

Chapter 14 Theo Protector Revealed

Erick leaves Eduarda in the ward, and becomes more and more anxious because a few minutes after she arrived, na alert beep sounded and everyone connected with the nurse ran into the room where Eduarda was.

About ten minutes later Joshua arrives, and just looking at Erick starts to panic, he had already lost his parents, he couldn't lose Eduarda too.

Memories of that terrible day come to mind:

"Son promise me" says

his father holding him by the shoulders

"Yes daddy whatever

you want," says Joshua who was just a scared little boy at the time.

"Your sister is

special, she is destined for great things and you need to protect her, until she is ready to transform, promise me that you will never leave her the room where Eduarda was.

About ten minutes

later Joshua arrives, and just looking at Erick starts to panic, he had already

lost his parents, he couldn't lose Eduarda too.

Memories of that terrible day come to mind:

"Son promise me" says

his father holding him by the shoulders

"Yes daddy whatever

you want," says Joshua who was just a scared little boy at the time.

"Your sister is

special, she is destined for great things and you need to protect her, until she is ready to transform, promise me that you will never leave her alone, son, this is very important, nobody knows this but you were not born just like her brother but you are her protector and together, you, her and your respective companions, will save our world one day, don't trust anyone just the keeper of the secret, many false people will try to deceive you and kill you if you can..." at that moment the door is knocked down and his father hides him in a false bottom in the wardrobe.

Now standing there at the door of the infirmary Joshua feels like a complete failure, in fact he never took seriously what his father said that day, for him it was nothing more than a story to calm the scared little boy who was close to losing his parents, but if there's one thing he's taken seriously is protecting his sister, but now he knew he'd been failing miserably, first the horrors she'd been through the last year, and now this the actual academy, his dad was definitely disappointed in him, where whatever it was.

The door opens and a doctor comes out and asks:

"Is one of you her mate?"

"No" reply Erick and Joshua at the same time.

"Too bad maybe he could help with her recovery but she will survive don't worry"

"Can I see her?" asks
Joshua

"And why would you do that if it's nothing like her" asks the puzzled doctor

Erick lets Tron take over and his eyes immediately turn red, and he says to the doctor:

"Why am I saying let's go in, any problem with that"

The doctor is immediately terrified, as everyone knows the Monster Prince's difficult temper,
and he gestures towards the door and leaves as quickly as possible.

When they entered the room Joshua immediately started crying, because Eduarda seems so fragile and sick there connected to lots of tubes and machines, he turns around with his back to Erick because he didn't want him to see him crying, and that's why he didn't see Erick's face full of distress and anguish.

After composing himself, Joshua drags a chair close to the bed and holds Eduarda's free and undisturbed hand.

Erick spends a while just observing the affection with which Joshua cared for Eduarda, only then does he realize that he had never had something like this in his life, as they always knew he was powerful, no one really cared about him, the first person who showed any Eduarda was kind of worried about him when she stopped him from killing both Betany and Tiffany.

Only then does he realize that he doesn't know what really happened in the cafeteria for everything to get to that point, but as Joshua arrived at the infirmary a little later he believes he should know but about that he asks:

"Do you know what happened?"

Just then Joshua seems to realize that Erick is still there with him, he sighs and says:

"She followed your advice, I mean ours because I said you were right" he runs a hand through his hair frustrated and feeling guilty and continues "it seems that Betany made a scene and threw all the food on Dudley, and she had the bad luck of sneezing on Tiffany's shoes, who tried to make her lick the shoes to clean them with her mouth, but Eduarda refused" at this time

Joshua cannot repress a smile when imagining what he would say next, and he doesn't even realize that Erick is looking at Eduarda with remorse and pride as he crushes part of the frame with the grip of his hands "they say she screamed for Tiffany to clean it herself or make Betany clean it"

Erick also cannot repress a smile when he imagines that delicate and fragile being screaming at a Lycan.

"Man, the story gets weird, Tiffany said she grabbed her by the hair" continues Joshua intrigued

"That's great to know, before I end up with that stupid girl, I'm going to pull out every hair or hair on her" says Kairon not willing to forgive Tiffany

Erick ignores Kairon and asks:

"And what's weird about it?"

"The strange thing is that Tiffany has one of her hands completely burned, her skin and flesh are literally falling apart and her Lycan is not able to do the healing process fast enough", says Joshua, carefully letting go of Eduarda's hand, and begins to walk around the room, his mind increasingly focused on his father's words and his theory that Erick was Eduarda's partner, which he decided to test now.

"Joshua stops rambling in his thoughts and continues his explanation, so what if that idiot is losing her hand she deserves worse", says Erick impatiently.

"Of course, but first, sit down there and hold my sister's hand", says Joshua, hoping Erick
doesn't rip his head off for that.

Erick doesn't react for a moment, because he's pretty sure he heard his Beta tell him to sit down and hold his sister's hand, he thinks almost because the rational part of his brain doesn't believe that Joshua would have such courage and nerve, so narrowing his eyes he asks:

"What did you say?", because he still thought it possible that he had heard wrong, or else he would have to teach his beta a lesson ①
