who was hostile to him and even wanted to kill him, he couldn't help feeling shocked.

Although the other person was the weakest 'Transforming Void First Level Warrior' among the practitioners of the Transforming Void Realm, before him, he was like a divine being.

The gap between him and the other person was as vast as a gulf. If the other person wanted to kill him, it was no different from killing an ant.

In such a situation, Wyatt Barnes considered himself to be very calm.

If it were any other Ninth-level 'Entering Void Realm' warrior, they would have probably been frightened and collapsed on the ground long ago.

"To guess my identity so easily, your intelligence surprises me... I really am becoming more and more reluctant to kill you. How about this, you hand over that thing, vow never to be an enemy of the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty, and I can spare your life."

Brett Buckingham said indifferently, as if the condition he mentioned was the biggest concession he could have made.

"Hahaha..."

Hearing Brett Buckingham's words, Wyatt Barnes laughed like he heard a huge joke, and gradually his laughter subdued under Brett Buckingham's gloomy gaze, "I said, are you, the people of the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty, all so domineering? You robbed my stuff, and yet you still forbid me to be your enemy?"

"I'm really sorry... I can't do this. Why don't you kill me? Then, you can slowly look for that thing yourself."

Wyatt Barnes spoke boldly and confidently.

Faced with Wyatt's confidence, Brett Buckingham frowned, and a thought crossed his mind, "Could it be that the thing really wasn't on him?"

At this moment, Brett Buckingham wavered a little.

In fact, the words he had just said were only to test whether the thing was on Wyatt Barnes or not, he never thought of actually letting Wyatt Barnes go.

In his opinion, as long as he doesn't swear by the 'Ninetynine Thunder Tribulations', he can break his words and kill Wyatt Barnes at any time.

The calmness and talents of Wyatt Barnes gave him an undeniable apprehension from the bottom of his heart.

Brett Buckingham had seen many things in his life, but this was the first time he had met a person who aroused such emotions in him.

He knew that Wyatt Barnes was an extremely dangerous individual, and he couldn't afford him to continue living.

"Stop playing games! That thing is definitely on you."

Brett Buckingham's eyes suddenly became fixed and stared straight at Wyatt Barnes, sneering.

While saying that, Brett Buckingham took a step forward and his Origin Force began to surge again.

This time, in addition to the rampant fire-like Origin Force on Brett Buckingham, there were strands of deep purple lightning wandering around, making him seem like a Thunder God.

Whirling!

At the same time, above the void over Brett Buckingham's head, first appeared two hundred ancient Horned Dragon phantom images, followed by another two hundred ancient Horned Dragon phantom images.

"First Level High-ranked Thunder Realm!"

Wyatt Barnes' eyes twitched, and in the depths of his eyes, a flicker of flame jumped up, "It seems that this Brett Buckingham broke through to the 'Transforming Void Realm' using the 'Realm of Thunder'. Although it's only the first level of the Thunder Realm, at least it's a void realm, which has congealed into 'Realm Fragments'."

The realm of Transforming Void is known as 'high-order realm'.

This level of realm has already formed a substantial 'domain fragment' inside the body of the comprehender.

It was clear that Brett Buckingham had a 'first-level high-order Thunder Realm Fragment' within his body.

"If I could eliminate him, I could obtain that 'realm fragment' in his body. The Thunder Realm Fragment could just help to enhance my 'Thunder Realm' rapidly."

With this thought, Wyatt Barnes couldn't help but breathe a bit heavier.

The 'Thunder Realm' he understood was only a low-order Thunder Realm, and he only comprehended up to the third level.

If he could acquire the high-order Thunder Realm Fragment, his understanding of the Thunder Realm would catch up at the fastest pace with his comprehension of the 'Wind Realm'.

At the same time, Wyatt Barnes, with his hands behind his back, stood there arrogantly, looking calmly at Brett Buckingham who was ready to make a move anytime, "If you think this way, you might as well kill me now."

Between Wyatt Barnes's words, a brilliant and confident smile emerged on his face.

It was this smile that gave Brett Buckingham another moment of hesitation.

In fact, even now, Brett Buckingham was still testing Wyatt Barnes. He wanted to confirm whether that object was on Wyatt Barnes.

If that object was really not on Wyatt Barnes, he might never find it if he killed Wyatt Barnes.

This was not what he wanted to see.

Wyatt Barnes naturally understood Brett Buckingham's present thoughts. He was merely stalling for time.

At this point, he also couldn't be sure if Brett Buckingham would act out of desperation and proceed to eliminate him.

In his hands behind his back, a talisman suddenly appeared, one of the three intimations Lanni Barnes had left for him.

"Those three 'talisman' stacked together may save your life three times in the future..."

The message left by his father in the jade piece was still fresh in Wyatt Barnes's mind.

According to his father, a talisman could save his life once.

As for the function of the 'talisman', he was clueless; he only knew it was meant to be used against the opponent, "No matter what, I have no choice now... I hope the talisman my father left for me works."

Now, Wyatt Barnes could be described as trying anything out of desperation.

His choice now existed entirely due to his trust in his cheap old man.

Of course, this was also his only choice.

Who knows whether this Void Realm powerhouse of the Great Turdo Dynasty Imperial Family would be irritated to the point of killing him right away. If he doesn't use the 'talisman' before being eliminated by the opponent, then his death would be an absolute injustice.

Regardless of anything, he did not want to die unjustly.

"Dad, you'd better not harm me!"

Wyatt Barnes's hand clutching the 'talisman' was slightly trembling, and some cold sweat had begun to break out on his forehead. That was the cold sweat produced by anxiety.

At this moment, Wyatt Barnes was full of anxiety.

He knew that his next move was no different from an ordinary person, who couldn't fly, walking a tightrope on a cliff.

One misstep would lead to a shattered body!

This was the current situation of Wyatt Barnes.

In fact, Wyatt Barnes's anxiety was mostly because of the memories left to him by the Reincarnated Martial Emperor.

In the memories of the Reincarnated Martial Emperor, a powerful 'Attack Inscription' could indeed kill, but it was only limited to those martial artists who had not yet understood the 'realm'.

For martial artists who had understood the 'realm', no matter how powerful the inscription, it could only interfere with them, not kill them directly.

This was the iron law of the 'Inscription Art' of the Cloud Skies Continent.

Even in his heyday, the Reincarnated Martial Emperor, who carried the powerful spirit force of the 'Martial Emperor Realm', the strongest Attack Inscription he could inscribe, couldn't directly kill the above Enter Void Realm martial artists who had understood the 'realm', and could only interfere to a certain extent.

Inscriptions are not omnipotent.

Because of this, Wyatt Barnes was anxious.

If the inscription engraved by the Martial Emperor couldn't kill the above Enter Void Realm martial artists, could the strange talisman left by his father deal with this strong Transforming Void Realm?

"Hmm?"

Brett Buckingham, who was still hesitating, suddenly brightened his eyes.

Because he noticed that Wyatt Barnes's forehead was breaking out in cold sweat at this moment, and even more so, he noticed that Wyatt Barnes's arms were slightly trembling.

In his view, this was a sign of Wyatt Barnes's guilt.

"Almost fooled by you... It seems that the thing I want is indeed on you!"

Brett Buckingham laughed, his Origin Force surging again, accompanied by slight thunderous sounds and deep purple lightning flashing within his Origin Force, echoing continuously.

Whoosh!

Brett Buckingham took a step forward, his entire person leaned forward like a mountain towards Wyatt Barnes, giving Wyatt Barnes a suffocating feeling.

Chapter 747: Is Dad a 'Martial Emperor Powerhouse'?

The moment Brett Buckingham took a step forward, Wyatt Barnes also made a move.

Wyatt, whose right hand had originally been resting on his back, suddenly experienced a surge in his Origin Force. The mighty Origin Force wrapped around the 'talisman' in his hand and was thrown towards Brett.

Whoosh!

Being inherently lightweight, even when filled with Origin Force, the talisman, when thrown out, held no real attacking power.

"Huh?"

Brett was surprised that Wyatt would take the first move. Just as his Origin Force was forming a defensive light shield around him, he saw a fluttering piece of paper heading his way.

For a moment, it fell on his defensive light shield, unsuccessfully trying to penetrate it.

"What is this?"

Brett frowned, this strange piece of paper with an unknown, haphazard scrawl on it was causing an inexplicable anxiety in his heart.

"Maybe I'm thinking too much, isn't it just an ordinary piece of yellow paper?"

Brett shook his head, raised his gaze, re-aiming at Wyatt, and prepared to take Wyatt down.

As he shifted his gaze towards Wyatt, however, he noticed Wyatt's eyes sharply focused on him. The intensity of Wyatt's gaze sent a chill down his spine.

It wasn't that he was scared of Wyatt. It was an uncalled sense of fear that he brought upon himself.

"Hmph!"

With a snort, Brett concealed his emotions, his face revealing a killing intent as he took another step forward.

Whoosh!

The Origin Force and advanced first level lightning realm released from his body agitated the air currents around him. Winds rushed out in every direction, creating a tumultuous scene.

"Strike!"

Just as Brett was about to wipe out Wyatt, Wyatt's alarmed shout echoed through the air.

Brett subconsciously paused at the alarm.

At that moment, his pupils suddenly contracted. He watched as the unremarkable yellow paper before his eyes eerily vanished into thin air.

The next moment, he felt a sharp pain between his brows, his consciousness gradually blurred, until it finally disappeared.

Until his consciousness was obliterated completely, Brett had no idea what had happened.

In the distance, Wyatt Barnes, looking at the scene before him, stood stupefied.

With his shout of 'Strike!', he noticed that the 'talisman' he had thrown had disappeared into the air, almost at the same time, Brett's brow developed a bloody hole.

Following the appearance of the bloody hole, the origin force in Brett's body and the 'lighting realm' wrapped around his origin force were completely obliterated, and his lifeless body collapsed to the ground, void of any signs of life.

"Is...is it solved?"

The scene before him left Wyatt Barnes dumbfounded for a moment.

It was only when Brett's body started to fall that Wyatt snapped back to reality, hurriedly chasing after it.

Soon, he caught up with Brett's body, and retrieved a fragment of a purple object from it, which was the 'advanced first level lightning realm fragment' concentrated in Brett's body.

Immediately afterwards, Wyatt took the 'Storage Ring' off Brett's hand.

After securing the spoils of war, Wyatt's palm surged with purple-copper flames, immediately descending upon Brett's body.

Instantly, Brett's body was reduced to ashes in mid-air, scattering in the wind and disappearing from this world entirely.

With the spoils secured, Wyatt Barnes stood still on the spot, motionless.

At that moment, what filled his mind were the peculiarities of what had just happened:

A formidable being of the 'first Transforming Void Realm' had so easily been eradicated by a 'talisman' left behind by his cheap old dad.

The events reminded Wyatt of a dreamlike feeling.

"What kind of 'talisman' was that? It was too unbelievable, right?"

Recalling everything, Wyatt Barnes couldn't help but marvel in awe.

Earlier, he hadn't clearly seen how the talisman had killed Brett.

He had only seen the talisman disappear and almost at the same time Brett's brow, had been pierced by something, killing him instantly.

Of course, Wyatt Barnes knew in his heart that it was all the work of the 'talisman'. He just couldn't capture the specific process of how the 'talisman' had killed Brett due to his lack of strength.

The speed of the talisman was horrifyingly swift.

So much so, that Wyatt noticed — there was no disturbance in the air in the area where Brett had died.

What kind of speed could avoid influencing the air?

Or perhaps, the disturbance was so minuscule that he, with his current strength, couldn't detect it at all.

For a moment, Wyatt Barnes felt chills run down his spine.

"Where did dad get these talismans from?"

Wyatt Barnes found himself smiling bitterly.

At this moment, he suddenly felt that his adoptive father was so alien to him...

At the same time, his mind was filled with confusion.

"There is clearly no trace of Origin Force in my father's body... Even if he is a Martial Emperor, if he does not resist my spiritual probing, I can usually sense his Origin Force. But I can be sure that there is no trace of Origin Force in my dad's body."

About this, Wyatt Barnes was totally baffled, and he suddenly felt his foster father was becoming increasingly mysterious.

"It is impossible that dad doesn't know the dangers of the world outside the Great Turdo Dynasty, yet he still left with mom and Valentina..."

Wyatt Barnes thought of his father's departure, and the three talismans along with the mysterious delicate jade box his father left him, "Perhaps, during the twenty-three years of my father's disappearance, some incredible things happened to him... At least, it can be confirmed now that he is definitely not a martial artist whose dantian is discarded!"

Upon arriving at this thought, Wyatt Barnes's mind continued to drift.

The scenes of his father's initial return, one by one, passed through his mind.

From seeing his father at the Barnes Residence for the first time, to their journey home together... And things that happened afterward, there was no omission.

"At that time..."

Wyatt Barnes continued to reminisce, and before he realized, he recalled the scenes when the Three Great Protectors, including Matias Dunn and Firey Don from the Green Forest's three sects, descended upon the Imperial City of Crimson Heaven.

At that time, although Kinsley Cooper the Peak Master was there, she was no match for the three, including Matias Dunn.

At that time, to protect himself, he tricked the three, by claiming he knew the location of the 'millennial stalactite', intending to leave with the three and then find an opportunity to escape.

Of course, it was risky. If he was not careful, he would definitely fall into the hands of the three.

But at that time, he had no choice.

However, just at that critical moment, a deep and hoarse voice suddenly came, and even before the owner of the voice showed himself, he effortlessly suppressed the three, leaving them breathless.

Later, under the mysterious powerhouse's tactics, the three, although reluctant, had to flee.

At that time, Wyatt Barnes simply thought that the owner of the hoarse voice was a mysterious strong person hiding in the Crimson Heaven, who saved him out of contempt for the three.

"Now it seems, that mysterious powerhouse, is very likely to be 'dad'! I didn't think about it from this perspective, and I ignored a key issue, which is that the owner of the hoarse voice, clearly spoke in a deliberately low voice, as if he did not want to expose his true identity."

Wyatt Barnes couldn't help guessing, and the more he guessed, the more certain he became.

"At that time, dad must have been the one who stepped in at home... But, that power does not seem to be something a regular martial artist could wield."

When Wyatt Barnes thought of it, he began to rummage through his memories regarding 'Reincarnation Martial Emperor'.

Very quickly, his pupils contracted, confirming one thing.

"According to the memory of the Reincarnation Martial Emperor, only when one reaches the 'Martial Emperor Realm', can one do that... Commanding the Origin Force from hundreds of meters away with the keen spiritual power for sound transmission, and suppressing people from a distance!"

Murmuring to the end, Wyatt Barnes couldn't help but take a breath.

"Could it be that... dad is really a 'Martial Emperor'?"

Wyatt Barnes was completely stunned.

After a while, Wyatt Barnes finally came back to his senses. He recalled the scene when his cheap old dad 'Lanni Barnes' first returned, "Maybe, the reason I didn't detect any 'Origin Force' in dad at that time was because he used some method to deliberately conceal it. After all, in the vast expanse of the Cloud Skies Continent, it is not unusual to have some secret methods that can conceal the Origin Force."

The more Wyatt Barnes thought about it, the more he was sure, and he couldn't help but smirk, "It seems, I got totally fooled by dad."

Now, he could almost confirm that his father was very likely a strong person above the 'Martial Emperor Realm'.

"I wonder what dad encountered during those twenty-three years... resulting in him possessing such an astonishing strength! Also, he was able to leave those heavenly talismans for me."

Unconsciously, Wyatt Barnes had two talismans in his hand, the only two 'talisman' left.

"No!"

Suddenly, as if he had thought of something, Wyatt Barnes shook his head with a frown, "If dad really is a 'Martial Emperor'... why didn't he bring me to the 'outside territory'?"

"Is this a real dad? Simply leaving me alone to fend for myself in the Great Turdo Dynasty?"

By the end of his talking to himself, Wyatt Barnes was somewhat speechless.

Although, it was just his guess that his cheap old dad Lanni Barnes was a 'Martial Emperor', he felt his guess was highly likely to be true.

Without his dad having an amazing strength, how did he dare to venture out of the Great Turdo Dynasty with his mother?

"Maybe, dad wants me to stay in the Great Turdo Dynasty for more experience... In the message he left on the sound condensation jade piece, he mentioned that we will meet again, probably in the outside world. What he meant should be 'outside territory'!"

Wyatt Barnes guessed to himself.

Upon thinking of this, Wyatt Barnes felt much better but still could not help but resent a little, "Dad was just mean... If he's really a 'Martial Emperor', shouldn't he bring me out and let me show off in that 'outside territory'? Who dares to mess with the son of a Martial Emperor?"

"It's fine if he didn't bring me out... However, he didn't leave me hundred or eight hundred thousand top-grade original stones, as well as the spiritual fruits that Martial Artists of the Cave Void Realm and the Transforming Void Realm need."

Chapter 748: Reunion of Good Friends

Merger with the memories of two lifetimes of the 'Reincarnated Martial Emperor', Wyatt Barnes naturally knew how high the status of 'Martial Emperor' was in the outside territory.

Anyone who could get involved with the Martial Emperor, even if they were just an ordinary person, was someone that even the Nine Layer Martial Emperor Realm powerhouse dared not offend openly.

When the Martial Emperor is angry, the Martial Emperor is punishable, with rivers of blood flowing.

The power of the Martial Emperor is not a matter of joke.

After complaining to himself for a while, Wyatt Barnes came to his senses, stopped concerning about this matter, and instead, shifted his focus to the two 'talisman' in his hands.

"I can be sure that these talismans do not contain any 'Inscriptions'... I don't know where my dad got this thing which can even kill a Transforming Void Realm powerhouse directly!"

Thinking of 'Brett Buckingham' who had just died by his hand, Wyatt Barnes couldn't help but feel a bit remorseful, and also somewhat self-satisfied.

Brett Buckingham, the Guardian Deity of the Imperial Family of the Great Turdo Dynasty, even acknowledged as the 'First Strongest of the Great Turdo Dynasty'.

Even Taoi Romero, his fame in the Great Turdo Dynasty couldn't compete with him.

Such a powerhouse died by his hand, Wyatt Barnes'.

"I wonder at what level this 'talisman' can kill the martial artist at most... If it can even kill the 'Martial Emperor Realm' powerhouse, then this time I have really wasted it!"

Wyatt Barnes thought to himself, and in the next moment, as if having obtained a treasure, he stored the two talismans in his hand. This was a treasure that could instantly kill a Transforming Void Realm powerhouse.

"The things that dad left for me, and that 'jade box'... I wonder when I will be able to open it. According to my dad's message, it seems that only after I open the jade box can I find him."

Wyatt Barnes smiled bitterly, not feeling happy about having a father who is as powerful as a 'Martial Emperor Realm', instead, he was speechless.

Even if you want to temper your son as a father, you shouldn't practice like now, right?

No matter what.

What if he dies accidentally?

The more Wyatt Barnes thought about it, the more angry he became, and the more speechless he was.

He clearly had the opportunity to reach the sky in one step, but he didn't know what his cheap old dad did, and he threw him alone in the Great Turdo Dynasty, letting him live or die on his own.

"Forget it! When you were not back in the past, I didn't see that I was missing anyone... Hmph! I will make my own way in the world, and even surpass you in the future."

Wyatt Barnes said to himself silently.

Of course, these were the words he said to his cheap old dad, Lanni Barnes, in his heart.

After a while, after sorting out his mood, Wyatt Barnes continued on his way to Crimson Heaven Kingdom, "After I go back, I'll first invite Remi Sinclair, Seeker Sinclair, and Tiggi Field to have a meal, catching up on old times, and then go back to Aurora City."

Wyatt Barnes had a plan in his heart.

Aurora City was the city he went to after he left Swallow Mountain, a city under the Crimson Heaven Kingdom's jurisdiction - 'Swallow Mountain County'.

The main clan of the Lee Family from Swallow Mountain, where his mother was born, was there.

"In a blink of an eye, it's been many years since I've seen that fatso Darren Lee... I wonder if he has lost some weight. Hmm, I'll make a trip back to the Lee Family in Swallow Mountain, to see the Family Head and the Fifth Elder."

Wyatt Barnes continued to plan for the upcoming itinerary.

A few days later, Wyatt Barnes rushed back to the Imperial City of Crimson Heaven Kingdom.

After returning to the Imperial City, he didn't rush back to his own mansion, but went to the Sinclair Clan and found Remi Sinclair and Seeker Sinclair, "Remi Sinclair, Seeker Sinclair, long time no see."

Wyatt Barnes greeted them with a smile.

"Wyatt Barnes!"

Remi Sinclair and Seeker Sinclair saw Wyatt Barnes, their faces revealing an excited smile, each gave Wyatt Barnes a hug, "You, we heard from the Simmons Clan that you were back a while ago, but when we came to find you, you were not there."

"I went out to take care of something, just got back."

Wyatt Barnes replied with a smile.

"Since you came to find us as soon as you came back, we won't blame you... Let's go, let's drink!"

Seeker Sinclair said with a smile.

"Wait."

Remi Sinclair stopped Seeker Sinclair.

"Hm?"

Wyatt Barnes and Seeker Sinclair looked at Remi Sinclair in confusion.

"Wyatt Barnes, I'm going to introduce you to someone... she's been talking about you a lot."

Remi Sinclair looked at Wyatt Barnes, showing a gentle smile on his face, soft affection in his eyes. If someone who didn't know the relationship between him and Wyatt Barnes were here, they might think he might have unorthodox preferences.

"You guy, could it be you brought little Clover over?"

Seeing the tender affection in Remi Sinclair's eyes, Wyatt Barnes's eyes shone instantly, he asked in surprise.

'Little Clover' is Clover Rowan.

Mustafa Rowan's sister who Wyatt Barnes and Remi Sinclair have met in the Genius Camp of the Iron Blood Army.

Due to the assessment of the Genius Camp, Mustafa Rowan died. In his last letter, he asked Wyatt Barnes to take care of his sister, Clover. And Wyatt Barnes indeed treated Clover like his own sister.

Later, because Clover and Remi Sinclair had mutual affection, she didn't follow him back to the Lee Family, but went to the Sinclair family.

Thinking of the lovely girl from the past, a gentle smile couldn't help but appear on Wyatt Barnes' face.

The next time Wyatt Barnes saw Clover Rowan, he almost didn't recognize her.

The once young girl has completely shed her childishness, in its stead is a mature grace.

In terms of beauty, Clover couldn't compare to his two fiancées, nor to the likes of Winnie Romero, Helen Sinclair, Princess Irene, but she could nevertheless be considered a beauty.

Looking at the beautiful woman sitting in the yard holding a baby in her swaddling clothes, Wyatt laughed, "Little Clover, long time no see, I didn't expect you to be married to Remi Sinclair and already become a mother."

Hearing the sound, the beautiful woman who was attentively playing with the baby in her arms quickly lifted her head. When she saw Wyatt Barnes, she was overjoyed, "Big Brother Wyatt!"

After catching up for a while, Remi Sinclair, standing on one side, said to Wyatt Barnes with a smile, "Our child is already three months old, and we haven't named him yet... Since you're back, please give him a name. After all, you are the child's godfather."

"Naming the child?"

Wyatt Barnes laughed bitterly, "You're putting me in a difficult position."

However, despite what he said, Wyatt Barnes's gaze still landed on the baby cradled in Clover Rowan's arms, the baby was plump and incredibly cute.

"Wyatt, come and hold your godson."

Clover Rowan laughed as she handed the baby over to Wyatt Barnes.

Wyatt Barnes reached out to take the baby. Seeing the wide, curious eyes gazing at him, he felt an odd sense of calm wash over him.

The baby's big eyes were pure and untainted, free from any trace of contamination.

For some reason, as he looked at the baby, an image suddenly flashed through Wyatt's mind; the smiling face of a young boy.

Mustafa Rowan!

Clover Rowan's brother.

"Let's name him 'Henry Sinclair', in memory of Mustafa Rowan. What do you think?" Wyatt asked as he turned to Remi Sinclair and his wife Clover.

"Good!"

Remi Sinclair's eyes brightened at the suggestion.

Clover Rowan started tearing up, clearly recalling her brother who had passed away years ago. As she took her son back from Wyatt, a smile spread across her face.

It was as if she had been taken back to her childhood, a period marked by hardship, but was also filled with happiness.

That was mainly because she had a brother who was willing to sacrifice everything for her.

Wyatt Barnes gave a signal to Remi Sinclair and Seeker Sinclair, and the trio left the courtyard and departed from the Sinclair's residence for a drink at a local tavern.

Sobering up after the third round of drinks, Wyatt learned that his old friend, Tiggi Field, was no longer residing in the Imperial City, but was stationed at the frontier of the Crimson Heaven Kingdom.

"That guy Tiggi Field is a vice-general now ... in a couple of years, when his superior retires, he will become the legitimate general."

Seeker talked about Tiggi's recent developments with a smile.

Wyatt smiled and nodded. He was happy for Tiggi's achievements.

In those days at the 'Holy Martial Arts Academy' in the Imperial City, he had only four friends of his age; Remi Sinclair, Seeker Sinclair, Tiggi Field, and Walter Simmons.

He remembered their friendship well.

"Wyatt, what is your current cultivation level?" Seeker asked.

"Seeker, you dared to ask Wyatt about this...I think we're about to get a major blow again."

Remi shook his head and laughed, but curiosity flashed in his eyes as he looked towards Wyatt Barnes.

"Ninth-Order of Enter Void Realm."

Wyatt did not hide anything from his old friends, he shrugged and said.

Ninth-Order of Enter Void Realm?

Almost as soon as Wyatt finished speaking, Remi and Seeker were petrified for a moment, failing to react.

After a long while, Remi came back to his senses first and murmured: "I heard that even in Royal Country, there is only one person above the Seventh-Order of Enter Void Realm... That person is the strongest in the Royal Country."

"Wyatt, you really are too shocking!"

Seeker Sinclair gasped.

Wyatt smiled faintly. "Seeing your expressions, I think I should tell you about Walter Simmons."

"Walter Simmons?"

Upon hearing Wyatt's words, Remi and Seeker's eyes lit up. They asked excitedly, "Wyatt, have you...have you met Walter Simmons?"

"Yes."

Wyatt nodded, "More than two years ago, during the 'Genius Battle' in Royal Country, Walter came... At that time, my strength was far inferior to his."

"What?!"

Remi and Seeker were astonished at Wyatt's words.

They knew better than anyone about Wyatt's martial arts talent. They had never been able to surpass Wyatt over the years, and instead, they were falling further and further behind.

And now, Wyatt says that Walter's strength exceeded his own two years ago?

They should know that when Walter left the Holy Martial Arts Academy and the Crimson Heaven Imperial City, his cultivation level was inferior to Wyatt's.

They had never imagined that Walter could catch up and even surpass Wyatt Barnes.

Even if it was temporary, it was shocking enough.

"So, did you both manage to pass the 'Genius Battle' held in the Royal Country?"

Remi asked eagerly.

"Yes."

Wyatt nodded.

"And the end result? Did you and Walter advance to the Black Stone Empire, earning a place in the Great Turdo Dynasty's 'Royal Martial Contest'?"

Seeker asked with anticipation.

"Just a while ago, Walter and I advanced in the 'Royal Martial Contest' of the Great Turdo Dynasty, earning the right to participate in the 'Royal Martial Championship'."

Wyatt laughed.

Chapter 749: Leaving

"Walter Simmons also obtained the qualification to participate in the 'Decachao Martial Arts Conference'?"

Remi Sinclair's pupils contracted, his face full of astonishment.

Knowing Wyatt Barnes' current cultivation level, he was not surprised that Wyatt Barnes advanced in the 'Dynastic Martial Arts Competition' of the Great Turdo Dynasty.

In his view,

entering Void Realm level nine made one a prominent figure amongst the young generation of the Great Turdo Dynasty.

But now, hearing that Walter Simmons advanced in the 'Dynastic Martial Arts Competition,' he had no choice but to be shocked.

"Wyatt, what's Walter's current cultivation level?"

Seeker Sinclair asked with some urgency.

"Enter Void Realm Level Eight."

Wyatt Barnes said.

Suddenly, both Remi Sinclair and Seeker Sinclair were petrified. It took them a while to regain their senses, both somewhat crestfallen, "Who would have thought that not only you but also Walter would be abnormal! However, why didn't Walter come back with you?"

"Walter went out to explore with his master."

Wyatt Barnes laughed, "He also asked me to say hi to you guys."

Remi Sinclair and Seeker Sinclair nodded, their eyes complex.

...

When leaving the restaurant, Wyatt Barnes shouldered one person with each hand, sending Remi Sinclair and Seeker Sinclair back to the Sinclair mansion.

These two, after learning of Walter's current achievements, seemed to have become somewhat heavy-hearted, and continued to drink glass after glass, eventually ending up drunk as skunks.

Wyatt Barnes could guess their thoughts.

It was indeed thought-provoking, that the peers who were not much different from him in the past had now grown to such heights that he himself could barely reach. He was happy for them, but also inevitably a little melancholy.

After leaving the Sinclair Mansion, Wyatt Barnes returned to his own residence.

After a good night's sleep, Wyatt Barnes left the Imperial City early the next morning with Winnie following closely behind him.

He was preparing to go back to 'Aurora City' to have a look.

As for Tao Romero and Elder Kane, they stayed in the Imperial City waiting for their return, and then they would go back to the Great Turdo Dynasty together.

At the speed of Wyatt Barnes and Winnie Romero, they reached the sky above Aurora City in half a day.

"Brother Barnes, is this the place where you come from?"

Winnie Romero looked down at the small city underneath her feet and asked in astonishment.

She never expected that Brother Barnes would hail from such an obscure and remote place, which indicated that Brother Barnes must have had a hard journey.

For a moment, her heart fluttered.

"Sort of."

Wyatt Barnes nodded, "My real hometown is over there... a small town subordinate to this city."

At this moment, Wyatt Barnes looked towards the southern direction of Aurora City.

"Let's go, let's go down."

Wyatt Barnes called Winnie to descend, and the two of them walked into the streets and alleys of Aurora City. Unconsciously, they entered the busiest trading market of Aurora city.

"I wonder if she is still here."

Wyatt Barnes thought of 'Shally Don,' the Ghostly Shadow organization's person-in-charge in Aurora City, a pharmacy manager by day and a night-time Asura.

Unfortunately, Wyatt Barnes went to the pharmacy but didn't see Shally Don.

The manager of the pharmacy had been replaced by another person, who was now the Ghostly Shadow's chief in Aurora City. Once this man learned Wyatt Barnes's identity, he showed him the deepest respect.

The highest leader of the Ghostly Shadow, the principal of the Imperial City Saint Martial Arts Academy, Enzo Hawkins, was Wyatt Barnes's mentor.

Many years ago, Enzo Hawkins issued the order that the Ghostly Shadow would not take any tasks related to Wyatt Barnes, or it would be considered as a betrayal to the Ghostly Shadow.

Not being able to find Shally Don, Wyatt Barnes felt a bit disappointed.

When he first arrived in Aurora City from Clear Wind Town, not only had Shally Don helped him a lot, but she also saved his life.

He still remembered when the Grand Elder of Lee Family wanted to kill him, if it weren't for Shally Don's timely intervention, he would undoubtedly be dead.

Standing at the front gate of the Lee Family Mansion, Wyatt Barnes's eyes were somewhat unfocused.

In the blink of an eye, so many years had passed.

The scenes of leaving Clear Wind Town for Aurora City with his mother and Keer were still fresh in his mind. When he looked back, it felt like the sea had turned into mulberry fields.

At the front gate of the Lee family mansion, Wyatt Barnes and Winnie Romero were stopped.

"I'm looking for Darren Lee."

Wyatt Barnes said.

"You're looking for the Seventh Elder?"

Upon hearing Wyatt's words, the few disciples guarding the gate of the Lee Mansion brightened their eyes and their tone became more respectful.

"Seventh Elder?"

Wyatt Barnes's eyes widened, when did that deadbeat Darren Lee become the seventh elder of the Lee family in Aurora City?

Shortly, under the disciple of the Lee Family, Wyatt Barnes met Darren Lee.

Looking at the chubby man in front of him, squinting with his small eyes and grinning, Wyatt Barnes laughed and scolded: "You fatso, so many years have passed... You haven't changed at all?"

"Boss!"

Upon seeing Wyatt Barnes, Darren Lee was first stunned, and then his chubby face was filled with an excited smile. He directly rushed to Wyatt Barnes and gave him a bear hug, "Boss, you're finally back! I thought I would never see you again in this lifetime."

Darren Lee's small eyes were completely moist.

"Alright, how old are you, still whining... Is this how you welcome me when I rarely come back?"

Wyatt Barnes pushed aside Darren Lee's huge body and laughed while scolding.

"Hehe..."

Darren Lee scratched his head and laughed foolishly. Soon, his gaze fell on Winnie Romero who was standing next to Wyatt Barnes, his small eyes lit up, "Is this my sister-in-law? Boss, you're really awesome, this sister-in-law isn't any worse than the other two."

Winnie Romero, who had been standing quietly watching the long-separated reunion, couldn't help but blush when Darren Lee suddenly looked at her and said such words.

"Stop talking nonsense! This is Winnie, my friend."

Wyatt Barnes glared at Darren Lee unhappily.

"Miss Winnie."

Darren Lee seemed embarrassed and quickly corrected himself, but in his heart, it was clear as a mirror, "She's not my sister-in-law now, but she definitely will be... It seems, the boss's charm is just like before."

"You fatso, how did you become the Seventh Elder of the Lee Family?"

Wyatt Barnes asked.

"Hehe... Boss, I've become this Elder purely on my own merit! Of course, it's impossible for other branch descendants to become Elders unless they are as extraordinary as you, Boss. But who am I, Darren Lee? I am the little brother of boss, even the Clan Chief has to give me some face."

Darren Lee said with a grin.

"Still like before, never serious."

Wyatt Barnes gave Darren Lee a look and laughed while scolding, "You guy, you're almost thirty... Why haven't you married and had children yet?"

On the way here, Wyatt Barnes had learned about Darren Lee's situation from the members of the Lee Family and knew that Darren Lee was still alone.

"Boss, do you think everyone is like you... finding a sweetheart as simple as drinking water?"

Darren Lee glanced at Winnie Romero next to Wyatt Barnes and muttered.

"Alright, where did all these complaints come from? Come on, let's go drink with Amos Lynch and Ellis Lynch... After reminiscing about the old times, I will go back to Clearwind Town and then I'll leave."

Towards the end, Wyatt Barnes sighed, "I don't know when I'll come back the next time."

Indeed.

This time he leaves, Wyatt Barnes will leave the Great Turdo Dynasty and head to the 'Northern Desert' adjoining the 'outside territories' of various major dynasties, and from then on step onto the stage of the 'outside territories'.

In the future, he doesn't know when he will be able to come back.

"Boss, where are you going?"

Darren Lee caught the meaning in Wyatt Barnes's words.

"I'll tell you when we go drinking later."

Wyatt Barnes said, "You go find Amos Lynch and Ellis Lynch now, I'll go see the Clan Chief... He's been taking care of you all these years, and as your boss, I should show some gratitude."

After Darren Lee left, Wyatt Barnes told Winnie Romero, and went to see the Clan Chief of the Lee Family alone.

To show his gratitude, he left behind a 'Seventh Grade Spirit Sword'.

In Wyatt Barnes's current view, a Seventh Grade Spirit Sword was no different from trash, but in the eyes of the Clan Chief of the Lee Family, it was an extraordinary treasure and was regarded as the treasure of the clan.

After leaving the grand courtyard where the Clan Chief of the Lee Family resided, Wyatt Barnes drove with Winnie Romero, and went to eat and drink with Darren Lee, Amos Lynch, and Ellis Lynch.

Back then, he had very few friends in Aurora City, other than Remi Sinclair, he only had Amos Lynch and Ellis Lynch.

Years later, the boys of the past have all grown up, but that bond of friendship is deeply ingrained in their hearts, unforgettable for a lifetime.

After a hearty meal and a nostalgic chat, Wyatt Barnes took Winnie back to Clearwind Town once, left some original stones, and then left and returned to the Imperial City in the middle of the night.

The next day, Wyatt Barnes visited all the elders in Imperial City one by one, including the head of the Sacred Martial Arts Academy, also his former teacher in the Sacred Martial Arts Academy, Enzo Hawkins.

Additionally, he returned to the Barnes Clan once, and also made a visit to the Imperial Palace.

After basically finishing everything, he went to see the young Marquis 'Kanan Nigel', then left the Crimson Heaven Kingdom Imperial City with Taoi Romero, Winnie Romero, and Elder Kane.

At this time, the old Marquis of Godly Might Mansion, 'Ivaan Nigel' and Godly Might Marquis 'Atharv Nigel' hadn't returned yet.

Whoosh!

In the sky above the Crimson Heaven Kingdom, a giant sword whizzed by, heading directly towards the Blackstone Empire.

Sitting atop the giant sword, Wyatt Barnes finally sighed a breath of relief. He had been quite busy these past few days, and now he finally had a chance to rest.

After resting for a while, Wyatt Barnes took out the 'five-fold Wind Realm Pieces' he had obtained in the Sword Emperor's treasury, and was quietly understanding the 'Wind Realm'.

His current priority was to understand the 'Middle Wind Realm', also known as 'Cave Void Realm'. Only in this way can he make another breakthrough and officially advance to the 'Cave Void Realm'.

As for the 'Thunder Realm' and 'Earth Realm', although he had the corresponding 'Realm Pieces' in his hand, understanding the 'Realm' could not be distracted.

Therefore, he can only upgrade one 'Realm' at a time.

When the time comes, even with the help of 'Realm Pieces', the progress of the Wind Realm would still be slow, that would be the time for him to further understand other realms.

Now, his focus is on the 'Wind Realm'.

With only ten months left, the 'Ten Dynasty Martial Arts Meet' will begin, and he must understand the 'Middle Wind Realm' before this and become a Cave Void Realm martial artist.

Chapter 750: Debt Collection

"We're here."

At some point, a voice entered the ears of Wyatt Barnes who was immersed in the 'realm of the wind,' waking him from his dreams.

Coming to his senses, Wyatt realized that he was now in a familiar valley.

When he saw the cloudy mist in the valley, he reacted fully, realizing he wasn't a stranger to this place, having visited twice before.

The first time, he came here with Taoi Romero, Winnie Romero, and Elder Kane.

His goal then was the 'Spirit Cleansing Pool'.

Later on, he found an underwater cave and obtained a 'soul brand' that allowed him to master his soul technique, Illusions.

The second time he was here, he was fleeing for his life.

At that time, he was chased by the traitor of the Sword Clan, Matias Dunn, and the Protector Elder of the Green Forest Sect, Firey Don. He counterattacked and brought the duo here, confining them within.

"Uncle Romero, Winnie, Elder Kane... wait for me here, I'll come out once I've dealt with them."

Wyatt smiled at Taoi Romero and his companions, then walked towards the concentrated mist in front of him. More accurately, it was a fully sealed 'Inscription Array,' and the cluster of mist was just a manifestation.

When Wyatt left the Imperial City, he had asked Taoi Romero to bring him here.

And Taoi Romero was no stranger to this place, having arrived here effortlessly.

Approaching the cluster of mist, Wyatt's eyes suddenly focused. His keen spiritual strength spread out, easily breaking it open.

More accurately, he opened the 'Inscription Array'.

Like a gust of wind clearing the clouds!

Before the 'Inscription Array' was fully opened, Wyatt swiftly entered it, like a swift hare.

Whoosh!

Wyatt appeared again outside the 'Spirit Cleansing Pool,' his gaze instantly falling on the two unshaven elders nearby.

Looking at Wyatt, the two men's faces were full of ecstasy as if they had found their lifesaving straw.

However, the expressions on the elders' faces changed quickly. When their gaze settled on Wyatt, endless fury emerged.

"Wyatt Barnes!"

One of the elders cried out, his voice filled with hatred.

For all these years, being trapped here was a fate worse than death. When he was hungry, he could only eat wild grass to fill his stomach, a drastic change compared to his previously luxurious lifestyle.

Therefore, he even thought about ending his life, but in the end, he lacked the courage to do so.

Of course, the main reason that kept him alive was taking revenge on the kid who had imprisoned him here.

He thought he had no hope for revenge in his life.

But today, not only was the 'Inscription Array' that trapped them opened, but also someone entered.

That person was the one he despised the most.

"Wyatt Barnes... today, I won't let you escape. You are dead for sure!"

The other elder, like a flash of lightning, instantly appeared behind Wyatt, attacking him together with the first elder.

"Elder Fire, are you so sure?"

Wyatt turned around, looked deeply at the red-dressed elder standing behind him, and softly smirked.

The red-dressed elder was none other than Firey Don, the Protector Elder of the Green Forest Sect from those years.

Several years had passed, and Firey Don no longer appeared as stylish as before. He looked like a wretched old man without any semblance of a martial artist.

"Die!"

Belittled by Wyatt, Firey Don was furious. His Origin Force soared, and the 'realm of fire' followed him like a shadow. He seemed to turn into a ball of fire, ferociously sweeping towards Wyatt.

The might of a sixth-stage Void Realm warrior was fully revealed!

"Elder Fire, it's a pity that you haven't made any progress over the years..."

Facing the raging Firey Don, Wyatt remained calm and lightly pointed a finger in the air twice while mocking him.

Whoosh! Whoosh!

In an instant, two piercing noises sounded. Two formidable Origin Force needles, accompanied by a blue energy and a purple energy, broke through the air, causing turbulence and generating strong winds.

Plop! Plop!

Two soft sounds were heard, accompanied by a muffled hum.

Immediately afterwards, Matias Dunn, standing on the other side, witnessed a scene he would never forget in his life.

Heavens!

What had he just seen?

Firey Don, a man as powerful as him, had his full strength attack neutralized and his legs pierced by Wyatt's random finger points.

Bang!

With his legs pierced, Firey Don suppressed the pain, grunted, and his body trembled.

At this moment, Firey Don gritted his teeth and pulled out his spiritual instrument, rushing towards Wyatt like a bloodthirsty beast.

The spiritual instrument broke through the air, carrying an even more tremendous force. It swept towards Wyatt, with the fire-like Origin Force trying to swallow Wyatt completely.

Wyatt stood on the spot, watching Firey Don's final struggle with interest.

In his eyes, Firey Don was indeed making his last struggle.

Wind Thunder Finger!

With Wyatt Barnes pointing it out once more, another flurry of 'Wind Thunder Finger Energy' swept out. The moment the piercing sound rose, the spiritual weapon in Firey Don's hand was directly knocked away by the Wind Thunder Finger Energy.

The hand that Firey Don held the spiritual weapon with was now bloody and painful, causing him to go pale. Barely holding his body up, he panicked and looked towards Wyatt Barnes.

"No... no way... it's impossible! How could you have become so powerful in just a few years?"

Firey Don's gaze was filled with fear as he looked at Wyatt, his voice trembling.

Roar!

And just then, above Wyatt's head, in the void above, the Force of Heaven and Earth that had risen up finally formed the illusions of ancient Horned Dragons.

First, twelve illusions of ancient Horned Dragons appeared, followed by eight more, and then a further three.

Enter Void Realm Level Nine!

Wind Realm Level Eight!

Thunder Realm Level Three!

This was the strength that Wyatt Barnes had invoked against Firey Don.

"En... enter... Level Nine of Enter Void Realm?"

When Firey Don saw the illusion of ancient Horned Dragons appearing above Wyatt Barnes' head he shuddered, his face was white as paper and he was so scared he could not even speak properly.

"Firey Don, you were involved in the destruction of my Seven Stars Sword Clan, and you have been trying to kill me... Now, I'll send you on your way, let you accompany Khai Dragonsmith and Rhett Bell in the underworld."

Wyatt Barnes began to speak slowly.

At this moment, hearing Wyatt's words, Firey Don's pupils suddenly constricted and his voice began to tremble, "You...you've..."

Firey Don didn't continue, for he found the answer he wanted in Wyatt's cold stare.

With a pale face, Firey Don breathed heavily and pointed to Wyatt Barnes, saying, "Wyatt Barnes, you're just lucky... you destroyed the Three Sects of Green Forest before the — Elder Ancestor of our Yao Lotus Sword Sect — returned. Otherwise, once the Elder Ancestor returned, you would have been the one to die!"

Before the merger of the three great sects, Firey Don was the Protector Elder of the Yao Lotus Sword Sect.

"Elder Ancestor?"

Wyatt Barnes laughed suddenly, with bright smiles. "The 'Elder Ancestor' you're talking about, it should be 'Cesar Santos', right?"

"You know?"

Firey Don furrowed his brows, then said coldly, "if the Elder Ancestor had arrived in time, even if you had reached 'Enter Void Realm Level Nine', you would undoubtedly have died! It's just a pity that you managed to escape."

"I'm afraid I'll have to disappoint you."

Wyatt Barnes chuckled, "The Elder Ancestor you mentioned, that Cesar Santos, I saw him emerge from the 'Fire Breath Rock'... I have to admit, his strength was great. I was no match for him."

"What?! Did the Elder Ancestor return?"

Firey Don's pupils constricted.

However, Wyatt Barnes' next words made him go even paler. He looked utterly shocked and incredulous.

"Sadly, he's dead... Did you think that I had no backup just because the Three Sects of Green Forest had some?"

The smile on Wyatt's face, seen by Firey Don, mirrored that of a devil.

"So, you can rest assured on your journey to the underworld to meet your Elder Ancestor."

As soon as Wyatt's words fell, a long-prepared finger shot out.

Whoosh!

The Wind Thunder Finger Energy burst forth, setting off a sharp piercing sound. It shot directly through the eyebrows of Firey Don, killing him.

Boom!

Firey Don's body fell to the ground. His eyes remained wide open as he refused to shut them in death.

The sound of Firey Don's body hitting the ground reached Matias Dunn on the other side, causing him to change color and his face to turn completely pale.

The 'rage' he felt when facing Wyatt Barnes had vanished, replaced by 'fear'.

Matias Dunn couldn't believe it. In just a few years, Wyatt Barnes had attained such a formidable strength that even he had to look up to.

Even more so, Wyatt Barnes had eradicated the Three Sects of Green Forest.

After collecting Firey Don's 'Storage Ring', Wyatt Barnes turned around, looking at the old man standing not far away, who was as dumbfounded as a wooden chicken. His gaze turned cold in an instant.

"Matias Dunn!"

The sound of Wyatt Barnes' voice, coming from the depths of hell, was chilling.

At the same time, he stepped forward, walking step by step towards the grave-looking old man, Matias Dunn.

Matias Dunn was once one of the two Protector Elders of the Seven Stars Sword Clan and was known as 'Elder Mattias'.

When the Sword Clan was in great danger, Matias Dunn turned against the strongest 'Elder Palm' of the Sword Clan, leading to the complete collapse of a situation that could have been held for a while.

The Seven Stars Sword Clan was totally destroyed by the Three Sects of Green Forest.

From the moment Wyatt Barnes learned of this, he was tempted to tear Matias Dunn to pieces... Unfortunately, his cultivation at that time was far inferior to Matias Dunn's.

But now, he is here!

With the blood feud of the souls of the Seven Stars Sword Clan and a strength far superior to Matias Dunn, Wyatt Barnes was right in front of Matias Dunn, not for anything else, but to settle accounts.

This is the debt Matias Dunn owed to the Seven Stars Sword Clan.